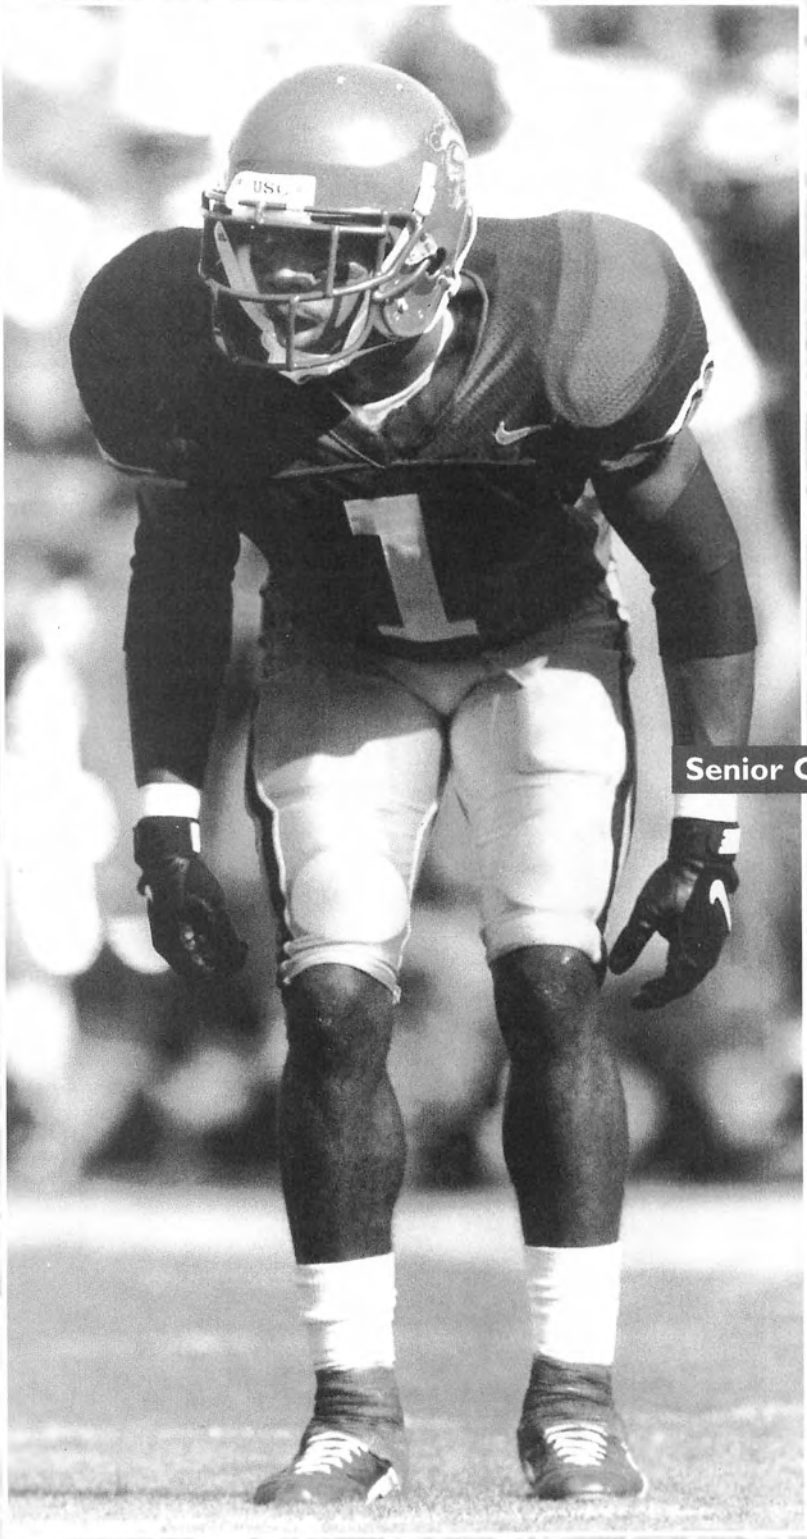
1998 OUTLOOK



Senior Cornerback Daylon McCutcheon

1998 FOOTBALL OUTLOOK

He has walked the corridors of Heritage Hall, paced the sidelines of Howard Jones Field, marched down the tunnel at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

The time was the late 1970s — a period when USC won a national championship and 4 bowl games — and he was a Trojan assistant coach then.

Now, as the 1998 season dawns, Paul Hackett will revisit those sites...this time as Troy's new head football coach. He will be trying to restore some of the luster on a USC program that has suffered through consecutive 6-win, no-bowl seasons.

Getting the Trojans back into the Rose Bowl hunt is Hackett's mission in 1998. To do that, he'll call upon 15 returning starters (7 on offense and 8 on defense), plus the placekicker, from John Robinson's 1997 squad that went 6-5 overall (4-4 for a fifth-place tie in the Pacific-10 Conference). Back are 82 squadmen from 1997, including 48 who saw action last fall and 30 who have started at least once in their career. Thirty-two players on USC's 1997 season-ending 2-deep return.

Hackett also signed 18 high school and junior college recruits (13 were All-Americans), including 5 who enrolled at USC this past spring and participated in spring practice. Despite being on the job less than a month, the class Hackett signed last February was ranked in the nation's Top 20 by many recruiting publications.

USC was not that far from having a successful season in 1997. Playing the nation's second-most difficult schedule while facing 7 bowl-bound teams, all of the Trojans' 5 losses came against teams ranked in the final AP Top 18 and whose combined record was 48-12. Three of USC's defeats were by just a touchdown, including 2 coming in the fourth quarter.

So Hackett does have a team that has tickled with triumph. But he says USC's objectives in 1998 are clear.

"First, we must earn back our respect," said Hackett, a Trojan assistant from 1976 to 1980 who most recently was the offensive coordinator for the Kansas City Chiefs. "Our next goal is to go to the Rose Bowl. When that happens, then you set yourself up for good things. Until we reach those goals, though, we won't be satisfied and we won't be able to rest.

"Rebuilding is not part of my philosophy. We are planning and expecting to win."

Hackett has a number of talented players to help in that quest. Three in particular are poised for All-American honors in 1998:

• Linebacker Chris Claiborne is among the nation's premier middle linebackers. Now a Butkus Award candidate, he won All-Pac-10 first team honors as a sophomore last season after being named a Freshman All-American in 1996. In his brief career, he already has made 192 tackles.

• Cornerback Daylon McCutcheon, a 1996 All-Pac-10 first teamer who was a pre-season All-American last fall, is a multi-dimensional player. Besides his superb coverage ability on defense (in his career, he has 7 interceptions, 31 deflections and 143 tackles), he is a dangerous kickoff returner (19.9 career average) and has also played wide receiver and tailback on offense. About to start for his fourth season, he is a candidate for the Thorpe Award.

• Wide receiver R. Jay Soward might be the nation's most exciting player. He averages a touchdown every 5.6 times he has touched the ball at USC (18 TDs on 107 plays) and those scores average 53.5 yards in length. In his 2-year career, this Biletnikoff Award candidate has 13 scoring catches (including 8 in 1997 on 48 receptions) and has 3 scoring kick runbacks (halfway to the NCAA record).

USC has some other offensive weapons in 1998. Wide receiver Billy Miller led the team in receptions (56) last fall. Antoine Harris was the first true freshman ever to start at tight end at USC and earned Freshman All-American second team notice last year. Quarterback Mike Van Raaphorst started twice in 1997 and fellow signalcaller John Fox started the other 9 games. Three offensive linemen—guard Travis Claridge, a 1996 Freshman All-American who is on the verge of all-star honors in 1998, and tackles Ken Bowen and Rome Douglas—return after starting last fall.

Among the other noteworthy Trojan offensive players with career starts to their name are wide receivers Mike Bastianelli (58 career catches, including 33 in 1997) and Larry Parker (a 1995 starter with 49 career receptions, but redshirted last year because of injury), tailbacks Chad Morton (the converted defensive back averages 6.9 yards per carry and also is a threat as a punt returner) and Malaefou MacKenzie (he had 332 rushing yards in 1997 and became just USC's third true frosh to start at tailback), fullbacks Ted Iacenda and Marvin Powell III, and guard-center David Pratchard.

USC's defense features some key returnees in addition to Claiborne and McCutcheon. Linebacker Mark Cusano, who has 198 career stops, has played a pivotal role in USC's victories over Notre Dame the past 2 years. He is in line for 1998 all-star acclaim. Safety Rashard Cook topped the Trojans in tackles (79) and interceptions (3) last fall. End Sultan Abdul-Malik (26 tackles in 1997, including a team-best 7 sacks) and cornerback Antuan Simmons (71 tackles last season) are coming off campaigns in which they were named Freshman All-American first teamers. Safety David Gibson, who made 66 tackles last season, led USC in tackles for losses in 1997 (20) and the Pac-10 in forced fumbles (5). Tackle Marc Matock had 26 stops in 1997.

Other defenders on the roster who have started during their career include safety Grant Pearsall (he redshirted with an injury last fall, but notched 66 tackles as a starter in 1996), tackle Aaron Williams, end Lawrence Larry, cornerback Ken Haslip (a 1996 starter) and safety Darnell Lacy.

Placekicker Adam Abrams, who was the Pac-10's most accurate field goal kicker in 1997 (90.9% on 10-of-11 field goals), is back for his fourth season handling the kicking duties. His field goals beat Notre Dame last year and Northwestern in the 1996 Rose Bowl.

"We will play to our strengths," said Hackett, who has been coaching in the college and pro ranks for 29 years, including 3 seasons as the head coach at Pitt and 3 as an assistant with the San Francisco 49ers when they won the 1984 Super Bowl. "Our main strength is our experience on defense, particularly in the secondary. Offensively, there is an excitement of the unknown, of who will come to the front in key positions. And on special teams, I'm excited about the attacking, pressing style we'll deploy."

The Trojans will be without several top players whose eligibility has expired. Starters gone from 1997 are cornerback Brian Kelly, a 1997 All-Pac-10 first team member who had 7 career interceptions while starting for 4 years (he was a second round pick in the 1998 NFL draft); tailback Delon Washington, USC's leading rusher in 1997 (444 yards) who ranks 10th on Troy's career rushing list with 2,093 yards; punter Jim Wren, who owns USC season records for punting average (45.6) and yards (3,216); defensive tackle Cedric Jefferson, USC's 1997 team MVP; offensive guard Chris Brymer; center Jonathan Himebauch; fullback Rodney Sermons; and defensive end George Perry. Others missing include fullback-tailback LaVale Woods (973 career rushing yards) and offensive tackle Phalen Pounds, who had 20 career starts.

The 1998 schedule presents the challenges that USC fans have come to expect (the Trojans have played slates ranked among the nation's Top 5 in 4 of the past 5 years), but it is a bit more palatable than past years. That's because Troy plays 7 home games—including 5 of its first 6—in the Coliseum in 1998, the 75th anniversary of Trojan football in that historic stadium. Playing so many games in familiar confines could be critical to this Trojan squad as it gets used to a new coaching staff.

Hackett's debut will come in front of a national audience as USC hosts Purdue on Aug. 30 in the Pigskin Classic. Other home contests see Troy playing Notre Dame (which USC has defeated the past 2 years), likely Pac-10 favorites Washington and Arizona State, plus California, Oregon State (as former USC assistant Mike Riley makes his return to the Coliseum) and San Diego State (coached by ex-USC head coach Ted Tollner). USC doesn't take to the road until its fourth game of the year, but it'll be demanding—at Florida State. The other away games are at UCLA (which owns a 7-game winning streak over Troy), defending Pac-10 champion Washington State, Stanford and Oregon.

"After our primary goal of going to the Rose Bowl, defeating UCLA and Notre Dame are the principal focus of this team," said Hackett. "We must find a way to continue the momentum against Notre Dame and turn the tide against UCLA."

Hackett can't wait to once again walk Heritage Hall's corridors, pace Howard Jones Field's sidelines and march down the Coliseum's tunnel.

"I love our players' attitudes and their willingness to do what it takes," he said. "I saw that right away in the winter and summer conditioning program and in spring practice. If they are as receptive to our coaching in the fall as they were in conditioning and spring ball, I'll be a very happy coach when all is said and done."

OFFENSE

Seven starters—wide receivers R. Jay Soward and Billy Miller, guard Travis Claridge, quarterback John Fox, tight end Antoine Harris, and tackles Ken Bowen and Rome Douglas—return on offense in 1998. However, USC must improve upon its anemic 1997 offensive output, which ranked in the bottom 3 in all Pac-10 statistical categories (338.5 total offense yards per game, 139.0 rushing, 199.5 passing and 21.2 scoring). Troy's top 3 passers and top 4 pass catchers from 1997 are back, but only 2 of its top 5 rushers return.

"The foundation for our offense will be power running out of the I formation or with two tight ends," said Hackett, who will work with offensive coordinator Hue Jackson in designing the offense. "The other theme will be balance. To do that, we'll have to devise multiple formations where we can run or pass. So, the base is power running out of two-back sets and then we'll expand for balance.

"We must establish an attitude and priority for power running. It's about wearing people down, about having patience and believing in what we are doing. We must commit to a running game while showing balance on offense. The question is, 'Do we have a runner to do the things that it takes in a power running attack?'

"We must have a powerful blocking fullback and tight end. Power running is primarily about lead back blocking. That person is vital to the runner's success. We must find a multi-talented player with a strong blocking mentality.

"As for having balance offensively, that's mostly driven by the quarterback position. I know we have outstanding wide receivers and good young tight ends. All eyes will be on the passers and runners. And finding stability in the offensive line will be important, too."

QUARTERBACK

The Trojans have all 3 quarterbacks from last year's roster back in 1998. A year ago, they had 22 snaps and 5 pass attempts between them. This year, each is seasoned.

Mike Van Raaphorst (21-of-46, 45.7%, 218 yards, 1 TD, 2 interceptions in 1997) emerged from 1998 spring practice as the No. 1 quarterback. The efficient sophomore started against Washington and Stanford while appearing in 5 games in 1997. He won the starting job mid-season and likely would have held onto the spot except for a season-ending ankle sprain late in the Stanford contest. He's also an outstanding student, with a team-best 3.68 GPA as a journalism major.

QUARTERBACKS

Matt Dalton, Rs. Fr.
JOHN FOX, Jr.	1,940 yards in '97
Carson Palmer, In. Fr.	'97 prep All-American
Jason Thomas, In. Fr.	'97 prep All-American
Mike Van Raaphorst, So.	2 starts in '97
Quincy Woods, Jr.

Juniors John Fox (153-of-280, 54.6%, 1,940 yards, 12 TDs, 8 interceptions in 1997) and Quincy Woods (4-of-9, 44.4%, 22 yards, 1 interception) enter 1998 sharing the backup duties. Fox started 9 times last fall (the first 7 games and the final 2). He was solid, though not spectacular, in 1997 despite being hampered all season with an ankle sprain and already ranks 15th on USC's career passing ladder. Known for his poise and strong arm, his best outing of 1997 was a 355-yard, 2-TD performance against UNLV while hitting 23-of-32 aerials. Woods proved equally adept at passing and running while appearing as a reserve in 5 games last fall. He also saw brief early-season action at wide receiver (but didn't catch a pass). Also available is redshirt freshman walk-on Matt Dalton.

"Van Raaphorst's grasp of what we were doing offensively and his poise in spring practice triggered the decision to name him No. 1," said Hackett. "We're looking for leadership and the player who moves the ball and wins. A lot of different styles have won games, but Mike nosed ahead of the others because of his ability to run the team. While Mike has taken control of the position, John and Quincy responded with a great attitude and showed the kind of competitors they are. I feel very good about the quarterback position and its future."

Two prep All-Americans—Carson Palmer (Santa Margarita High in Rancho Santa Margarita, Calif.) and Jason Thomas (Dominguez High in Compton, Calif.)—will be added to the quarterback mix this fall as freshmen.

CHAD MORTON – TB

RUNNING BACK

Both the tailback and fullback spots have depth, but the players are relatively inexperienced.

At tailback, junior Chad Morton (30 carries, 214 yards, 7.1 average, 1 TD in 1997, plus 25 tackles, 5 deflections and 2 interceptions and an 8.6 punt return average) and sophomore Malaefou MacKenzie (96 carries, 332 yards, 3.5 average, 3 TDs in 1997, plus 5 catches, 4.4 average) come into the 1998 campaign listed as co-staters. Morton has proven to be one of USC's most versatile players, starring on defense (free safety and cornerback), offense (tailback and wide receiver) and special teams (he's 16th on Troy's career punt return list). He has started 7 games in the secondary in his career (4 at free safety in 1997) and has made 48 tackles and 2 interceptions. But this lightning-quick jitterbug (he also has sprinted on the Trojan track team) has also gained 385 career yards (a stellar 6.9 average per carry) with 3 scores in 6 games as a tailback at USC. He had 109 yards (with a 69-yard non-scoring burst on his first carry of the season) on just 7 carries last year against Stanford (he also had a 49-yard TD run versus UCLA in 1997) and 143 yards (with a 73-yard TD) on 13 tries against Oregon State in 1996. Also a fine student (3.41 GPA in sociology), he earned 1997 Pac-10 All-Academic first team honors. The hard-running MacKenzie was second on the Trojans in rushing in 1997 and started twice (just the third USC first-year freshman to ever start at tailback). He gained 104 yards (with 2 scores) against UNLV off the bench.

RUNNING BACKS

Miguel Fletcher, In. Fr., TB	'97 prep All-American

Charlie Landrigan, Rs. Fr., FB

Eric Reese, Rs. Fr., TB
Ryan Shapiro, So., FB
Frank Strong, In. Fr., TB	'97 prep All-American
Henry Wallace, Rs. Fr., FB

Backing this duo up are juniors Petros Papadakis (24 carries, 103 yards, 4.3 average in 1997), who saw action as a reserve and on special teams in 1997 (his father and brother played at USC) and Jabari Jackson, who redshirted last year after a J.C. All-American season in 1996, plus redshirt freshman Eric Reese and walk-on senior Jahi Johnson.

"The tailback spot is one of the most exciting positions on the team, because we have a combination of speed and playmakers," said Hackett. "We're looking for a guy to make big plays, a guy who can carry us and set the tempo of the game. I think we'll use two or three guys at the position and it's possible somebody could move to fullback. Morton's endurance is an issue, as is MacKenzie's experience. And the wrench in the position is how quickly can any of the incoming freshmen make an impact."

Coming aboard this fall as freshmen are a trio of prep All-Americans at tailback: Miguel Fletcher (Alemany High in Mission Hills, Calif.), Sultan McCullough (Muir High in Pasadena, Calif.) and Frank Strong (Franklin High in Stockton, Calif.).

More unsettled is the fullback corps, which includes senior Marvin Powell III (1 reception, 7.0 average in 1997, plus 3 tackles), who played tight end last year after starting 4 games at fullback in 1996 (he has yet to carry the ball as a Trojan), sophomores Ted Iacenda (1 carry, 0 yards in 1997, plus 1 reception, 5.0 average and 5 tackles), a 4-game starter in 1997 who has suffered season-ending shoulder injuries the past 2 years, and Brennan Ochs (most of his action has been on special teams), redshirt freshmen Charlie Landrigan and Henry Wallace, and sophomore walk-on Ryan Shapiro. Ochs came out of 1998 spring drills as the starter, but Powell and Iacenda didn't get a complete look in the spring because of injuries.

"I'm a bit more concerned about the fullback position. We're looking for a unique individual. We need a player who can do everything—block, catch and run, in that order. Developing a reliable fullback is a priority."

WIDE RECEIVER

The Trojans are loaded at the wide receiver spots. Five players have started on the NCAA Division I-A level and all claim at least 49 career catches.

"This is the deepest position on our team," said Hackett. "There is tremendous competition and talent here. We have a good mix of speed and size. I expect all the receivers to excel in blocking and most should emerge on special teams."

WIDE RECEIVERS

Mike Bastianelli, Sr.	58 career catches
Rocky Brown, Jr.
Troy Garner, So.
Stanley Guyness, So.
Windrell Hayes, Jr.	97 catches at San Jose State
Miguel Marco, Rs. Fr.
Kevin McLaughlin, So.
BILLY MILLER, Sr.	USC's top receiver in '97
Larry Parker, Sr.	49 career catches
Rod Perry Jr., Rs. Fr.
R. JAY SOWARD, Jr.	'98 All-American candidate
Dylan Weiss, So.

R. Jay Soward (48 catches, 17.3 average, 8 TDs in 1997, plus 26.3 average and 1 TD on kickoff returns, 7.4 average on punt returns, and 6 carries, 101 yards, 16.8 average, 2 TDs rushing) enters his 1998 junior campaign as perhaps college football's most exciting and explosive player. A flanker, he's a strong candidate for All-American honors and the Biletnikoff Award. In his career, he has scored a touchdown every 5.6 times he has touched the ball (18 TDs on 107 plays) and those scores have averaged 53.5 yards. Thirteen of his TDs have been on receptions, 3 on kickoff returns (the NCAA career record is 6) and 2 on reverses. He has had 4 games with 100-plus receiving yards. He has been a thorn to

UCLA, having caught 14 passes for 441 yards (31.5 average) and 4 TDs in 2 outings. He already ranks fifth on USC's all-time kickoff return chart (834 yards) and 24th on its career pass catching list (66 grabs).

"No question, R. Jay is a special player," said Hackett. "He can break open a game on one play. I'm not sure there's anyone like him in college today."

If Soward's not enough, USC can turn to other equally-effective wide outs. Big and fast senior Billy Miller (56 catches, 11.6 average, 2 TDs in 1997) topped Troy in receiving (fifth in the Pac-10) last fall and should start again at split end. He had a catch in all 11 games of 1997, had a trio of 100-yard performances and had 4 games with at least 8 clutches. He ranks 17th among Trojan career pass catchers (76 receptions).

Sure-handed Mike Bastianelli (33 catches, 11.4 average, 3 TDs in 1997), another senior, didn't start last season, but played often enough to rank third on the team in catches. He has 58 career receptions. He'll back up Miller at split end.

Then there's senior Larry Parker, who redshirted last season because of a foot injury, but has 49 career catches. He started all of 1995 and grabbed 25 tosses. He and Soward should share time at flanker. Also a fine punt returner, he is 19th on Troy's career list with 304 yards.

Three sophomores also will be vying for time, although none has yet caught a pass: Troy Garner, Stanley Guyness and Kevin McLaughlin (McLaughlin could miss most of the 1998 season while recuperating from shoulder surgery). And redshirt freshman Rod Perry Jr., who also plays baseball at USC, will throw his helmet into the competition this fall. Three walk-ons—junior Rocky Brown, sophomore Dylan Weiss and redshirt freshman Miguel Marco—round out the returnees.

USC bolstered its receiving corps even more with the signing of Windrell Hayes (San Joaquin Delta College in Stockton, Calif.), who arrives as a junior split end in the fall. He was San Jose State's leading receiver in 1995 (39 catches, 13.7 average, 5 TDs) and 1996 (58 catches, 14.6 average, 4 TDs). He ranks in the Spartans' receiving Top 10. He even caught 4 passes against USC when San Jose State visited the Coliseum in 1995.

ANTOINE HARRIS – TE

TRAVIS CLARIDGE – OG

TIGHT END

He's only a sophomore, but Antoine Harris (12 catches, 13.3 average in 1997) is a veteran, having started all of last season while being the first true freshman ever to start at the position at USC. A dominating blocker and able receiver, he earned Freshman All-American second team laurels in 1997.

Redshirt freshman Lonnie Ford (1 catch, 5.0 average in 1997) missed the second half of 1997 with a broken clavicle, but has similar skills to Harris. Also available is junior Pat Swanson, who was USC's long snapper in 1997 but didn't see any action on offense, plus a pair of walk-ons: senior Gurjot Dhaliwal and junior Gerard Khorozian.

This fall, prep All-American Scott Huber (Peninsula High in Rolling Hills, Calif.) arrives as a freshman.

"The tight ends form a young group, but they have great potential," said Hackett. "This is a talented spot for us, despite its youth."

OFFENSIVE LINE

While all the attention on offense will be focused on USC's skill positions, perhaps the key to Troy's offensive success will be how its line develops. Because of various injuries, spring drills didn't fully clarify the personnel here.

"We weren't able to name a set offensive line coming out of spring practice and that's disappointing," said Hackett. "The competition was keen. But I'm encouraged that this unit will work together well."

Three players return as starters, led by junior right guard Travis Claridge (6-6, 310). Big, strong, tough and aggressive, he has started all 23 games of his USC career (he was a Freshman All-American first team member in 1996). Look for him to garner some national honors in 1998.

OFFENSIVE LINEMEN

KEN BOWEN, Sr., OT	2-year starter
TRAVIS CLARIDGE, Jr., OG	'97 All-Star candidate
Eric Denmon, So., C
ROME DOUGLAS, Sr., OT	14 starts past 2 years

Trevor Roberts, So., OG
Joel Sugg, So., OT
Matt Welch, So., OT	'97 J.C. All-American
Zach Wilson, In. Fr., OG	'97 prep All-American

Both 1997 tackles are back as seniors: Ken Bowen (6-8, 335), a starter on the right side the past 2 years and one of the team's biggest players, and Rome Douglas (6-7, 305), who has 14 starts on the left over the past 2 seasons (including 4 in 1997). Entering the 1998 season, Bowen and Douglas are listed as possible starters on the right side along with Matt Welch, a J.C. All-American last year at Santa Ana (Calif.) College who was enrolled at USC for 1998 spring drills. Douglas also is a backup on the left to untested sophomore Brent McCaffrey, who put on an impressive showing in the spring and won the starting job. Inexperienced soph Joel Sugg will be a backup on the left.

Juniors Jason Grain and Donta Kendrick go into 1998 as the co-starters at left guard. Like Welch, Kendrick was at USC for 1998 spring practice after a J.C. All-American season at Sacramento (Calif.) City College. Senior David Pratchard (he has 2 career starts), will be a backup at both left guard and center, while sophomore Trevor Roberts (an ankle sprain limited him throughout 1997), is Claridge's backup on the right.

Junior Matt McShane won the starting center job, with soph Eric Denmon (a knee injury sidelined him last fall) and Pratchard backing him up. Neither McShane or Denmon has any appreciable experience.

Although he is on the roster, sophomore tackle-guard Faaesea Mailo (a 3-game starter in 1996) will not be with the Trojans again in 1997 as he completes the second year of his 2-year Mormon mission.

USC signed a pair of offensive linemen who will join the team as freshmen in the fall: prep All-American guard Zach Wilson (Mayfair High in Lakewood, Calif.) and tackle Derek Graf (Agoura High in Agoura, Calif.), whose father, Allan, starred at offensive guard on Troy's 1972 national championship squad.

"Teamwork and leadership are the things we're seeking on the offensive line," said Hackett. "Which 5 players can work together best? And who will be the line's leader, the center? We know what Travis Claridge can do. He's a superior player. We need to find out about the others. This is a crucial area for us."

DEFENSE

Eight starters—linebackers Chris Claiborne and Mark Cusano, cornerbacks Daylon McCutcheon and Antuan Simmons, safeties Rashard Cook and David Gibson, tackle Marc Matock and end Sultan Abdul-Malik—return on defense in 1998, as does 1997 starting safety Grant Pearsall, who missed last season with an injury. Nationally, the Trojans finished eighth in rushing defense (93.8, tops in the Pac-10) and tied for 16th in turnover margin (+0.8). In the Pac-10, USC was third in scoring defense (21.2) and fifth in total defense (360.3). But Troy was susceptible to an air attack in 1997, yielding 266.5 yards per game (last in the Pac-10). The Trojans' top 6 tacklers (and 9 of their top 10) of 1997 are back, as are players who made 12 of their 14 interceptions.

"Our defensive philosophy centers around the four-man line and pressure defense," said Hackett, whose defense will be engineered by new defensive coordinator Bill Young. "With a lot of returning players on defense, including an extremely strong secondary, we can have multiple alignments and take chances which will allow our speed to show itself.

"Attacking, pursuing, speed, multiple...that's the best way to describe what our 4-3 defense will be like."

DEFENSIVE LINE

The line is USC's top concern on defense. Sure, there are some good players here, but lack of depth is the worry.

Senior tackle Marc Matock (26 tackles, 5 for losses, 4 deflections, 1 interception in 1997) and sophomore end Sultan Abdul-Malik (26 tackles, 15 for losses, 3 deflections in 1997) return as starters. The beefy Matock, who saved USC's win over Oregon last fall with a blocked field goal, should clog up the middle. Abdul-Malik earned Freshman All-American first team notice in 1997 and tied for the USC lead in sacks (7).

DEFENSIVE LINEMEN

MARC MATOCK, Sr., DT	26 tackles in '97
Ryan Nielsen, Rs. Fr., DE
Aaron Williams, Jr., DT	1 career start
Robby Wood, In. Fr., DT

Senior Lawrence Larry (11 tackles, 3 for losses, 1 fumble recovery in 1997) enters 1998 as the starter at the other end spot, while junior Aaron Williams (15 tackles, 3 for losses, 1 deflection in 1997) has won the other tackle job. Both have seen considerable time in the past and have even started during their careers (Larry twice and Williams once).

A number of younger players will serve as backups. Sophomore tackle Ennis Davis (15 tackles, 6 for losses, 1 deflection in 1997) also saw plenty of action last season and should be ready to play a more prominent role in 1998. Other tackles include soph Shamsud-Din Abdul-Shaheed (1 tackle, 1 for a loss in 1997) and two walk-ons, senior Steve Davis and junior Todd Keneley, whose brother, Matt, starred on the Trojan defensive front a few years ago. Three promising redshirt freshmen—Kori Dickerson, Ryan Nielsen and Bobby DeMars—will be the backup ends, with Abdul-Shaheed also able to swing over here.

Help arrives this fall in the form of junior Darren Collins, a former Marine who transfers in from Santa Rosa (Calif.) College, and freshman Robby Wood (Shorecrest High in Seattle, Wash.), both tackles.

"The youth, speed and athletic ability of our defensive line is outstanding, but the depth is a concern," said Hackett. "However, I'm excited to watch how this group develops, mainly because of our new commitment to speed, quickness and movement in our front people."

MARC MATOCK – DT

CHRIS CLAIBORNE – LB

LINEBACKER

"We should be pretty darn good across the board at linebacker," said Hackett.

That's easy to say when anchoring the middle is one of the nation's elite defensive players, junior Chris Claiborne (76 tackles, 16 for losses, 1 fumble recovery in 1997). A strong candidate for All-American honors and the Butkus Award, he was an All-Pac-10 first teamer in 1997 after being a Freshman All-American first team pick in 1996. Always around the ball, he already has posted 192 tackles in his time at Troy (including 6 games in double figures). He was USC's co-leader in sacks last season with 7.

"Chris Claiborne, well, he's something else," said Hackett. "He has been dominant in college and he should really sine in 1998. And we're fortunate to have a player of Mark Cusano's ability right next to him."

Not too far behind Claiborne in ability is senior Mark Cusano (74 tackles, 9 for losses, 3 deflections, 2 interceptions in 1997), who like

Claiborne has been in the starting lineup the past 2 years. Cusano will return to the strong side (his 1996 spot) after handling the weak side last season. He is Notre Dame's worst nightmare because of his instrumental plays in USC's wins over the Irish the last 2 years (a game-ending pass deflection in overtime in 1996 and a late fourth-quarter interception to set up the winning field goal in 1997). He could collect some national honors in 1998.

Mike Pollard, Fr.	'98 spring enrollee
Rocky Seto, Jr.
Jason Steen, So.	Converted DE

Redshirt freshman Darryl Knight (he sat out most of 1997 with an arm injury), whose brothers Ryan and Sammy played at USC, had an impressive spring and won the starting weakside linebacker role.

Sophomores Zeke Moreno (8 tackles, 1 for a loss, 2 deflections, 1 interception in 1997) and converted defensive end Jason Steen (4 tackles, 1 deflection in 1997) will backup Cusano and Knight, respectively, while true freshman Mike Pollard is Claiborne's backup (Moreno can also play here). Pollard, who actually signed with USC in 1997 after a prep All-American career at Poly High in Long Beach, Calif., enrolled at USC in time for 1998 spring practice. Junior Rocky Seto and soph Cameron Myronowicz, both walk-ons, are also available.

Joining the linebacking corps this fall as freshmen are prep All-Americans Anthony Daye (Laguna Hills High in Laguna Hills, Calif.) and Armand Holland (Franklin High in Stockton, Calif.).

SECONDARY

USC's strength on defense is in the secondary, where there is a slew of experienced and talented defensive backs.

Headlining the secondary is senior cornerback Daylon McCutcheon (45 tackles, 4 for losses, 7 deflections, 2 interceptions in 1997), an All-American and Thorpe Award candidate who has started the past 3 seasons. He was a pre-season All-American last fall after earning 1996 All-Pac-10 first team acclaim. A true triple-threat player, look for him again on defense, special teams and offense in 1998. He is one of the nation's finest coverage corners (he has 7 interceptions, 31 deflections and 143 tackles in his career). He also is a dangerous kickoff returner with a 19.9 career average. And he played wide receiver and tailback in 1997 (making 3 catches for a 13.7 average and gaining 26 yards with a TD on 3 carries).

"I'm excited to watch Daylon McCutcheon in 1998," said Hackett. "I think he'll have a big year. He's a do-it-all player who can hurt you on defense, offense or returning kicks."

The other cornerback spot will be manned by sophomore Antuan Simmons (71 tackles, 8 for losses, 3 deflections, 1 fumble recovery, 1 interception in 1997) or senior Ken Haslip (3 tackles, 2 deflections in 1997). Simmons, a 1997 Freshman All-American first teamer, started the first half of last season at rover linebacker and the last half at strong safety. He was USC's tackle leader in 3 games last fall. Haslip started at cornerback in 1996 (getting 21 stops and a pick) and was versatile enough to even see brief early-season action at wide receiver in 1997 (he didn't catch a pass).

Also in the fray at cornerback are senior and special teams standout Prentice Hill (12 tackles in 1997), junior Tanqueray Clark and redshirt freshman Kris Richard. Clark enrolled at Troy in the spring of 1998 after transferring from West Los Angeles (Calif.) Community College. Available, too, are junior walk-ons Antoinne Harris and Rick Luce.

USC will choose from 3 safeties, each who has started for a season. There's hard-hitting senior Rashard Cook (79 tackles, 8 for losses, 6 deflections, 2 fumble recoveries, 3 interceptions in 1997), Troy's tackle and interception leader last fall when he started the first part of the year at strong safety and the last part at free safety, where he'll start in 1998. Some 67 of his stops in 1997 were solo. Then there's equally hard-hitting junior David Gibson (66 tackles, 20 for losses, 3 deflections in 1997), who started the last half of 1997 at rover linebacker but has been moved to safety for 1998. He topped USC in tackles for losses last year (20) and the Pac-10 in forced fumbles (5). He was the Trojans' leading tackler 3 times last season. Finally, there's just-as-hard-hitting senior Grant Pearsall, who redshirted 1997 because of a knee injury, but registered 66 tackles as the starting strong safety the year before. Gibson and Pearsall enter 1998 as co-starters at strong safety.

Others vying for time at free safety are sophomores Darnell Lacy (5 tackles, 2 deflections in 1997), who started USC's first 2 games of 1997 at free safety before pulling his hamstring and redshirting, and Ifeanyi Ohalete (3 tackles in 1997). Junior Frank Carter (4 tackles in 1997), another special teams afficionado, is available at strong safety (he has earned a scholarship in 1998 after being a walk-on). Four walk-ons fill out the safety spots: junior Chris Reyes and sophomores

"The secondary is our most tested unit on defense," said Hackett. "We have lots of very good cornerbacks and I'm looking forward to seeing them in action. And our safeties are outstanding as well. This is a veteran group, with depth, experience and the ability to shine in man-to-man coverage."

SPECIAL TEAMS

USC returns the placekicker (Adam Abrams), snapper (Pat Swanson) and top punt (Chad Morton) and kickoff (R. Jay Soward) returners from a year ago. But there will be a new punter and holder.

"We will make a major commitment to special teams," said Hackett, who has entrusted linebackers coach Shawn Slocum to be the special teams coordinator. "This can be a weapon for us. Our special teams will be attacking and pressing all the time.

"There can't be many better kickers around than Adam Abrams. And we'll dip into a stockpile of receivers, running backs and defensive backs to field dangerous return teams. But we have a big hole to fill at punter."

PLACEKICKER

USC sports one of college football's best placekickers in senior Adam Abrams (10-of-11 field goals, 25-of-27 PATs in 1997), who was the Pac-10's most accurate field goal kicker in 1997 (90.9%). He's back for his fourth season handling the placement duties and is riding a streak of 10 consecutive field goals and 21 straight PATs. Twice, his field goals proved to be game winners (Notre Dame last year and Northwestern in the 1996 Rose Bowl). In his career, he has nailed 28 field goals and 79 extra points. Also an outstanding student (he made the 1997 Pac-10 All-Academic first team), he's a candidate for Academic All-American honors with his 3.36 GPA in business administration.

But he'll be pushed by sophomore David Bell, who handled Troy's kickoffs in 1996 and had an outstanding showing in 1998 spring drills. He can also punt.

Three others can also placekick: senior Adam Rendon, who kicked off in 1997 and even subbed for an injured Abrams on field goals in 1995, redshirt freshman Mike MacGillivray and true freshman Jeff Weichman, both who are punters, as well. Weichman enrolled at USC for the 1998 spring semester after being a part-time student at Santa Monica (Calif.) College following his prep career at Santa Monica High (he missed spring practice because of an illness).

PUNTER

The biggest question mark on special teams is who will be the punter. Though green, redshirt freshman Mike MacGillivray answered that with a fine outing in the spring. He'll be backed by soph David Bell and true freshman Jeff Weichman, both of whom are also capable placekickers.

SNAPPER

Junior tight end Pat Swanson handled the snapping chores without a hitch last season and should continue to do so in 1998. His backups will be sophomore linebacker Zeke Moreno and sophomore offensive tackle Brent McCaffrey.

HOLDER

Senior wide receiver Mike Bastianelli will serve as the holder on all placekicks and it will be his first year handling this crucial responsibility. Junior quarterback John Fox will be the backup holder.

RETURNERS

USC can choose its returners from a plethora of players, all of whom are threats with the ball in their hands. Junior wide receiver R. Jay Soward has been Troy's top kickoff returner the past 2 years and already is fifth on the all-time Trojan list (834 yards). He was 13th nationally last fall in that category (26.3 average). His 3 scoring kickoff runbacks is halfway to the NCAA career record. Junior tailback Chad Morton has led USC in punt returns the last 2 seasons, including an 8.0 average in 1997, and is 16th on the school's career chart (317 yards). Senior wide receiver Larry Parker, 19th on the all-time Trojan punt return list (304 yards), topped the squad in punt runbacks in 1995. Senior cornerback Daylon McCutcheon has averaged 19.9 yards on his 12 career kickoff returns. Other possible returners include redshirt freshman wide receiver Rod Perry Jr. or redshirt freshman cornerback Kris Richard, plus players who enter USC in the fall, such as junior wide receiver Windrell Hayes or freshmen tailbacks Sultan McCullough, Miguel Fletcher or Frank Strong.

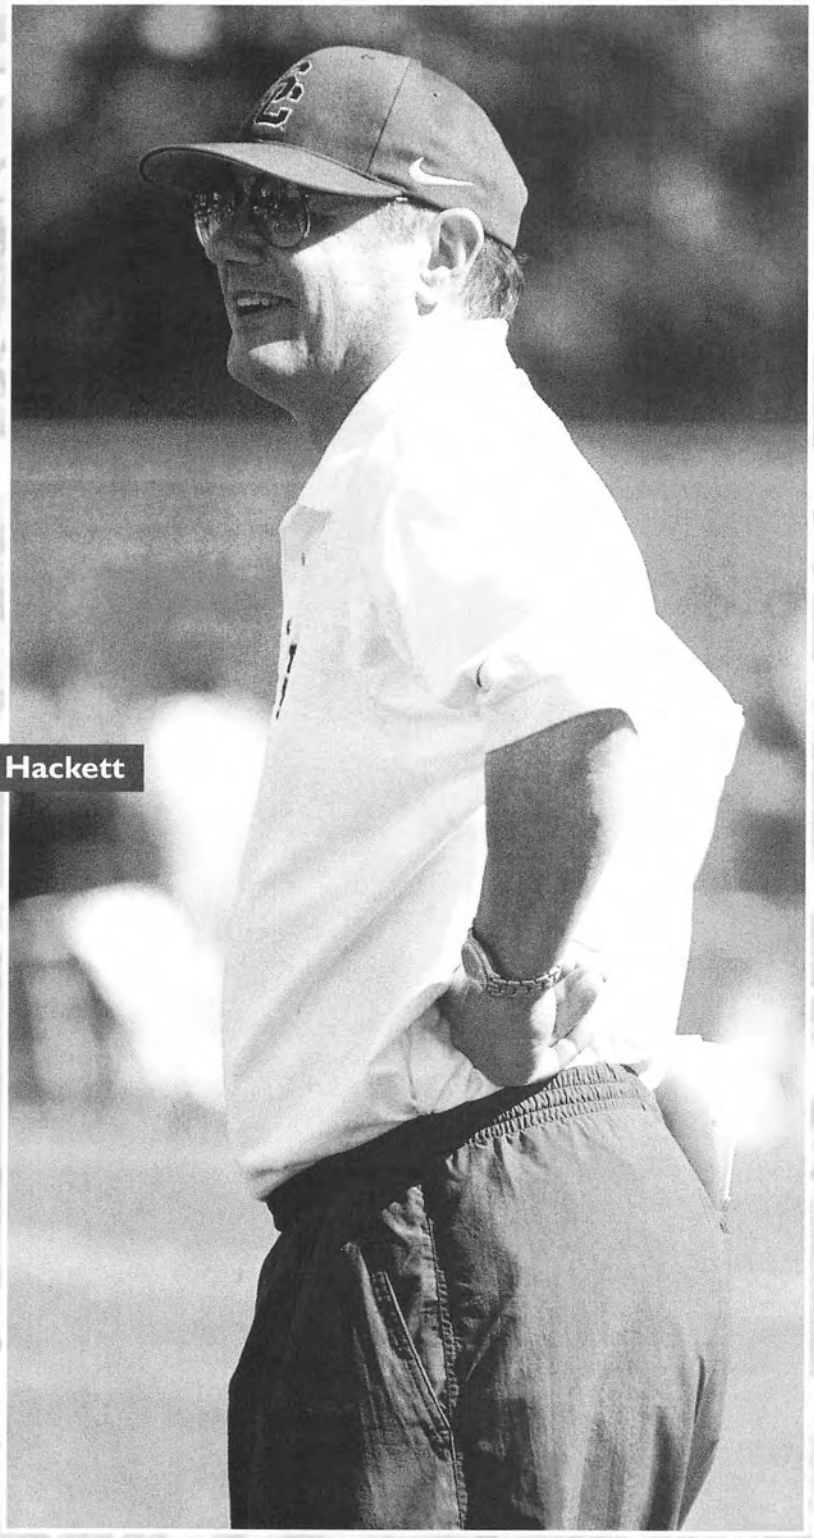
COACHES



USC Head Coach Paul Hackett

HEAD COACH PAUL HACKETT

Energetic and innovative Paul Hackett, a one-time USC assistant coach who has been on coaching staffs that have won a national championship in college and a Super Bowl in the pros, was named USC's head football coach on Dec. 17, 1997.

He replaced John Robinson, who was relieved of his duties after 5 seasons at USC. Hackett, who was the offensive coordinator for the Kansas City Chiefs prior to coming to USC, officially started with the Trojans on Jan. 8, 1998, at the conclusion of the Chiefs' 1997 season. He signed a 5-year contract with Troy.

The 51-year-old Hackett, regarded as one of the game's most progressive offensive coaches, has 29 years of experience as a college and professional assistant and head coach. He has tutored some of football's top players—including Joe Montana, Marcus Allen, Jerry Rice, Andre Rison, Tony Dorsett, Steve Bartkowski, Charles White, Brian Sipe, Herschel Walker, Danny White, Dwight Clark and Vince Evans—and has worked under such head coaches as Bill Walsh, Tom Landry, Marty Schottenheimer and Robinson.

Before coming to Troy, Hackett was the offensive coordinator at Kansas City for 5 years (1993-97). The Chiefs advanced to the NFL playoffs in 4 of those years, including the 1997 season while capturing the AFC West title with an AFC-best regular season record of 13-3 (with wins in their last 6 regular season contests).

Before that, he was at the University of Pittsburgh (1989-92), the first season as the quarterbacks coach and then 3 seasons as the Panthers' head coach (posting a 13-20-1 record). He actually took over the head coaching reins prior to the 1989 John Hancock Bowl, a 31-28 win over Texas A&M. Pitt was eighth nationally in total offense and passing offense in 1992, and Panther quarterback Alex Van Pelt ranked in the NCAA's Top 10 in total offense in 1991 and 1992.

Hackett began his coaching career for 3 seasons (1969-71) at his alma mater, UC Davis, assisting the freshmen the first year and then directing the frosh to a 13-0 mark over the next 2 seasons.

He then was an assistant at California for 4 years (1972-75), the first season as a graduate assistant, the next as the receivers coach (tutoring Golden Bear greats Wesley Walker and Steve Rivera) and the final 2 as the quarterbacks coach. Bartkowski was the NFL's No. 1 draft pick after being the NCAA's leading passer as an All-American in 1974 and the late Joe Roth led the Pac-8 in passing and total offense the following year while directing the NCAA's top-ranked offense.

Then, at age 29, Hackett moved to USC for 5 years (1976-80), where under Robinson he was in charge of the quarterbacks and receivers for the first 2 years and then the quarterbacks and passing game the final 3 years. During his Trojan tenure, USC was the 1978 national champion, won 4 bowl games (including 3 Rose Bowls), posted a 50-8-2 record and produced a Heisman Trophy winner (White). Among his quarterbacks, Evans was the MVP of the 1977 Rose Bowl, Paul McDonald was a 1979 All-American first teamer while setting 17 NCAA, Pac-10 and USC records, and Rob Hertel established a pair of USC marks. Wide receiver Randy Simmrin also set 2 USC records under Hackett.

Hackett began his pro coaching career as quarterbacks coach with the Cleveland Browns for 2 seasons (1981-82).

He next was the quarterbacks and receivers coach with the San Francisco 49ers for 3 years (1983-85). The 49ers won Super Bowl XIX in the 1984 season.

He then became the pass offense coordinator with the Dallas Cowboys for 3 years (1986-88) before returning to the college ranks at Pitt.

Hackett started at quarterback for 3 years at UC Davis (1966-68). He led the Far Western Conference in passing as a senior while earning All-Conference first team honors. After starting out as a pre-med major, he received his bachelor's degree in history from UC Davis in 1969.

The son of a biochemistry professor father, the late David (who taught at California after receiving his doctorate from Harvard) and a mother, Sarah, who was a nurse, Hackett played football (quarterback), basketball and baseball at Miramonte High in Orinda, Calif., in the Bay Area.

He was born on July 5, 1947 in Burlington, Vt., sharing a birthday with former USC head coach John McKay. He and his wife, Elizabeth (they met as students at UC Davis), have 2 sons, David, 26, and Nathaniel, 18. David played on the 1988 Texas Division III state football champion while at Carroll High in Southlake, Tex. Nathaniel is a freshman on UC Davis' football team.

As a hobby, Hackett collects old music juke boxes filled with 1950s and 1960s rock 'n roll music. A rock music fan, he sat in the front row at the final Beatles concert, held in 1966 in Candlestick Park in San Francisco.

USC HEAD FOOTBALL COACH PAUL HACKETT

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT PAUL HACKETT

USC athletic director Mike Garrett: "I'm very excited about Paul Hackett becoming our football coach. Paul is the right man at the right time for USC. Our relationship goes back to the first time he was at USC. I've always regarded him as a fine teacher who knows how to coach winning football."

Former San Francisco 49ers head coach Bill Walsh: "If there was to be a change at USC, I can't think of a better hire than this one. This is a very, very bright, if not brilliant, football coach. He's the best young mind I've ever worked with. He understands offenses in a way few do. Paul brings the versatility and flexibility needed today to compete, and his offensive mind gives a program more opportunities to answer the challenges. USC is catching Paul at the right time in his life and in his career. He is on his way up. His star is still on the rise. He's going to take USC places. As bright a star as Paul has been, he would not have been as good a head coach for USC right now had he not been through the wars and paid the price at Dallas, the University of Pittsburgh and Kansas City. That seasoning was critical. It shaped him. Paul is just a great choice for USC."

Cincinnati Bengals linebacker Tom Tumulty, formerly at Pitt under Hackett: "The guy has a genius mind for offense, but I knew him and loved him as a head coach. If I had the chance to tell the parents of USC players what they're getting, it's a guy who will make sure their sons leave with a degree, a guy who will really take care of them. They said he couldn't recruit at Pitt, but there are five or six guys just from my class in the NFL right now."

ESPN analyst Merril Hoge: "Young players see how hot the West Coast offense is in the NFL. They want to be in that system and Paul Hackett can sell that to them. And he should be able to get the type of talent that can make that system successful. Look at what he did at Kansas City in 1997, utilizing four different backs and playing through the change at quarterback, and that offense was still very potent and they had the best record in the AFC. He'll do a fabulous job at USC."

Former USC and NFL quarterback Paul McDonald, who played for Hackett in college and the pros (Cleveland, Dallas): "Hiring Paul is a huge coup for USC. He understands USC. He puts a tremendous amount of pressure on himself to win every time out, and that's what he's going to demand from the USC team. I think one thing he can do at USC is instill in the players the way it used to be. When I played for him, everything was football with Paul. He talked about football all the time. Sometimes you'd get to the point when you were hanging out with him where you just said, 'Hack, enough. I'm tired of talking about football.' But he never was."

St. Louis Rams assistant coach Mike White, on whose California staff Hackett served: "He's a real student of the game and he's tremendously involved with the players. He made an immediate impression at Cal and did a great job. I was just really impressed with his approach to the game and his desire to learn. He's got the background and the experience, and I'd be real surprised if he's not real successful at USC."

Green Bay Packers head coach Mike Holmgren: "I enjoy talking football with him probably more than anybody I know because he's really one of the outstanding teachers and coaches I've ever been around."

Texas A&M head coach R. C. Slocum: "He's the best young mind in the game."

Former Cleveland Browns coach Sam Rutigliano: "He's very outgoing, very gregarious, very emotional. He's not a yes man. He'll express his ideas."

Kansas City Chiefs head coach Marty Schottenheimer: "Without question, he's the best quarterbacks coach I've ever seen in my life. I have never been around a guy who is a better technician and coach of quarterbacks. You talk about a guy who's committed to his job, who's committed to putting in the time to be successful and make things run smoothly—that's what Paul Hackett is all about. He came in here and I had to look at myself and say, 'Marty, are you working hard enough?'"

Green Bay Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis, formerly an assistant at the San Francisco 49ers with Hackett: "He's very thorough, very organized, quite a perfectionist. He demands everything from his players. He's a tireless worker, loves the game and works his rear off. He's very creative. He likes to change formations, play around with them. He's the kind of guy who can talk football 20 hours a day. He doesn't have many hobbies. Football's his world."

Kansas City Chiefs tight ends coach Jim Erkenbeck: "He is tremendous under pressure, a great thinker, a great people person."

New England Patriots running back Curtis Martin, formerly at Pitt under Hackett: "He'll definitely have success at the collegiate level. He's already done that at Kansas City on the professional level."

Kansas City Chiefs wide receiver Andre Rison: "He's the best offensive coordinator I've ever played for. A lot of guys have their own ideas about how they do things—and should, because they're the boss—but Paul listens to his players. He hears what we have to say and works with us."

Former USC head coach John Robinson: "Paul Hackett is a good guy and a good coach. He'll do a good job."

Former San Francisco 49ers and Kansas City Chiefs quarterback Joe Montana: "The thing that Paul spends a lot of time on is detail, probably more so than anybody I have been associated with. It's constant, constant. Everything you do is scrutinized, from little handoff drills to footwork in passing. He drills and drills and tests and really prepares you well."

San Francisco 49ers offensive line coach Bobb McKittrick: "Paul will take a college quarterback, work with him a couple of years, and he will be an NFL quarterback, guaranteed."

Buffalo Bills quarterback Alex Van Pelt, formerly at Pitt under Hackett: "I know one thing already. USC is going to have a great offense. My success is all because of Paul Hackett. I think he's the guru of footwork, something that's very important in the offense he runs because of its timing and rhythm. He's very much the teacher and, working with him for four years (at Pitt), we giggled at the end because he would be teaching the same simple play as if he had never gone over it before, but that's how much emphasis he places on fundamentals."

Kansas City Chiefs quarterback Rich Gannon: "His attention to detail is unbelievable. Some offensive coordinators care about the passing game or the running game and don't have a lot of idea what's going on in the other parts of the offense. But Paul is totally aware of blocking schemes, footwork, the run, the pass, the whole deal. It's a pleasure watching him work. And it's how hard he works, too. Paul works harder in the off-season than most offensive coordinators work during the season."

Steve Greatwood, who has 18 years of experience coaching the offensive line, joined the USC staff as offensive line coach in February of 1998.

Greatwood, 40, came to USC after being the offensive line coach at Maryland in 1997. Before that, he handled the offensive line and tight ends for the St. Louis Rams for 2 seasons (1995-96).

He spent the prior 15 years (1980-94) coaching at Oregon, his alma mater. After serving as a graduate assistant coach the first 2 seasons there, he worked with the offensive line and tight ends the rest of the time. The Ducks played in 4 bowls during his tenure, including the 1995 Rose Bowl. Among the players he coached who went into the NFL was All-Pro tackle Gary Zimmerman.

Greatwood started at offensive guard for 3 years (1977-79) at Oregon and played in the Hula Bowl after his senior season. He received his bachelor's degree in sociology from Oregon in 1981. He prepped at Churchill High in Eugene, Ore.

He was born on Aug. 15, 1958. He and his wife, Sheri, have 3 daughters: Kallie, 15, and 10-year-old twins Tessa and Emmy.

Hue Jackson

Offensive Coordinator
Running Backs

Hue Jackson, a proponent of the West Coast offense, is in his second year at USC as offensive coordinator. Hired in December of 1996, he also coached the quarterbacks in 1997 and will handle the running backs in 1998.

He led California's high-powered offense in 1996 as their offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. Under Jackson, the 1996 Golden Bears averaged 457.6 yards of total offense (No. 2 in the Pac-10) and led the league in passing offense (321.5). Cal quarterback Pat Barnes (who was a fourth round draft pick by the Kansas City Chiefs) led the Pac-10 in total offense and passing efficiency.

Jackson, 32, has 11 years of coaching experience. Before his season at California, he spent 4 years (1992-95) at Arizona State. He was ASU's running backs coach for the first 3 years (1992-94), where he coached future NFL second rounder Mario Bates, then he handled the Sun Devil quarterbacks in 1995 as Jake Plummer—a future second round NFL draft selection by the Arizona Cardinals—was an All-Pac-10 first teamer.

Jackson began his coaching career in 1987 at Pacific, his alma mater. He spent 3 years (1987-89) there, the first 2 working for future USC assistant Bob Cope. After serving as a Tiger graduate assistant working with the tight ends in 1987, he became the wide receivers coach in 1988 and the running backs coach in 1989. He also worked with the special teams while at Pacific.

For the next 2 years (1990-91), he was the running backs coach and special teams coach at Cal State Fullerton. Between those 2 seasons, in the spring of 1991, he coached the running backs, receivers and special teams for the World League's inaugural year champion London Monarchs.

Jackson also held 3 NFL summer coaching internships, in 1990 with the Los Angeles Rams (working with ex-USC coach John Robinson), 1992 with the Phoenix Cardinals and 1995 with the Washington Redskins.

Jackson was a standout quarterback at Pacific under Cope in 1985 and 1986, throwing for 2,544 yards and 19 TDs in his career. As a senior, he passed for 1,455 yards and rushed for 417 yards. As a junior, he threw for 1,089 yards (52.3% completions) and ran for another 502 yards. He also lettered in basketball at Pacific in 1986. He received his bachelor's degree in education from Pacific in 1987.

He starred in football at Glendale (Calif.) Community College in 1983 and 1984, where he earned his associate's degree in 1984. He prepped at Dorsey High in Los Angeles.

Born Oct. 22, 1965, he and his wife, Michelle, have 2 daughters, Jordan, 4, and Baylee, 1.

Ken O'Brien
Quarterbacks

It's safe to say that Ken O'Brien, who was named USC's quarterbacks coach in March of 1998, knows a thing or two about the position.

The former long-time NFL quarterback spent the 1997 season as the quarterbacks coach at UC Davis, his alma mater. The Aggies were an NCAA Division II semifinalist and quarterback Kevin Daft ranked 25th in passing efficiency in NCAA Division II (the team was fifth in passing offense in NCAA Division II).

O'Brien, 37, played 11 years (1983-93) in the NFL, the first 10 with the New York Jets and 1993 with the Philadelphia Eagles. He was the Jets' first round draft pick in the 1983 draft and went on to rank second behind Joe Namath on the team's career passing yardage (24,386) and touchdown passes (124) lists. A 2-time (1985-91) Pro Bowl selection, he was named the AFC's MVP by the Washington D.C. Touchdown Club in 1985 when he became the first Jet to lead the NFL in passing (297-of-488, 60.9%, 3,888 yards, 25 TDs, 8 interceptions, 96.4 rating). He passed for 300-plus yards 15 times with the Jets, twice for more than 400 yards (including 479 against Miami in 1986). He guided the Jets into the playoffs in 1985, 1988 and 1991. In his 11-year career (he started for 7 seasons, 1985-91), he completed 2,110-of-3,602 passes (58.6%) for 25,094 yards, 128 TDs and 96 interceptions. His career passing rating of 80.4 ranks among the Top 20 of NFL quarterbacks.

He is UC Davis' all-time leader in passing yards (6,637) and attempts (820) while starting his 3 seasons (1980-82) there. He was an All-American first teamer as a 1982 senior and led the 12-1 Aggies to the national championship game (an injury kept him from that contest). He was an All-Conference first teamer each season and was the Conference Offensive Player of the Year his junior and senior campaigns. His 2,976 passing yards in 1982 (on 217-of-349 passing, 62.2%, with a school-record 23 TDs) is second on the school's season list. UC Davis went 25-7-1 in his career as he completed 470-of-830 passes (56.6%) for 6,637 yards, 44 TDs and 25 interceptions (the completions and touchdowns were school records that have since been broken). He also is second on the school's career total offense chart (6,563 yards, 1 yard short of the leader). He was inducted into the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame in 1997 and the UC Davis Athletic Hall of Fame in 1988.

He received his bachelor's degree in political science from UC Davis in 1983.

He started as a 1978 freshman at Sacramento State, hitting 64-of-156 passes (41.0%) for 714 yards, 4 TDs and 4 interceptions.

He prepped at Jesuit High in Sacramento, Calif., starring in football and baseball.

He was a sports broadcaster at KCRA-TV in Sacramento in 1995 and 1996.

Before that, he spent 3 years (1992-94) at Stanford coaching the wide receivers and tight ends. The 1992 Cardinal squad went 10-3 (including a 23-9 victory over USC), was the Pacific-10 co-champion, finished ranked No. 9 in the nation and beat Penn State in the Blockbuster Bowl. In 1994, Stanford wide receiver Justin Armour won All-Pac-10 first team honors and set the school career receiving yardage record. Armour and tight end Tony Cline both were fourth round picks of the Buffalo Bills in the 1995 NFL draft, while tight end Ryan Wetnight was a free agent signee of the Chicago Bears. The 1993 and 1994 Stanford squads topped the Pac-10 in passing offense.

He was the Golden Hurricane's defensive line coach the first 3 campaigns, then added defensive coordinator responsibilities the final 2 years. Tulsa won the Missouri Valley Conference championship all 5 years and went unbeaten in league play in 1983 and 1984.

When Tulsa coach John Cooper moved to Arizona State in 1985, Young went with him as the Sun Devils' defensive line coach for 3 years (1985-87). ASU played in 3 bowls during that time, including winning the Rose Bowl after capturing the Pacific-10 crown in 1986. Young then followed Cooper to Ohio State in 1988.

1998: Abdul-Malik, a quick sophomore coming off an impressive rookie season, returns as a starting defensive end in 1998.

1997: Abdul-Malik started at defensive end in USC's last 9 games of 1997 as a redshirt freshman (he backed up Lawrence Larry there for the first 2 contests). He was named to the 1997 Sporting News Freshman All-American first team. Overall while appearing in all 11 games in 1997, he had 26 tackles, including 15 for losses of 64 yards (with a team-best 7 sacks for minus 42 yards), plus 3 deflections and 2 forced fumbles (against Washington State and UNLV). He had 5 tackles (2 were sacks) against Washington State, 4 stops versus California (3 were sacks) and UNLV (2 for losses), and 3 tackles (2 for losses, with a sack) at Notre Dame.

1996: Abdul-Malik redshirted as a freshman linebacker in 1996, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named a 1995 Super Prep All-American, Super Prep All-Far West, Blue Chip All-Western, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, All-CIF Division II, Los Angeles Times All-San Gabriel Valley first team, Pasadena Star News All-West Valley first team and All-Pacific League Defensive Co-MVP as a senior at Arcadia (Calif.) High. He made 127 tackles (88 solo), 4 sacks, 4 interceptions and 5 forced fumbles as a linebacker in 1995, and also rushed for 500-plus yards and 5 TDs as a fullback.

He added 90 tackles and 3 interceptions as a 1994 junior while being named to the Pasadena Star News All-West Valley second team. In his career, he posted 300-plus tackles, 31 tackles for losses, 15 sacks, and 7 interceptions.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. His father, Ed Powell (now Wali Abdul-Malik), starred at linebacker for USC in 1972 through 1974, earning All-Pacific-8 in 1974 (Troy played in 3 Rose Bowls during his career and won the national championship in 1972 and 1974). His mother, Sheila, played in the Trojan Marching Band. His first name (Sultan) means "King" and his last name (Abdul-Malik) means "Server of God." His nickname is "Diesel." He enjoys listening to music. His sports hero is Muhammad Ali.

SULTAN ABDUL-MALIK ON: His impressive performance in 1997: "It was a combination of things I did working hard in the off-season and also being given the chance to play the 'strike' position. That gave me a chance to do a lot of things, a lot of stunts, a lot of movement...Any playing time I got, I took advantage of. But I didn't expect it to be easy, because I had never played a down of college football."

His game-ending midfield 10-yard sack of Ron Powlus in USC's 20-17 win at Notre Dame in 1997: "It was the most exciting play I've ever made. I feel blessed to have had the chance to make that last sack. The coaches told me to just contain the quarterback on that play, but I was just so excited that I started to contain, then ran inside and sacked the quarterback...It was really exciting to finish a game like that. I saw Powlus just laying there kind of in disbelief. The next thing I saw were a bunch of people running onto the field and hugging each other...The last four plays of the game, I was really sucking air. But when the quarterback said 'Hike,' the whole thing just engulfed me and I didn't even think about being tired out there."

His spectacular sack of Washington State's Ryan Leaf in 1997, while he leaped over a Cougar defender: "The coaches rewound it 10 times when we were watching the video the next day. Everybody was laughing about it."

Switching from linebacker to defensive end prior to the 1997 season: "After high school, I figured I'd eventually be moved to defensive end. It was a good transition because in an all-star game after high school, I played defensive end. And I always blitzed as a standup linebacker in high school, so it was a really smooth switch for me. It's much better. You get a little bit more action. It's a speed position away from the tight end, so you just come around the corner and go after the quarterback. I've gotten bigger since I've been here and I see myself playing that position in the future."

His USC background: "My whole life I grew up around USC football and my mom also played in the band here one year. So I've got USC blood in me. I always knew I'd come here. It was always in the back of my mind. It was home...The first college football game I ever attended was the 1990 USC-Notre Dame game at the Coliseum. It was just an exciting feeling being there. I remember thinking to myself, 'This is the kind of environment I want to play in one day.'"

His father: "He was my first coach on my Pop Warner team. He taught me how to play. I've been learning from him ever since. He's a big reason why I came to USC...He's everything to me. He's my life mentor. He keeps me on the straight road and gives me advice whenever he can. He has helped me every day...We're real close. He advises me a lot. Instead of a kidding around type of thing, it's more like he wants to guide me. He wants me to do well in school and on the football field. We have a good relationship. I really appreciate what he has done for me to get me here. Without him, I wouldn't be here...He keeps me focused on the balance between football and school...I always think, wow, he played here and now he sees me starting to have success like he did. I know he's so happy seeing me here, continuing where he left off...It's a motivation, following in his footsteps. Sometimes I think about it, but I'm also trying to continue where my dad left off, keep going, moving forward and better the family name...I want to achieve what he did and more. I want to continue from where he was. I've just got to make him proud...He told me that when I went out the tunnel for my first game, I was going to get a big rush seeing all those people. He told me what I was about to see because he had already experienced it. I was looking forward to whatever he said was going to happen."

His Islamic faith: "Islam is a big influence. I really believe without God I wouldn't be where I am today. If I stay strong in my faith, that right there will help me keep doing what I'm doing. If I lose faith in God, everything will go downhill from there."

Muhammad Ali, his sports hero: "He reminds me of my dad. Muhammad Ali was a non-Muslim athlete who changed. He went through all of the adversity and was still the best at what he did. If he could make it as a Muslim athlete, I know I could. He's a great example of what you can do."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: His father, Wali Abdul-Mali: "It really sent chills down my spine as I sat in the stands for the Florida State opener and he ran out onto the field for his first varsity game. I was really so proud of him...I really respect him a lot. To see how he has blossomed into a young man. He's very responsible. I like his work ethic. I like the way he does things."

Former USC defensive line coach Jeff McInerney: "He plays fast and his practice habits are good. His feet never stop. Every good pass rusher you see does that. If he doesn't beat you with his first move, then he gets you with his second."

Adam ABRAMS

Placekicker

5-9 • 185

CAREER: In his career, Abrams has made 28-of-38 field goals and 79-of-85 PATs.

1998: Abrams, an accurate senior who ranks among the nation's best placekickers, will handle USC's field goal and extra point duties for his fourth season in 1998, although he's being pushed by David Bell. Also a fine student, he's a candidate for Academic All-American honors.

1997: As a junior in his third season as USC's placekicker, Abrams was the Pac-10's most accurate field goal kicker (90.9%) in 1997. Overall in 1997, he hit 10-of-11 field goals and 25-of-27 PATs. He came on strong after a so-so start. After missing his first field goal attempt of 1997 (at California) and misfiring on 2 of his first 6 extra point kicks (1 was blocked by Washington State and he missed 1 at California), he connected on his last 10 field goals (a career-best 3 at Oregon State—including a 46-yarder to tie his all-time long—plus 2 versus both UNLV and Notre Dame, and 1 versus Oregon, Stanford and UCLA) and made good on his last 21 PATs. He will long be remembered for hitting a game-winning 27-yard field goal with 1:05 to play at Notre Dame (he earned Pac-10 Special Teams Player of the Week honors for his performance). He won his second Pac-10 Special Teams Player of the Week award of 1997 for his Oregon State showing.

1996: As a sophomore in 1996, Abrams handled the placekicking chores for his second season. He hit 13-of-21 field goals (with a best of 39 yards), including a pair of 3-pointers in 5 different games (Illinois, Houston, Stanford, UCLA and Notre Dame), and 33-of-36 PATs. However, he had 7 kicks (5 field goals, 2 PATs) blocked. He was fifth in the Pac-10 in field goals (1.1).

1995: Abrams inherited the placekicking job vacated by Cole Ford as a redshirt freshman in 1995. But a strained right thigh suffered prior to the Houston game limited him to just 6 contests (San Jose State, Arizona, Arizona State, Oregon State, UCLA and Northwestern in the Rose Bowl). Overall in 1995, he hit 5-of-6 field goals: a long of 46 yards in the fourth quarter against Northwestern which proved to be USC's decisive points (it was the longest field goal by a Trojan since Quin Rodriguez hit a 54-yarder against Michigan State in the 1990 John Hancock Bowl) to go along with a 30-yarder earlier in the game, plus a 41-yarder at Arizona, a 39-yarder versus Arizona State, and a 33-yarder against San Jose State on his first-ever 3-point attempt as a collegian. He also made 21-of-22 PATs. He handled some early-season kickoffs until getting hurt.

1994: Abrams redshirted as a placekicker in 1994, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: Abrams was on the 1993 Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Blue Chip All-American and Football News All-American first teams, plus USA Today All-USA second team, Tom Lemming's Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team (the first placekicker selected in the 18 years of the poll), Tacoma Morning News Tribune Western 100, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, National Football Foundation/San Diego Chapter Offensive Player of the Year and All-CIF San Diego Section first team at The Bishop's School in La Jolla (Calif.). He hit 9-of-13 field goals (including 52- and 50-yarders) and 30-of-30 PATs as a 1993 senior.

He made the San Diego Union-Tribune All-San Diego County second team in 1992 as a junior while hitting 8-of-11 field goals and 30-of-30 PATs. He was 13-of-17 on PATs in 1991 as a sophomore. In his career, 116 of his 126 kickoffs went for touchbacks, including one that he kicked from the 20-yard line following a safety. He raised more than $7,000 for the Make-A-Wish Foundation by raising pledges for each point he scored as a junior and senior, an effort that was acknowledged by California governor Pete Wilson, who nominated Adam for a Young American Medal for Service.

He also was All-League in soccer and baseball as a prep. He won an Advanced Placement Scholar Award at Bishop's.

PERSONAL: Adam is a business administration major at USC with a B+ average (3.36 GPA). He was a 1997 Pac-10 All-Academic first teamer and a 1996 Pac-10 All-Academic honorable mention pick. In 1997, he was selected as a member of USC's Mortar Board, an academic honorary society. He wants to work in the music industry (his minor field of study at USC). His brother, Eric, was a placekicker at Stanford (1992-95). They kicked against each other in high school, as Eric went to Country Day School in La Jolla. Adam played keyboards in a band when he was younger. He says the funniest thing that happened to him in a game was when "I once downed my own punt when I was kicking into an extremely strong wind which took the ball backwards behind the line of scrimmage." His sports hero is ex-USC All-American linebacker Junior Seau.

ADAM ABRAMS ON: Academics: "My reason for coming to USC was more than just football. That's what I do so much of, so that's the thing people look at first. But there are other things that interest me. I know that I definitely want to work for a record company and my classes at USC will help with that."

Redshirting as a freshman: "That was fine with me, because I was able to get settled in with the whole program. I started to get the routine down with football and managing my time. And I learned a lot from Cole Ford, watching him in the games and in practice...I think I was a lot more prepared for 1995."

Adjustments from high school to college kicking: "I had to work on my elevation, because when I watched Cole kick, compared to me, he got so much elevation. I also had to work on my hip strength...(Kicking without a tee,) I lost a little bit of distance and elevation, but I've gotten a lot better at it than when I started. The redshirt year helped with that...The Coliseum is sort of a tough place to kick, because the grass is real soft and the ball sinks in. You've got to really work on getting the ball up."

Mike BASTIANELLI

Wide Receiver

1998: One of USC's top athletes who is known for having good hands and running smart routes, Bastianelli again figures to see lots of action as a senior wide receiver in 1998. He's listed as the backup to Billy Miller at split end. He also will serve as the holder on all placekicks.

1997: Bastianelli was the often-used backup to Miller at a wide receiver spot as a junior in 1997. Overall while appearing in 9 games in 1997, he caught 33 passes (third on USC) for 376 yards (11.4 avg.) and 3 TDs. He had a career-high 7 catches for 58 yards at Oregon State, a team-best 6 for a career-high 75 yards (with a 15-yard TD) versus Washington State, 5 for 41 yards against UNLV, and 3 against California (for 47 yards), UCLA (for 45 yards, including a 17-yard TD) and Arizona State (for 32 yards, with a 21-yard TD). He missed 2 mid-season games (Notre Dame and Oregon) because of a university-related ethics issue. He also played on some special teams.

1996: Bastianelli started the last 4 games (Washington, Stanford, UCLA and Notre Dame) at wide receiver as a sophomore in 1996 and proved to be USC's most reliable pass catcher. Overall while appearing in all 12 games in 1996, he had 24 receptions for 391 yards (16.3 avg.) with 1 TD. He had a then-career-high 5 catches for 53 yards at Stanford, plus 4 grabs for 59 yards versus California and 3 for 53 yards (with a 29-yard TD) at Washington State. Against Notre Dame, he had 3 catches for 68 yards. He also was on special teams and made 2 tackles and blocked a punt at Washington State. He even tried an end-around pass at Arizona State, but it was incomplete. He was moved to safety in 1996 spring drills, but was shifted back to wide receiver at the start of 1996 fall drills.

1995: As a first-year freshman, Bastianelli played a variety of roles for USC in 1995 while appearing in all 12 games. As a reserve wide receiver, he made 1 catch for 15 yards (a key reception on third-and-12 to keep a USC scoring drive alive against Washington State). He also played on numerous special teams, where he recorded 7 tackles, including 1 for a loss of 9 yards (he tackled the Stanford punter before he could get the ball off), and even scored a touchdown when he fell on the ball in the end zone when USC's Larry Parker fumbled at the end of a 63-yard punt return versus Washington State. Bastianelli also handled the kickoff duties admirably the last 10 games when placekickers Adam Abrams and Adam Rendon were slowed with leg injuries.

HIGH SCHOOL: His 1994 honors included Blue Chip All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Blue Chip All-Western, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Student Sports All-State first team and San Francisco Examiner All-San Francisco-Metro MVP as an option quarterback, wide receiver, strong safety, placekicker and punter for De La Salle High in Concord (Calif.). He completed 54% of his passes for 876 yards and 13 TDs in 1994 as a senior, plus ran for 938 yards (9.6 avg.) with 20 TDs. He averaged 40 yards per punt. He set a state record with 162 career PAT kicks. De La Salle went 13-0 in 1994, was the state champ and was picked by ESPN as the nation's No. 1 team.

As a 1993 junior, he passed for 1,135 yards and 14 TDs, ran for 861 yards and 17 scores, and even kicked a 48-yard field goal. He was named to the 1993 Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass and San Francisco Examiner All-San Francisco-Metro first teams. De La Salle never lost (39-0) in his 3-year career, winning 3 North Coast Section 3A titles. He also played soccer as a prep.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. He has a tattoo of a panther on his right shoulder and "Turbo 23" (in memory of a high school teammate who drowned) on his left shoulder.

MIKE BASTIANELLI ON: Losing: "Losing is hell, absolute hell. It's like the worst toothache in the world. It's like torture...Walking off the field after a win is the best feeling in the world. It makes everything you go through during the week and during the off-season worth it...I didn't lose a game in high school and I actually came to USC thinking the same thing was going to happen. I don't think there's anybody who hates losing more than me, and if there is, I'd like to meet him. All my life I've been a winner. As far back as I can remember, I've been playing in championships, whether it was football, soccer, baseball, T-Ball or basketball."

Playing wide receiver: "For me, it's natural. No matter where the ball is, I'll go up and get it, I'll go down and get it, I'll stretch out, I'll dive, whatever I have to do to catch it. I'm aggressive like that. I like to make plays. Like I did in high school, I like to make things happen...There's no doubt in my mind that when I line up across from a DB, no matter who it is, I'm going to win. That's just how I feel. Of course, I'm not going to win every single time, but I feel like I should win every time. No matter where the ball is, I feel like I should catch it."

Being physical: "If I can make a tackle or throw a block that helps us win a game, then I'll take the bruise that comes with it. That's not a problem for me. To me, winning is worth a little bit of pain."

Playing different positions: "Whatever the coaches want me to do, I'll do. If they want me to play defensive back, I'll play defensive back. If they want me to play receiver, I'll play receiver. If they want me to kick, I'll kick...I didn't plan on kicking at all. But the more I can do, the more I help the team out. Not a lot of freshmen get that opportunity and I'm lucky I did."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC wide receivers coach Mike Wilson: "He plays with a real recklessness. He puts everything into every practice. I love that. When I was a player (with the San Francisco 49ers), I loved having a teammate like that, and now that I'm coaching, i love coaching a guy like that. Mike will do whatever it takes, from catching a tough pass over the middle to playing some special teams. To win games, you need guys like that."

David BELL

Placekicker — Punter

So.*/Jr.

#37

1998: Bell, a strong-legged placekicker, will push Adam Abrams for the extra point and field goal job as a sophomore in 1998. He also could handle USC's kickoff duties and will be the backup punter behind Mike MacGillivray.

1997: Bell redshirted as a sophomore placekicker in 1997.

1996: Bell, the last signee in the 1996 recruiting class, handled USC's kickoff duty in the last 10 games of 1996 as a first-year freshman and proved effective. He also made 1 tackle (at Houston).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 2-time (1994 and 1995) All-CIF Division I placekicker at Western High in Anaheim (Calif.). Ken BOWEN

Offensive Tackle

#74

1998: Bowen, one of USC's biggest players, has started the past 2 years at right offensive tackle and looks to continue in that role as a senior in 1998, although he's being pushed for playing time by Rome Douglas and Matt Welch.

1997: Bowen started for his second year at right offensive tackle as a junior in 1997.

1996: Bowen started at right offensive tackle all of 1996 as a sophomore and did a commendable job.

1995: As a 1995 redshirt freshman, Bowen was the backup right offensive tackle behind Norberto Garrido and also played on special teams. He appeared in all 12 games in 1995, including 6 (San Jose State, Houston, Arizona, Arizona State, Oregon State, and Northwestern in the Rose Bowl) briefly on the line.

1994: Bowen redshirted as an offensive tackle in 1994, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: Bowen earned 1993 Super Prep All-Florida, All-Central Florida and All-Metro notice as a senior at Dr. Phillips High in Orlando (Fla.). He made All-Metro third team as a 1992 junior. He also was on the wrestling and track teams, throwing the javelin, discus (166-7 best) and shot put (50-3 best).

PERSONAL: He's a communication major at USC. He was born in San Antonio, Tex. In his spare time, he likes going to the movies. His father, Kenneth, played football at Missouri.

KEN BOWEN ON: His demeanor: "I've become more aggressive, which is what everyone had been looking for. People are always telling me not to be such a nice guy, that it's okay to run guys over on the field. I realize that I can do that...I'm trying to step up the aggressiveness. They keep telling me to be nasty, be nasty."

His ability: "I've improved in my quickness, my pass blocking, my concentration, and knowing myself. My confidence is a lot better. I'm not thinking so much with what I should be doing."

His dream of being a professional wrestler: "People think I'm joking but I'm not. I'm serious. It looks like fun. You get to travel around the country and you get paid for it. It's something that I've wanted to do for a while...I've got my special move down. You've seen guys pick their opponents up by the throat and throw them down on the back of their neck. What I'm going to do is grab them by the throat and throw them backwards, onto their face...My nickname will be 'Swamp Monster,' unless I come up with something better."

Serving as Muhammad Ali's bodyguard at a sports memorabilia show in the summer of 1996: "I was basically just doing general security for the day. I was told that they needed someone downstairs at the autograph booths, so I followed the boss down there and he sat me down next to Muhammad Ali. He saw me coming up and stopped signing autographs, looked at me that way that he does with his eyes, stood up and picked up his fists. He was funny. He's a joker. Even when I was told that I could go on a lunch break, I said, 'No, I'll stay right here.' I was awestruck. There was just one word to describe it and that's 'Wow.' He couldn't really speak, but he was all there. You knew exactly what he meant. It was amazing and something I'll never forget."

Movies: "I love going to the movies. It's a way to escape from everything, if only for a couple hours. If I could, I'd go every night...I love action-adventure movies and anything with Arnold Schwarzenegger. Even if it's terrible acting. I don't want to put down any Jean-Claude Van Damme fans, he's no Oscar winner, but I love his movies and would go see them by myself if no one would go with me."

His favorite food, half-pound Cajun-style cheeseburgers: "I love them. I'll eat them any time of the day. I'll eat them for breakfast, lunch, dinner. I like making them myself because you can play with stuff in the kitchen—seasonings and whatnot. When you go to a restaurant, you've got to have it their way."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Florida State head coach Bobby Bowden: "He looks like he turned out pretty good to me."

USC offensive guard Travis Claridge: "He's a big mountain of a man. When I first met him, he wasn't a very aggressive guy. Now he really steps that up a notch."

Paul Goldberg, USC Report: "There's a gentle giant on USC's offensive line, but he's learning to be mean...It's fitting that Bowen is the heir to Norberto Garrido. Both can block out the sun with the best of 'em and both have had to be prodded in their careers to be aggressive."

Chris CLAIBORNE

Linebacker

Jr./Jr.

1998: The always-around-the-ball Claiborne, USC's latest defensive star, should have a stellar season as a junior linebacker in 1998. He plays the middle linebacker spot. A 2-year starter, he is in line for All-American and Butkus Award consideration. After 1998 spring practice, he had arthroscopic surgery to remove scar tissue on his left knee.

1997: Claiborne started for his second season at linebacker as a sophomore in 1997. Overall while starting all 11 games in 1997, he had 76 tackles (second on USC), including 16 for losses of 84 yards (with a team-best 7 sacks for 47 yards), plus 1 fumble recovery (against Stanford, which led to a USC field goal) and 1 forced fumble (against Oregon). He won 1997 All-Pac-10 first team and Football News All-American honorable mention honors. He was listed by the Downtown Athletic Club of Orlando as a candidate for the 1997 Butkus Award.

Against Florida State, he led USC with 8 tackles, including a pair of sacks (the first of his career). He added 5 stops against Washington State. All 4 of his tackles at California were for losses. He had 6 tackles versus UNLV, including a pair of sacks, and added 12 stops at Arizona State. At Notre Dame, he had 6 tackles (2 for losses) and helped break up a pass which Mark Cusano intercepted to set up USC's winning field goal. He made 7 stops (including a sack) and forced a fumble versus Oregon, then added 7 more tackles (2 for losses) at Washington. He had 8 tackles and a fumble recovery against Stanford. At Oregon State, he posted 6 tackles, including a sack. He had 7 stops (1 for a loss) against UCLA.

1996: Claiborne was one of America's top freshmen as a middle linebacker in 1996. He was named a 1996 Freshman All-American first teamer by The Sporting News and was a 1996 All-Pac-10 honorable mention pick. In midseason, Sports Illustrated named him 1 of the "Top 3 True Freshmen in the Nation." Overall in 1996 while starting 9 of the 12 games in which he appeared, he proved to be a dominant defensive force as he had 116 tackles (second on USC), including 4 for a loss, plus 1 fumble recovery, 1 forced fumble, 7 deflections, and 2 interceptions. Of his 116 stops, a team-best 81 were unassisted. His 116 total tackles was the most ever by a Trojan freshman. He tied for fourth in the Pac-10 in tackles (9.7). He also served as the protection man on punts (he even took a short snap and ran 3 yards against Notre Dame, but was just short of a first down).

After serving as an often-used backup in USC's first 3 contests (he had 4 tackles versus Penn State, 3 at Illinois and 2 against Oregon State), he started the last 8 games. He provided USC with its only points against Penn State when he recovered a fumble in the end zone with 29 seconds to play. He then started at Houston, getting 8 tackles with a fourth-quarter interception. Versus California, he notched a game-best 19 tackles (the most by a Trojan since All-American safety and Thorpe Award winner Mark Carrier had 20 at Notre Dame in 1987), including an incredible 17 solo stops, with 1 deflection (in the first half alone, he had 13 tackles, including 11 solo). He added 9 stops (1 for a loss) and a deflection against Arizona. He was everywhere at Arizona State, getting a game-best 20 tackles (again the most since Carrier's 20 at Notre Dame in 1987) and also intercepted a pass on the Sun Devils' first series (leading to a Trojan TD). He had 8 tackles (1 for a loss) at Washington State, a game-tying-high 12 versus Washington and 8 (2 for losses) at Stanford. At UCLA, he had a game-topping 13 stops with 2 deflections, then added 10 tackles with a forced fumble against Notre Dame.

HIGH SCHOOL: His 1995 honors included Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Bluechip All-American (and Elite 22), Schutt Sports All-American, USA Today All-USA second team (and California MVP), Student Sports Hot 100, Bluechip Best of the West, Super Prep All-Farwest, Blue Chip All-Western, Student Sports All-West Coast, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Student Sports California MVP, Cal-Hi Sports All-State, All-CIF Southern Section, All-CIF Division IV MVP, Los Angeles Times Glenn Davis Award (as the top Southern California prep football player), Los Angeles Times All-Inland Empire first team (on offense and defense, and Back of the Year), and Riverside Press-Enterprise All-Riverside County MVP as a senior linebacker, tailback and punter at J.W. North High in Riverside (Calif.). He made 100-plus tackles, 2 sacks, 2 interceptions, 2 forced fumbles and 2 fumble recoveries (including 1 for a 57-yard TD) in 1995. He also ran for 2,199 yards on 235 carries (9.4 avg.) with 38 TDs, caught 17 passes for 239 yards (14.1 avg.) with 3 TDs, and averaged 35.0 yards on punts. He ranked in the state's Top 10 in rushing and scoring. He appeared in Sports Illustrated's "Faces in the Crowd." North won the CIF Division IV title in 1995 with a 14-0 record and was ranked No. 1 in the state Division II.

As a 1994 junior, he made Cal-Hi Sports All-State Junior, All-CIF Division IV and Riverside Press Enterprise All-Riverside County. He caught 11 passes for 201 yards (18.3 avg.) with 3 TDs in 1994.

He also played basketball at North, averaging 14.9 points (18.1 in the playoffs) and 11.8 rebounds as a senior center (North was the CIF Division 2AA runnerup) and 13.0 points and 9.0 rebounds as a junior. He earned 1996 Student Sports Grid-Hoops All-American first team, All-CIF Division II first team, Los Angeles Times All-Inland Empire first team, and Riverside Press Enterprise All-Riverside County first team honors. He was the 1995-96 Cal-Hi Sports State Athlete of the Year.

PERSONAL: He's majoring in public policy and management at USC. His brother, Adrian, was a wide receiver at Fresno State (1993-96). His sports hero is Marshall Faulk. As a youngster, he sang in his church choir.

CHRIS CLAIBORNE ON: His playing style: "Teams see that I'm an aggressive player. You attack players like that. But that's all right. I'm not going to change my style. I need to get stronger and I need to understand the game more. Sure, I make mistakes. But I try to fix them...I play hard. I'm competitive. I've tried to prove I belong at this level."

Making lots of tackles in a game: "I just try to make plays. If I end up with 19 tackles, I end up with 19 tackles. But the main thing is to go out and try to make plays."

Wearing jersey No. 55, previously worn by Junior Seau and Willie McGinest: "It was a great honor. The coaches said, 'You need to wear 55.' They said it was the tradition. They've added expectations I want to get to and surpass if I can. I want to be better than those guys...I want to live up to that number and add on to it if I can, but those guys haven't left much room for improvement. If I can make enough tackles here, maybe people will remember me for that number, too...I know everything Junior Seau does, I know all his stats. It's a competition to me. I want to be just like Junior. The thing I like about him is his intensity. He makes mistakes some- times, but in the crunch he makes a lot of big plays. One day, I'd like people to think of me like that...I want to dominate the game. I want to take my game to another level."

Spending a month in the summer of 1996 working out in Okinawa with his father, Emmitt, a master gunnery sergeant in the Marines: "We ran the beach, the hills, jumped rope, lifted weights. It was like boot camp. He told me never to stop growing...It was good weather for me to get in shape in over there. It was really humid, which made it good to run in. They have some real nice beaches to run on over there...It was hot and humid. You'd be running next to the ocean, but it was like the ocean wasn't there."

His father's advice: "My father always told me that you can't use excuses. You play the game. You get a result. There aren't any excuses...He also taught me that you've got to be prepared, to never be satisfied and to keep trying to improve yourself...I always want to get better."

His first career start (at Houston in 1996): "It was about the most scared I've been and the most fun I've ever had at one time."

His off-field demeanor: "I leave football on the field. I try not to take it into my everyday life. A lot of times when you play the game, your intensity makes you play hard. That's my forte. But once I leave the field, I'm a pretty laid-back person. I care about family and stuff like that. I try to leave football on the field. It works for me."

Not playing running back any longer: "I'm not a running back any more. I have to put that out of my mind. I can only control the ball on one side of the field now. I deal with that every day...I miss running back, but my mentality is defensive now and that's where I'm staying...I'm a defensive player. I like that. I like the physical part. Offense is more finesse. Defense, you're taking it to them every play. You've got to play hard every play."

His dream of returning an interception for a touchdown: "I'd like to just get a pick and take it to the house! That would just show everybody that I can still run. I'd just like to take one and show my speed, that I can run."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Former USC defensive coordinator Keith Burns: "I think we're looking at a guy who could be one of the best linebackers ever to play the game before he's finished...Chris has incredible big-play ability, an incredible ability to just make things happen."

Former USC linebacker Sammy Knight: "Chris has a great attitude on and off the field. He comes out and works hard every day. He plays hard, he hits hard, he runs around and makes plays, and he helps make the other linebackers better."

Matt Deringer, USC Report: "If football had a so-called 'five-point player,' Claiborne would be it. He can rush the passer, stuff the run, play pass coverage, he's got a knack for being around the ball and he's a leader."

Lyle Spencer, Riverside Press-Enterprise: "He's not only the best high school athlete I've seen over almost four decades of watching preps, he's also a bright, aware young man who was raised beautifully...Those who coached him in high school talked about his leadership, the positive imprint he left on teammates."

Kevin Modesti, Los Angeles Daily News: "Fifty-five knows no speed limit."

Travis CLARIDGE

Offensive Guard

6-6 • 310
Jr./Jr.

#71

1998: The big, strong, tough and aggressive Claridge, who has started at right offensive guard the past 2 seasons, figures to be among college football's finest linemen as a junior in 1998.

1997: Claridge started for his second season at right offensive guard as a sophomore in 1997. After the 1997 season, he had arthroscopic surgery to repair torn cartilage in his right shoulder and bone chips in his right ankle.

1996: Claridge, who started all of 1996 at right offensive guard as a first-year freshman, proved as good as advertised. He was named a 1996 Freshman All-American first teamer by The Sporting News. He became the first true freshman to start a season opener on the offensive line for USC since 1979 Lombardi Award winner Brad Budde did so at guard against Missouri in 1976. (Clay Hattabaugh was the last Trojan first-year freshman to start any game on the offensive line when he did so at Arizona in 1991 in the season's 10th contest. The last Trojan true freshman to start a season opener at any position was outside linebacker Willie McGinest versus Syracuse in the 1990 Kickoff Classic against Syracuse.) He also made 1 tackle. After the 1996 season, he had arthroscopic surgery to repair torn cartilage in his left shoulder.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named a 1995 Parade All-American, USA Today All-USA first team, Super Prep All-American, Bluechip All-American (and Elite 22), Schutt Sports All-American, Student Sports Hot 100, Bluechip Best of the West, Super Prep All-Farwest, Bluechip All-Western, Student Sports All-West Coast, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Tacoma News Tribune Northwest Nuggets, Gatorade Washington MVP, Prep Illustrated Washington MVP, All-State AAA, Columbian News Dream Team and All-Greater St. Helen League Offensive Lineman MVP as a senior two-way tackle at Fort Vancouver High in Vancouver (Wash.). Parade, USA Today and Bluechip picked him as the nation's No. 1-rated prep offensive lineman. He had 125 knockdown blocks on offense and 97 solo tackles with 23 sacks on defense in 1995.

As a 1994 junior, he averaged 15 knockdown blocks a game and made All-State AAA and Columbian News Dream Team.

As a sophomore in 1993, he made the Columbian News Dream Team and All-Greater St. Helen League. In his career, he posted 405 knockdown blocks, 142 solo tackles and 36 sacks.

PERSONAL: He's a history major at USC. His nickname is "Trapper." He was born in Detroit, Mich., and also lived in El Toro, Calif. As a youngster, he worked out with some athletic trainers, including former Trojan and NFL lineman Marv Marinovich (1959, 1961-62), the father of ex-USC and NFL quarterback Todd Marinovich (1989-90).

TRAVIS CLARIDGE ON: His goal: "I want to be the best lineman out there. I want to be the best of the best. That's my goal. Will I reach that goal? Well, if you shoot for the moon and miss, at least you're with the stars...I want to be the best lineman in the nation and I want to win at least one national championship."

Protecting the quarterback: "I take it personally when our quarterback gets hit. It's like somebody was slapping my mother in the face."

His playing style: "I just play hard. I don't ever quit...Every day, I just try to get better."

His demeanor: "Really, I'm a quiet guy. I don't talk very much. When I came in to USC, a lot of the team thought I was a cocky guy with a big ego."

Starting as a freshman: "That was my goal, to come in and start. I didn't want to redshirt. Why should you accept second when first is available? Once you do that, you tend to do it for the rest of your life...This is what I've worked for."

His secret ambition of being a pro wrestler: "I'd want to be a bad guy. I want people to hate me when I'm wrestling. I think that would be fun, everybody booing!"

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Former USC quarterback Brad Otton: "People worried about the right side of our line at first (in 1996) with him there. But that became the strength of our line. He took a lot of pride in putting people on their backs. He got very offended when people hit me and were on top of me. He took it personally."

Former USC offensive guard Chris Brymer: "Travis is going to be a great player. He's already impressive."

Earl Gustkey, Los Angeles Times: "Is Travis Claridge too good to be true? Has there ever been an 18-year-old offensive lineman this good? What's he going to be like in 1999, when he's a senior?...At a time in football when some players have more earrings than battle scars, Claridge's is the profile of the old-fashioned football player. He looks as if he has jumped off a page in Street & Smith's 1956 college football preview."

Thom Simmons, USC Report: "When you see him up close and in living color, you have to ask yourself how anything besides a redwood tree could be that big at 18...He is 6-6, 300 pounds of pure determination."

Steve Guiremand, Long Beach Press-Telegram: "Claridge is 6-foot-6, 300 well-chistled pounds and has a face that brings back memories of late pro wrestling star Dick the Bruiser."

Overall in 1995 while appearing in all 12 games, he made 8 tackles (including 3 at Oregon State while seeing extensive action as a fifth defensive back when regular nickel back Jesse Davis got hurt). Cook also returned 4 kickoffs for 48 yards (12.0 avg.) as an up man on the kickoff return team, including 2 for 26 yards at Notre Dame and a 22-yarder against Houston.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named a 1994 Blue Chip All-American, Blue Chip All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Long Beach Press-Telegram All-State, Student Sports All-State honorable mention, All-CIF San Diego Section second team and All-Eastern League pick as a senior safety and quarterback at Morse High in San Diego (Calif.). He made 86 tackles, 5 interceptions, 8 deflections, 3 forced fumbles and 1 fumble recovery in 1994. In the option offense, he ran for 823 yards and 8 TDs and passed for 874 yards with 9 TDs in 1994.

As a 1993 junior, he ran for 809 yards with 5 TDs and passed for 726 yards with 7 TDs on offense, while on defense he had 107 tackles, 5 interceptions, 11 deflections, 3 forced fumbles and 2 fumble recoveries (he also returned a punt for a TD). His junior season honors included 1993 All-CIF San Diego Section and All-Eastern League. He added 45 tackles, 6 picks, 10 deflections, 2 forced fumbles and a fumble recovery as a 1992 sophomore while earning 1992 All-CIF San Diego Section second team and All-Eastern League honors on a 14-0 Morse team. He was a 3-year starter at safety and had 16 interceptions. Morse won the CIF San Diego Section Division I title in 1992 and 1994. Current Trojan Lonnie Ford also prepped at Morse.

Also a fine student, he was a 1994 National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame San Diego Scholar-Athlete and was on the 1993 and 1994 San Diego Union-Tribune All-Academic team. He also was on Morse's basketball (he averaged 10 points) and track (with bests of 10.9 in the 100 meters, 23 feet in the long jump, 48 feet in the triple jump and 6-4 in the high jump) teams.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. His sports hero is Jackie Robinson.

RASHARD COOK ON: Hitting: "I just want to hit a person before he hits me. Whoever is coming with the most force is less likely to get hurt. And I like to make sure that they're down...It's fun to hear the crowd make some noise when you hit someone and it gets your teammates excited...If I make a big hit, that's always good. But a lot of times just being in the right place you're going to get the big hit. I just try to make the tackle. If a big hit comes, that comes with effort. Be in the right place and have effort to the ball, and those things will happen."

Blitzing: "Blitzing is just the best feeling in the world. You get a free hit on the quarterback. That's something you really don't get a lot of in the secondary, a free hit with somebody's back turned or in a vulnerable position, where you can make a big play."

Patterning his playing style after ex-USC All-American and NFL All-Pro Ronnie Lott: "I liked the way he played the game. He wasn't the fastest guy, he wasn't the strongest, but he did play smart. He always seemed to be in position to make the plays that his team needed. That's what I want to do...I also liked the way he just dominated opponents. He'd hit you and take you out of the game to where you didn't want to come back in anymore."

Starting in 1997: "I played a lot in 1996, but it's not the same as when you start and play the entire game. Sometimes I would go in and it would be three-and-out, and the next time it would be someone else's turn and he'd get a 10-play drive. Now I'm in there for the three-and-out, the 10-play drive, everything. It feels good to be tired after the game."

Sharing his house as a youngster with foster children: "Some of them were drug babies, some of them had problems like you could never imagine. Some of them are troubled and some are good kids who are just raised in bad circumstances. It's just kids who need a place to stay for 30 days or sometimes for extended periods. It's something that my mom enjoys doing. She started taking care of kids within our family, like our cousins, and it turned into taking care of other people's kids, too. My brothers and I had to sacrifice and help out. I used to come home from basketball or football games and help. My mom explained it all to us when we were younger, so we never had a problem with it. We didn't feel like they were coming in and taking over or that she was giving them more attention. But it made me a lot more mature. It taught me a lot about not being selfish and about helping people out. It's something that we've all got to learn, we all have to learn to share and help people in need...I'm majoring in sociology so I can understand the way people act in society. I want to do a lot with kids when I'm older. I'd like to have a house or something for kids in the inner city. I'm learning about it now and would like to work on it later. I'm not thinking in terms of being a foster parent, but I just want to help any way that I can. Anywhere that I can help somebody else get along in life."

Mark CUSANO

Linebacker

1998: The solid, experienced and underrated Cusano, who has started the past 2 years, figures to rank among the nation's top linebackers as a senior in 1998. He will return to the strong side (his 1996 spot) after playing on the weak side in 1997.

1997: Cusano started for his second season at linebacker as a junior in 1997. Overall in 1997 while starting all 11 games, he had 74 tackles (third on USC), including 9 for losses of 34 yards (with 3 sacks for minus 25 yards), plus 2 interceptions (at Notre Dame, which he returned 27 yards to set up a USC field goal, and Oregon State, which he ran back 15 yards), 3 deflections and 2 forced fumbles (both against Florida State). He was a 1997 All-Pac-10 honorable mention selection.

He had a team-best 8 tackles (1 for a loss) and forced 2 fumbles against Florida State, then added 6 stops (1 for a loss) versus Washington State. At California, he had 7 stops (with a sack). He added 5 tackles versus UNLV. He had a game-high and USC season-best 15 stops (1 for a loss) at Arizona State. At Notre Dame, he made 5 tackles and ran 27 yards with a late fourth quarter interception to set up USC's winning field goal (it was the second year in a row he played a pivotal role in beating the Irish). He was named USC's Player of the Game versus Notre Dame. He added 4 stops (1 for a loss) against Oregon. He had a game-best 10 tackles (including a sack) at Washington and added 3 stops (1 for a loss) versus Stanford. He made a 1-handed interception at Oregon State to go along with his 3 tackles (1 for a loss). Against UCLA, he made 7 tackles (with a sack).

1996: Cusano started all of 1996 at the strongside linebacker spot as a sophomore. Overall in 1996, he had 74 tackles (third on the team), including 3 for losses (with 1 sack), with 6 deflections, 1 interception (at Houston, which led to a USC TD) and 1 fumble recovery (against Oregon State, he picked up a Beaver fumble and went 8 yards for a TD). He'll long be remembered for his game-ending pass deflection on fourth down from the 29-yard line in overtime that gave USC its first win over Notre Dame in 14 years. He had 11 tackles against Notre Dame, 10 versus California and Arizona State, 9 against Oregon State and 7 versus Penn State.

1995: Cusano played often as a backup at linebacker to Errick Herrin (he came in often during passing situations) and on special teams as a first-year freshman in 1995. He even started against Northwestern in the Rose Bowl in the 4-4-3 defense that USC employed. Overall in 1995, he had 50 tackles (tied for fourth on USC), including 1 for a loss of 2 yards, plus 4 deflections. He notched at least 2 tackles in every game, including 7 at Oregon State, 6 against Washington State (with 2 deflections), and 5 versus California, UCLA and Northwestern.

HIGH SCHOOL: His 1994 honors included Blue Chip All-American, Dallas Morning News National Top 100, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Southwest, Blue Chip All-Southwest, All-State Class 5A first team, Dallas Morning News All-State, and Dallas Morning News All-Area as a linebacker at The Colony (Tex.) High. As a 1994 senior, he made 140 tackles, 6 sacks, 8 fumble recoveries and an interception for a TD.

He added 126 tackles (16 for losses, with 3 sacks) and 4 fumble recoveries as a 1993 junior. In his career as a 3-year starter, he had 9 sacks, blocked 2 punts and scored 3 TDs.

PERSONAL: He's an economics major at USC. He was born in San Clemente, Calif. His sports hero is Walter Payton.

MARK CUSANO ON: His game-ending pass deflection in USC's 1996 win over Notre Dame: "The running back thought I was blitzing and came to block me. But I stayed on the line and, knowing that the quarterback (Ron Powlus) liked to pump fake, I didn't go up until the third pump. Then the ball hit my arm. After that, it went crazy. I get a lot of alumni who come up to me and know me because of that play."

Notre Dame: "I liked Notre Dame growing up. One of the reasons I came to USC was to get a chance to play them every year. It's the biggest game of the year for me."

His quietness: "I really am quiet. If people talk to me, I'll talk. I try to think more, do it more as a job instead of through talking smack. I'm not really a vocal kind of guy. I'm just not as loud as other people are."

His lack of recognition: "It motivates me to get noticed. It drives me to get better."

Texas: "Back home is a different lifestyle. I miss home a little bit. People talk about Texas pride, and it's true. Talking about the state brings a smile to my face. It's home and who I am...I'm really a cowboy. I try to hide my accent when I'm out here. I'm really a country person back home and all of my friends are country people. We go to country dances and concerts. I have my tight jeans, ugly shirts and boots. I don't think I'd ever wear that stuff here. It's just not the thing to do...Football is everything to small towns in Texas. It's very electrifying."

Country music: "My teammates never listen to country music. When I put it on, they bang on the door and tell me to turn it down. I like country music and every once in a while I go to a club here and do a little two-step. But I also listen to rap, a lot more now that I live out here."

Why he left his home state of Texas and came to USC: "I went to a football camp at Texas when I was in high school. I was standing there on the field and the bottom of my shoes had melted from the hot turf. I was like, 'I don't think so, this isn't the place for me.' It would be like 110 degrees and 100 percent humidity in August, and you're out on the field and it's like a pressure cooker on your head. So I came out here and it was nice. The coaches took me to the beach and showed me a real California time."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC linebacker Chris Claiborne: "He brings a lot to our defense. He allows me to play a different kind of game. I'm more of a physical player and he plays with more finesse. Actually, I am surprised he gets overlooked. He plays hard every week and he's been producing...Yeah, at times we've caught him in his tight cowboy jeans and gear and it gets a laugh. He hasn't changed for anybody and that makes us respect him right there."

He missed 1997 spring practice while recuperating from 1996 post-season arthroscopic knee surgery.

1996: Denmon served as the backup center behind Himebauch as a first-year freshman in 1996. He played briefly in 4 games (Illinois, Oregon State, Houston and Washington). After the season, he had arthroscopic surgery to remove cartilage from his right knee.

Rome DOUGLAS

1998: Douglas has started most of the past 2 years at left offensive tackle and is aiming to continue in that role as a senior in 1998. Going into the season, he is listed as a co-starter with Ken Bowen and Matt Welch on the right side and as a backup to Brent McCaffrey at left tackle.

1997: After starting at left offensive tackle in 1996, Douglas started 4 games (Washington State early in the season, then the final 3, Stanford, Oregon State and UCLA) there in 1997 as a junior. He served as the backup to Phalen Pounds at the position the rest of 1997.

1996: Douglas benefitted from a 1995 late-season position switch from tight end to offensive tackle and started 10 games (he did not start against Stanford and Notre Dame, but he did play) at left tackle as a sophomore in 1996.

1995: Douglas began his 1995 redshirt freshman season as a reserve tight end (he played against San Jose State and Houston in 1995, but did not catch a pass), but was moved to a reserve offensive tackle late in the season (he played briefly against Northwestern in the Rose Bowl).

1994: Douglas redshirted as a tight end in 1994, his first year at USC.

BASKETBALL: Douglas did double duty as a freshman, as he was a reserve forward on the USC men's basketball team in 1995. He appeared briefly in 5 games, scoring 1 point (0.2 avg.). On days when the basketball and football teams practiced, he attended both workouts.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1993 Super Prep All-American first team, Super Prep All-Farwest, Blue Chip All-Western Region and Tacoma Morning News Tribune Western 100 honors as a senior at Claremont (Calif.) High. He had 7 catches for 188 yards (16.9 avg.) in 1993, along with 69 tackles and 11 deflections.

He was an All-League pick as a 1992 junior at St. Francis High in La Canada (Calif.), where he caught 18 passes for 313 yards (17.4 avg.) and 5 TDs. That was his first year of playing football.

He also played basketball (averaging 20.0 points, once getting 36 points and 22 rebounds in a game, and making the 1993 Cal-Hi Sports All-State Grid-Hoop second team), baseball and track.

PERSONAL: His father, James Douglas, played basketball at Memphis State in 1968-71 and then professionally. He was named Rome because his parents were married in the Italian capital. He's a social science/history major at USC.

ROME DOUGLAS ON: His move from tight end to offensive tackle in late 1995: "It was natural. When I first started talking to Coach Robinson about moving to tackle, I was kind of scared. But he knew better than I did and, after the first week, everything I did came so naturally. In about 3 weeks, I was pulling and pass blocking and run blocking like I played tackle all my life...He was probably going to ask me to play because I was getting so big, but I asked him to play first."

His first season as a starter, 1996: "It was pretty hard. It's one thing to be thrown in there and learn, and it's another to have to know a thousand things and then Saturday have a big test...The main thing I had to learn was a new attitude of a physically dominant way to play. I watched film of (ex-USC All-American and NFL star guard) Brad Budde and I had never seen football played that way."

His style of play: "I love contact. I just want to take it to you. You may be faster than me or whatever, but when it comes down to it, defense wins games. You've got to be a fighter."

Deciding to play football in high school: "Tight end. I liked the way that sounded when I first heard it. I didn't know anything about football and I still don't know much about it. I'm still trying to learn the game. I didn't even know all the positions. All I knew was quarterback and defensive end. But when our high school coach came to me and asked me to play tight end, I kind of liked that."

Basketball: "Basketball was my first love and it still is. I was always a basketball player. I've always wanted to be like my dad. He's my idol. I watch clips of him and read about him all the time."

1998: Ford will serve as a backup to Antoine Harris at tight end as a redshirt freshman in 1998. He missed 1998 spring practice while recovering from mononucleosis.

1997: Ford served as a reserve tight end and special teams player as a first-year freshman in 1997. He appeared in 3 of USC's first 5 games (all but Florida State and Washington State), but he broke his clavicle at Arizona State and was sidelined the remainder of 1997. The injury occurred on his only catch of 1997, a 5-yarder. Because of the early-season injury, he was allowed to redshirt.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1996 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Prep Star Best in the West, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF San Diego Section first team (on defense), San Diego Union-Tribune All-San Diego County first team (and All-Academic team) and All-Eastern League Defensive MVP as a senior at Morse High in San Diego (Calif.). He had 31 catches for 342 yards (11.0 avg.) with 4 TDs as a tight end on offense in 1996 and 100-plus tackles with 19 sacks and 5 forced fumbles on defense as an end. Morse was a 1996 CIF San Diego Section Division I finalist.

As a 1995 junior, he made the All-CIF San Diego Section first team and San Diego Union-Tribune All-San Diego County first team while making 38 receptions for 396 yards (10.4 avg.) with 2 TDs on offense and 83 tackles on defense.

As a 1994 sophomore, he made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore Super 25 while Morse won the CIF San Diego Section championship.

He also played basketball at Morse, averaging 10.5 points as a senior, and was on Morse's CIF-San Diego Section champion track team, with bests as a senior of 53-1 in the shot put (he was sixth in the CIF-San Diego Section meet) and 158-0 in the discus. He was named the 1997 San Diego Union-Tribune Male Athlete of the Year. Current Trojan Rashard Cook also prepped at Morse.

CAREER: His 153 completions puts him 15th on USC's career passing chart.

1998: The solid, reliable Fox, a junior who started at quarterback in 1997, enters 1998 as a backup to Mike Van Raaphorst. He also is listed as the backup holder on placekicks.

1997: Despite having taken only 10 snaps and thrown only 2 passes (with no completions) in his career prior to 1997, Fox turned in steady performances while exhibiting poise and a strong arm as USC's starter in 9 games (the first 7 and the last 2; all but Washington and Stanford) in 1997 as a sophomore. Overall while appearing in all 11 games in 1997, he completed 153-of-280 passes (54.6%) for 1940 yards and 12 TDs with 8 interceptions. His 153 completions ranked him 12th on USC's season passing list. He had a streak of 90 pass attempts without an interception between the first and fourth games of the season. And he did all this playing on a sprained ankle and strained Achilles tendon that nagged him all season.

In the Florida State opener, he hit 18-of-32 passes for 159 yards with an interception, including going 15-of-21 for 129 yards in the second half, and scored USC's only points on a 2-yard scramble in the second quarter. He went 23-of-42 for 229 yards against Washington State. He threw the first TD passes of his career (a 33-yarder and 65-yarder) as he went 15-of-28 for a then-career-best 250 yards at California. He was 23-of-32 (tying his career-high for completions) for a career-best 355 yards (the ninth most yards in USC history and the most since Brad Otton threw for 391 against Northwestern in the 1996 Rose Bowl) and 2 TDs with 2 interceptions versus UNLV, but was particularly effective in USC's fourth-quarter comeback as he hit all 6 of his attempts in the final period for 159 yards and the 2 scores. He had an off day at Arizona State, hitting just 8-of-23 passes for 70 yards (he started off completing just 1 of his first 10 throws) before being replaced late in the third quarter. He bounced back with an efficient outing at Notre Dame, hitting 11-of-21 passes for 115 yards, including an 8-yard TD toss, despite being hobbled with a sprain of his good ankle that sidelined him part of the second half (he also ran for 28 yards on 4 carries, including a 23-yard scramble for USC's longest run of the year to that point). Against Oregon, he went 16-of-28 for 175 yards and 1 TD, but had an interception returned for a score. After starting USC's first 7 games, he didn't start at Washington, but played most of the second half and hit 4-of-7 passes for 37 yards. He played the fourth quarter against Stanford in relief of an injured Van Raaphorst and was 3-of-5 for 64 yards with a TD. He started at Oregon State, completing 18-of-28 passes for 228 yards and 2 TDs, and UCLA, hitting 14-of-34 passes for 258 yards and 2 scores, including an 80-yarder on USC's first play (but had 2 fourth-quarter interceptions).

1996: As a redshirt freshman reserve quarterback in 1996, Fox appeared briefly in 1 game (playing most of the fourth quarter against Oregon State, where he was 0-of-2 passing, with an interception).

1995: Fox redshirted as a freshman quarterback in 1995, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was selected to the 1994 Super Prep All-American, Blue Chip All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Long Beach Press-Telegram All-State first team, Student Sports All-State second team, Riverside Press-Enterprise All-Riverside County first team and All-CIF Division IV first team as a senior at Centennial High in Corona (Calif.) He hit 128-of-220 passes (58.2%) for 1,754 yards, 17 TDs and just 3 interceptions in 1994 (he also ran 60 times for 305 yards, a 5.1 avg., and 3 scores).

As a 1993 junior, he threw for 1,425 yards with 5 TDs and ran for 312 yards and 7 scores. A 3-year starter, he threw for 3,446 yards and 24 TDs in his career.

PERSONAL: He's a gender studies major at USC. He enjoys water and snow skiing. His sports hero is Joe Montana.

JOHN FOX ON: His 1997 season: "It was a season full of expectations. I didn't know what to expect when I won the job. I didn't know what to expect when I lost the job. It was full circle. It was tough at times...When I lost the job mid-season, I felt ashamed. I felt I let the team down. I should have played better...The ankle injury in the opener definitely affected my throwing mechanics all season. I shifted to throwing off my front foot, instead of pushing off my back foot and transferring my weight forward. But I couldn't do that. But I never considered taking a few weeks off. The worst thing is watching a game. Injuries are injuries. They're part of the game. You can play through them. But watching, that's real painful."

Asking to be the scout team quarterback in 1996: "I wasn't seeing any reps in practice. I was just sitting there watching Brad Otton all day. I had to swallow my pride, which was hard as heck to do, and volunteer to be the scout team QB. I wasn't punishing myself. I just wanted to do anything to get better...It was fun. I got to play against the first-string defense. I could throw a bad ball and it was okay...It was kind of like getting thrown into the fire but you don't get burned. There was no pressure on me down there and instead of standing around I got to play every day. It gave me a chance to get work on getting better...I ran all the opponents' offense. By doing that, you learn to make decisions under pressure."

Spending the summer of 1996 working at a construction job instead of working out for football: "I had planned on running and throwing in my spare time after work, but I felt too beat up at the end of each day and never got around to it...When I came back to USC in the fall, I hadn't thrown a ball in three months. I was horrible. I was definitely worse than when I first came to USC. I was slow, out of shape, didn't know the calls. The coaches were mad at me and I was mad at myself. I vowed never to do that again...I was so embarrassed and frustrated with myself. It was my own fault."

His relationship with fellow quarterback Quincy Woods: "Quincy and I are good friends. There's always been that rivalry, but we've never let it cause a conflict between us. The rivalry has made us both better."

His determination: "Ever since I was a little kid, I've always been a determined person. I can be very hard on myself sometimes. My mother taught me how to be strong and how to keep working...When I was in the seventh grade, I was a terrible football player and I decided to quit my Pee Wee team. But my mother wouldn't let me. She never let me quit anything I started."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC offensive coordinator and running backs coach Hue Jackson: "John is a great character kid, very bright and physically strong with a strong arm, and he obviously runs very well for a big man. He has all the intangibles."

USC quarterbacks coach Ken O'Brien: "John is a bright kid who's very athletic and physically he has a lot of tools. He's got a strong arm and has a lot of confidence in himself."

1998: Garner will serve as a reserve wide receiver as a sophomore in 1998, playing the flanker spot.

1997: Garner saw limited action in 10 games (all but Washington State) as a reserve wide receiver during his 1997 redshirt freshman season. He did not catch a pass. He missed the last half of 1997 spring practice with a dislocated finger on his right hand.

1996: Garner redshirted as a freshman wide receiver in 1996, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1995 Super Prep All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest Offensive MVP, Bluechip All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, All-CIF Division III, Los Angeles Times All-Valley, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley first team and All-Mission League Co-MVP as a senior at Notre Dame High in Sherman Oaks (Calif.). He had 46 catches for 886 yards (19.3 avg.) and 14 TDs as a wide receiver in 1995 (he also ran for 2 TDs on reverses) and made 39 tackles, 5 interceptions, and 2 forced fumbles as a defensive back. Notre Dame went 11-1 in 1995.

As a 1994 junior, he made 28 receptions for 325 yards (11.6 avg.) with 2 TDs and recorded 72 tackles, 6 interceptions (including 3 in the league championship game, with 2 for TDs) and 3 fumble recoveries to earn All-Mission League. Notre Dame won the CIF Division III title in 1994 while going 13-1.

He also played basketball and ran track at Notre Dame, winning the CIF Division III 400 meters in 1994 (he had a best of 10.6 in the 100 meters).

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. His sports hero is Jerry Rice.

TROY GARNER ON: Putting football in perspective: "I would rather be considered a great person than a great player. I would rather be respected for who I am than for what I do."

Education: "Education is very important to me. My mother has always stressed the importance of education and earning a degree. A degree from USC is something that lasts a lifetime."

David GIBSON

1998: A 1997 starter, the hard-hitting Gibson—who can be found wherever the ball is—will battle with Grant Pearsall to start at strong safety as a junior in 1998.

1997: Gibson was among USC's most pleasant surprises as just a sophomore in 1997 while starting 6 games at the rover linebacker spot (a combination linebacker and strong safety). He started the opener against Florida State (getting 2 tackles), then was benched and served as the backup to Antuan Simmons the next 5 contests (he played sparingly against Washington State and California, and didn't even record a tackle in those contests). But Gibson rejoined the starting lineup for the last 5 games based on his strong play off the bench and Simmons' move to strong safety. Overall while appearing in all 11 games in 1997, he made 66 tackles, including a team-best 20 for losses (tied for third in the Pac-10) of 75 yards (with 6 sacks for minus 36 yards), plus a Pac-10-leading 5 forced fumbles (2 each versus Oregon and Stanford, and 1 at Washington; 1 against Stanford set up a USC TD) along with 3 deflections. He led USC in tackles in 3 games (Notre Dame, Oregon and Oregon State). He was a 1997 All-Pac-10 honorable mention selection.

He had 9 tackles at Arizona State (1 for a loss), then had game-highs of 13 (with 3 for losses) at Notre Dame (he played most of that Irish contest because of injuries in the secondary) and 9 against Oregon in his first game back as a starter (he added 3 sacks for minus 23 yards and forced 2 fumbles). He added 8 tackles (3 for losses, including 2 sacks), plus a forced fumble, at Washington, 7 stops (4 for losses, with a sack), 2 forced fumbles and 2 deflections against Stanford, a team-best 7 tackles (1 for a loss) and a deflection at Oregon State, and then 8 tackles (4 for losses) against UCLA. Gibson was named Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week for his outing against Oregon.

1996: As a first-year freshman, Gibson appeared in all 12 games in 1996 as a reserve safety and on special teams. Overall in 1996, he had 9 tackles (including 2 each against Penn State, Illinois and Washington).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named to the 1995 Bluechip Best of the West, Super Prep All-Farwest, Bluechip All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, All-CIF Division I, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County second team, and Orange County Register All-Orange County second team as a senior at Mater Dei High in Santa Ana (Calif.). He made 89 tackles with 1 interception in 1995 and had 72 tackles with 2 interceptions as a 1994 junior (Mater Dei was ranked the nation's No. 1 team). Current Trojan Rod Perry Jr. also prepped at Mater Dei.

He also was on Mater Dei's track and baseball teams.

PERSONAL: He's an economics major at USC. He likes to play golf in his spare time.

DAVID GIBSON ON: Being benched for 5 games after the 1997 opener: "It was weird. One game you're starting and everybody's talking about you. The next game you're not even playing. That's pretty tough...It was a shock. I didn't feel I had screwed up to lose the spot. It was a coaching decision that caught me off guard...It was real frustrating, something I didn't think would happen. So, any chance I got, I'd make the most of it because I wanted to earn the coaches' confidence. But it was tough to stay in the game mentally. I got resentful and asked myself, 'What aren't I playing?' But it was a good learning experience. Even though it's college, it's like work. There's competition. I've become a better player from it...It was kind of good in a way, because sometimes you take things for granted. You sit and think, 'Man, I need to be out there.' It puts a little fire into you. After that, I played with a lot more passion than I have in the past."

His outstanding performance in 1997: "I don't really know how to explain it. I went out and played every play as hard as I could and things just happened...Things have never really been easy for me, but once I got my spot back, I held onto it. I felt I needed to make something happen to stop the coaches from doubting me. I had more confidence than I ever had. I hit a guy and the ball would pop out...There's nothing better than experience. The more you play, you can see things better, you just feel more comfortable out there."

Hitting: "Hitting is just something that's in you. I just sacrifice my body. I don't have any fear of smacking a guy. It's some knack I have."

His playing style: "I always liked the style of a (ex-NFL star) Chuck Cecil-type, just reckless. I don't have any player who I compare myself to, but I just loved the way he would fly around and make the tackles."

His goal: "My goal is to become the best football player that I can, so that when it's all over I don't go away with any what ifs. I want to work hard at everything and improve my game the most that I can...I want to proved to the coaching staff that I'm a really good player and that I need to be out there every play."

Golf: "I love golf. I'm really competitive at everything. You try not to be out there because it's supposed to be relaxing. It's not football. But if things don't go right, I get angry...During football season, I don't play much golf. I just don't have the time and my hands are usually so beat up that I can hardly hold a golf club."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Former USC wide receivers coach Mike Sanford: "Stanley's a real smooth, Johnnie Morton-type of wide receiver. He's very smooth and runs good patterns. He just needs to get more physical for the college game, but that will come as he matures."

Antoine HARRIS

Tight End

So./So.

1998: After an outstanding rookie debut in 1997, Harris returns as the starting tight end in 1998 as a sophomore.

1997: Harris started all of 1997 at tight end, becoming USC's first-ever true freshman to start at tight end. He was named to the 1997 Sporting News Freshman All-American second team. Overall in 1997, he caught 12 passes for 160 yards (13.3 avg.). He led USC with 4 catches for 52 yards at Notre Dame. He also had 3 grabs for 34 yards versus Stanford. In his debut in the Florida State opener, he caught 2 passes for 28 yards, both for first downs.

HIGH SCHOOL: His 1996 honors included Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Schutt Sports All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I Defensive MVP, Los Angeles Times Glenn Davis Award (as the top Southern California prep football player), Los Angeles Times All-Los Angeles Lineman/Linebacker of the Year, and All-Del Rey League MVP as a senior at Loyola High in Los Angeles (Calif.). He had 22 catches for 460 yards (20.9 avg.) and 7 TDs as a tight end and 68 tackles with 12 sacks, 4 caused fumbles, 2 fumble recoveries and 2 interceptions (he returned 1 for a TD) as a defensive end in 1996.

As a 1995 junior, he made Cal-Hi Sports All-State Junior second team and All-Del Rey League honorable mention while catching 16 passes for 224 yards (14.0 avg.) with 1 TD. During his 2 seasons as a starter, Loyola went 23-5 and played in 2 CIF Division I finals. Current Trojan Mike MacGillivray also prepped at Loyola. Harris was coached at Loyola by ex-USC tailback Steve Grady. Harris also played basketball at Loyola.

PERSONAL: His late stepfather, Robin (he died in 1990), was a standup comic and actor who appeared in movies such as "Mo' Better Blues," "House Party," "Do The Right Thing," and "Harlem Nights." The cartoon series, "Bebe's Kids," is based on characters in Robin's comedy routine.

ANTOINE HARRIS ON: Starting as a freshman: "I didn't expect to come in and start. My goal was to get some playing time and work my way into a starting job in the next couple of years. When the coaches were telling me I had an opportunity to start, I figured they were saying that to get my confidence up. But to have this opportunity, it's something that everyone dreams about."

His stepfather: "When I was a kid, going around with him, having fun, it never dawned on me that he was an actor, that he was famous. To me, he was just my dad. It never dawned on me until the last couple of years all that he did...I knew what he was doing, but was never really aware of all that. My dad was just doing his job. I didn't look at him like a big-time actor or a big-time comedian. It was just my dad...It's a special feeling to know that someone you loved so much, everybody looked at on such a higher level. That really didn't hit me until the last couple of years...My teammates always ask, 'Antoine, have you got the tapes (of his stepfathers performances) yet?' Then they'll come over and next thing I know I'll have 70 people in my house. I'm more of a quiet person. I usually don't show them. But when I do, everybody would want to be at my house. And then everybody would look at me to be the comedian and I don't have any jokes...My advice to people who went to his comedy shows: Never get up when he's on stage, and don't walk in late, either. He'd get all over you...All the jokes he told, they were like everyday things. He'd use people in his jokes, but he didn't denigrate them. They'd laugh at themselves...He was funnier at home. He'd fall asleep and we'd think he was dreaming, but he'd be talking, saying all kinds of things. Nothing but jokes. My mom and I were saying we wish we had recorded it...For a while, after he died, I thought the Lord was punishing me for some reason. I had no idea why. I was mad, because why would God take away two father from me (his birth father died in 1983)? I decided later on it was an obstacle, a challenge, to find out what life is really like, to find out what life is like without a father. I took it pretty bad. I kind of held it in. I didn't talk to anybody. I took my frustrations out on my friends. That was a bad way of handling it. Finally, my mom and I sat down and talked about it...My mom, she was always there for me, and the rest of my family was too. When he first died, for like three months I was holding it all in. It built up in anger and the only thing I really did was fight at school. My fifth grade year I got in a lot of trouble. My friends just thought I had a bad temper. But my mom and the principal at the school knew why. They understood...He never got to see me play in high school because he had died. The biggest game I remember feeling bad about was my senior year. We lost the championship game. I had dedicated it to him and played my hardest. I wanted to win so bad, but we didn't win. I just wanted him physically there. It would have meant the world...I just look at my little brother (Robin Jr., born shortly after Robin's death in 1990) and see my dad. He always wanted to have a son of his own, and though he didn't have the chance to meet his son, he got his wish."

Ken HASLIP

Cornerback

5-10 • 175

1998: The speedy Haslip will push Antuan Simmons for a starting cornerback job as a 1998 senior.

1997: Haslip, a 1996 starter at cornerback who missed 1997 spring practice while academically ineligible, was moved to wide receiver early in his 1997 junior season (he played briefly there against Washington State and California, but didn't catch a pass), but then was switched back to cornerback prior to the UNLV game and served as a backup to Daylon McCutcheon. He also played on special teams. He missed the Oregon State game because of a pulled right hamstring he suffered against Stanford. Overall in 1997 while appearing in 7 games, he made 3 tackles and broke up 2 passes (all against Stanford). He returned to USC in the fall of 1997 in good standing after spending the previous spring and summer improving his academics at Pasadena (Calif.) City College.

1996: Haslip started 8 games (the first 7 of the season and then against Washington) at cornerback as a sophomore in 1996 and was the often-used backup to Chad Morton the rest of the time. Overall while appearing in all 12 games in 1996, he made 21 tackles, 3 deflections and 1 interception (at Illinois, which he returned 15 yards to set up a USC field goal). He had 7 stops against Penn State. He missed part of 1996 spring practice while recovering from 1995 post-season surgery on a dislocating left shoulder.

1995: Haslip served as the backup to Brian Kelly at cornerback and played on special teams as a redshirt freshman in 1995. Overall in 1995 while appearing in USC's first 11 games, he had 8 tackles and 1 deflection. He missed 1995 spring practice while recovering from a 1994 knee injury. He nearly wasn't allowed to continue at USC prior to the 1995 season because of questions regarding his NCAA eligibility, but he had that situation resolved. He was originally cleared by the NCAA Clearinghouse to compete for USC out of high school, but his qualifying SAT score then was challenged in the fall of 1994 by the Educational Testing Service. He took his case to arbitration in the summer of 1995 and the arbitration board ruled in his favor.

1994: After tearing ligaments in his right knee in pre-season drills and having surgery, Haslip redshirted as a wide receiver in 1994, his first year at USC, while recuperating.

TRACK: He sprinted for the USC track team in the spring of 1996. Mainly a member of USC's relay teams, he did post a 22.13 in the 200 meters at the LSU Invitational in his only solo outing.

HIGH SCHOOL: Haslip made 1993 USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma Morning News Tribune Western 100, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, Los Angeles Times All-San Gabriel Valley second team and Pasadena Star-News All-Area second team as a senior at Muir High in Pasadena (Calif.). In 1993, he had 20 receptions for 344 yards (17.2 avg.) with 6 TDs as a wide receiver, plus 4 interceptions at cornerback. He also had a 98-yard kickoff return for a TD.

As a 1992 junior, he was All-San Gabriel Valley while getting 9 interceptions.

He also ran track at Muir, where he had the nation's second-best prep time in 1994 in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles (36.65) and the nation's third best prep time in the 110-meter high hurdles (13.94) in his first year running that event. He was named to the 1994 USA Today All-USA track team. In 1994, he was the state champ in the intermediates (he was third in the highs at the state meet; Muir won the team title), the CIF Southern Section champion in the intermediates, and the CIF Division I champ in the highs and intermediates (in 36.87, a Division I record). He was the Athlete of the Meet at the 1994 Arcadia Invitational, Pasadena Games and Oakland Relays. He won the state 300-meter intermediate hurdles as a junior and was ranked No. 1 in the U.S. in that event in 1993 with a best of 37.09. As a sophomore, he was second at the CIF 4-A meet and third at the state meet in the intermediates. He has run a 47.9 400 leg on the 1600-meter relay. Current Trojan Sultan McCullough also prepped at Muir.

PERSONAL: He's a history major at USC. His brother, Shaun, is a sophomore defensive back at UNLV.

KEN HASLIP ON: Dealing with the 1995 situation regarding his eligibility: "I just went into a hole. At first, I didn't go anywhere. I knew a lot of people would be asking me about it, even though people in the community had confidence in me and knew I didn't cheat. I don't think just anyone should be able to call up and question people's test scores. I hadn't done anything to anybody. It wasn't fair to single me out after I was already in school."

Prentice HILL

#14

1998: Hill not only will be a reserve cornerback as a 1998 senior, but expect him to again make his mark on special teams.

1997: Hill was the backup at cornerback to Brian Kelly as a junior in 1997 and also made himself noticed on special teams. Overall while appearing in 11 games in 1997, he made 12 tackles, primarily on special teams. He had 3 stops against Washington State and Stanford, and 2 versus UNLV. He had arthroscopic surgery to remove bone spurs from his left ankle after 1997 spring practice.

1996: Hill saw action in all 12 games in 1996 as a sophomore backup cornerback to Ken Haslip and Chad Morton, as well as a big-impact special teams performer. Overall in 1996, he made 12 tackles (2 for losses), forced 2 fumbles (against Oregon State, which he recovered to set up a USC TD, and Arizona State), recovered 2 fumbles (versus Notre Dame besides the Oregon State recovery) and blocked a punt (against Washington, in which he was credited with a 9-yard punt return). At Illinois, he scooped up an Illini punt blocked by Chris Miller and raced 19 yards for a TD (it was USC's first blocked punt for a score since the 1992 UCLA game). He had 3 tackles against both Illinois and UCLA. He had a 9-yard tackle for a loss against Oregon State.

1995: As a redshirt freshman reserve cornerback, Hill saw all of his action in 1995 in 5 games on special teams (versus Houston, Arizona, California, Washington State, Washington). He did not make a tackle. He sprained his left ankle at Washington and missed the rest of the regular season (he suited up for the Rose Bowl against Northwestern, but didn't play).

1994: Hill redshirted at cornerback in 1994, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: Hill made 1993 Blue Chip All-American first team and Super Prep All-Texas as a senior at Carter High in Dallas (Tex.) and had 3 interceptions. As a junior in 1992, he was All-District second team while making 61 tackles and 3 interceptions. He also ran track at Carter, clocking 10.7 for 100 meters, 14.06 in the 110-meter high hurdles and 39.41 in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles. Current Trojan Eric Denmon also prepped at Carter.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC.

1996: Iacenda appeared briefly in 1 game (the end of the Illinois contest) at fullback as a first-year freshman in 1996, then suffered a bruised shoulder prior to the next game against Oregon State and was sidelined the rest of the year. Because of that early-season injury, he was allowed to redshirt. At Illinois, he ran 3 times for 6 yards (2.0 avg.) and took a pass another 24 yards.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1995 Super Prep All-American, Bluechip All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Bluechip Best of the West, Super Prep All-Farwest, Bluechip All-Western, Student Sports All-West Coast, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Cal-Hi Sports All-State, All-CIF Southern Section, All-CIF Division II Co-MVP, Los Angeles Times All-Valley, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley first team, All-Foothill League MVP and Student Sports All-Academic as a senior fullback at Hart High in Newhall (Calif.). He gained 1,869 yards rushing on 240 carries (7.8 avg.), caught 30 passes for 497 yards (16.6 avg.) and had 2,400-plus all-purpose yards with 39 TDs in 1995. As a 1994 junior, he made Cal-Hi All-State Junior, All-CIF Southern Section, All-CIF Division II MVP, Los Angeles Times All-Valley MVP, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley first team and All-Foothill League MVP. In 1994, he had 1,538 rushing yards on 214 carries (7.2 avg.) with 30 TDs and also grabbed 48 passes for 892 yards (18.6 avg.) with 11 TDs. Hart was 13-1 and was the CIF Division II runnerup.

He ran for 684 yards on 116 carries (5.9 avg.) with 13 TDs and caught 31 passes for 442 yards (14.3 avg.) with 6 TDs as a 1993 sophomore while earning All-Foothill League first team.

In his 3-year career (Hart went 35-5), he scored a CIF Southern Section record 99 TDs (and a record 604 points, second most in California history).

He also was on Hart's track (200 meters, 400- and 1600-meter relays, long jump and shot put, winning the Foothill League shot put title in 1994 and 1995), baseball and ice hockey (MVP of the California state championships) teams. He was Hart's student body president. Current Trojan Kevin McLaughlin also prepped at Hart.

PERSONAL: He's a business administration major at USC. His older brother, Andy, played football at Vanderbilt.

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Hart High head coach Mike Herrington: "Ted can do everything you need a running back to do. He can run with the football, he can block and he is a good pass receiver. He's a huge weapon."

He broke his foot in 1995 (his first year at Sacramento) and redshirted that season. He volunteered with local churches and charities while at Sacramento.

HIGH SCHOOL: He prepped at Armijo High in Fairfield (Calif.), where he earned All-Montebello Empire League first team honors as a 1994 senior tight end and linebacker. WHAT OTHERS SAY: Sacramento College head coach Dave Griffin: "I don't know how many times I watched him hit someone only to see them fly out of the picture. Darryl KNIGHT

Fr.*/So.

#17

1998: Knight, a redshirt freshman, was moved from safety to linebacker prior to 1998 spring drills and was so impressive that he earned a starting role on the weak side in 1998.

1997: As a safety, Knight played briefly on special teams in the Florida State opener, then was sidelined the rest of his 1997 first-year freshman season because of bothersome calcium deposits in his upper left arm. He redshirted because of the early-season injury.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1996 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest and Riverside Press-Enterprise All-Riverside County second team as a senior at Rubidoux (Calif.) High despite missing the last half of the season after tearing cartilage in his right knee in the sixth game. As a defensive back, he had 56 tackles, 2 interceptions and a fumble recovery, and as a quarterback, he completed 16-of-26 passes (61.5%) for 294 yards with 3 TDs and ran for 622 yards on 48 carries (13.0 avg.) with 9 TDs.

As a 1995 junior, he was named Student Sports All-American Junior first team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State Junior first team, All-CIF Division IV, Riverside Press-Enterprise All-Riverside County second team, and All-Ivy League while getting 45 tackles, 3 interceptions and 2 fumble recoveries on defense and passing for 742 yards with 7 TDs while hitting 28-of-75 aerials (37.3%) and running for 1,101 yards on 128 carries (8.6 avg.) with 14 TDs on offense. Rubidoux was a CIF Division IV finalist in 1995 and went 24-6 during his 3-year career.

He made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore Super 25 (as a defensive back) in 1994 as a sophomore.

PERSONAL: His brother, Ryan, was a record-setting prep All-American running back at Rubidoux (2,620 yards as a 1983 senior, including 501 in a game) who then lettered 4 years (1984-87) at tailback at USC and led the Trojans in rushing in 1985 and 1986 (he's 15th on USC's career rushing list with 1,875 yards). Another brother, Sammy, was USC's leading tackler in 1995 and 1996 (290 career tackles with 5 interceptions) while lettering for 4 years (1993-96) and starting for his final 3 seasons at strong safety and linebacker (as a 1996 senior, he was All-Pac-10 first team, USC's MVP and a team co-captain); he now plays with the NFL's New Orleans Saints. Another brother, Greg, played defensive line at Colorado. His father, Sam Sr., played on a California state championship basketball team in the early 1960s at Riverside (Calif.) Community College that was coached by Jerry Tarkanian.

DARRYL KNIGHT ON: His brothers: "If it wasn't for Sammy, I wouldn't be where I am today. I try to work hard and be as good as Sammy...And Ryan would come and get me to run with him. My brothers never pushed me. They just asked me what I wanted to be like. It was my decision. I wanted to be the best I could be...I didn't choose USC because my brothers played here. I chose USC because of its winning tradition."

His father: "My dad saw to it that all of us went to college. I think that is pretty impressive. My father knows when to be a father and when to be a friend. I can talk to him about anything. That is really important to me."

His background as a high school quarterback: "It has helped me a lot. I now try to go through the quarterback's thought process. I look at the formations and think about the plays they run, then I go through the reads the quarterback will make."

Lawrence LARRY

Defensive End

#56

1998: Larry, who has starting experience under his belt, has earned a starting defensive end spot in 1998 as a senior.

1997: Larry started USC's first 2 games of 1997 at defensive tackle as a junior, then served as the often-used backup there to Sultan Abdul-Malik. He also played on some special teams. Overall while appearing in all 11 games in 1997, Larry made 11 tackles, including 3 sacks for minus 23 yards, plus forced a fumble (against Stanford, setting up a USC field goal) and recovered a fumble (also against Stanford, setting up a USC TD). He had 2 tackles each against California, Notre Dame and Oregon (both were sacks).

1996: As a sophomore, Larry served as a backup strongside linebacker behind Mark Cusano and appeared in 10 games (all but the California and UCLA contests) in 1996. Overall in 1996, he made 6 tackles (1 for a loss) and forced a fumble. He was moved from defensive end to linebacker in 1996 spring practice. His forced fumble was a big one: with Washington State on the USC 11-yard-line and 39 seconds to play, Larry caused Cougar quarterback Ryan Leaf to fumble and Troy recovered to seal the win. He had 3 stops at Illinois.

1995: Larry appeared in 10 games (all but the Stanford and Northwestern contests) as a first-year freshman reserve defensive end and special teams performer in 1995. Overall, he made 4 tackles, including 1 sack for minus 1 yard, in 1995.

HIGH SCHOOL: He made 1994 Super Prep All-American, Blue Chip All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Blue Chip All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Student Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Division II first team, and Los Angeles Times All-Valley second team as a senior at Littlerock (Calif.) High. In 1994, he notched 86 tackles (22 for losses, with 9 sacks), 10 deflections, 5 fumble recoveries and 3 fumbles caused. He was the first student from Littlerock to earn a college football scholarship.

PERSONAL: He's a business administration major at USC.

LAWRENCE LARRY ON: His name: "My last name is Larry and my parents named me after one of my dad's best friends. It just happened that way. They didn't purposely do it."

The transition from high school to college football: "The biggest thing I had to adapt to was the strength. They're so strong here. In high school, I didn't have to use strength. My speed got me around people. Speed hasn't been that hard to adapt to, but the strength has been tougher. Like when tight ends come off the ball and grab you."

#38

1998: MacGillivray, a strong-legged redshirt freshman, won the starting punter duty in 1998. He also is available as a placekicker.

1997: MacGillivray redshirted as a freshman punter and placekicker in 1997, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He made 1996 Student Sports All-American, National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I, Los Angeles Times All-Los Angeles first team, and All-Del Rey League first team as a senior at Loyola High in Los Angeles (Calif.). In 1996, he hit 14-of-17 field goals (with a long of 52 yards), 33-of-37 PATs, put 98% of his kickoffs into the end zone and averaged 43.3 yards on 43 punts (with a long of 65 yards). He kicked a game-winning 26-yard field goal (his third of the game) in the second overtime of the 1996 CIF Division I semifinals. He also played linebacker.

As a 1995 junior, he handled kickoff duties only. Loyola was the CIF Division I runnerup in 1995 and 1996 (going 23-5 overall). Current Trojan Antoine Harris also prepped at Loyola. MacGillivray was coached at Loyola by ex-USC tailback Steve Grady.

PERSONAL: He's a business major at USC. His personal kicking and punting coaches are brothers John and Paul Stonehouse, Loyola alums who punted at USC (1992-95, where he set several school records) and Stanford (1989-92), respectively. His real first name is Duncan. He was born in Dallas, Tex. In his spare time, he likes playing the guitar, listening to music and working on cars.

MIKE MacGILLIVRAY ON: Contact: "I liked playing linebacker in high school. I love making tackles and I love hitting. I love coming down on a punt and making a big hit. It is ever sweeter when the ball carrier looks up and sees it is the punter that hit him. I just like to make tackles and be involved in the game."

One of his punting coaches, ex-Trojan John Stonehouse: "The way he talked about USC and how great it was to play for the Trojans made an impact on me. I collected all the films on him that I could. We have similar body types and I wanted to adopt to his style."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Loyola High coach Steve Grady: "Mike has a tremendous leg. I've never coached a kicker who invests so much time at practicing his skills as Mike."

Malaefou MacKENZIE

Tailback

So./So.

1998: The hard-running MacKenzie is USC's leading returning rusher from 1997 and will battle with Chad Morton for the starting tailback role as a sophomore in 1998.

1997: MacKenzie proved his precocious nature as a first-year freshman tailback in 1997. He started twice (against Arizona State and Oregon) to become just the third true freshman to start at tailback for USC (Scott Lockwood did so twice in 1987 and Charles White once in 1976). He served as a backup there the rest of the season and also played on some special teams. Overall while appearing in 9 games in 1997 (he missed the Stanford game with a bruised left shoulder and did not play against UCLA), he gained 332 yards (second on USC) on 96 carries (3.5 avg.) and ran for 3 TDs. He also caught 5 passes for 22 yards (4.4 avg.), returned a short kickoff 7 yards (at Notre Dame) and made a tackle on special teams (versus UNLV). He did all this while nagged much of the season with a sore foot arch and then a bruised shoulder.

After rushing for just 24 yards on 17 carries in USC's first 3 games, he came of age against UNLV when starter LaVale Woods went down early in the game with an injury and MacKenzie finished with 104 yards and 2 TDs on 19 tries to become only the fifth USC first-year freshman to eclipse the century mark in rushing (the others were Delon Washington once in 1994, Ryan Knight twice in 1984, Michael Harper once in 1979 and Charles White 4 times in 1976). Then, in his first start, he gained 35 yards on 10 tries (a second-quarter shoulder injury slowed him the rest of the game). He led USC with 69 rushing yards on a career-high 20 carries off the bench at Notre Dame, then added 40 yards on 9 carries while starting versus Oregon. He came off the bench at Washington to get 20 yards on 9 carries. He did not play against Stanford because of a shoulder injury, but returned off the bench at Oregon State to gain 40 yards on 12 carries. He didn't see action against UCLA. Earlier in the season, MacKenzie scored his first USC touchdown against Washington State.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1996 Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Schutt Sports All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Prep Star Best in the West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I, and Orange County Register All-Orange County first team as a senior at Capistrano Valley High in Mission Viejo (Calif.). In 1996, he ran for 1,488 yards on 181 carries (8.2 avg.) with 17 TDs (including a 97-yarder). Against eventual prep national champion Mater Dei High, he rushed for 213 yards. Capistrano Valley was a CIF Division I quarterfinalist in 1996.

A 3-year starter, he earned Cal-Hi Sports All-State Junior first team, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County second team and All-League honors as a 1995 junior and Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore Super 25 and All-League notice as a 1994 sophomore. Capistrano Valley head coach Dave Brown was a 3-year (1970-72) letterman center at USC and played on Troy's 1972 national championship team.

McKenzie clocked 10.9 in the 100 meters for Capistrano Valley's track team. Current Trojan Charlie Landrigan also prepped at Capistrano Valley.

PERSONAL: His first name, Malaefou, means "new-found land" or "a kind of paradise" in Samoan. He can bench press 380 pounds. He lived in Apia, Western Samoa until he was 9 years old. He played rugby as a youngster in Western Samoa. His personal trainer is ex-USC lineman Marv Marinovich (1959, 1961-62), the father of former USC quarterback Todd Marinovich (1989-90).

MALAEFOU MacKENZIE ON: His running style: "I like to do both, run inside or outside, depending on the situation. If it's a third down and short yardage, I'll try and run over somebody. Whatever makes the opponent look bad."

Playing most of 1997 with nagging injuries: "It set me back mentally to have all the little nagging injuries. As a result, my confidence went down. I guess it wasn't meant to be my year."

College versus high school football: "In college, the hole is going to close in a fraction of a second. In high school, it's going to stay open for a few seconds. I just have to adjust to it, because it's a different running style. Everything you do in college has to be up the field, because everyone is faster and stronger...I'm learning to stay low when I hit the hole and just explode through the hole."

Rugby versus football: "I never knew what football was until I came here. I used to think it was a wussy sport, compared to rugby. I'd tease my brother when he had it on TV. But I found out football is not a wussy sport. Both are physical, but I think rugby is more physical because there are no pads. But in football, people are bigger and stronger."

His late brother, Hornell, who had Down Syndrome and died of a heart ailment at the age of 17 (when Malaefou was 10): "I wear a shirt with his picture and name on it. I used to wear it under my jersey, but now I only wear it before and after games. I don't want to ruin it. I carry a cross with his name on it and I play in his memory. He was a good kid, always so caring and loving. Always...Everything I do on the football field is for him. When I get ready for a game, I'll always tell myself, 'This is for you, brother.'"

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Capistrano Valley High coach Dave Brown: "His cousin told me that he'd look at my 1972 national championship ring and say, 'I'm going to get one of those some day.'"

His father, Vernon: "He is obsessed with running and lifting weights. I told the USC strength coaches to try to get him to let up a little. When he was at home, I tried to tell him that he was overtraining. He was staying up until 1 or 2 in the morning. Everyone would be asleep, and he'd be pushing weights in the garage, out on the road doing wind sprints, tying a tire around him and dragging it. It was too much. You have to do a lot more than the average guys to make it, but I thought he was obsessed. I was worried, no doubt. I told the weight coaches at USC, 'I'd appreciate it if you can corral him.'"

Faaesea MAILO

Offensive Tackle-Guard

So.*/Jr.

#75

1998: Mailo, a well-tested sophomore offensive lineman, is serving the second year of a 2-year Mormon mission and will not be with the Trojans in 1998.

1997: Mailo was not with the Trojans in 1997 and redshirted his sophomore campaign because, after the 1996 season, he left USC to go on a 2-year Mormon mission.

1996: As just a first-year freshman, Mailo started 3 times in 1996 (at left offensive guard at Houston and at left offensive tackle versus Stanford and Notre Dame). He also appeared in 5 other games (Illinois, Oregon State, Washington State, Washington and UCLA) as a reserve and on special teams. He missed the California and Arizona games (he suited up for the Arizona State contest, but didn't see action) after being sidelined in the Houston game with a hairline fracture in his right shoulder.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was selected to the 1995 Super Prep All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Bluechip Best of the West, Super Prep All-Farwest, Bluechip All-Western and Tacoma News Tribune Western 100 teams as a senior at Kahuku (Hi.) High.

He spent his 1994 junior season at Banning High in Wilmington (Calif.), earning Los Angeles Times All-South Bay second team honors.

He was at Kahuku for his 1992 freshman and 1993 sophomore seasons. Although he was born in Torrance (Calif.), he moved to Hawai'i when he was 1-year-old and lived there for all but the 1 year he spent at Banning living with his aunt.

At Kahuku, he also participated on the sumo club, where he won the Hawaii state sumo championship. In June of 1996, he went to Japan to train with pro sumo wrestlers and then competed against high school and collegiate wrestlers.

PERSONAL: In Samoan, Faaesea's name means, "Someone who does things differently." His sports hero is ex-Trojan star and former NFL All-Pro offensive tackle Anthony Munoz.

FAAESEA MAILO ON: His ability: "I think I run pretty well and my quickness is an advantage. My leg drive is what gets me going. That's where I get my strength from...I am a very aggressive player and I won't take anything from anybody on the field. I enjoy running people over."

Sumo wrestling: "Basically, sumo is the same thing as playing offensive tackle. In sumo, you're trying to push or shove a guy out of a 15-foot circle, and you can use your hands. It teaches you balance, too. When we're run-blocking in football, it's basically the same as a charge at a sumo opponent. It's a leg strength sport...The top sumo guys in Japan make Michael Jordan money. People in Japan told me I could do well over there, with training. They said I had good quickness, power, enthusiasm and the fighting spirit of sumo."

Going on his Mormon mission: "I cherish my religion. It is a very big part of my life. I have talked to many football players about leaving college to go on a mission and they all said they have no regrets. They all have said it was very good for them...I'll just have to pick up where I left off."

The difficulty when taking his USC team portrait: "The team dress jacket they had just wouldn't fit. My arms were too big and every time I tried to put the jacket on, the arms would start to rip. If you look at the team photos, you'll see I'm the only one with a windbreaker on."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: John Jacques, Kahuku High's sumo wrestling coach: "This is a young kid with a lot of great natural athletic ability and natural strength, and good discipline. All the sumo people in Japan were really impressed with his strength and focus."

Marc MATOCK

Defensive Tackle

1998: The big and strong Matock returns as a starting defensive tackle as a 1998 senior. He missed the last half of spring practice after having arthroscopic surgery to correct looseness in both shoulders.

1997: Matock started at defensive tackle as a junior in 1997. Overall while starting all 11 games, he made 26 tackles, including 5 for losses of 19 yards (with 3 sacks for minus 13 yards), plus had 1 interception (at Oregon State), 2 fumble recoveries (against Washington State and Oregon) and 4 deflections. He was named Pac-10 Special Teams Player of the Week when he partially deflected Oregon's potential game-winning 36-yard field goal try that fell just short with 8 seconds to play. At Oregon State, he made a spectacular play when he deflected a pass at the line of scrimmage, then intercepted it and ran 22 yards with it. He made 5 tackles against Arizona State and UCLA, and had 3 stops versus Washington State, UNLV, Notre Dame and Washington.

1996: As a sophomore, Matock was a backup defensive tackle behind Darrell Russell and Matt Keneley in 1996. Overall in 1996 while appearing in 11 games (all but the Houston contest), he made 7 tackles. He had 3 stops at Illinois.

1995: Matock was a redshirt freshman reserve defensive tackle in 1995, but he did not see any action.

1994: Matock redshirted as a defensive end in 1994, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: Matock's honors in 1993 included Blue Chip All-American first team, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-Valley and All-League as a senior 2-way lineman at Palma High in Salinas (Calif.). He had 3 interceptions (1 for a TD). Palma was 11-1 in 1993.

He made Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass, San Francisco Examiner All-San Francisco-Metro first team, All-Valley and All-League as a 1992 junior. In 1991 as a sophomore, he was All-League second team. He was a 3-year starter in football. He also played basketball and track at Palma.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. His sports hero is Howie Long.

MARC MATOCK ON: Finally playing—albeit in anonymity—in 1997: "I'm not the type of guy who is going to try to get all this publicity. I don't care. I'm just happy to be out there playing...I didn't realize how much I missed playing until I was actually out there. It's just a great feeling, one that I wouldn't trade for anything in the world...It had been a long time since I was on the field from the start of the game to the end, so it felt really good...When I first got here, all of a sudden I was thrown int here against a guy like (All-American and NFL first rounder) Tony Boselli and he about took my head off. It was a humbling experience. My first 2 years here were tough because I wanted to play but there were some really good players ahead of me. It was hard not playing, not going on trips, not really being part of the team."

Brent McCAFFREY

Offensive Tackle

6-5 • 270
So.*/Jr.

#68

1998: McCaffrey, whose father played at USC in the early 1970s, had an outstanding showing in 1998 spring drills and emerged as the starting left offensive tackle as a sophomore in 1998. He is also listed as a backup long snapper.

1997: McCaffrey served as the backup to Ken Bowen at right offensive tackle as a redshirt freshman in 1997. He saw brief action against Stanford and Oregon State.

1996: McCaffrey redshirted at offensive tackle as a first-year freshman in 1996. He enrolled at USC in the spring of 1996 after sitting out the sport in 1995 following a fine prep career.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: McCaffrey attended Fresno (Calif.) City College as a part-time student in the fall of 1995, but did not play football.

HIGH SCHOOL: McCaffrey earned 1994 All-Fresno and All-Northwest Yosemite League honors as a senior 2-way lineman at Bullard High in Fresno. He also played in the Fresno City/County All-Star Game. He also played volleyball at Bullard.

As a 1993 junior, he played offensive and defensive line at San Joaquin Memorial High in Fresno, where he also played basketball.

PERSONAL: He's a planning and development major at USC. His father, Bob, starred at center for USC in 1972 through 1974 and was honored as USC's Lineman of the Year in 1974 and junior varsity MVP in 1971 (Troy played in 3 Rose Bowls during his career and won the national championship in 1972 and 1974). Bob played in the 1975 College All-Star Game and then spent 1975 with the Green Bay Packers. Brent's uncle, Mike McCaffrey, was a 3-year (1966-68) letterman defensive end at California who co-captained the 1968 Golden Bear team and was a 2-time (1967-68) All-Pac-8 selection (he played with the Buffalo Bills in 1970).

Daylon McCUTCHEON

Cornerback

5-11 • 180

1998: McCutcheon is a true triple threat. Not only is he one of the nation's premier cornerbacks as a 1998 senior, but he is a dangerous kickoff returner and could again play on offense as a tailback or wide receiver. A 3-year starter, he is in line for All-American and Thorpe Award consideration.

1997: As a junior starting for his third season in 1997, McCutcheon again proved to be one of the best cornerbacks in college football. He teamed with Brian Kelly to USC perhaps the top pair of corners in the nation. McCutcheon, who has a famous bloodline, also showed he was a multidimensional player as he played on special teams and even on offense in 1997. Overall in 1997 while starting all 11 games, he made 45 tackles, including 4 for losses of 6 yards, had 2 interceptions (against Oregon State, which set up a USC TD, and Florida State) and broke up 7 passes. He also returned 9 kickoffs for an 18.7 average and, as a wide receiver and tailback on offense, he ran for 26 yards on 3 carries (8.7 avg.) with 1 TD and caught 3 passes for 41 yards (13.7 avg.). He was named a 1997 pre-season All-American, as well as a 1997 Football News All-American honorable mention and All-Pac-10 honorable mention selection.

In the Florida State opener, he had an interception and 2 tackles (and a 16-yard kickoff return), then added 4 stops and 2 deflections against Washington State. At California, he and Kelly took turns guarding Bobby Shaw (then ranked as the nation's leader in receptions and receiving yards) and cut his normal production in half, limiting him to just 5 catches for 98 yards, as McCutcheon had 5 tackles (2 for losses). He had 4 tackles (1 for a loss) against UNLV, plus he returned 2 kickoffs for 40 yards and ran 9 yards on a reverse on offense. At Arizona State, he had 4 tackles and 2 deflections (he also returned a kickoff 24 yards), then had 7 tackles (1 for a loss) at Notre Dame and 6 stops versus Oregon (he also returned 3 kickoffs for 38 yards). He made a pair of tackles at Washington and also played a fair amount as a wide receiver, catching 2 passes for 30 yards (he also returned 2 kickoffs for 50 yards). He ran for an 18-yard touchdown on a fake reverse end-around against Stanford (he had 5 tackles on defense). He contributed on both sides of the ball at Oregon State, grabbing an interception and making 3 tackles on defense and catching an 11-yard pass (he also ran once for a loss of 1 yard) on offense. Against UCLA, he had 3 tackles and a deflection.

1996: Although only a sophomore, McCutcheon appeared headed for greatness while starting for his second season at cornerback in 1996. Overall in 1996, he had 48 tackles, including 3 for losses, 3 interceptions which he returned 34 yards (11.3 avg.), a team-best 14 deflections and 2 forced fumbles. He earned 1996 Football News All-American honorable mention, All-Pac-10 first team and Football News All-Pac-10 first team honors. He tied for sixth in the Pac-10 in interceptions (0.3). At Washington State, he had a pair of interceptions (the second set up a USC TD), plus 4 tackles and 3 deflections. At Arizona State, he had 4 stops, 3 breakups and an endzone interception. He added 7 tackles at Stanford, and 5 each against Penn State, UCLA (with a forced fumble) and Notre Dame (with a forced fumble which led to a USC field goal). He was used a bit early in the season returning kickoffs (he averaged 23.7 on 3 kickoff returns in 1996).

1995: As just a first-year freshman in 1995, McCutcheon came to USC with high expectations from coaches and fans...and he did not disappoint, earning 1995 All-Pac-10 honorable mention notice while making a number of big plays. He started 6 games at cornerback—filling in for an injured Brian Kelly against Arizona, Arizona State and California and then beating out Quincy Harrison for the last 3 contests (Oregon State, UCLA and Northwestern in the Rose Bowl)—and played often as the backup in the other 6 games. He also played on special teams. Overall in 1995, he made 50 tackles (tied for fourth on USC) and deflected 10 passes. He intercepted 2 passes which he returned 91 yards (45.5 avg.): a 35-yarder which he returned for a touchdown against San Jose State in his first game as a Trojan (it was the first scoring pick by a true freshman at USC since Jason Oliver did it twice in 1990) and a 56-yarder against UCLA which led to a USC TD. He also recovered a fumble against Northwestern and returned it 53 yards for a TD. He had 8 tackles against Washington State, 7 versus UCLA and 6 at Arizona in his first-ever start. He broke up 3 passes against Arizona State.

HIGH SCHOOL: McCutcheon's 1994 honors included USA Today All-USA (and California MVP), Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American National MVP, Blue Chip All-American (and Elite 22), College Sports All-American, Schutt Scholastic Coach All-American, National Prep Poll All-American, Dallas Morning News National Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Blue Chip All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Student Sports All-State MVP, Coaches Poll All-State MVP, Long Beach Press-Telegram All-State, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I MVP, and Los Angeles Times All-San Gabriel Valley first team as a senior running back and safety at Bishop Amat High in La Puente (Calif.). In 1994, he ran for a school-record 2,456 yards on 269 carries (9.1 avg.) with 33 TDs (including 10 scores of 50-plus yards). He ran for 100 yards in all 14 games in 1994, including 4 of 200-plus yards. He also caught 21 passes, returned a punt for a TD and was a kickoff returner. On defense, he made 8 interceptions, returning 2 for scores, and recorded 56 tackles. Bishop Amat went 13-1 in 1994 and was the CIF Division I runnerup.

As a 1993 junior, he played wide receiver and safety. He was named to the 1993 Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass, All-CIF Southern Section, All-CIF Division I, Los Angeles Times All-San Gabriel Valley and All-Del Rey League first teams. He caught 35 passes for 780 yards (22.3 avg.) and 11 TDs in 1993, plus had 88 yards on 10 carries (8.8 avg.), returned 6 punts for 161 yards (26.8 avg.) and 1 TD, and had 60 tackles and 5 picks (2 for TDs).

A starting wide receiver and safety as a sophomore on a 15-0 Bishop Amat team which won the CIF Division I crown, he was named to the 1992 All-CIF Division I first team as he caught 29 passes for 690 yards (23.8 avg.) with 5 TDs and intercepted 2 aerials. In his 3 years as a starter (Bishop Amat went 49-2), he had a school-record 15 interceptions (6 of which he ran back for TDs).

He also was a sprinter on Bishop Amat's track team.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. His father, Lawrence, was an All-Pro running back with the Los Angeles Rams (1972-79), Denver Broncos (1980) and Buffalo Bills (1981) who set the since-broken Rams career rushing record (6,186 yards), led the Rams in rushing 5 times and played in Super Bowl XIV (he has been a scout with the Rams since 1982). His sports hero is Deion Sanders.

DAYLON McCUTCHEON ON: His football goal: "I want to establish myself as one of the best cornerbacks in college football, and once I feel that I've done that, then I know that I'm going to have to look for an even bigger challenge. And that would be to become one of the best cornerbacks in the NFL...I feel I'm headed for greatness, but I know the little things make a difference between being a good player and a great player. I have a lot to learn but I'm headed in the right direction."

His attitude as a cornerback: "I just love the challenge of being out there one-on-one with the receiver...I want them to throw at me. It's a challenge...I can play any phase of the game. If the receiver is going to run routes, then I'm going to cover him. If he wants to talk, we can talk. If he wants to play dirty, I'll play dirty. I'm going to do whatever I have to do, but I'm going to do it better than him."

One-on-one coverage: "I love it. It's a big challenge. One-on-one, you make the play, you get the glory. If he beats you, you're the one to blame. It's just a challenge...When you play cornerback, it's personal because it's man to man, one on one, me against him. My job is to focus on this receiver, my skills against his skills."

Hitting: "It surprises some people when I say it, but I love to hit. I don't look forward to hitting those big guys, like the tight ends, but I like coming up on the run and hitting the running backs. I love that."

Taking on a leadership role in 1998: "I'm a senior now and I have the most experience playing in the secondary. I think I've taken on that leadership role and hopefully I'm there for the guys to share my experiences on the field and help us be a better secondary."

Playing defense versus offense: "I feel real comfortable on both sides of the ball. I just want to win football games and I'm going to do whatever is asked of me...I'm just as capable of making great plays on defense as I am on offense...I see myself in the future playing defense...But if they ask me to play offense, I'll go over there and play...Playing corner has been a big challenge. So many things in my career have come naturally, but some of the things you really have to work at. Running back is primarily instinct. Cornerback is some instinct, but a lot of it is read and react. It's a learning process and I like the challenge...I know I need to get stronger, but I know I'll never be as big as my dad. So cornerback was a more logical position for me than running back. People think I chose defense to avoid having to be compared to my father, but that's not so...In the beginning, I missed playing offense a little, getting the ball. But after a while, I didn't miss it at all. People love to see the long run, the deep ball. I love to see interceptions. I love to see fumble recoveries."

His sports hero, Deion Sanders: "I love watching him because he's such a great athlete. Whenever he's on the field, he's able to come up with big plays. That's the type of player I am...I love the way he entertains on the field. Football is intense, but you should be able to have fun...I wouldn't say I'm as confident as Deion Sanders, but I have a lot of confidence in myself. Probably a little cocky. Probably a lot cocky. Probably more cocky than I need to be."

Confidence: "I'm very confident. If I line up against a receiver, I feel he can't beat me. The cockiness and maybe all of the trash talking is not really me...When I lined up in high school, I knew there wasn't a receiver out there who could beat me. That's the same kind of attitude I came out with when I lined up at USC."

Starting as a freshman: "I didn't expect a starting spot. I thought I'd get some limited playing time. But there were some injuries, and I got in the games early in the season and things just worked out. I just had to work real hard to prove that I could play...(Getting that interception for a touchdown against San Jose State) was real exciting for me to start out my career like that. It gave me a lot of confidence, it made me feel really good about myself and also my teammates. The veterans made me feel real comfortable so I could just go out there, play ball and not worry about making mistakes...I felt real comfortable and the main reason I did was that I knew the other players believed in me."

His first football game: "It was a Pop Warner game when I was 9. On my first carry, I ran through the line, and all of a sudden everyone was behind me. It was a long run, and my first touchdown. I decided I liked it."

His mother, Deborah Sterling: "I love football, but I think she loves football more than me. She understands the pressures that go with it. She listens. And she gives good information. She understands the Xs and Os, too. I'd come out of the game and she'd go, 'Daylon, what were you doing on that play?' Oh, man. After I got chewed out by the coaches, I'd get chewed out by the coach at home."

His father, Lawrence, who left when Daylon was 2 years old and didn't see Daylon again until he was 10: "I didn't feel like I was missing out on anything (not having his father around), so I didn't ask about it. Everything I needed, I got from my mom (Deborah Sterling). I just didn't worry about it...For most of the time I was growing up, she was my male and my female role model...One day in 1987 when I was 10, my mom took me to a Rams practice. I ran into this man and asked him to sign my pennant. He signed it and I just took it around, getting more autographs. My mom asked me, 'Do you know whose autograph you've got?' I told her it was my dad. Then my mom and he talked. He pretty much said, 'Hi," and that was about it...But when he was signing it, he looked at me. He took a good look. I think he knew...Then, when I was 15 and a junior in high school, he called and said he wanted us to talk...I think he was scared I was going to reject him. Besides, I'm real stubborn and he's real stubborn...Now, we're trying to make something of the time that we missed. He's become a great friend and someone I can talk to about anything. He's always there for me and we're trying to move on and to make it a father-son relationship...I think he's a good person. Some people make a mistake and never try to correct it. He did come back. It was brave of him...He's helped me with my choice of schools and with my choice of position...We talk more often now. I love my dad and we're getting closer...I don't have any hard feelings...I don't see very many similarities between us on the field. He was more of a straight-up, power runner, where I'd rather put a move on you and try to outrun you. But he's accomplished something (playing in the NFL) that I hope to accomplish one day...He keeps me focused on what I have to do right now. He won't really ever talk to me about the NFL. He has taught me that it's what I do today that counts."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: His mother, Deborah Sterling: "I discussed his father openly with Daylon. Anything he wanted to know, I would tell him. It was no big secret or anything...We both went on with our lives and he provided for Daylon financially...It was never like there was any bad blood between us. We just went our separate ways. I never painted his dad out to be a villain or anything...When they met at that Rams practice when Daylon was 10, I think both of them handled it well. I'm sure it was awkward for the both of them...Daylon kind of looked up to him as he signed the autograph, then walked over to me, and I asked him if he knew who he was. He said, 'Yeah, kinda.' Lawrence stood there and just kind of watched the whole thing. I asked Daylon if he wanted to go over and talk to him. He did. Daylon handled the whole thing pretty well. He's a scrappy, confident kid...When they got back together for lunch when Daylon was in high school, I think it was hard for them, at first, to see what they expected out of it. It's not like you can make up all of those years. I don't think it was Lawrence's intention, and Daylon was a wise enough young man that he realized that you couldn't do that over such a short period of time. They were both open and willing to work on the relationship they have now. What I think is more important is that there's nothing we can do about the past...Daylon and Lawrence are very much alike, the way they walk, their movement, their sense of humor, their temperament, they way they laugh, everything. Genes are definitely remarkable things. They're so much alike, it's scary...My son and I worry about each other an awful lot. We're very close."

His father, Lawrence: "It was strange (seeing him at that Rams practice in 1987), because he looked so much like me. It was like I was looking at myself as a young kid...(The next time they met 5 years later), I just decided it was time. I didn't know what would come of it, but I called him up...I think the relationship was kind of guarded at first, but I think he feels he can confide in me. We talk about football, his team, his studies, just normal talk. Our relationship has really grown in the last year or so. I'm concerned a lot more with that than what happened in the past...My main concern is building a strong relationship with Daylon, getting to know him better. There's no time frame on it...He's developed his own style. He has great athletic ability, great speed and loves the game...He has great leg strength and has good jumping ability, which equalizes the height advantage a receiver has. He has great ability to play the ball in the air."

USC secondary coach Dennis Thurman: "Daylon is as natural a football player as I've ever been around...He has something we refer to around here as 'stuff'...He makes a lot of plays that you can't coach. And he makes a lot of great little plays...Not only does he have great athletic gifts, but he also has great instincts for how to play and he has an understanding of the game...His athletic ability is very important because he's in position to do the job on almost every play. He knows the game and plays the game that way. And he listens. He's coachable...He has the physical tools and the mental makeup to play at the next level."

Former USC linebacker and safety Sammy Knight: "He's a great player and he's a great leader. He's always making a big play."

USC cornerback Ken Haslip: "No team wants to mess with Daylon. They're stupid if they do."

Penn State offensive coordinator Fran Ganter: "We looked at a lot of film on him and we decided everything about him scared us, particularly his leaping ability."

Northwestern head coach Gary Barnett: "We knew he was a terrific athlete. Having played as a true freshman at a school the caliber of USC says it all."

Oregon head coach Mike Bellotti: "He is an excellent athlete who can play just about anywhere in the defensive secondary and probably a lot of places on offense, too. He's got great speed, and he's a tough, aggressive, in-your-face cornerback who does not back down and who welcomes the personal challenge of one-on-one coverage."

UCLA wide receiver Jim McElroy: "I have great respect for him because I know the type of player he is. He's a phenomenal athlete. I wish he was on my team...I know he's one of the best."

Brian Patterson, South Bay Daily Breeze: "McCutcheon, who has 'Future All-American' stamped all over him, is just too good, too smart and too doggone dangerous for any opposing team to want to purposely cross paths with him."

Phil Collin, South Bay Daily Breeze: "He wears the most prominent number for his team and just may be its preeminent member."

1998: McLaughlin, a reserve sophomore wide receiver, likely will miss the 1998 season while recuperating from reconstructive surgery on his dislocating left shoulder following 1998 spring drills.

1997: McLaughlin, who came to USC as a walk-on but earned a scholarship in 1997, was a reserve wide receiver and played on special teams as a redshirt freshman in 1997. He appeared in 4 games (Notre Dame, Oregon, Stanford and Oregon State), but did not catch a pass. He made 3 tackles on special teams (1 versus Stanford and 2 at Oregon State). He missed 1997 spring practice because of a hamstring pull. He had arthroscopic surgery to remove torn cartilage in his right shoulder after 1997 spring drills.

1996: McLaughlin redshirted as a walk-on freshman wide receiver in 1996, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: McLaughlin was a wide receiver at Hart High in Newhall, where he caught 27 passes for 595 yards (22.0 avg.) and 5 TDs as a 1995 senior. Hart was the 1995 CIF Division II champion. Current Trojan Ted Iacenda also prepped at Hart.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. His brother, John, is a senior defensive end at California who played at Notre Dame before transferring.

Billy MILLER

CAREER: He is 17th on USC's career pass catching list, with 76 receptions for 949 yards (12.5 avg.) and 4 TDs.

1998: Miller, who has outstanding size and speed, returns as a starting wide receiver as a senior in 1998 after leading USC in receiving in 1997. He play at split end.

1997: Miller started at a wide receiver spot as a junior in 1997 and rebounded from an inconsistent 1996 in a big way. Overall while starting all 11 games in 1997, he led USC with 56 catches for 649 yards (11.6 avg.) and 2 TDs. He ranked fifth in the Pac-10 in pass receptions (5.1). He was the only Trojan with a catch in every game in 1997. He had 3 games with 100-plus receiving yards. His 56 catches put him eighth on USC's season receiving chart.

In the opener against Florida State, he caught a game-best and career-high 8 passes for 56 yards. Then, against Washington State, he grabbed 10 aerials for 138 yards, both career highs (he also caught a 2-point conversion pass). He added 3 catches for 35 yards (including one while flat on his back) at California, 8 grabs for 112 yards versus UNLV, 3 catches for 21 yards at Arizona State and just 1 catch at Notre Dame (for 5 yards). He made 9 grabs for 105 yards, both game highs, against Oregon, led USC with 5 catches (for just 29 yards) at Washington, had 2 catches for 45 yards (including an 18-yard leaping TD) against Stanford, then 5 grabs for 80 yards, including a 45-yard TD, at Oregon State, and 2 catches for 23 yards against UCLA.

1996: Miller started 6 of USC's first 7 games (all but the Oregon State contest) as a sophomore in 1996 at the wide receiver position vacated by All-American and top NFL draft selection Keyshawn Johnson (he even wore Johnson's No. 3 jersey). He played in all the other games but 1 (at Stanford) as either a backup wide receiver or on special teams. Overall in 1996 while appearing in 11 contests, he had 17 catches for 273 yards (16.1 avg.) with 2 TDs. He had 3 grabs for 67 yards at Illinois and 4 for 65 yards against Oregon State. Despite dropping 3 balls versus the Beavers, he came back big at Houston, as he caught 3 passes for a career-best 69 yards, including 2 TDs (35 yards in the first quarter and 32 yards in the fourth quarter to put the game out of reach). He had 1 leaping grab for 12 yards in the first quarter versus California, but partially separated his shoulder on the catch and was sidelined the rest of that contest (the injury hampered him the rest of the year). He returned to start the next game against Arizona and caught 3 passes for 41 yards. He had 2 grabs for 16 yards at Arizona State and 1 for 3 yards at Washington State. He didn't have a catch versus Washington, UCLA or Notre Dame.

1995: As a first-year freshman, Miller served as the backup to unanimous All-American and NFL No. 1 pick Johnson at wide receiver. Miller also performed on special teams. Overall in 1995 while appearing in all 12 games, he made 3 catches for 27 yards (9.0 avg.), including 2 for 18 yards against San Jose State in his first game as a Trojan, plus notched 1 tackle and forced a fumble (against Stanford).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1994 Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Blue Chip All-American, College Sports All-American, Schutt Scholastic Coach All-American, USA Today All-USA second team, Dallas Morning News National Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Blue Chip All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West second team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Student Sports All-State first team, Long Beach Press-Telegram All-State, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division III first team Co-MVP, Los Angeles Times All-Ventura first team MVP, Los Angeles Daily News All-Area first team and All-Marmonte League MVP as a senior at Westlake High in Westlake Village (Calif.). He caught 69 passes for 1,087 yards (15.8 avg.) and 14 TDs. Westlake went 10-2.

As a 1993 junior, he was named to the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass, All-CIF Southern Section, All-CIF Division III, Los Angeles Times All-Ventura, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley and All-Marmonte League (where he was Offensive MVP) first teams. He had 85 receptions for 1,465 yards (17.2 avg.) with 13 TDs in 1993.

As a 1992 sophomore, he made the All-Marmonte League first team with 33 catches for 465 yards (14.1 avg.) with 7 TDs. He also played cornerback. In his career, he had 187 catches for 3,017 yards (16.1 avg.) with 34 TDs (the yardage and TDs rank third on the CIF career charts). Current Trojan Bobby DeMars also prepped at Westlake.

He also was a 3-year starter for Westlake's basketball team (he averaged 15 points in 1995), earning 1995 Los Angeles Times All-Ventura and All-Marmonte League first team and 1994 Student Sports All-Grid-Hoop third team honors.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. His sports hero is Jerry Rice.

BILLY MILLER ON: Having a big 1997 season after an admittedly-disappointing 1996 campaign: "I got my confidence back. I know I can catch the ball now...Now, say I drop four balls. I keep my confidence up. I don't go into the tank like before. I forget about it and keep going until the next game...The difference is concentration and just having fun. In 1996, I wasn't really having fun. I was just trying to focus on one thing. I had so much pressure on me that I didn't have a chance to have fun. I went out there and tried to do too much and if I didn't do it I went in the tank and my head got screwed up and I couldn't get my focus back. In 1997, I told myself, 'You've just got to have fun. Go out there and whatever happens, happens. But you're going to have fun when you play.' Now the ball just fits right back into my hands and it feels good to play...I went out and ran in the off-season to get my speed better. I lifted weights to get my body stronger. And I caught balls every day to get back to being comfortable catching the ball...The 1996 season was motivation to prove all those people wrong who said, 'You're done.'"

His disappointing 1996 season: "It was a very humbling experience. Any big-headedness I might have had, it was definitely gone after that...It got to the point where I didn't want to play football anymore. It was a point where everything was going wrong because of football. I didn't want to be on the sideline or practice field...I would just sit there (in 1996) looking for answers. That's a pretty lonely feeling...In 1996, there was not one game where I felt good coming off the field. I lost my confidence in catching the ball. I was thinking about catching the ball. I was thinking, 'See the ball, see the ball, see the ball,' and I'd drop the ball...It was just killing me. I was in a bad, bad slump...I don't blame it on my injured shoulder, I just blame it on myself. I wasn't focusing and I lost concentration...All through my life, my strength had been my hands. I might not be the fastest and I might not run the best routes, but I'm going to catch the ball. And then it was like,

'Man, what's up?' It was weird because the thing that I was best at wasn't working for me...I put a lot of personal pressure on myself. I thought to myself, 'You've got to do everything perfectly.' Because you watch film of Keyshawn Johnson and Curtis Conway and Johnnie Morton, and it seems like they didn't do anything wrong. When you look back at it, they did do things wrong, but nobody really knows that, they just remember all the good things they did...I was dropping a lot of balls and my confidence plummeted. It's tough to get out of the ditch once you fall in...I let it go to my head and my confidence level started going down. I'd go to bed wondering about it, then I'd stay away from the papers...When I'd go home to Westlake Village, I'd drive in late and leave early. I didn't want to go anywhere where people would see me or know me. I didn't want to hear anything. I didn't want to go to the store. I didn't want to go to the movies. I would go to see my family and leave...There were so many answers to what I think it could have been. At the beginning of the season, everyone compared me to Keyshawn Johnson, Curtis Conway, Johnnie Morton. But I wasn't ready to step in there shoes yet. At that time, I don't know if I was looking for anything. I just wondered why I was dropping all these balls. I don't think I wanted to talk to anybody...I really found out who my real friends were. A lot of the people who were there at the beginning, after you drop a couple of balls there are no more phone calls, no more pats on the back. You realize who's important to you...Even though I had my family and some friends on the team to turn to, I didn't really feel like that. I felt like my back was against the wall and I was by myself."

Being compared to former USC All-American wide receiver and No. 1 NFL draft pick Keyshawn Johnson: "Was it a weight (initially)? I think so. I think you play better with pressure, but the pressure to play better got into my mind. I saw the comparisons talked about on TV and I wanted to be like Keyshawn and Johnnie Morton and Curtis Conway. But maybe I wasn't ready for that...I think the comparison that everyone makes between Keyshawn and me is because of similar size and body type. But we're two different styles of receivers. Keyshawn was big and a finesse kind of guy. I like to use my body more. I'll try and be a more physical receiver than Keyshawn was...I didn't go out there with the idea of trying to replace Keyshawn. I just went out there and tried to be myself and do my best to help this team win...I liked Keyshawn's style. I like guys who will talk about how they're going to beat you, then go out and do it. But no, that's not me. It's not in me to talk down an opponent and then go out and have to play him...I think it's great people are putting me at such a high level with such great USC receivers as Keyshawn and (ex-All-Americans and first round NFL draft picks) Johnnie Morton and Curtis Conway. It feels great that people are responding to me like this, saying, 'He's going to be the next.' But I've got a lot of work before that comes."

Wearing No. 3, Keyshawn Johnson's USC number: "I just wanted to wear 3 whenever I came to college. But Keyshawn was wearing it in 1995. It's not like I'm trying to be like Keyshawn. Other people think it's added pressure. I don't. I don't think they labeled Keyshawn as Curtis Conway (who also wore No. 3) when he wore the number...I'm not worried. If anything, it'll just make me work that much harder to try and uphold the tradition of the great wide receivers like Curtis and Keyshawn who wore it here before me."

Playing behind All-American Keyshawn Johnson in 1995: "I'd get maybe 20 to 30 balls thrown to me on Tuesday practices (when Johnson was given the day off to rest). When Keyshawn would come back, it dropped to 2 to 5. But that was my learning year and I took advantage of it. I learned a lot just listening to (ex-USC wide receivers) Coach (Mike) Sanford and Keyshawn talking."

USC's recent tradition of producing wide receivers who were high NFL draft picks: "It gives me incentive to work hard. I see them making all that money after working hard in college. It makes me want to work hard, as hard as they did or even harder, to be the best receiver at USC...I watch a lot of film on each of those guys. I think they each had something that I would love to learn and to be able to go out and do. Whenever they come around, I try to ask questions. I try to get an idea of what they do now in the NFL, what helps them out now and what helped them out in college. I try to get little things, like breaking down routes, how they catch the ball, how to get a defender off of you."

His size: "I'm a lot bigger than most receivers. That definitely helps me to go up and get the ball, and to be physical when smaller corners try to jam me. It's tougher for them because I'm bigger and I can push off of them just as easily as they can push on me."

His ambition: "I'd like to be the go-to guy, definitely. That's part of being a competitor. You work hard to try to become that...I want to be the receiver who makes big plays."

Working out with track coach Danny Daniels in the summer of 1996 to improve his speed: "The first day I got sick, he ran us into the dirt. I woke up the next morning and thought, 'Maybe I'll run on my own.' But I stayed with it and it worked. My speed and form improved."

Improving: "I've been working on everything—my speed, catching the ball, running patterns, and using my body to my advantage to get in front of the defensive back."

The transition from high school to college football: "In high school, college sounds easy. But it's not...Nothing can really get you ready. There's just so much volume when you come in. I was in shape physically, but I don't think I was in shape mentally. You can't prepare for it all. Everything is a lot faster...Plus, the competition is so great. Here, everyone is a superstar and everyone knows what they're doing and it's at full speed...And we're meeting all the time."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Washington State head coach Mike Price: "He's a big, strong target who is very, very athletic. He's absolutely the full package."

Former USC wide receivers coach Mike Sanford: "He's not only a good possession guy, but he has the speed to go deep and make the big play. He's a Dennis Rodman-type of receiver. When the ball is in his area, he's physical enough to go and get it like Rodman does in basketball. Thankfully, he doesn't have the pink or green hair yet, though...He has very similar speed to (ex-USC All-American and first round NFL draft pick) Johnnie Morton when he came to USC...He has the ability and attitude to be one of the greats at USC. He was around Keyshawn. He's seen the level of play you have to be at. There is a standard to live up to."

So./So.

1998: Moreno will serve as a backup to both Chris Claiborne at middle linebacker and Mark Cusano at strongside linebacker as a sophomore in 1998. He is also listed as the backup long snapper.

1997: Moreno showed his future potential while appearing in 10 games (all but the Florida State opener) as a reserve linebacker and on special teams as a first-year freshman in 1997. Overall in 1997, he made 8 tackles, including a 14-yard sack (against Stanford), deflected 2 passes, intercepted a pass (at Oregon State, which he returned 19 yards to set up a USC field goal) and forced a fumble (against Stanford, on the sack). He had 5 tackles versus Stanford. He also returned 2 short kickoffs for 33 yards (16.5 avg.), a 21-yarder against Stanford and a 12-yarder versus UCLA.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1996 Super Prep All-American, Student Sports All-American, Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star Best in the West, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF San Diego Section Defensive MVP, and San Diego Tribune All-San Diego Defensive MVP as a senior at Castle Park High in Chula Vista (Calif.). He had 147 tackles in 1996 as Castle Park went 13-0 and was the CIF San Diego Section champ. He returned an interception 80 yards for a TD.

As a 1995 junior, he made Cal-Hi Sports All-State Junior first team, All-CIF San Diego Section first team and All-League with 90 tackles, 9 sacks and 3 interceptions on defense and 400 yards on 60 carries (6.7 avg.) with 3 TDs on offense.

He was a 1994 Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore Super 25 and All-League pick as a sophomore. He also played baseball at Castle Park.

PERSONAL: He's majoring in gender studies at USC. His real first name is Ezekiel. He likes to write poetry in his spare time. His brother, Moses, was a 3-year (1995-97) starting quarterback at Colorado State.

ZEKE MORENO ON: His mother: "I've always admired my mother. She raised five boys on her own. She always taught me to be strong, respectful and polite. She gives me a lot of strength. When I see her working hard, it just pushes me to work even harder...I always talk to my mom on game day. She asks me what the game plan is. I always answer, 'Just win.'"

Chad MORTON

Tailback

5-8 • 185
Jr.*/Sr.

CAREER: Morton is 16th on USC's career punt return list, with 37 runbacks for 317 yards (8.6 avg).

1998: One of USC's most exciting and versatile players (he has played on offense, defense and special teams in his Trojan career), the speedy Morton—whose older brother was one of the Trojans' all-time great receivers—is battling with Malaefou MacKenzie for the starting tailback job as a junior in 1998. Also a fine student, he's a candidate for Academic All-American honors.

1997: Morton starred on defense (free safety and cornerback), offense (tailback and wide receiver) and special teams (punt returner) as a sophomore in 1997. He was moved from cornerback to free safety and started 4 mid-season games (California, UNLV, Arizona State, Notre Dame) there in 1997 (he backed up Darnell Lacy in USC's first 2 games, then was Rashard Cook's backup against Oregon and Washington). He was then moved to tailback for the Stanford game and saw action there in the last 3 games. He also was USC's top punt returner, with an 8.0 average on 21 runbacks. Overall while appearing in all 11 games in 1997, he made 25 tackles, with a 6-yard sack (at California), intercepted 2 passes (against Florida State and UNLV) which he returned 32 yards (16.0 avg.), recovered 2 fumbles (against Florida State and California), forced a fumble (at California, which he recovered) and broke up 5 passes on defense, and rushed for 214 yards (third on USC) on 30 carries (7.1 avg.) with 1 TD and caught 1 pass for 17 yards (at Oregon State) on offense. He was bothered the second half of the season with nagging hip, hamstring and ankle injuries. He won USC's Bob Chandler Award (top underclassman athlete/student/leader).

Against Florida State, he intercepted a pass in the end zone (which he returned 29 yards), recovered a fumble and ran back 3 punts for 27 yards. He had 1 tackle and returned 5 punts for 43 yards (with a 21-yarder) against Washington State. At California, he made 6 tackles (including a sack), forced a fumble which he then recovered, broke up 2 passes, and returned 4 punts for 38 yards. He had 6 tackles versus UNLV, as well as breaking up 2 passes and intercepting an aerial. At Arizona State, he posted 10 tackles and returned 4 punts for 25 yards. He played sparingly at Notre Dame after bruising his hip, but did manage to make a tackle and return 2 punts for 13 yards, and then played in a limited role versus Oregon. At Washington, he again played sparingly (he saw some time at cornerback), but did take a few snaps as a wide receiver (he didn't catch a pass, though). He was a backup tailback against Stanford and made the most of it, gaining 109 yards (his second career 100-yard outing) on just 7 carries, including going 69 yards to set up a TD the first time he touched the ball (a slight hamstring strain sidelined him midway through the third quarter), and he also played briefly at cornerback (getting 1 tackle). At Oregon State, he led USC in rushing off the bench with 41 yards on 13 carries, plus had a 17-yard catch and returned a punt 5 yards, before a mild ankle sprain sidelined him in the fourth quarter. He came off the bench against UCLA and rushed for 64 yards on 10 carries, including a 49-yard TD burst to give USC its only lead of the contest.

1996: Morton was the Trojans' jack-of-all-trades as a redshirt freshman in 1996. He started at cornerback in 3 late-season games (Washington State, Stanford and UCLA) and was a backup to Ken Haslip there the rest of the season, as well as being a key special teams performer. He had 6 tackles at Washington State and 4 versus Washington.

But, to make up for the temporary loss of running backs Delon Washington and Shawn Walters in the early going, Morton was a 3-way player in 3 of USC's first 4 contests. At Illinois, he made 3 tackles as a backup cornerback, he rushed for 28 yards (with a 2-yard TD) on 9 carries as the third-string tailback, and he played on various special teams (he recovered an Illini fumble on a kickoff which led to a USC TD and he returned a punt 11 yards). Against Oregon State, he played exclusively on offense as he ran for a game-high 143 yards on 13 carries (both career bests), including a 73-yard zigzagging TD dash that broke the game open. At Houston, Morton had 4 carries for 0 yards, 2 catches for 24 yards and a 7-yard punt return. He didn't play offense against California, Arizona, Arizona State, Washington State, Washington, Stanford or UCLA. He sprained his back at UCLA and missed the Notre Dame game.

Overall in 1996, he made 23 tackles (2 for losses), 1 deflection and 1 fumble recovery on defense, plus had 26 carries for 171 yards (6.6 avg.) and 2 TDs rushing, and 2 catches for 24 yards (12.0 avg.) receiving, and a team-high 16 punt returns for a team-best 149 yards (9.3 avg.). He was fifth in the Pac-10 in punt returns (9.3).

He was moved to running back (from cornerback) prior to 1996 spring practice, but was shifted back to cornerback at the start of 1996 fall practice. He was slowed in 1996 spring drills because of a sprained knee.

1995: Morton redshirted as a freshman cornerback in 1995, his first year at USC.

TRACK: He sprinted for the USC track team in the springs of 1998 and 1996. In 1998, he won a heat of the 100-meter dash at the Trojan Invitational in 10.81 and was second in the 100 in the Cal Poly San Luis Obispo Quad meet in 10.6 (he also ran on some 400-meter relay squads). In 1996, he won the 100 in 11.06 in a heat of USC's Five-Way meet (he also ran the third leg on USC's victorious 400 relay squad in that meet), before a knee sprain ended his season.

HIGH SCHOOL: He played football for 3 years at South Torrance (Calif.) High, although he missed all but the first quarter of the season opener as a 1994 senior running back after breaking his collarbone. He started at wide receiver as a 1993 junior and was a part-time starting running back as a sophomore in 1992.

He also sprinted for 3 years for South Torrance's track team, with career bests of 10.48 in the 100 meters (he finished seventh in the 1995 state 100) and 21.3 in the 200.

PERSONAL: A fine student with a B+ average (3.41 GPA) as a sociology major, he earned 1997 Pac-10 All-Academic first team and 1996 Pac-10 All-Academic honorable mention notice. He is the younger brother of ex-USC All-American and current Detroit Lion wide receiver Johnnie Morton (an NFL first rounder). Another older brother, Eric, was a wide receiver at Dartmouth. Two older half-brothers also starred as athletes: Michael was a running back at UNLV and then with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (1982-84) and Stanley played pro baseball.

CHAD MORTON ON: Playing tailback versus defensive back: "I'll play anywhere the coaches think I have a chance to play...When I first came to USC and they made me a defensive back, it was something I'd never done before. I was getting beat in practice a lot. Sometimes I'd look at the running backs and get jealous."

His size: "Even in high school, I was always underestimated because of my size. Luckily I've had the speed to make up for my size. I don't think my size has hindered me at all. It helps when I play running back because I don't think the defense can see me. By the time that they do, I can use my speed to get by them."

His speed: "Players like Barry Sanders, Napoleon Kaufman and Warrick Dunn all use speed. I try to use my speed and moves. I try to copy their style pretty much."

Questions about his durability: "Yeah, I'm getting tired of hearing about it. But people have a right to say it because I haven't had a whole season yet. I'm lifting a lot more weights than I have been. I've put on more muscle. I definitely feel the difference...A lot of backs today are smaller backs who are able to carry the ball a lot of times and still last. I've just got to prove people wrong."

Returning punts: "It's pretty fun and exciting. It's almost like an adrenaline rush knowing they're coming at you. You have to concentrate and maintain control of your body, and be able to catch the ball and quickly react from that. I enjoy it a lot."

Coming to USC: "Because of my size and the fact I was injured in my senior year in high school, I didn't know if I was going to be able to play college football. Nobody wanted to recruit me. In fact, for a while, I thought that I might have to go to a J.C. USC was pretty much the only school that recruited me...My brother (Johnnie) and my whole family played an important part in my coming to USC because my dad was the one who brought a highlight tape of my previous years in high school to the USC coaches. In retrospect, my brother's commitment to USC helped a lot. I know it wasn't all based on my talent...I've been around USC for quite a while. I grew up in the USC tradition. My parents come to all the home games and all my practices. That's one of the reasons I stayed in Los Angeles, because I'm close to their support."

His family: "My family has had a big impact on my football. My parents go to all my games and are very active in my academics. You could say football is a family tradition...Football has always been a part of the family. I saw my brothers play before me and go on to college and it made me want to do the same things as them."

His parents, Johnnie Sr. and Katsuko, who are frequent visitors to USC practices: "I have great parents and I love it that they come to practice. And I love it that they care so much about me...They've hardly missed anything I've ever done...They're very supportive. I got a lot of coaching from my father and he's already had two kids play in the NFL...My parents aren't just the first people to tell me that I do something good, but also when I do something bad. They'll yell at me right out there on the practice field. So I'm constantly worrying about doing well."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Former USC running back Shawn Walters: "He makes runs like you only see on 'John Madden Football.'"

Former Oregon State head coach Jerry Pettibone: "He's one of the most exciting runners I've seen in a long time."

Oregon State head coach Mike Riley: "He is explosive and fast. Even though he's little, he's hard to get down."

USC offensive coordinator Hue Jackson: "Any time you can put the ball in a guy's hands who is a threat to get to the end zone, that makes a difference."

Robyn Norwood, Los Angeles Times: "Chad Morton is small, a little bit fragile...and very, very fast."

Mike Waldner, South Bay Daily Breeze: "Pencil him in as USC's little big man...He has sensational speed. He also has the outstanding runner's knack of dipping in to make a sweep appear as if it is a run at tackle. Then he cruises back a few yards as he is runner laterally to the line of scrimmage and explodes to the outside, turning upfield for a big gain. And he is tough. He may get beat up. But he does not back down."

Petros PAPADAKIS

Tailback

Jr.*/Sr.

#35

1998: Papadakis, a rugged junior whose father and brother played at USC, will serve as a backup tailback in 1998 as a junior.

1997: Papadakis, who came to USC as a walk-on after transferring from California but earned a scholarship in 1997, was a reserve tailback and key special teams player as a sophomore in 1997. Overall while appearing in 10 games in 1997 (he did not play at California), he rushed for 103 yards on 24 carries (4.3 avg.). He had 54 yards on 7 carries against Stanford. He also made 1 tackle (at Notre Dame). He missed the last half of 1997 spring practice because of a sprained left ankle.

1996: He redshirted as a running back at USC in 1996.

1995: Papadakis originally signed with California and actually participated in practice for 1 week with the Bears in the fall of 1995, then left there and enrolled at USC. He had to sit out the 1995 season at Troy because of transfer rules.

HIGH SCHOOL: He made the 1994 Student Sports All-State honorable mention, All-CIF Division II first team, Los Angeles Times All-South Bay first team, South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay Co-MVP and All-Bay League Offensive MVP as a senior running back at Peninsula High in Rolling Hills (Calif.). He rushed for 2,026 yards on 217 carries (9.3 avg.) with 22 TDs in 1994. Ten of his TD runs were at least 40 yards and he scored at least 2 TDs in 7 different games. He ran for 288 yards in 1 game. Peninsula went 11-2 and advanced to the CIF Division II semifinals. Current Trojan Scott Huber also prepped at Peninsula.

PERSONAL: He's majoring in English/American literature at USC. He has worked many years at his family's renowned Greek restaurant in San Pedro, Papadakis Taverna. His father, John, lettered 2 years (1970-71) as a linebacker at USC (he was Troy's most inspirational player in 1971). Petros is a third generation Trojan. His brother, Taso, was a linebacker with the Trojans (he lettered in 1994 and 1996).

PETROS PAPADAKIS ON: His running style: "I'm a powerful runner with some speed. I try to hit the hole going full speed. I just try to get at least 4 or 5 yards a carry."

His improvement: "I feel more comfortable with the ball. Every year in college I get more and more used to running the ball. I'm more relaxed. And I'm catching the ball, which is good for me. The 1997 season wasn't easy for someone like me designated as the third-string running back, not even knowing if I would play. I know all I can do is run hard."

Originally going to California before coming to USC: "I left for Berkeley the day I graduated from high school. I liked it there, but I got very homesick and nostalgic. I wasn't ready emotionally, so I came home."

His USC roots: "USC is the best place to be for me. I was born going to USC games. The Trojans were my heroes...My grandfather (Tom) loved USC. He got the whole thing started. He has never missed a Trojan home game...When I saw my jersey and my name on my locker, I felt I was home. It was like a homecoming to me. Every time I run out of the tunnel, it's just such a great feeling. I couldn't even sleep the night before the first game...If someone had told me when I was 16 years old that I'd be wearing a Trojan uniform and running out of the tunnel onto the field at Notre Dame like I did, I wouldn't have believed them. I realize how fortunate I am. I realize I'm getting a free education because of my football scholarship."

Playing time: "I'm finding out at a young age that life deals up adversities and doesn't always go the way you want it to go. I'm going to be ready when my chance comes, if it ever does. And if it doesn't, I'm not going to feel sorry for myself. I'm going to know in my heart that I gave it all I had."

Being a football player: "No one thinks I play football. I'm not that big and I'm not that muscular. One of my professors came up to me and said, 'I hear you play football.' And then he said, 'Are you a walk-on or a kicker?'"

His family's athletic background: "Everyone in my family, we all play the same. We're not the most athletically gifted family, but we play with heart. It's good to bring heart to everything you do, or there is no point to it."

His brother, Taso: "I have always had great respect for him. I admire his optimism and relentless pursuit of his goals. I think of the hardships and injuries he has gone through and how he has handled everything like a man."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: His brother and former teammate, Taso: "Petros is a funny guy. He's a good storyteller and he's a ham. He likes to be in the spotlight."

CAREER: Parker is 19th on USC's career punt return chart, with 36 returns for 304 yards (8.4 avg.).

1998: After sitting out 1997 with an injury, Parker—a 1995 starter—is hoping to re-emerge in the wide receiver corps as a senior in 1998. Entering the 1998 season, he is listed as a co-starter at flanker with R. Jay Soward.

1997: Parker was set to be a key wide receiver as a senior in 1997, but he redshirted the season after having pre-season surgery on his left foot because of a stress fracture and alignment problems.

1996: As a junior in 1996, Parker served as a backup wide receiver. He appeared in 10 games (all but the Penn State and California contests) and even started at Houston. Overall in 1996, he had 10 receptions for 129 yards (12.9 avg.). He made his first catches of the season against Oregon State (5 for a career-high 83 yards). He had 2 catches each versus Arizona (24 yards) and Washington (17 yards). He also returned 6 punts for 32 yards (5.3 avg.). He had a 64-yard scoring punt return against Oregon State called back because of a clipping penalty, the second time that happened in his career. He also had 1 tackle. He missed the Penn State opener because of a hamstring pull. He was suspended from the California game because he violated an NCAA "extra benefit" rule. After the 1996 season, he had surgery to remove bone spurs in his left ankle. He missed part of 1996 spring practice because of a sprained right ankle. After 1996 spring drills, he had arthroscopic surgery to remove cartilage from his left knee.

1995: As just a sophomore, Parker started all 12 of USC's games of 1995 at wide receiver and he also returned punts. Overall in 1995, he had 25 catches (third on USC) for 270 yards (10.8 avg.), plus had a team-topping 29 punt returns for 266 yards (9.2 avg. to rank second in the Pac-10) and 1 kickoff return for 6 yards. He had a catch in all but 1 game (Houston), including a career-high 6 grabs for 41 yards versus Washington State and 3 for 68 yards against Stanford. He returned a Washington State punt 63 yards before fumbling inside the Cougar 5-yard line (but USC's Mike Bastianelli recovered it in the end zone for a TD) and won Pac-10 Special Teams Player of the Week honors for that performance. A 59-yard scoring punt return at Notre Dame was called back because of a penalty.

1994: As just a first-year freshman, Parker appeared in 11 games in 1994 (all but the Washington opener) as a backup wide receiver behind Keyshawn Johnson. He made 14 catches for 137 yards (9.8 avg.). He had 5 catches for 40 yards at Penn State. Parker also returned kickoffs, running back 4 for 83 yards (20.8 avg.), and punts, returning 1 for 6 yards, in 1994.

HIGH SCHOOL: Parker was on the 1993 Super Prep All-American first team, Blue Chip All-American first team, Super Prep All-Farwest, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma Morning News Tribune Western 100, and All-South Yosemite League as a senior at Bakersfield (Calif.) High. He had 12 receptions and 5 TDs on offense, made 75 tackles with 1 interception on defense, and returned a kickoff 93 yards for a TD in 1993. Bakersfield was 13-1 in 1993.

As a 1992 junior, he made All-Area and All-League while catching 11 passes for 160 yards (14.5 avg.) and 4 TDs, getting 80 tackles and 7 interceptions, and averaging 30.0 yards on kickoff returns. He also was on the track team, competing in the high jump and high hurdles. He had among the state's best times in 1994 in both the 110-meter high hurdles (14.49; he also posted a 14.20 wind-aided mark) and 300-meter intermediate hurdles (38.26). He was the 1994 Central Section champion in both events and participated in the state meet. He was a national age group champion in the high hurdles.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. His sports hero is Jerry Rice.

LARRY PARKER ON: His ability: "I think it's instinct, getting the ball and wanting to run. I think that's one of my biggest assets, that I have good field vision so I can really run with the ball...My thinking is, 'If I get open, I'm going to score.' Every time, I'm thinking it's my ball and I'm going to score."

Sharing the same name with a noted local attorney whose advertisements are often on TV: "Everyday, somebody says it, 'Larry Parker got me $2.1 million.' I hate it. I've been hearing it since fourth grade. Every time I hear it now, I don't even listen."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Former USC receivers coach Mike Sanford: "The thing he does well is get the ball and cut upfield real quick."

Grant PEARSALL

Safety

1998: The heady, hard-hitting Pearsall is back in the safety picture as a 1998 senior after missing 1997 with an injury. He is battling with David Gibson for the starting strong safety job in 1998.

1997: Pearsall was expected to start at the rover linebacker spot (a combination linebacker and strong safety) as a senior in 1997 (after starting at strong safety in 1996), but he tore ligaments in his left knee in 1997 spring practice and had surgery. He redshirted the 1997 season while recuperating.

1996: In just his first year as a starter, Pearsall made a number of key plays and big hits as a junior strong safety in 1996. Overall in 1996, he had 66 tackles (tied for fourth on USC), including 1 for a loss, 2 forced fumbles, 3 deflections, 1 interception and a blocked extra point. He had 5 stops each against Penn State, Illinois and Houston (with a 40-yard interception return at Illinois and a forced fumble which USC recovered at Houston, both which set up field goals). He added 8 stops versus California, then had 5 tackles and forced a fourth-quarter fumble (he and Sammy Knight sandwiched Wildcat Brady Batten) which USC recovered against Arizona. He had 10 stops (1 for a loss) at Arizona State and 5 each against Washington State and Washington (he also blocked a Husky PAT kick). He added 6 stops at Stanford, 8 at UCLA and 3 versus Notre Dame. He won USC's Jack Oakie "Rise and Shine" Award (biggest hit) with his take-your-breath-away leveling of Houston's Ketric Sanford.

1995: Pearsall served as the backup strong safety behind Knight as a sophomore in 1995 and also played on special teams. Overall while appearing in all 12 games in 1995, he made 12 tackles, including 1 for a loss of 3 yards, and forced 1 fumble (against Houston). He had 6 stops versus Houston. He was moved to the strong side from free safety in 1995 spring practice.

1994: As just a first-year freshman reserve safety, Pearsall appeared in all 12 games in 1994, mainly on special teams. He appeared briefly at free safety against Washington, California, Arizona and Texas Tech. He made 2 tackles in 1994.

HIGH SCHOOL: Pearsall's 1993 honors included Super Prep All-American first team, Blue Chip All-American first team, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma Morning News Tribune Western 100, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF Division IV first team, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County first team, Orange County Register All-Orange County Co-MVP, and All-Century League MVP as a senior at Villa Park (Calif.) High. He rushed for 1,606 yards (6.2 avg.) with 17 TDs (he had 9 100-yard games, including a 248-yarder), plus caught 19 passes for 206 yards (10.8 avg.) with 7 TDs in 1993. He made 85 tackles, 4 sacks, 3 forced fumbles and 4 interceptions (including a 52-yarder for a TD) on defense in 1993 and returned 14 kickoffs for 599 yards (42.8 avg.) and scored 5 times on kickoff and punt returns. Villa Park was 8-4 in 1993.

As a 1992 junior nagged by an injured ankle, he made All-Century League first team and had 1,100 rushing yards with 16 TDs, 75 tackles, and scoring kickoff returns of 99 and 98 yards. He was All-Century League first team as a 1991 sophomore. A 3-year starter, Villa Park was 21-12-1 during that span. He also was on the track (best of 10.9 in the 100 meters and 22.0 in the 200 meters) and basketball teams at Villa Park. Current Trojan Matt Welch also prepped at Villa Park.

PERSONAL: He's an economics major at USC. He was born in Seattle, Wash. His nickname is "Enforcer." His father, Jim Pearsall, played at Idaho and then briefly with the Minnesota Vikings as a fullback in the late 1960s. His brother, Brian, was an offensive lineman at Cal Poly San Luis Obispo and now is an assistant coach there. He enjoys camping and fly fishing. His sports hero is Chuck Cecil.

GRANT PEARSALL ON: Hitting: "That's always been my favorite part of the game. That's what I'm always looking for. It's a great opportunity when it's there. I just love to hit."

His mild-mannered, youthful appearance: "When I walk around campus, people will say, 'Baseball is over there,' or, 'Swimming is over there.' It's kind of funny. People just always assume I'm a baseball player or a swimmer. I say, 'No, I play football.' And they go, 'No way.'"

His father: "My dad never really pressured me or my brothers to play football. He just wanted us to do what we wanted to do. Later when he saw we wanted to play, he gave us pointers. He was a big supporter."

The T-shirt he wears under his uniform: "It's from Orofino High in Idaho, my dad's high school. My brother, Brian, wore it in high school and I always followed my brother with whatever he did, so I started wearing it at my games. The school's nickname is the Orofino Maniacs, and that's always been kind of a family joke, to go out there and play like a maniac."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Former USC defensive tackle Matt Keneley: "When Grant made his big hit in the (1996) Houston game, it was like standing next to a train wreck."

In the summer of 1997, he was named MVP of the National High School All-American Bowl in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., as he caught 2 TD passes for the victorious West team.

His 1995 junior season was cut short in the fourth game when he tore ligaments in his right knee.

As a 1994 sophomore, he was Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore of the Year and Sophomore Super 25, Orange County Register All-Orange County first team and All-South Coast League while catching 58 passes for 1,191 yards (20.5 avg.) with 16 TDs and running for 87 yards on 11 carries (7.9 avg.) with 1 TD. During his career, he caught 143 passes for 2,804 yards (19.6 avg.) with 37 TDs and he never lost a game he played in as Mater Dei twice was named USA Today's national champion (going 14-0 in both 1994 and 1996) while winning 2 CIF Division I titles. Mater Dei head coach Bruce Rollinson lettered in football at USC in 1971.

Perry also played baseball at Mater Dei. In 1997, he was drafted in the 37th round by the Baltimore Orioles. Current Trojan David Gibson also prepped at Mater Dei.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. His nickname is "Rocket Rod." His sports idol is Deion Sanders. Perry's father, Rod, starred at cornerback at Colorado (1973-74) and then with the Los Angeles Rams (1975-82), where he had 28 career interceptions and twice played in the Pro Bowl, and Cleveland Browns (1983-84) before coaching in the NFL with the Rams, Houston Oilers and currently San Diego Chargers.

ROD PERRY ON: His father: "I grew up watching him play and then as I got older I watched him coach. Then I just started playing...My dad has always been very supportive of my participation in both football and baseball. Yet deep down, I think he likes seeing me play football more, even though baseball is probably safer. He has never placed any stress or pressure on me to choose. He just lets me play for myself."

His 1997 knee injury: "This was probably one of the hardest times in my life. But the injury was just a temporary setback. It only helped me prepare for everything else that is about to come...With an injury like that, a lot goes through your mind. When I was laying there the night it happened, I began to wonder what the future had in store. It puts a lot of things in perspective...Sure, it was hard to sit back and watch when I knew I could possibly be in the games helping out. In order to stay mentally sharp, I went over plays in my head and trusted God to keep me going in the right direction...I'm not going to think about it when I play. I've never ever played with injuries in the back of my mind. As soon as I get back, it'll be business as usual...I want to be playing and having fun, being in front of people, scoring touchdowns, things like that. My time is going to come in 1998. My time is going to come in baseball, too. I just have to be patient."

The difference between playing wide receiver in high school and college: "Everything is done at a faster pace, like the routes and the closing speeds of the cornerbacks."

Playing offense versus defense: "I think that I'm best at receiving and bringing back kicks. I feel the same about both positions and I'm really comfortable at both. I also feel like I could play some defensive back, but I like to score and get my hands on the ball."

Playing baseball: "I like the fact that I can also play baseball at USC. I like both sports too much and it is too hard to make a decision on just one. I want to keep playing both for as long as possible...I've dreamed since I was little that I want to play both sports professionally, or at least get close. I'm not ready to throw those dreams away."

1998: Pollard, originally a 1997 signee, entered USC in the spring of 1998 as a first-year freshman after improving his test scores at a junior college. He will serve as a backup to Chris Claiborne at middle linebacker in 1998.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He actually signed with USC in 1997, but did not qualify academically, so he elected to attend Cypress (Calif.) College that season as a part-time student (he didn't play football there).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named a 1996 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star Best in the West, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times All-South Coast/Southeast first team, Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team and All-Moore League Defensive MVP as a senior at Poly High in Long Beach (Calif.). In 1996, he made 125 tackles, 7 sacks, 5 forced fumbles, 2 fumble recoveries and 4 pass deflections. His best outing in 1996 was 19 solo tackles and 6 tackles for a loss in a single game.

As a 1995 junior, he only played in 2 games (getting 25 tackles, with 7 tackles for losses) before tearing ligaments in his right knee and having surgery. He had 76 tackles and 5 sacks as a 1994 sophomore. During his 3-year career, Poly went 31-7 (including 12-1 in 1995) and twice advanced to the CIF Division I semifinals. He also played baseball at Poly.

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Poly High coach Jerry Jaso: "Mike is a super person and a great football player. He outworks most of his opponents and plays with a fiery intensity. He has that rare ability to dominate a game from the linebacker position. He is explosive and makes a ton of tackles for losses. He will do whatever it takes to win. He knows when to go for the big hit and when to wrap the guy up. He's a team player who finds a way to get the job done."

1998: Powell, whose father starred at USC and in the NFL, was moved from tight end to fullback (his 1996 position) prior to 1998 spring practice and is listed as a backup at that spot as a senior in 1998. #62

1998: Pratchard, who has some starting experience in his Trojan career, will serve as a backup at offensive left guard and center as a senior in 1998. He missed the first part of 1998 spring practice because of a sprained knee.

Placekicker

6-2 • 205

#96

1998: Rendon, an experienced senior, will compete for time as a placekicker, particularly for the kickoff job. He missed 1998 spring practice because of a team rules violation.

1997: Rendon handled all of USC's kickoffs as a junior in 1997. Of his 48 kickoffs, 11 were not returned out of the end zone, 1 was fair caught and 1 was an on-side kick that USC recovered (a right-footed kicker, his tricky left-footed on-side kick late in the UCLA game was recovered by USC). He also attempted—but missed—2 long distance field goals at the end of the first half (a 47-yarder against Washington State and a 47-yarder against Oregon which bounced off the upper part of the right upright).

1996: As a sophomore placekicker in 1996, Rendon handled some of the kickoffs in 4 games (Penn State, Illinois, Oregon State and Stanford). He also connected on his only PAT try (at Illinois) of 1996. He earned a scholarship in 1996 after he proved his ability as a replacement for Adam Abrams in 1995.

1995: Rendon played an unexpectedly important role for USC as a first-year freshman walk-on placekicker in 1995. When regular kicker Abrams was sidelined with a leg injury for 6 contests, Rendon filled in and did well kicking field goals and PATs (he even handled a few kickoffs against San Jose State and Houston) despite being hampered himself all season with a pulled groin muscle. While appearing in 8 contests (all but the Arizona, Arizona State, UCLA and Northwestern games) in 1995, he made 19-of-20 PATs and 4-of-7 field goals. He was named Pac-10 Special Teams Player of the Week when he hit a 26-yard field goal and made good on all 6 PAT kicks against Houston while handling placement kicks for his first time as a Trojan. His pressure-packed PAT after USC scored with 33 seconds to play gave the Trojans a 21-21 tie at Washington (Troy trailed 21-0 in the fourth quarter). His other field goals were 36-yarders against both Washington State and Stanford and a 25-yarder at Notre Dame.

HIGH SCHOOL: As a 1994 senior placekicker at San Dieguito High in Encinitas (Calif.), he hit 7-of-8 field goals, including a 46-yarder, and 34-of-35 PATs. Most of his kickoffs sailed into the end zone. He also served as the backup punter. In practice, he kicked some 65-yard field goals.

He missed most of his 1993 junior campaign—his first time kicking a football—with a torn thigh muscle, but did connect on all 8 PATs when he returned late in the season.

He also played 1 year of soccer at San Dieguito. In 1992, he was a defender on the La Jolla Nomads club soccer team which was ranked No. 1 in the nation in the Under-16 division.

PERSONAL: He's an international relations major at USC. One of his close friends is Darius Allen, brother of 1981 USC Heisman Trophy winner Marcus Allen. Rendon is a third generation Trojan.

Antuan SIMMONS

1998: Simmons, who had an outstanding rookie season in 1997 starting at rover linebacker and strong safety, has been moved to cornerback as a sophomore and is battling with Ken Haslip for the starting job there in 1998.

1997: Simmons made quite an impact as just a first-year freshman in 1997. After backing up David Gibson at the rover linebacker spot in the Florida State opener, he started USC's last 10 games of 1997, the first 5 at rover linebacker and then the last 5 at strong safety. He was named to the 1997 Sporting News Freshman All-American first team. Overall while appearing in all 11 games in 1997, he made 71 tackles (fourth on USC), including 8 for losses of 43 yards (with 4 sacks for minus 32 yards), plus had 1 interception (at Arizona State) which he ran back for 38 yards, 3 deflections, 1 fumble recovery (against UNLV) and 1 forced fumble (at Arizona State). He led the Trojans in tackles in 3 games (Washington State, UNLV and Stanford).

He had 4 stops against Florida State, a game-high 11 tackles (1 for a loss) versus Washington State, 3 stops (with a sack) and a deflection at California, a team-high 8 tackles (including a 13-yard sack), a fumble recovery and a deflection versus UNLV, 8 tackles (2 for losses, with a sack), a forced fumble and an interception (which he returned 38 yards) at Arizona State, 7 tackles (1 for a loss) at Notre Dame, 5 stops versus Oregon, 8 tackles (with a sack) at Washington, a team-high 9 tackles against Stanford, and then 4 stops against both Oregon State and UCLA (1 for a loss).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named a 1996 Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Prep Star Best in the West, and Sacramento Bee All-Area as a senior at Valley High in Sacramento (Calif.). As a quarterback in 1996, he passed for 1,150 yards and ran for 450 yards with 22 TDs. He once ran for a 94-yard score. In another game, he ran for 3 TDs and passed for 2 more.

As a 1995 junior, he made Cal-Hi Sports All-State Junior second team, Sacramento Bee All-Area, All-Metro and All-League as he rushed for 884 yards and 8 TDs on offense and posted 33 tackles and 5 interceptions on defense.

He also ran track at Valley, with a best of 10.5 in the 100 meters.

PERSONAL: He was born in Memphis, Tenn. His sports idol is Barry Sanders.

ANTUAN SIMMONS ON: His expectations as a freshman: "I wasn't going to go to college and be just another recruit. Coach (Dennis) Thurman told me he expected some stuff out of me."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC wide receiver R. Jay Soward: "He surprised me a lot. He came out the first day of practice and talked to me a little. I had to say, 'I'll show him. Little boy, welcome to the big leagues.' And I ran right by him. But he came back and didn't back off."

R. Jay SOWARD

Wide Receiver

5-11 • 175
Jr./Jr.

#18

CAREER: In his brief USC career, Soward has scored 18 TDs on just 107 plays (an average of 1 TD every 5.9 times he touches the ball) and those TDs have averaged 53.5 yards in length (963 yards). Fourteen of his plays have covered at least 40 yards. He ranks tied for 24th on USC's career pass catching list with 66 grabs for 1338 yards (20.3 avg) and fifth on USC's career kickoff return list with 29 runbacks for 834 yards (28.8 avg). He has had 4 games with 100-plus receiving yards in his career. In just 2 career games against UCLA, he has caught 14 passes for 441 yards (31.5 avg) and 4 TDs, including 5 grabs of at least 40 yards.

1998: Meet one of college football's most exciting and explosive players. The hyperactive and talkative Soward returns for his second year as a starting wide receiver as a junior in 1998 and also will pose a danger as a returner. He is in line for All-American and Biletnikoff Award consideration. He was held out of the last half of 1998 spring practice to concentrate on his academics.

1997: As a starting wide receiver and return specialist in 1997, Soward again made quite an impact as a sophomore. Overall while starting all 11 games in 1997, he had 48 receptions (second on USC) for 831 yards (17.3 avg.) and 8 TDs. His 48 catches in 1997 tied him for 14th on USC's season pass catching list. He had 3 games with 100-plus receiving yards (California, UNLV and UCLA). He also returned 15 kickoffs for a 26.3 average (to rank 13th in the nation and third in the Pac-10) with 1 TD and 5 punts for a 7.4 average. And he carried the ball 6 times on reverses for 101 yards (16.8 avg.) with 2 TDs. He led USC in 9 statistical categories: receiving yards (831), receiving average (17.3), receiving touchdowns (8), total TDs (11), rushing average (16.8), kickoff returns (15), kickoff return yardage (394), kickoff return average (26.3) and kickoff return TDs (1). He averaged 1 touchdown every 6.7 times he touched the ball in 1997 (11 TDs on 74 plays) and the distance of his TDs averaged 45.5 yards (500 yards). He made the 1997 All-Pac-10 second team as an all-purpose player. He missed the last half of 1997 spring practice because of a dislocated finger on his left hand.

In the 1997 opener against Florida State, he caught 4 passes for 48 yards. Then against Washington State, he returned the second half kickoff 95 yards for a TD (the third of his career—halfway to Trojan Anthony Davis' NCAA career mark of 6—and his second versus the Cougars), plus he also caught 4 passes for 37 yards, returned 2 punts for 7 yards and ran 8 yards on a reverse. He caught 2 spectacular TD passes at California (a 33-yarder as he spun out of the grasp of a defender and raced down the sideline and a 65-yard bomb over 2 defenders; he almost had a third TD catch, as he was stopped on the 1-yard line after a 25-yard grab); on the day, he caught a then-career-best 7 passes for 148 yards (both game highs) and returned 2 kickoffs for 29 yards. He caught a pair of fourth-quarter TDs (44 and 78 yards)—the second which proved to be the decisive points—against UNLV and finished with 5 grabs for a game-best 167 yards (he also returned a kickoff 15 yards). He was limited to just 2 catches for 19 yards and a 21-yard kickoff return at Arizona State. He grabbed an 8-yard TD pass at Notre Dame and overall had 3 catches for 46 yards, plus returned a kickoff 14 yards and ran a reverse 17 yards. He scored a 13-yard TD on a run off a reverse against Oregon and also caught 3 passes for 35 yards and returned both a kickoff (16 yards) and punt (8 yards). He was held without a catch at Washington, but returned a pair of kickoffs for 53 yards (including a 37-yarder) before suffering a mild concussion early in the second half and being sidelined. He bounced back in a big way against Stanford, catching a career-best 8 passes for 81 yards, including a 30-yard TD, and ran twice on reverses (once for a 23-yard TD and the other went 39 yards to set up a score); he also returned a kickoff 38 yards. At Oregon State, he caught 4 passes for 69 yards—including a 31-yard TD—returned 2 punts for 22 yards and had 1 carry for 1 yard. He equalled his career high with 8 catches for 181 yards against UCLA, including an 80-yard TD on USC's first offensive play (it was the longest Trojan reception of 1997), and returned 2 kickoffs for 54 yards. For the second year in a row, he was named USC's Player of the Game versus UCLA.

1996: As a wide receiver and kickoff returner, Soward turned out to be USC's big-play threat in 1996 as just a first-year freshman. He averaged a TD every 4.7 times he touched the ball in 1996 (7 TDs on 33 plays) and his TDs went an average of 66 yards each (463 yards). He was a 1996 All-Pac-10 honorable mention pick.

As an often-used backup wide receiver (he even started at Washington State) who appeared in all 12 games, he made 18 receptions for 507 yards (team-best 28.2 avg.) with 5 TDs in 1996. He entered the USC and Pac-10 record books on the receiving end of the longest offensive play (pass or run) in Trojan history and the longest pass completion in Pac-10 history when he caught a 97-yard TD bomb from Matt Koffler at Illinois. He had a then-personal-best 4 catches at Stanford for a game-high 77 yards, including a near-unbelievable 33-yard TD where he reached behind him to snag the ball and then zigzagged through the Cardinal defense. At UCLA the next game, he had a huge day as he caught 6 passes for 260 yards and 3 TDs (78, 60 and 19 yards). The yardage at UCLA was NCAA freshman (since broken), USC and UCLA opponent single game records, while the TDs tied the USC game mark. He was named USC's Player of the Game versus UCLA. He added 3 catches for 25 yards against Notre Dame.

He was also a dangerous kickoff returner, averaging 31.4 yards with 2 TDs on 14 runbacks (for 440 yards)—all team highs—in 1996 (his 31.4 average would have ranked second in the U.S. and tops in the Pac-10, but at 1.1 returns per game, he was just shy of the necessary 1.2 needed to qualify). He came up big at Arizona State, returning a fourth-quarter kickoff 98 yards for a TD (USC's first scoring kickoff return since Curtis Conway went 95 yards at ASU in 1992 and its longest since Anthony Davis went 102 yards versus Notre Dame in 1974). In the next game, at Washington State, he ran another kickoff back for a 78-yard TD (the first scoring kickoff return versus WSU in 4 years and the first time that a Trojan had more than 1 kickoff return for a TD in a season since Davis had 3 in 1974). That WSU outing helped him win Pac-10 Special Teams Player of the Week honors. He also had a 56-yard non-scoring runback at Houston and a 49-yarder versus Notre Dame. He also had 1 punt return for minus 1 yard.

HIGH SCHOOL: He made the 1995 Super Prep All-American, Bluechip All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Bluechip All-Western, Student Sports All-West Coast, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Cal-Hi Sports All-State, All-CIF Southern Section, All-CIF Division I, Los Angeles Times All-Inland Empire first team (as a wide receiver) and second team (as a defensive back), Daily Bulletin All-Inland Valley, San Bernardino Sun All-San Bernardino County and All-Citrus Belt League as a senior at Fontana (Calif.) High. He had 32 receptions for 712 yards (22.3 avg.) with 10 TDs in 1995, plus 28 carries for 277 yards (9.9 avg.) with 2 TDs. On defense, he made 35 tackles, 8 deflections, 4 interceptions and 1 fumble recovery in 1995. Fontana was 11-1 in 1995.

As a junior in 1994 at Eisenhower High in Rialto (Calif.), he was named to the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Junior, All-CIF Division I, Daily Bulletin All-Inland Valley, San Bernardino Sun All-San Bernardino County and All-Citrus Belt League squads while grabbing 20 passes (10 for TDs).

He made won All-Citrus Belt League honors as a 1993 sophomore at Eisenhower, which went 14-0, won the CIF Division I title (Soward scored 2 TDs in the game) and was ranked No. 2 nationally (No. 1 in California).

He also played basketball (winning All-Citrus Belt League notice) and was a sprinter on the track team as a prepster (he was a finalist in the state 100 and 400 meters, with bests of 10.34 in the 100 meters, 21.7 in the 200 meters, and 49.5 in the 400 meters).

PERSONAL: He's a history major at USC. His real first name is Rodney. His brother, Marcus, was a defensive back at Arizona State (1992-95). His father, Rodney Sr., played high school football with ex-USC All-American and NFL All-Pro safety Ronnie Lott. Soward's sports hero is ex-USC All-American and NFL No. 1 draft pick wide receiver Keyshawn Johnson.

R. JAY SOWARD ON: His big-play potential: "If I get the ball 12 times a game, even 6 times, 3 of those I'll make something big happen...I think that when I get the ball, I've got to score a touchdown. I don't like to be a possession receiver. I like to be a big-play receiver...I just like to get the ball, period. Every time I get the ball in my hands, I want to make something happen. I want people to leave the game and be like, 'Ooh, did you see what he did?' Or say, 'Wow! He did that for his team.' I just like to have the ball in my hands and just go down the field and have fun...I remember watching films when I was a little kid. My dad ordered films of all the great ones, O.J., Gale Sayers, Walter Payton. Those guys had outrageous moves. I'd go outside and try to copy them. The one I really loved was Sayers. He was bad, really bad!""

Catching a pass in the open field: "That's where I like it best. Give me the ball on a screen, let me size things up, wiggle through the defense, do what I like to do."

His Heisman aspirations: "I want to win a Heisman so bad. I have dreams of winning the Heisman. I want to try and achieve that award. I want to come out and have a consistent season where I played up every week to win the Heisman Trophy. I want to at least be in the room when they announce the winner."

His penchant for talking: "People say I'm a talker. It's really nothing to me. It just comes naturally...That's part of who I am. I love to talk the game. I love to play the game. If you can walk the walk, why not talk it?...Talking is just a way to keep me focused...As soon as the ball is kicked and the first block is made, my mouth starts going. It gets my team pumped up...I laugh with the defender. I say, 'What's up? How you doing? You'd better back up. Don't come up on me.' Even if the ball's not coming to me, if it's a running play, I'll make him humble, laugh at him. I just do stupid things to get on people's nerves. You can see which guys came to play ball and which guys are afraid of you....I know when to be quiet. Talking never gets me in trouble...I remember when (Arizona State's) Coach Snyder came over to my house to recruit my older brother, Marcus. I was like 11 or 13 years old and I was running around the house in my pajamas. He asked me if I was going to be a football player like my brother. I told him I was going to be better than my brother. I was doing my Keyshawn thing."

His hyper personality: "For a young guy like myself to add some spirit to the team, I love it. I'm probably the most excited guy before the game. When the other team sees you jumping around and acting crazy, they don't know what to think...You have to play hyper to let people know you're there. If you play quiet, they might think they have an edge on you, or maybe that you're nervous, but in reality they're nervous about you."

Being compared to Keyshawn Johnson: "I don't know what to say about that. You have to be real good when you run your mouth like that. Yeah, I run my mouth, but I don't think like Keyshawn does. That's a big step. I'm not there yet...I first met Keyshawn at the Shrine All-Star Game after my senior year of high school. I had just scored a touchdown, but I had also dropped a pass. I had this big grin on my face and he said, 'You're still not good yet. Man, you can't be dropping passes.' I figured he'd say, 'Congratulations, good job,' or something. But I kind of liked it, 'You're not good yet.' That's the way it's supposed to be."

Teams kicking off away from him: "If they don't kick to me, I feel like they're challenging me. I just might run to the other side of the field and catch it."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: UCLA head coach Bob Toledo: "I know he's still young, but I hope that guy turns pro. He's that good."

Former Notre Dame head coach Lou Holtz: "He's one of the great receivers I've seen. Throw him a 4-yard hitch and he can turn it into a 70-yard gain. He reminds me so much of Raghib Ismail, the way he does things with his quickness, abilities and talent."

Notre Dame head coach Bob Davie: "I can't imagine there are many receivers in this country better than him. He reminds me an awful lot of Terry Glenn, who played at Ohio State. He's an excellent return man and a game-breaker player."

California head coach Tom Holmoe: "We just couldn't stop him."

Arizona State coach Bruce Snyder: "He really captured our attention. What a big playmaker he is. He is so fast and has quick feet."

Robyn Norwood, Los Angeles Times: "You don't see many like Soward. He has become a cornerback's nightmare."

Earl Gustkey, Los Angeles Times: "At USC, R. Jay Soward is the preferred new spelling for E-X-P-L-O-S-I-V-E."

Lyle Spencer, Riverside Press-Enterprise: "He's a burner blessed with the explosiveness and fearlessness of Keyshawn Johnson."

Steve Bisheff, Orange County Register: "With Soward, it's not just speed. It is moves. It is an innate ability to make tacklers miss that only the naturally gifted broken-field runners possess."

Scott Wolf, Los Angeles Daily News: "Soward is a high-energy combination, a player who can move his tongue and legs just as fast as the loquacious Johnson."

Phil Collin, South Bay Daily Breeze: "His chatty personality is a perfect compliment to his ability, which throws a scare into opponents, draws gasps from USC fans and tests the patience of anyone within hearing distance. He has been compared to USC's legendary talker, Keyshawn Johnson, which Soward takes as a compliment. But more important, he is also being compared to Johnson as a player who will deliver the big play, whether it's as a wide receiver or kick returner. For all the talk, it's not all swagger."

Scott M. Reid, Orange County Register: "Soward already has torn such a path through the Pac-10 that he has established himself as simply the most dangerous and exciting player in the conference...He is a lethal package of raw, explosive speed, hyperactive energy and pure joy, a combination that when turned loose borders on chaos as his legs—and mouth—run wild through opposing secondaries."

Broderick Turner, San Gabriel Valley News: "Motormouth. Yes, R. Jay Soward owns up to that. The mouth that roars. OK, he admits that's him, too. On and off the field, during practice and in games, at film sessions and just jiving with friends, Soward will talk and talk and talk...He has exploded on the college football landscape in dynamic fashion...Soward is the real deal. His feet are as fast as his mouth."

Cindy Rhodes, Riverside Press-Enterprise: "Soward is the Trojans' talented and talkative wide receiver...a big-play receiver with breakaway speed who is even more dangerous when he returns kicks. And if it is humanly possible, Soward's tongue is faster than his feet."

USC wide receivers coach Mike Wilson: "R. Jay has great potential. I've played with Jerry Rice. I've coached James Jett and Tim Brown. R. Jay has the speed to play at that level if he continues to work hard and stay focused. He's extremely confident. There's nothing wrong with it. He has the energy you need to be a successful player."

USC offensive coordinator Hue Jackson: "He's a terrific kid, great to be around, so much enthusiasm. He brings a lot to our offense, not only with the way he plays, but with his personal charisma. He might come off as being cocky, but it's a good cocky. It's enthusiasm. Obviously, he's blessed with some God-given abilities not many people have. He's special."

Former USC wide receivers coach Mike Sanford: "He's a play-maker. He has the hands to go with his great speed and cutting ability. I kind of compare him to (ex-USC All-American wide receiver and NFL first round pick) Curtis Conway. He'll make a lot of big plays here before he's done."

USC quarterback John Fox: "With R. Jay, it's just throw him the ball and watch him go."

Former USC defensive tackle and NFL first round pick Darrell Russell: "R. Jay's a talkative person, but he's a hungry person. He has the attitude everyone needs. He's always hyper and ready to play. I think he's going to be a serious leader on this team."

Former USC cornerback Brian Kelly: "He'll run by you in a flash. With the talent he has, he's dangerous...He's already starting to get the attention Keyshawn Johnson and Curtis Conway got...I like his talking because I know he is not trying to do anything but have fun. That's just his nature. He's just hyper...We'll have a walk-through and he's loud. He's just an energetic guy. If he was throwing newspapers on the doorstep every day, he'd be loud at that, too. He's just hyper, all day long...If he was just talking and not really doing anything, we'd probably tell him to be quiet. But he's playing great, so we just let him talk."

USC safety Darnell Lacy: "He's never at a loss for words, that's for sure. But if he wasn't like that, he wouldn't be R. Jay. And everybody loves him for that...You learn to never get into it with him. After a while, you just give in. He'll always out-talk me. But if I can cover him in practice, I know there aren't too many people I can't cover."

His father, Rodney: "He doesn't mean to offend anyone with his talking. He just talks, not to be offensive but to be confident. I was a talker when I played. That's how he grew up...My son is almost a clone of me. Him talking and stuff, I have to admit, he comes by it honestly...I get a lot of flak at work because I say the same things he does."

His mother, Vangie: "He's a motivator. He's very loud, he talks a lot and can get people's attention. I told him he needed to take a more vocal role on the team. He's a very positive person. You can feel it when he talks."

JASON STEEN ON: Playing defensive end: "I prefer linebacker. But playing defensive end gave me some playing time, it prepared me and it allowed me to get a feel for the game."

Redshirting in 1996: "It gave me some time to get my game together and it helped me catch up with the speed of the game. It also taught me about the details of the game. If you're not doing your job, bad things will happen."

Mike VAN RAAPHORST

Quarterback

So.*/Jr.

#11

1998: The heady, promising Van Raaphorst, who started at quarterback twice in 1997 before getting injured, enters 1998 as the No. 1 quarterback after a fine showing in 1998 spring. Also a fine student, he's a candidate for Academic All-American honors.

1997: Van Raaphorst began his 1997 redshirt freshman season as the backup to John Fox at quarterback, but won the job by mid-season and started twice (Washington and Stanford). He would have held onto the starting spot except for an ankle injury. Overall while appearing in 5 games (Arizona State, Notre Dame, Oregon, Washington and Stanford) in 1997, he was 21-of-46 (45.7%) for 218 yards and 1 TD with 2 interceptions. He made his first career start at Washington, where he went 5-of-18 for 46 yards with 2 picks (but 5 of his throws were dropped) while playing the first half. He started again versus Stanford and went 12-of-21 for 128 yards and a TD before a sprained right ankle sidelined him late in the third quarter (he missed the next 2 games, Oregon State and UCLA). Before that, he filled in briefly for Fox against Arizona State (2-of-3, 23 yds), Notre Dame (2-of-3, 21 yds) and Oregon (0-of-1).

1996: Van Raaphorst redshirted as a freshman quarterback in 1996, his first year at USC. He was bothered by tendinitis in his right shoulder prior to the Illinois game and was sidelined the rest of the season (he had surgery prior to the California contest).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named a 1995 Super Prep All-American, Bluechip All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Bluechip All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, All-CIF San Diego second team, All-CIF San Diego Division II first team, All-East County first team, All-Grossmont South League first team, and Student Sports All-Academic as a senior quarterback at Helix High in La Mesa (Calif.). He completed 52.0% of his passes (128-of-246) for 2,207 yards and 19 TDs (with just 5 interceptions) in 1995. Helix was 10-3 in 1995.

As a 1994 junior at Grossmont High in La Mesa, he threw for 978 yards while hitting 92-of-166 aerials (55.4%) and 9 TDs with just 2 picks despite missing 5 games with a broken thumb.

He passed for 1,087 yards and 6 TDs as a 1993 sophomore at Grossmont while earning All-League honorable mention notice. In his career, he hit 55.0% of his passes for 4,272 yards and 34 TDs.

He transferred back to Grossmont in the spring of 1996. At Grossmont, he also played volleyball (making All-East County second team and All-League second team as a junior) and basketball (earning All-East County second team and All-Grossmont League first team honors as a senior while averaging 16 points and All-East County first team and All-League first team notice as a junior while averaging 17 points; he also was a member of Grossmont's 1993 CIF championship team as a soph).

He starred in the classroom, too, posting a 4.38 prep GPA.

PERSONAL: He's a journalism major at USC with an A-average (a team-best 3.68 GPA). He made the 1997 Pac-10 All-Academic honorable mention team. His father, Dick, was a kicker with the San Diego Chargers in 1966 and 1967 after starring at Ohio State (his 44-yard field goal provided the Buckeyes' only points in a 32-3 loss to USC in 1963 and was the second longest against the Trojans at the time). Mike's brother, Jeff, lettered 4 years (1983-86) as a record-setting quarterback at Arizona State (he was MVP of the 1987 Rose Bowl) and his 95-yard TD pass to Aaron Cox in 1985 still ranks as the longest pass against USC. Another brother, Bill, was an offensive lineman at San Diego State in the mid-90s.

MIKE VAN RAAPHORST ON: The 1998 season: "I'm just looking forward to doing my best this year. I'm not concerned about last year."

Competing for the quarterback job in 1997 as a redshirt freshman: "It was fun and interesting. I was disappointed I didn't win the job, because I don't like being the backup, but I accepted that role and did what I could do with it...It's about every emotion you can feel. You want your team to do well and for everyone to succeed, but at the same time you want to get in there and show what you can do...It was like being a pinch hitter. When you get your chance, you've got to go in there and do well. I went in there expecting the level of play not decreasing and hopefully increasing. That's the way I feel about myself and my ability."

Redshirting in 1996 and having shoulder surgery: "It wasn't the redshirting that hurt me, but not being able to practice because of the surgery. I missed six or seven weeks of practice that year. That really stunted my development as a quarterback. I had a bigger hole to catch up with going into the spring of 1997 and then the fall. I had to get back that lost time and I don't think I ever could chase it down."

Watching older brother Jeff in the 1987 Rose Bowl: "I decided right then I wanted to play in Pasadena some day."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC quarterbacks coach Ken O'Brien: "Mike is extremely talented and bright, and he's a hard worker who is always willing to do whatever it takes."

He is relatively young in experience as an offensive lineman, but he is going to be really dominant and has the chance to play in the NFL."

Aaron WILLIAMS

Defensive Tackle

6-4 • 270
Jr.*/Sr.

#57

1998: Williams, who has started a game in his Trojan career, is listed as a starting defensive tackle in 1998 as a junior.

1997: Williams backed up George Perry at a defensive end spot and also was available to play defensive tackle as a sophomore in 1997. Overall while appearing in all 11 games in 1997, he made 15 tackles, including 3 for losses of 8 yards, and had 1 deflection. He had 4 tackles (2 for losses) against UCLA, 3 stops at Washington and 2 at Oregon State. He missed part of 1997 spring practice because of a hip strain.

1996: As a redshirt freshman in 1996, Williams was effective as an often-used backup defensive end. He even started at Washington State for an injured Cedric Jefferson. He missed USC's first 2 games (Penn State and Illinois) after spraining his left ankle in pre-season practice and he did not play at Houston. Overall in 1996 while appearing in 9 games, he had 19 tackles, including 5 for losses of minus 23 yards (with 4 sacks for minus 22 yards), and recovered a fumble (against Washington). He had 6 stops (2 for losses) at Arizona State and 4 versus Oregon State. He was moved to defensive end (from linebacker) prior to the start of 1996 spring practice.

1995: Williams redshirted as a freshman linebacker in 1995, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: His 1994 honors included Super Prep All-American, College Sports All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Blue Chip All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West second team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Student Sports All-State second team, Long Beach Press-Telegram All-State, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division II first team, Los Angeles Times All-South Bay first team, South Bay Daily Breeze All-Area first team, and All-Bay League Defensive MVP as a senior at Leuzinger High in Lawndale (Calif.). He averaged 10 tackles a game on defense in 1994 (he had 8 sacks) and ran for 1,029 yards with 16 TDs as a fullback. Leuzinger went 9-2-1 in 1994.

As a 1993 junior, he made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass, All-CIF Division III, Los Angeles Times All-South Bay, and South Bay Daily Breeze All-Area first teams, and was the All-Bay League Defensive MVP while making 88 tackles (8 stops per game) and 1 interception on defense and catching 14 passes for 380 yards (27.1 avg.) and 3 TDs as a tight end.

He averaged 4 tackles and had 15 catches as a 1992 sophomore while earning 1992 All-Bay League second team honors. He was a 3-year starter. He also played on the basketball and track (with a best of 171-2 in the discus throw and 55-0 in the shot put) teams at Leuzinger.

PERSONAL: He's a business administration major at USC. In the spring of 1997, he was selected to participate in the NCAA Foundation Leadership Conference in Florida, where 300-plus student-athletes gathered to discuss solutions to critical issues facing the nation's student-athletes. He likes to write poetry. His sports hero is Junior Seau.

AARON WILLIAMS ON: Playing defensive tackle instead of end: "I like tackle, now that I'm playing it. You take on double teams and stuff like that. It's physically demanding. You have to stay low and work the moves you do best to be effective."

His size: "You have to be strong physically, no matter how big you are...You can't be timid. You just get after it and take it as you go."

Attending the NCAA Foundation Leadership Conference in 1997: "I was so enlightened by the whole leadership conference. I didn't think other student-athletes had the same type of problems I was facing. I didn't feel like a lot of people felt like I felt. We hears a lot of strong voices from people who had difference problems. And it wasn't just football. It was basketball, tennis and golf and both women's and men's sports...It was very interesting, informational and inspirational. We talked a lot about athletes' image in society. A lot of the off-the-field stuff has given us a negative image...I was there to soak things up, but I did address the fact that student-athletes, as far as job experience, don't have a lot of extracurricular opportunities. It's hard to succeed with a degree and no experience in your field...We talked about things like how student-athletes who do not play professional sports can help themselves get jobs. We talked about the importance of seeking internships. We talked about the student-athlete image and how we can improve it. We talked about taking responsibility for your own actions."

Responsibility and being a role model: "I grew up in a single-parent household and had to learn to take on the male role model at an early age. I had to take on a lot of responsibility because of the absence of my father. I knew my little brother was looking up to me. I knew I would be a role model and I had to be a positive figure for him. I had the opportunity to join gangs. It was a choice I had to make...The things I've encountered, I haven't let them step in the way of my goals and my dreams and the things I want to obtain. It's a long story, but life is what you make of it. It's all about what you want to do."

His mother, Tushana: "I take my hat off to my mom. My mom is my inspiration and my heart. She has taught me a lot and what she has taught me has given me lots of opportunities. In my eyes, she went from rags to riches. She was once in the projects and now she has a nice house. If my mom can do it, I can do it."

Quincy WOODS

Quarterback

6-1 • 185
Jr.*/Sr.

1998: The elusive Woods, equally adept at passing and running, enters 1998 as a backup to Mike Van Raaphorst at quarterback as a junior in 1998.

1997: Woods was a reserve quarterback as a sophomore in 1997. He also saw some action early in the season as a wide receiver (but didn't catch a pass). Overall while appearing in 5 games (Arizona State, Washington, Stanford and Oregon State) in 1997, he completed 4-of-9 passes (44.4%) for 22 yards with 1 interception. He also gained 24 yards running on 5 quarterback keepers (4.8 avg.).

1996: Woods appeared in 2 games as a redshirt freshman reserve in 1996. He was in for a series at the end of the Illinois game and led USC to a TD (he completed his only pass attempt, a 24-yarder) and for a series in the second quarter against Notre Dame when Brad Otton was injured (he was 0-of-2 passing).

1995: Woods redshirted as a freshman quarterback in 1995, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1994 Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Blue Chip All-American, College Sports All-American, Schutt Scholastic Coach All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Dallas Morning News National Top 100, Super Prep All-Midwest, Blue Chip All-Midwest, Detroit Free Press Best of the Midwest, Gatorade Circle of Champions Illinois MVP, Chicago Tribune All-State first team, and Chicago Area MVP as a senior at Rich East High in Park Forest (Ill.). He passed for 2,240 yards and 22 TDs with just 8 interceptions in 1994 while rushing for 700-plus yards and 7 scores.

As a 1993 junior, he threw for 2,395 yards and ran for 788 yards while scoring 13 TDs. He was a 3-year starter.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. His brother, Pee Wee, is a junior cornerback at Oklahoma. His sports hero is Deion Sanders.

QUINCY WOODS ON: Comparisons to Rodney Peete and Charlie Ward: "Right now, I just want to prove I can play the game at this level. I don't even worry about those comparisons right now, but it is nice...It helped my confidence out thinking that I could play at this level."

Passing versus running: "I'd rather pass for 20 yards. I just run when I have to. It's fun to run and the crowd likes it. I was a passing quarterback in high school. My senior year, all we did was pass...I'm just trying to prove I'm a quarterback and that I can pass the ball...One of my big things is I can run fast and get out of the pocket."

Playing wide receiver briefly in 1997: "That's something I did to have fun and when I did it, it was kind of fun. So I just stayed out there and enjoyed it for a little while...I like to thrown 'em, but if I have to catch 'em, I can catch 'em."

Seeing action against Notre Dame and Illinois in 1996 as a redshirt freshman: "It was exciting to get in there and play against a team (Notre Dame) that I had grown up seeing. And for me to get in the game at Illinois with my whole family and people I went to high school with watching, I enjoyed that."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Former USC offensive coordinator Mike Riley, currently Oregon State's head coach: "He's very, very talented athletically...He handles his body so well. He is a quarterback who can make something happen because of his athletic ability. He has a quick release and he wants to be good...He is improving in the passing game. He's a very exciting athlete and is very football-aware."

He was sixth in the WAC in receptions (4.8) and 10th in receiving yards (70.7).

Hayes' brother, Ashanti, was a defensive back at Washington State in 1994 and 1995.

"Windrell is the complete package," said Franklin coach Tom Verner. "He runs the best routes of any receiver I've seen. He is a great blocker. He is a strong receiver and he knows how to deliver a blow. He has such a wonderful football mind. He really understands everything you are trying to do."

"Carson has the size of Troy Aikman and the arm strength of John Elway," said Santa Margarita coach Jim Hartigan. "He's got the super quick release of Dan Marino and the ability to put zip on the ball or touch depending on what the situation calls for. He is extremely calm and poised and he always makes the right decisions. He thrives on pressure. The bigger the game, the better he performs."

Tiebreaker Procedure

Here is the NCAA tiebreaker system, which first was put in effect for all post-season games in the 1995 season:

1. At the conclusion of a tie game, the team captains will meet at the center of the field for a coin toss. The winning captain has 2 options: a.) offense/defense or b.) choose the end of the field the first overtime period will be played. The choice may not be deferred.
2. Each overtime period consists of an offensive series by each team. A team continues on offense until it scores, loses the ball on downs, or loses possession of the ball (fumble, intercepted pass, etc.). All series begin on a 25-yard line.
3. If a team loses the ball due to a fumble, etc., the ball continues in play until the end of that down. Team B may score (the game is over) or if Team A gets the ball back during the down, it may score. If there is no score, that series is concluded. Once a series is concluded, the defensive team begins its series, or if that series was the second of that overtime period, the period is over.
4. If the teams remain tied at the end of the first overtime period, a second period is played. The loser of the overtime coin toss has first choice as outlined in No. 1 above. Thereafter, the teams alternate first choice for as many periods as needed to determine a winner.
5. Each team is allowed 1 timeout for each extra period. No unused timeout from the regular game may be carried over to an extra period, nor may an unused timeout from an extra period be carried over to a succeeding extra period.
6. Although the 25-second clock operates during overtime, the game clock does not run.

September 6, Los Angeles Coliseum
Florida State 14, USC 7
Att: 72,783

Florida State	7	0	0	7	–	14
USC	0	7	0	0	–	7

Despite being a 14-point underdog and breaking in a new quarterback, USC (ranked No. 21 by USC Today/ESPN and No. 23 by AP) nearly upset No. 5-ranked Florida State, falling 14-7 after allowing a fourth quarter touchdown in the season opener and first meeting ever for both squads before 72,783 fans in the Coliseum (the largest crowd for a USC season opener at home since 1973 and for a home opener since 1988) and a national ABC-TV audience.

The game was tied at 7-7 early in the fourth quarter, but then the Seminoles put on a 97-yard, 9-play scoring drive to provide the winning points as TB Dee Feaster ran the final 3 yards for the TD with 10:40 to play.On the second play of that drive from the FSU 3-yard line, USC CBBrian Kelly dropped an interception on about the FSU 10 with no Seminoles in front of him.The Trojans got the ball back twice after that and even advanced to the FSU 26 late in contest, but couldn't score against the stingy Seminole defense.

Sophomore QB John Fox, who had taken only 10 snaps and thrown only 2 passes in his career, made his first start and did a solid job guiding the Trojans.He completed 18-of-32 passes for 159 yards (with an interception)—he was 15-of-21 for 129 yards in the second half—and scrambled 2 yards for a TD in the second quarter for USC's only points.WR Billy Miller caught a career-high 8 passes for 56 yards.

Florida State, which got on the board in the first quarter on a 1-yard sneak by backup QB Dan Kendra, dominated the statistics and had a field goal and scoring punt return nullified because of penalties.The Seminoles had almost twice as much total offense (365 yards to 184) and limited USC to just 25 rushing yards on 33 carries.Troy had just 47 yards of total offense in the first half.

But USC's defense was equally tough while making 2 interceptions (by S Chad Morton and CB Daylon McCutcheon), blocking a punt (by DE Jason Steen), recovering a fumble (by Morton) and stopping FSU on fourth-and-1 on the USC 16 in the second quarter.Leading USC with 8 tackles each were LBs Chris Claiborne (he had 2 sacks) and Mark Cusano (he forced 2 fumbles).

Wash. State	7	14	0	7	–	28
USC	0	6	7	8	–	21

For the second week in a row, USC (ranked No. 22 by USA Today/ESPN and No. 23 by AP) fell victim to a fourth quarter touchdown and lost by 7 points, this time 28-21 at the hands of Washington State before 51,655 fans and a FOX Sports Net national cable audience.

It was the Cougars' first win over Troy since 1986 (snapping a 9-game losing streak) and their first win in Los Angeles since 1957 (breaking a 15-game skid).Combined with a season-opening victory over UCLA, it was WSU's first-ever season sweep of the Los Angeles schools.It also gave Cougar coach Mike Price his first-ever victory over USC in 9 tries and marked USC coach John Robinson's first-ever loss to WSU in 9 games.

The last time USC opened the season 0-2 was 1960 (both also were home losses).This was only the fifth 0-2 start in USC's 105-year history.

WSU scored the decisive points on a 51-yard pass from QB Ryan Leaf to SB Kevin McKenzie (who made a one-handed grab) with 4:18 to play.Troy got the ball back twice more, but couldn't move it.

USC had battled back from a 21-6 halftime deficit.WSU opened the scoring with a 3-yard first quarter TD pass from Leaf to FL Shawn McWashington and a 16-yard TD run by RB Michael Black in the second quarter.After USC TB Malaefou MacKenzie ran 1 yard for a TD, Leaf's 6-yard toss to TE Love Jefferson with 50 seconds to play in the half (six plays after WSU recovered a Trojan fumble) finished the half's scoring.

WR R. Jay Soward took the opening kickoff of the second half 95 yards for a TD, his third career scoring kickoff return (and second versus Washington State).Then, early in the fourth quarter, FB LaVale Woods swept right with a pitch, stopped and threw a 15-yard TD pass to WR Mike Bastianelli in the back of the end zone.QB John Fox then hit leaping WR Billy Miller for the 2-point conversion to tie the game.

USC was again stymied by an anemic running attack, getting just 31 yards on 28 attempts, and 10 penalties for minus 92 yards.The rest of USC's 275 yards of total offense came via the air, as Fox was 23-of-42 for 229 yards.Miller had 10 catches (the second straight game he posted a career high) for a career-best 138 yards, while Bastianelli's 6 grabs for 75 yards were also both career highs.

Defensively, the Trojans posted 14 tackles for losses, with 7 sacks.CB Brian Kelly intercepted 2 passes and had 4 deflections, LB-S Antuan Simmons had a game-best 11 stops (10 were solo), and USC sacked Leaf 7 times (including 2 each by DTs Cedric Jefferson and Marc Matock and DE Sultan Abdul-Malik).Jefferson had 4 tackles for losses and Matock recovered a fumble which Abdul-Malik forced.

For WSU, which had 398 yards of total offense (just 43 rushing) overall (just 120 in the second half, including only 12 in the third quarter), Leaf was 21-of-40 for 355 yards with the 3 TDs (but 2 picks), Black ran for 62 yards on 20 carries and McKenzie caught 5 passes for 107 yards.

September 27, Berkeley, California
USC 27, California 17
Att: 54,000

USC	14	13	0	0	–	27
California	0	3	8	6	–	17

Behind a revived running attack and an inspired defensive effort, USC notched its first victory of 1997 by defeating unbeaten California, 27-17, before 54,000 fans in Berkeley and an ABC-TV regional audience.

Troy, coming off a bye and playing its first road outing of the year, snapped its 2-game losing streak.

USC, which came into the game ranked 112th (and last) in the nation in rushing offense (28.0), had 123 yards on the ground on 46 attempts.

TB LaVale Woods, moved over from fullback, got his first start (and first carries) of the season and had a breakout game—129 yards on 32 carries (both were career bests) with 2 touchdowns.It was the most yards rushing by a Trojan since Chad Morton had 143 yards versus Oregon State in 1996 and the most carries by a Trojan since Mazio Royster had 32 in the 1990 John Hancock Bowl versus Michigan State.

USC looked impressive in the first half while building a 27-3 at intermission behind 2 short TD runs by Woods (1 yard in the first quarter and 4 yards late in the half) and a pair of exciting TD tosses from QB John Fox to WR R. Jay Soward (a 33-yarder in the first quarter as Soward spun out of the grasp of a defender and sprinted down the sideline and a 65-yard bomb over 2 defenders in the second quarter).Soward finished with a career-high 7 grabs for 148 yards (both game highs), while Fox was 15-of-28 for a career-best 250 yards.

The Trojan defense was stellar, allowing a Cal offense that was 14th nationally in total offense (460.5) and was averaging 173.5 rushing, to just 315 total yards.The Bears had only 31 rushing yards, the fewest USC allowed since Oregon had -10 yards in 1989.USC posted 19 tackles for losses (including 7 sacks) and allowed Cal to convert just 2-of-14 third downs.S Rashard Cook led Troy with 8 tackles (3 for losses) and intercepted a first quarter pass to set up USC's initial score (he also caused a fumble).For his performance, he was named Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week.LB Mark Cusano had 7 stops, S Chad Morton forced a fumble which he recovered, DE Sultan Abdul-Malik had 2.5 sacks, and all 4 of LB Chris Claiborne's tackles were for losses.

USC went scoreless in the second half, as the offense was hampered by penalties, some sacks, a blocked punt and a missed field goal.Cal made it interesting with a pair of second half TDs on passes from QB Justin Vedder (who was 18-of-34 for 265 yards overall) to WRs Bobby Shaw (27 yards) and Dameane Douglas (14 yards).Shaw, who entered the game as the national leader in receptions (11.0) and receiving yards (181.0), was limited to 5 catches for 98 yards.

UNLV	0	7	7	7	–	21
USC	0	6	8	21	–	35

Coach John Robinson registered his 100th collegiate career victory as USC survived a pesky UNLV team with a 35-21 win before 48,404 Coliseum fans and a local FOX Sports West 2 television audience.

The Trojans trailed 21-14 early in the fourth quarter before scoring 3 unanswered touchdowns on a pair of bombs from QB John Fox to WR R. Jay Soward (44 and 78 yards) and then an 11-yard run by TB Malaefou MacKenzie.USC put up 232 yards of total offense and 16 first downs in the fourth quarter (Fox completed all 6 passes he attempted in that last period for 159 yards).

The Rebels, 25-point underdogs playing USC for the first time in history, gave Troy a scare, leading 7-6 at halftime behind a 1-yard TD run by RB James Wofford (all USC could tally were field goals of 27 and 37 yards by PK Adam Abrams).USC was stymied twice in the second quarter, once when Fox was intercepted in the end zone and once when the Trojans were stopped on the UNLV 2-yard line on fourth-and-1 on another drive.All 7 of USC's penalties in the game came in the first half.

UNLV upped its lead to 14-6 late in the third quarter on an 8-yard pass from QB Jon Denton (who completed 26-of-45 passes for 354 yards in the game) to WR Len Ware (who had 7 catches for 96 yards overall).The Trojans came right back on the next series with a 9-play, 75-yard drive, capped by a 1-yard scoring plunge by MacKenzie.But the Rebels answered back on the following series, with Denton's 1-yard TD run giving UNLV the 21-14 lead with 12:50 to play.After the first of Soward's TDs, the Rebels almost scored again, but wide-open WR Damon Williams (who had a game-high 11 grabs for 165 yards overall) dropped a 38-yard aerial in the end zone, forcing a UNLV punt.Soward's 78-yard score came 4 plays later and gave USC the lead for good.

USC had a season-best 536 total yards overall, including a season-best 181 on the ground.Fox was 23-of-32 (tying his career-high for completions) for a career-best 355 yards (the ninth most yards in USC history and the most since Brad Otton threw for 391 against Northwestern in the 1996 Rose Bowl), while Soward caught 5 passes for a game-high 167 yards and WR Billy Miller added 8 grabs for 112 yards (the last time USC had a pair of receivers with 100 yards in a game was in 1994 against Arizona, when Ed Hervey had 120 yards and Keyshawn Johnson had 109).MacKenzie, who saw most of the action at tailback after starting TB LaVale Woods left with a sprained ankle early in the game, ran for 104 yards on 19 tries, becoming only the fifth USC first-year freshman to eclipse the century mark in rushing (the others were Delon Washington once in 1994, Ryan Knight twice in 1984, Michael Harper once in 1979 and Charles White 4 times in 1976).Troy's 30 first downs were its most since also getting 30 at California in 1993.

USC's defense made 4 sacks and 10 tackles for losses while limiting UNLV to just 25 rushing yards (the fewest allowed by the Trojans since Oregon had -10 yards in 1989).LB-S Antuan Simmons topped Troy in tackles with 8, while LB Chris Claiborne had 6 stops (2 were sacks) and S Chad Morton also had 6 tackles, plus he intercepted a pass.

GAME 5

Arizona State 35, USC 7
Att: 61,802

USC	0	7	0	0	–	7
Arizona State	10	3	15	7	–	35

USC suffered its most lopsided defeat ever to Arizona State—and realistically got eliminated from the Rose Bowl race—with a 35-7 loss to the Sun Devils before 61,802 fans in Tempe and a regional ABC-TV audience.

ASU dominated the game statistically, posting more total yards (528-214), plays (78-63), first downs (25-14) and possession time (33:45-26:15).USC's 100 yards passing were its fewest since getting 95 against Fresno State in the 1992 Freedom Bowl.ASU ran for 236 yards against a Trojan unit that entered the game ranked third nationally in rushing defense at 47.0.

The Sun Devils opened up a 13-0 lead in the second quarter behind a pair of 34-yard field goals by PK Robert Nycz and an 8-yard TD pass from QB Ryan Kealy to WR Ricky Boyer (the first field goal followed an interception off a tipped pass and the TD came after USC couldn't convert on a fourth-and-2).

The Trojans got on the board late in the half as WR Mike Bastianelli caught a 21-yard TD pass from QB John Fox.

But ASU totally shut down the Trojans in the second half.The Sun Devils scored TDs on their first 2 possessions of that half—a 2-yard run by TB J.R. Redmond and a 27-yard Kealy pass to TE Kendrick Bates—and added another TD early in the fourth quarter (Kealy's 26-yard toss to WR Lenzie Jackson) to put the game out of reach.In the second half, ASU had 332 total yards (including 172 on the ground), 15 first downs and held the ball 19:39, while USC managed just 54 total yards (22 on the ground) and 3 first downs.

Kealy was 21-of-34 for 281 yards (all career bests), while Jackson had 7 catches for 132 yards (also career bests).

For USC, Fox started off slowly by hitting just 1 of his first 10 passes and finishedat 8-of-23 for 70 yards before being replaced late in the third quarter.TB Malaefou MacKenzie, who gained 35 yards on 10 tries (a second-quarter shoulder injury slowed him), became just the third true freshman to start at tailback for USC (the others were Scott Lockwood in 1987 and Charles White in 1976).P Jim Wren averaged 46.7 yards on 10 punts.

LB Mark Cusano had a game-high 15 tackles, while LB Chris Claiborne added 12 stops and S Chad Morton had 10.

USC 20, Notre Dame 17
Att: 80,225

USC	7	7	3	3	–	20
Notre Dame	14	3	0	0	–	17

PK Adam Abrams' 37-yard field goal with 1:05 to play gave USC a 20-17 victory at Notre Dame—the Trojans' first win in South Bend since 1981—as a sellout crowd of 80,225 and a national NBC-TV audience watched.

It gave USC back-to-back wins over the Irish for the first time since a 5-game Trojan win streak from 1978 to 1982.And it culminated a week when embattled USC coach John Robinson publicly stated that if his struggling team didn't improve, he would step down at the end of the season.

Abrams' field goal was his second of the game (he also hit a game-tying 42-yarder late in the third quarter) and it came 4 plays after LB Mark Cusano ran 27 yards with an intercepted Ron Powlus pass that LB Chris Claiborne had deflected.It was the second year in a row Cusano played a pivotal role in beating the Irish (he also knocked down Powlus' fourth down pass in overtime in 1996 to seal Troy's victory).

The game started as an offensive shootout, with both teams driving to touchdowns on their first 2 possessions.TB Autry Denson scored a on 2-yard run for ND, then USC responded with a 3-yard TD run by TB Delon Washington.The Irish came right back with a 1-yard scoring run by TB Tony Driver and USC answered with an 8-yard TD pass from QB John Fox to WR R. Jay Soward.Notre Dame added a 27-yard field goal by PK Jim Sanson late in the first half to lead 17-14 at intermission.

But the defenses stiffened in the second half, particularly USC's.Notre Dame managed just 94 total yards after halftime (just 27 on the ground), including only 2 yards on 6 plays in the third quarter.The Irish threatened only once in the second half, but Sanson, who missed 2 field goals in the second quarter (45 and 34 yards), missed his third of the day, a 33-yarder in the fourth quarter.

Overall, both teams had 315 yards of total offense (USC outrushed the Irish, 179-166, for the first time since the 1984 game), although Notre Dame ran 9 more plays (73-64) and had 10 more first downs (24-14).The Irish converted just 5-of-14 third down tries, though.The game was marred by penalties, as USC had 15 for 156 yards and ND had 7 for 75 yards.But the Trojans had no turnovers.

For USC, Fox hit 11-of-21 passes for 115 yards, TB Malaefou MacKenzie rushed for 69 yards on 20 carries and TE Antoine Harris had 4 catches for 52 yards.Denson ran for a game-high 133 yards on 30 carries and Powlus was 17-of-28 for 149 yards for ND.

Trojan S Rashard Cook and LB-S David Gibson both had a game-best 13 tackles (Gibson had 3 for losses).

The game marked only the second time that both teams met with a losing record, just the sixth time both squads entered the contest unranked and only the ninth time USC faced an Irish team with a losing record.

Oregon	0	3	7	12	–	22
USC	14	7	3	0	–	24

For the second week in a row a late field goal try played a key role in a USC victory, this time when DE Marc Matock partially deflected a 36-yard 3-point attempt by PK Joshua Smith that fell just short with 8 seconds to play as the Trojans nearly squandered an 18-point halftime lead but held on to post a 24-22 win over Oregon in the Coliseum before a Homecoming crowd of 53,640 and a national FOX Sports Net cable audience.

USC dominated the first half of the game, leading 21-3 at intermission while compiling 257 total yards, 41 plays and 17 first downs to the Ducks' 97 total yards, 25 plays and 5 first downs.FB Rodney Sermons scored twice in the first half on a 13-yard run and a 15-yard pass from John Fox, and WR R. Jay Soward added another TD on a 13-yard run off a reverse.Smith's 22-yard field goal in the second quarter provided Oregon's only first half points.

But USC shut down in the second half, as the Ducks amassed 255 total yards (including 223 passing) to USC's 136 (just 39 passing) and 11 first downs to USC's 6 while the Trojans suffered 7 penalties for 55 yards.Oregon came alive early in the third quarter when CB Rashad Bauman intercepted a Fox pass and ran it back 61 yards for a score.After Trojan PK Adam Abrams connected on a 25-yard field goal late in that quarter, Oregon TB Saladin McCullough scooted for a 5-yard TD on the first play of the fourth quarter, but Smith's conversion kick was wide.QB Akili Smith capped a 71-yard, 8-play Duck drive with a 3-yard TD run with 4:11 to play, but his 2-point pass attempt was no good.USC then couldn't advance the ball and turned it back over to Oregon, which drove 40 yards to the Trojan 19-yard line for the potential game-winning field goal try.

Overall, USC had more total yards (393-352, including a USC season-high 218 on the ground), plays (75-63) and first downs (23-16) and held the Ducks to just 79 rushing yards and 4-of-14 third down conversions while notching 7 sacks.TB Delon Washington had 130 yards on 25 carries, both game bests and his most in both categories since the 1995 UCLA game (when he ran for 152 yards on 30 tries).Fox was 16-of-28 passing for 175 yards, with 9 of those completions going to WR Billy Miller (for 105 yards).McCullough had 113 yards on 18 rushes for Oregon.USC LB-S David Gibson had a game-high 9 tackles (including 3 sacks) and forced 2 fumbles.

It was USC's first meeting against Pac-10 foe Oregon after a 2-year hiatus.The game marked the official debut of USC's newest white horse mascot, Traveler V.

Washington	3	14	10	0	–	27

No. 7-ranked (AP and USA Today/ESPN) Washington blanked USC, 27-0—and in the process limited the Trojans to just 157 total yards (only 86 passing) and never allowed them inside the UW 35-yard line—in front of 73,401 fans in Husky Stadium and an ABC-TV regional audience.

It was the first time that Troy was shut out since a 31-0 loss at Washington in 1990. It also was USC's fewest total yards since getting 124 against the Huskies in 1996 and fewest passing yards since getting 74 at Oregon in 1991. Washington posted its 12th straight Pac-10 win.

USC's defense allowed Washington just 31 rushing yards, the Huskies' lowest output since 1989 (UW entered the game averaging 198.6 yards on the ground).

Washington led 17-0 at halftime behind a 45-yard field goal by PK Nick Lentz in the first quarter and then a pair of second quarter TD passes from QB Brock Huard to FL Fred Coleman (35 yards) and SE Jerome Pathon (21 yards). The Trojans managed just 95 yards of total offense (46 passing) in the first half. All but 10 yards of Washington's 198 total yards in the first half came through the air.

After halftime, the Huskies added another Lentz field goal (34 yards) and then a 7-yard TD run by TB Maurice Shaw to close out the scoring.

The Huskies, who had 302 yards of total offense overall (they averaged 442.0 coming into the game), were led by Huard, who was 13-of-19 for 194 yards passing while playing just 4 plays into the third quarter before spraining his ankle and being sidelined (his replacement, QB Marques Tuiasosopo, went 6 of-6 for 77 yards), and Pathon, who caught 8 passes for 120 yards. TB Rashaan Shehee, who entered the game as the Pac-10's leading rusher, sprained his knee early in the first quarter and didn't return.

For USC, QB Mike Van Raaphorst made his first career start and went 5-of-18 for 46 yards, but threw 2 interceptions (he had 5 passes dropped). QB John Fox relieved him for the second half and was 4-of-7 for 37 yards. WR Billy Miller caught 5 passes, but for just 29 yards. LB Mark Cusano had a game-high 10 tackles, S Rashard Cook had an interception and fumble recovery to go with his 6 stops, and LB-S David Gibson had 8 tackles, including 3 for losses (2 were sacks). USC was hampered by 11 penalties, 5 sacks and a third down conversion total of 3-of-15.

Stanford	7	0	0	14	–	21
USC	14	10	7	14	–	45

USC posted its most convincing victory of 1997 to date—and stayed alive for post-season bowl consideration—with a 45-21 win over Stanford before 58,900 fans in the Coliseum and an ABC-TV regional audience.

The Trojans rolled up 511 total yards, including a season-high 309 on the ground, and posted their most points in a 1997 game to date.

After falling behind 7-0 early in the first quarter after Stanford FL Troy Walters returned a punt 66 yards for a touchdown, USC scored 31 unanswered points. The Trojans were sparked by a pair of defensive players seeing time on offense: S Chad Morton at tailback and CB Daylon McCutcheon at WR. Morton went 69 yards the first time he touched the ball (USC's longest run since he went 73 yards against Oregon State in 1996) to set up a 1-yard TD run in the first quarter by TB Delon Washington, capping an 80-yard drive. On USC's next possession, McCutcheon took the ball on a fake reverse end-around for an 18-yard cutback TD (his third career TD, but the first on offense). Washington's 1-yard TD run capped USC's next series, another 80-yard drive (it was only the second time in Washington's career that he ran for 2 TDs in a game). Troy went into halftime up 24-7 after PK Adam Abrams' 22-yard field goal late in the half.

USC scored on the opening possession of the second half, as QB Mike Van Raaphorst hit leaping WR Billy Miller for an 18-yard TD (it was Van Raaphorst's first career TD pass and Miller's first TD of 1997). It was the first time in 5 games that USC had a second-half TD. WR R. Jay Soward scored USC's other touchdowns, both in the fourth quarter, first on a 23-yard reverse run (his 39-yard run end-around run in the first quarter set up McCutcheon's TD) and then on Troy's next series on a 30-yard pass from QB John Fox.

For Stanford, Walters caught a pair of fourth-quarter TD passes (38 and 22 yards) from QB Todd Husak (Walters had 11 grabs overall for 209 yards, while Husak was 18-of-36 for 266 yards, all in the second half while replacing QB Chad Hutchinson).

Morton ran for a game-best 109 yards on just 7 carries before a slight hamstring strain sidelined him midway through the third quarter (it was his second career 100-yard outing and he became the fourth Trojan in 1997 to eclipse the century barrier). Van Raaphorst, making his second start, was 12-of-21 for 128 yards before leaving because of an ankle sprain late in the third quarter. Soward caught a career-best 8 passes for 81 yards. Washington gained 55 yards on 15 carries to break the 2,000-yard career rushing mark.

USC's defense limited the Cardinal to just 112 rushing yards, allowed none of Stanford's 5 fourth down tries to be successful and forced 3 turnovers (all in the first half). LB-S Antuan Simmons had a team-topping 9 tackles, LB Chris Claiborne added 8 stops and recovered a fumble, and LB-S David Gibson made 7 tackles (4 for losses, with a sack), forced 2 fumbles and broke up 2 passes. S Rashard Cook intercepted a pass and DE Lawrence Larry recovered a fumble.

It was Troy's first shutout in 30 games (since blanking Arizona State in 1995, 31-0) and the first time Oregon State was shut out in 50 games (33-0 against Arizona in 1993).It was done before the smallest crowd to see a USC game since 1990 (when 18,795 were at Oregon State).And the contest broke USC's streak of consecutive live football telecasts at 111.

USC's defense limited Oregon State—coached by ex-Trojan offensive coordinator Mike Riley—to just 152 total yards (the fewest Troy has allowed since Stanford had 134 in 1989), including only 29 rushing yards, and just 11 first downs.The Trojans intercepted 4 OSU passes (USC's most since getting 4 at Oregon State in 1990), including twice on the Beavers' only penetrations into USC territory.

GAME 11
November 22, Los Angeles Coliseum
UCLA 31, USC 24
Att: 91,350

UCLA	14	7	10	0	–	31
USC	14	7	0	3	–	24

For the seventh year in a row, USC lost to UCLA (ranked No. 7 by AP and No. 9 by USC Today/ESPN), this time 31-24 in front of a sold out Coliseum crowd of 91,350 and an ABC-TV regional audience.

It was the sixth time during that 7-game streak that the Trojans lost to the Bruins by a touchdown or less.

The game began as a shootout, but then Troy again suffered the second half malaise that afflicted it all season.The Bruins—who won their ninth consecutive game of 1997—took the opening kickoff and drove 72 yards in 7 plays, capped by a 9-yard TD pass from QB Cade McNown to TE Mike Grieb.On USC's first offensive play, WR R. Jay Soward hauled in a dramatic 80-yard TD bomb from QB John Fox (it was Soward's fourth career TD versus UCLA), Troy's longest pass of the season.But UCLA put together an 8-play, 80-yard drive on its next possession, with TB Skip Hicks—the nation's leading scorer entering the game—running the last 16 yards for the score.It was Hicks' Pac-10 career record 54th touchdown.After being stopped by UCLA on its next series and forced to punt, USC CB Anthony Volsan recovered a fumbled Bruin punt return on the UCLA 24-yard line and the Trojans—10 point underdogs in the game—converted 3 plays later as Fox hit WR Mike Bastianelli for a 17-yard TD, making it 14-14 still in the first quarter.

After holding UCLA on its next possession, Troy grabbed the lead early in the second quarter as TB-S Chad Morton jetted 49 yards up the middle for a TD.But UCLA answered on the following series, as McNown's 8-yard scoring pass to FL Jim McElroy capped a 10-play, 74-yard drive with 9:34 to go in the half.

Things calmed down until midway through the third quarter when the Bruins put together their fourth TD drive of 70-plus yards, going 75 yards in 7 plays as McNown and Grieb hooked up again, this time for a 38-yard TD.The Bruins stretched their lead to 31-21 on PK-P Chris Sailer's 32-yard field goal on their next possession late in the third quarter.

USC threatened twice in the fourth quarter, but Fox was picked off both times, first at the goal line by CB Javelin Guidry (on a pass from the Bruin 16) and then by ROV Wasswa Serwanga on the UCLA 23 after recovering an onside kick with 2:08 to play following a 36-yard field goal by PK Adam Abrams.

Soward had another field day against UCLA, equalling his career best for receptions with 8 for 181 yards (giving him 14 catches for 441 yards and 4 TDs in 2 games against the Bruins) and adding 54 yards on 2 kickoff returns.Fox was 14-of-34 for 258 yards, TB Delon Washington led USC in rushing with 67 yards on 10 carries and Morton had 64 yards on 10 rushes.

McNown—who entered the game as the nation's passing efficiency leader—was brilliant for UCLA, passing (15-of-24 for 213 yards, including 6-of-7 for 91 yards in the second half) and running (48 yards on 11 carries).Hicks ran for a game-best 117 yards on 25 carries, his fourth straight 100-yard outing.SE Danny Farmer led UCLA with 4 catches for 74 yards.

USC had the ball only 24:17 and managed just 16 first downs (to UCLA's 23) while converting only 1-of-12 third downs (0-of-6 in the second half).The Trojans were hampered by 12 penalties for 118 yards (UCLA was penalized just 6 times for 59 yards).

ALL-TIME USC RECORD

The following is believed to be an accurate record of the outcome of all games of American football played by the USC varsity team. It was compiled by Michael J. Glenn. USC appreciates his invaluable efforts.

The information in this history is set forth in as brief a fashion as possible. To illustrate this, review the entries under 1989. Reading from left to right, the following information is given on the first line under the coach and captain data: (1) Date (Sept. 4); (2) Result (L-USC loss); (3) USC's Associated Press ranking going into the game (5); (4) USC's opponent (Illinois); (5) An indication that the game began after 5:00 p.m., local time (N); (6) An indication that the winning score occurred with 2:19 left in the game (2:19); (7) USC's opponent's Associated Press ranking going into the game (22); (8) Game score, with USC's point total given first (13-14); (9) An indication that the game was played at USC's home field (H); (10) Game attendance (54,622).

Other information may be noted on the line concerning the UCLA game. The "c" before the attendance figure indicates a capacity crowd. "(UCLA-13:43)" indicates that UCLA made the tying score with 13:43 left in the fourth quarter.

The line beneath the UCLA game record presents USC's regular season record, conference record, and conference finish, in that order. Next come the points scored and points given up.

Beneath this is USC's bowl game result, followed on the next line by USC's final overall record, USC's overall points scored and given up, and the season attendance total.

Other symbols: N1, N2, etc., indicate games played at a neutral site; (HC) indicates USC's Homecoming game; (U) indicates that the game result was a significant upset; (R) indicates that a major portion of the game was played in the rain; (Sn) indicates the game was played in snow conditions; and "Th" indicates a game played on Thanksgiving Day.

Records include games played by USC at site when USC was not the designated home team.

USC totals include all games played on campus, including games played at Bovard Field.

Rose Bowl totals include games played against UCLA.

Athletic Park took its name from its builder, the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Located on the northeast corner of Seventh and Alameda, it opened on Thanksgiving Day, 1891. The first major college football game played there was on Dec. 29, 1894, when Stanford defeated the University of Chicago, 28-0. Athletic Park gained national recognition when Los Angeles and Stockton of the California League played a night baseball game there on July 2, 1893. Los Angeles won, 5-2, before a crowd of 9,000. Twenty kerosene lamps and one swiveled search light were used.

Fiesta Park, located on the northwest corner of Grand and Pico, also dates from the 1890s. It was the site of what was apparently the first night college football game on Nov. 18, 1905. St. Vincent's College (now Loyola Marymount University) shut out the University of Arizona, 54-0. In 1916, a rebuilt Fiesta Park served as USC's home grounds. The following year, however, its bleachers were transported to USC to revamp Bovard Field.

At the turn of the century, Washington Park, at the corner of Washington and Grand, was primarily a baseball field. It was sometimes referred to as Chutes Park, after the adjacent amusement park. St. Vincent's College was located across the street. Washington Park was the early home of the Los Angeles Angels of the Pacific Coast League.

A larger ball park for the Angels was built in 1911. Also known as Washington Park, this structure was located at Washington and Hill.

Prager Park served as USC's home in 1903. It was located near Chutes Park.

Tournament Park, located at the southeast corner of California and Wilson in Pasadena, served as the initial home of the "East-West" game, as the Rose Bowl was originally known. The Tournament of Roses Association acquired the property in 1901, and Michigan and Stanford played there in the first Rose Bowl game on Jan. 1, 1902. After a series of other sporting activities, football returned to the New Year's Day celebration in 1915, and continued at Tournament Park through 1922.

Sportsman's Park, located at North Los Robles and Colorado, was the site of USC's first Pasadena appearance, its first Thanksgiving game, and its first varsity football game outside of Los Angeles--all in 1889 against Pasadena. The game occurred just a month before Sportsman's Park hosted the initial Tournament of Roses.

Prior to 1893, USC's campus games were played on a field adjoining Jefferson. This field might have been the site of USC's first official football game in 1888.

In early 1893, the University's then-existing athletic grounds were developed, apparently for neighborhood housing. According to the Rostrum, USC's earliest student newspaper, the students petitioned for a replacement athletic field. Eventually they were granted space on the "northwest portion of campus."

These grounds, while appropriate for practice and practice games, were not suitable for major games. As a result, most of USC's important "home" games up until 1904 were played in rented space: Athletic Park, Fiesta Park, Washington Park, and Prager Park.

In the summer of 1904, USC's football field was "upgraded." Bleachers were constructed on the south side of the field, and a small stand was placed on the north side. A "kid-proof" fence was built around the site. At the start of the season, the site was referred to as "College Campus" in a published football schedule, but by the end of the year it had become "Bovard Field."

Bovard never appears to have been a very adequate home. USC still used Fiesta Park for some of its more important games up until 1908. In 1915, USC's first Los Angeles game against California was played at the new Washington Park, which was primarily a baseball venue. The following year, USC attempted to use a revitalized Fiesta Park as its home base. In the summer of 1917, the new bleachers at Fiesta Park were transported to USC's Bovard Field. These new seats increased Bovard's capacity to about 10,000.

The "new" Bovard was quickly obsolete. Interest in USC football, under Coach Elmer "Gloomy Gus" Henderson, outpaced the limits of even the expanded Bovard. By 1920, USC was playing its more important games in Pasadena, first at Tournament Park, and then at the Tournament of Roses' new stadium in the Arroyo Seco.

USC's last on-campus varsity football game was played on Sept. 29, 1923, against Cal Tech. The following week the Trojans played their initial game at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

DRAMATIC FINISHES

Over the years, USC has been involved in many games featuring dramatic finishes at the end. Here's a sampling of some of the more famous such contests.

1931--USC 16, Notre Dame 14. Johnny Baker kicked a game-winning 33-yard field goal with 1:00 remaining. All of USC's points came in the fourth quarter. The win snapped Notre Dame's 26-game unbeaten streak and was USC's first-ever win in South Bend. Troy won the national championship.

1938--USC 7, Duke 3 (1939 Rose Bowl). Al Krueger, a second-team end, and fourth-string quarterback Doyle Nave came off the bench to connect on 4 straight passes, the last a 19-yard TD with about 40 seconds left to upset previously unbeaten, untied and unscored-upon Duke.

1939--USC 0, UCLA 0. Bobby Robertson knocked down Ned Matthews' 4-yard pass in the end zone with less than 5 minutes to play to preserve the tie for USC, sending the Trojans to the Rose Bowl.

1941--USC 13, Oregon State 7. Doug Essick caught a game-winning 6-yard pass from Ray Woods with 13 seconds to play.

1953--USC 23, Stanford 20. Sam Tsagalakis kicked a victorious 38-yard field goal with 13 seconds left.

1958--USC 15, UCLA 15. Luther Hayes returned a kickoff 74 yards for a TD and Tom Maudlin ran in for the 2-point conversion with 6:50 to play to get the Trojans a tie.

1964--USC 26, California 21. Behind 21-14 in the fourth quarter, USC scored twice late, the second time (while trailing 21-20) on a 22-yard pass from Craig Fertig to Rod Sherman with 50 seconds to culminate a 95-yard drive.

1964--USC 20, Notre Dame 17. Rod Sherman caught a 15-yard TD pass from Craig Fertig with 1:33 to play to upset unbeaten and top-ranked Notre Dame. USC was down, 17-0, at halftime.

1967--USC 21, UCLA 20. O.J. Simpson ran 64 yards for a TD with 10:38 left in the fourth quarter to give USC a Rose Bowl berth and the national championship. It is one of the most famous runs in college football history.

1969--USC 26, Stanford 24. Ron Ayala kicked a game-winning 34-yard field goal with 0:00 on the clock.

1969--USC 14, UCLA 12. Jimmy Jones hit Sam Dickerson with a 32-yard TD pass in the corner of the end zone with 1:32 left, putting USC in the Rose Bowl.

1973--USC 27, Stanford 26. Chris Limahelu kicked a game-winning 34-yard field goal with 3 seconds to play.

1974--USC 18, Ohio State 17 (1975 Rose Bowl). Johnny McKay caught a 38-yard TD pass from Pat Haden with 2:03 remaining to pull USC to within a point of Ohio State. Then Shelton Diggs grabbed the subsequent 2-point conversion pass from Haden for the victory, which wrapped up a national championship for USC.

1977--USC 29, UCLA 27. Frank Jordan kicked a 38-yard field goal with 2 seconds remaining, knocking UCLA out of the Rose Bowl.

1978--USC 27, Notre Dame 25. A year after his late game-winner against UCLA, Frank Jordan kicked a nearly-identical 37-yard field goal with 2 seconds remaining to beat Notre Dame.

1979--USC 17, LSU 12. Kevin Williams caught a game-winning 8-yard TD pass from Paul McDonald with 32 seconds to play.

1979--USC 17, Ohio State 16 (1980 Rose Bowl). Charles White scored on a 1-yard run with 1:32 remaining. USC drove 83 yards in 8 plays on the winning drive, with White carrying 6 times for 71 yards.

1980--USC 20, Tennessee 17. Eric Hipp kicked a victorious 47-yard field goal with 0:00 left.

1981--USC 28, Oklahoma 24. Fred Cornwell caught a 7-yard TD pass from John Mazur with 2 seconds to play to give No. 1 USC the win over No. 2 Oklahoma.

1981--USC 22, UCLA 21. George Achica broke through the line on the final play of the game to block Norm Johnson's 46-yard field goal try, preserving the win and knocking UCLA out of the Rose Bowl.

1982--USC 17, Notre Dame 13. Michael Harper, fumbling as he dove over the goal line, scored on a controversial winning 1-yard run with 48 seconds to play. It was coach John Robinson's last game of his first tenure at USC.

1985--USC 17, UCLA 13. Rodney Peete scored the winning points on a 1-yard sneak at 1:13 to go.

1986--USC 17, Baylor 14. Don Shafer kicked a game-winning 32-yard field goal in a driving rainstorm with 0:00 on the clock.

1987--USC 12, Arizona 10. Quin Rodriguez kicked an 18-yard field goal with 1:11 remaining, his fourth three-pointer of the game.

1987--USC 17, UCLA 13. Erik Affholter made a juggling, corner-of-the-end zone 33-yard TD catch of a Rodney Peete pass with 7:59 to play in the game, bringing USC all the way back from a 13-0 third quarter deficit. The win put USC in the Rose Bowl.

1988--USC 24, Stanford 20. John Jackson caught a game-winning 10-yard TD pass from Rodney Peete with 1:19 remaining. USC trailed, 13-0, in the second quarter.

1989--USC 18, Washington State 17. Known as "The Drive," Todd Marinovich guided USC 91 yards in 18 plays (all through the air) with 3:31 remaining, culminating with a 2-yard TD pass to Ricky Ervins with 4 seconds to play. Marinovich then hit Gary Wellman for the winning 2-point conversion.

1989--USC 10, UCLA 10. A 54-yard field goal try by UCLA's Alfredo Velasco with 2 seconds to play hit the crossbar and bounced away, preserving the tie.

1989--USC 17, Michigan 10 (1990 Rose Bowl). Rose Bowl MVP Ricky Ervins ran 14 yards for the winning TD with 1:10 to play to cap a 75-yard drive.

1990--USC 35, Ohio State 26. The second half was played in heavy rain with thunder and lightning, getting so bad that officials suspended the game with 2:36 to play after USC recovered an onside kick.

1990--USC 31, California 31. Cal's Robbie Keen missed a 43-yard field goal try with 4 seconds remaining, ending the game in a tie.

1990--USC 45, UCLA 42. In the highest-scoring and perhaps most thrilling USC-UCLA game, Todd Marinovich threw a game-winning 23-yard TD pass to Johnnie Morton with 16 seconds left. The contest featured a 42-point fourth quarter (including 3 TD's in the final 3:09) with 4 lead changes. Morton also caught a 21-yard scoring TD from Marinovich with 3:09 to play to give USC a short-lived 38-35 lead, but Kevin Smith scored on a 1-yard run with 1:19 to go to put the Bruins up 42-38.

1992--USC 31, San Diego State 31. San Diego State's Andy Trakas missed 2 field goals (30 and 55 yards) in the last 0:54 to allow USC to hold onto the tie.

1992--USC 27, California 24. Down 24-13, Estrus Crayton scored twice in the final 5:45 on 2- and 1-yard runs, the second with 2:27 to play to give USC the win. Brian Williams' interception with 2:19 to go sealed Troy's victory.

1995--USC 21, Washington 21. Down 21-0 going into the fourth quarter, USC scored 3 touchdowns, the last a 2-yard pass from Brad Otton to Johnny McWilliams with 33 seconds to go (Adam Rendon's PAT tied it), thus allowing the Trojans to keep hold of the inside track in the Rose Bowl race.

1995--USC 31, Stanford 30. A week after the dramatic Washington tie, USC--behind 16-0 in the second quarter--scored with 39 seconds to play on an 8-yard Kyle Wachholtz pass to Keyshawn Johnson, who then came in as a safety on defense and knocked down a Hail Mary pass at the goal line at the gun.

1996--USC 29, Washington State 24. Delon Washington's 17-yard TD run with 2:05 to play proved decisive and then USC had to hold off the Cougars, who got to the Trojan 11-yard line with 39 seconds to go before fumbling the ball away.

1996--USC 27, Notre Dame 20. In its first overtime win in 3 tries in 1996, Delon Washington scored on a 15-yard run with 1:50 to go in regulation and then barely edged the ball over the goal line on the ensuing 2-point conversion run to tie the game at 20-20. After Rodney Sermons caught a 5-yard TD pass from Brad Otton in the first overtime, Troy stopped the Irish, breaking USC's 13-game non-winning streak to Notre Dame.

1997--USC 20, Notre Dame 17. Adam Abrams' 37-yard field goal with 1:05 to go--4 plays after Mark Cusano ran 27 yards with an interception--gave USC its first win in South Bend since 1981.

1997--USC 24, Oregon 22. Marc Matock partially deflected Joshua Smith's 36-yard field goal try that fell just short with 8 seconds to play to preserve the win.

Of course, USC has been on the wrong end of some dramatic last-minute finishes, too. For instance, there was the 1926 Notre Dame game (Art Parisien threw a 23-yard TD pass to Butch Niemiec with 2 minutes to go for a 13-12 Irish win), the 1937 Notre Dame game (Mario Tonnelli ran 13 yards for a TD with 1:45 left in the Irish's 13-6 win), the 1944 UCLA game (Johnny Roesch scored twice in the last 2 minutes, including an 80-yard punt return with no time on the clock, and then Bob Waterfield's extra point kick hit the crossbar but rolled over, to give UCLA a 13-13 tie), the 1948 Notre Dame game (Emil Sitko ran for a 2-yard TD with 35 seconds to go and Steve Oracko hit the extra point as Notre Dame, riding a 27-game unbeaten streak, escaped with a 14-14 tie), the 1954 Notre Dame game (Jim Morse caught a 72-yard pass from Ralph Guglielmi with 5:57 to go to give Notre Dame a 23-17 victory), the 1963 Notre Dame game (Ken Ivan kicked a 33-yard field goal with 6:38 to go as Notre Dame won, 17-14), the 1965 UCLA game (Kurt Altenberg caught a 52-yard scoring bomb from Gary Beban with about 4 minutes to play as UCLA overcame a 16-6 deficit and won, 20-16), the 1967 Rose Bowl (USC's 2-point conversion pass attempt with 2:28 to play was intercepted by George Catavolos, allowing Purdue to hold onto a 14-13 win), the 1975 Stanford game (Mike Langford kicked a 37-yard field goal with no time on the clock as Stanford won, 13-10), the 1977 Alabama game (under pressure from Alabama's Wayne Hamilton,Rob Hertel's 2-point conversion pass to Mosi Tatupu with 35 seconds to play was intercepted by Barry Krauss, sealing the Tide's 21-20 victory), the 1980 UCLA game (Freeman McNeil pulled down a tipped 58-yard pass from Jay Schroeder for the game-winner at 2:07 to play for a 20-17 win), the 1982 UCLA game (Bruin Karl Morgan preserved UCLA's 20-19 win by sacking Scott Tinsley on an attempted 2-point conversion pass after USC had scored at the gun), the 1986 Notre Dame game (the Irish rallied back from a 20-9 halftime deficit, culminated by John Carney's 19-yard field goal as time expired to give Notre Dame a 38-37 win), the 1989 Illinois game (a pair of late fourth quarter Jeff George TD passes, the second to Steve Williams with 2:19 to play, gave the Illini a 14-13 win), the 1991 Stanford game (USC went ahead 21-17 with 3:37 to play only to see Steve Stenstrom hit Chris Walsh with a game-winning 12-yard TD pass with 1:11 left; USC's Cole Ford barely missed a 45-yard field goal at the gun), the 1992 UCLA game (UCLA came back from a 31-17 fourth quarter deficit to go ahead 38-31, only to see Rob Johnson score on a 1-yard sneak with 41 seconds to play, but Johnson's 2-point conversion pass to Yonnie Jackson was deflected by Bruin Nkosi Littleton), the 1993 Penn State game (Rob Johnson's 2-point conversion pass to Johnny McWilliams with 37 seconds to go fell bounced incomplete, allowing the Nittany Lions to hold on to a 21-20 win), the 1993 UCLA game (a win or tie would have put USC in the Rose Bowl, but Rob Johnson's 3-yard, third-down pass with 56 seconds to play to Tyler Cashman was intercepted in the end zone by Bruin Marvin Goodwin to preserve UCLA's 27-21 victory), the 1996 Arizona State game (after ASU tied the game at 28-28 with 1:30 to play, the teams went to double overtime with Sun Devil Courtney Jackson returning a controversial Brad Otton fumble 85 yards for a TD in the second overtime to end the game in ASU's favor, 48-35), the 1996 UCLA game (USC held a 17-point lead with less than 7 minutes to play in regulation but couldn't hold on and then, in its second double overtime game of the season, the Trojans couldn't score in the second overtime after Skip Hicks' 25-yard TD run gave the Bruins a 48-41 victory), and the 1997 Washington State game (Kevin McKenzie made a one-handed grab of a 51-yard Ryan Leaf TD pass with 4:18 to play to give WSU a 28-21 win).

"THE COMEBACK"

1974: USC 55, Notre Dame 24

In what is regarded as one of the most dramatic and incredible comebacks in the history of college football, the 1974 Trojans erased a 24-point deficit to beat Notre Dame, 55-24, in the Coliseum.

USC trailed the Irish, 24-0, late in the first half, and the Trojans' chances looked bleak because Notre Dame sported the nation's top-ranked defense. But with 10 seconds remaining before halftime, Anthony Davis scored on a 7-yard pass from Pat Haden (Troy missed the 2-point conversion) to send the Trojans into the lockerroom behind 24-6...but with a glimmer of hope.

Davis took the opening kickoff of the second half and raced 102 yards for a score, opening the floodgates as USC rallied for 35 points in the third quarter. Davis scored 2 more times that quarter, both on short runs, and Haden threw TD passes of 18 and 45 yards to Johnny McKay.

Then, before 2 minutes had elapsed in the fourth quarter, Haden hit Shelton Diggs for a 16-yard score and Charles Phillips returned an interception 58 yards for a touchdown. In all, USC blitzed to its 55 points in under 17 minutes.

"We turned into madmen," was how Davis described the comeback.

Added receiver Johnny McKay, son of USC coach John McKay, right after the game: "I can't understand it. I'm gonna sit down tonight and have a beer and think about it. Against Notre Dame? Maybe against Kent State...but Notre Dame?"

The victory propelled USC, which then beat Ohio State in the Rose Bowl, 18-17, to the national championship.

Interestingly, that Rose Bowl win was dramatic, too. USC trailed, 17-10, with just minutes left. Then Haden teamed with McKay on a 38-yard TD pass with 2:03 to go, and followed that with a 2-point conversion toss to Diggs for the victory.

USC: AMERICA'S BOWL TEAM

USC has a remarkable record in bowl games. The Trojans have the nation's third highest bowl winning percentage (.658) among the 52 schools which have made at least 10 bowl appearances (behind only Oklahoma State's and Georgia Tech's .692). In the prestigious group of 10 schools that have played in 30 or more bowl games, Troy has the highest winning percentage. USC is just 3 wins behind Alabama for most bowl victories, 28 to 25. Troy's 38 bowl appearances rank behind only Alabama (48). USC once won 9 consecutive bowl games (USC did it in the 1923-30-32-33-39-40-44-45 Rose Bowls and 1924 Christmas Festival); only Florida State has won more in a row (11).

USC's overall post-season record is 25-13. The Trojans were a bowl participant each year they were eligible from 1972 to 1990.

Troy has appeared in an unprecedented 28 Rose Bowls, where it has a 20-8 mark. That's not only the most Rose Bowl wins of any team, but also the most wins by a school in a single bowl. USC has won 7 of its last 9 Rose Bowls. USC has also appeared in 9 other bowls--the Christmas Festival, Liberty Bowl, Bluebonnet Bowl, Fiesta Bowl, Aloha Bowl, Florida Citrus Bowl, John Hancock Bowl, Freedom Bowl (twice) and Cotton Bowl.

1980 Rose Bowl
USC 17, Ohio State 16

USC's Heisman Trophy winning tailback Charles White stole the show as he led the Trojans to a come-from-behind win in one of the most exciting games in Rose Bowl history. White, named Player of the Game for the second straight year, rushed for a Rose Bowl record 247 yards, including a one-yard touchdown dive with 1:32 remaining in the game that gave USC the win. The Trojans jumped out to an early 10-0 lead, but Ohio State came back to take a 16-10 lead in the fourth quarter. Then White took over. With 5:21 remaining in the game, the Trojans got the ball on their own 17-yard line. USC marched 83 yards in eight plays, all on the ground. On the winning drive, White carried six times for 71 yards.

1982 Fiesta Bowl
Penn State 26, USC 10

Penn State's fine defense and key Trojan miscues led to USC's first non-Rose Bowl post-season defeat, 26-10. Marcus Allen, who was held to 85 yards, fumbled away the ball on USC's first possession and the Lions' Curt Warner, who gained 145 yards, went in to score several plays later. USC's only touchdown came on a 20-yard interception by Chip Banks.

1985 Rose Bowl
USC 20, Ohio State 17

USC's defense prevailed over Ohio State's potent offense featuring Heisman Trophy runnerup Keith Byars, 20-17. Interceptions set up USC's two touchdowns and the Trojan defense also stopped two key Buckeye drives--one early in the contest that got to the four-yard line and one late in the game which ended up at the 38. For USC, Tim Green threw touchdown passes to Joe Cormier and Timmie Ware while Steve Jordan kicked two 51-yard field goals. Most of Ohio State's points were provided by Rich Spangler, who hit three field goals.

1985 Aloha Bowl
Alabama 24, USC 3

The nation's top two bowl teams (USC with the most wins and Alabama with the most appearances) faced off in balmy Honolulu. The score was tied at halftime, 3-3, but the Crimson Tide rolled in the second half to win, 24-3. USC managed only 197 total yards (just 61 rushing) and 10 first downs. On the other hand, Alabama had 317 total yards, 205 coming on the ground. Mike Shula, Al Bell, Gene Jelks, Cornelius Bennett and Jon Hand starred for the Crimson Tide.

1987 Florida Citrus Bowl
Auburn 16, USC 7

In Ted Tollner's final game as USC's head coach, his Trojan defense held down a high-powered Auburn offense (led by Brent Fullwood, the nation's top runner). But Troy's offense was ineffective and the Tigers won, 16-7, in chilly Orlando. Outside linebacker Marcus Cotton provided USC with its only score on a spectacular 24-yard scoring interception return early in the game. Two long second-quarter drives by Auburn, plus a safety late in the game, gave Auburn its only points. USC made it interesting at the end after Louis Brock blocked a Tiger punt, but the Trojans couldn't score on fourth-and-inches at the goal line. Fullwood had 152 yards rushing and one TD for Auburn, which had just 290 total yards on the day.

Michigan State 20, USC 17

For just the fifth time ever, teams that had played each other earlier in the season (Michigan State had beaten USC in the 1988 season opener, 27-13) faced off in the Rose Bowl. The Spartans prevailed again, this time 20-17, breaking a six-game Big Ten losing streak in Pasadena. Despite getting more total yards (410 to 276) and first downs (21 to 11) than Michigan State, the Trojans were hurt by five turnovers, including a lost fumble on a mishandled snap on the Spartan 30 with 1:37 to play as Troy was marching downfield on an impressive drive. USC trailed 14-3 at halftime, but two touchdowns passes from quarterback Rodney Peete to split end Ken Henry eventually evened the score at 17-17 midway through the last quarter. On the next series, Michigan State moved into its winning field goal position with the help of a spectacular 36-yard jump pass from quarterback Bobby McAllister to split end Andre Rison. USC had to play Michigan State for the second time that season without star Trojan tailback Steven Webster (he sat out the opener with a sprained ankle and tore knee ligaments in the regular season finale against UCLA).

Michigan 22, USC 14

In a "teacher-versus-pupil" matchup (USC coach Larry Smith served under Wolverine coach Bo Schembechler at both Miami of Ohio and Michigan), the teacher got the better of it as Michigan came back from a 14-3 halftime deficit to win 22-14. It was a disappointing way for USC to conclude its 100th anniversary of football. After falling behind 3-0 on a Mike Gillette field goal, USC charged back as quarterback Rodney Peete ran for a pair of short touchdowns (1 and 4 yards) in the second quarter. But it was all Michigan in the second half, as the Wolverines amassed 230 of their 352 total yards then. They scored 3 times on long drives, the first on a 6-yard Demetrius Brown-to-Chris Calloway aerial that capped a 67-yard drive to open the third quarter. Then Rose Bowl MVP Leroy Hoard scored twice for Michigan on 1-yard runs in the final period, coming off of 92 and 70-yard drives. Hoard had 142 yards rushing (the first time anyone broke the century rushing mark against the Trojans all year), including a key 61-yard run to set up the Wolverines' final score. USC, which managed a season-low 296 total yards, didn't help its cause with 5 turnovers, 11 penalties and numerous missed tackles. The win was only Schembechler's second in 9 tries in Pasadena.

1990 Rose Bowl
USC 17, Michigan 10

After losing the previous 2 Rose Bowls, USC beat Michigan, 17-10, in a rematch of the 1989 game. The win, in Bo Schembechler's final game as Wolverine coach, ended Michigan's national title hopes. It was a bittersweet victory for USC coach Larry Smith, who served 6 years as an assistant under Schembechler at Miami of Ohio and Michigan. Trojan tailback Ricky Ervins, the Rose Bowl MVP, scored the game-winning TD on a 14-yard run with 1:10 to play. Ervins, who lives 5 minutes from the Rose Bowl and used to park cars there on New Year's Day, ran for 126 yards on 30 carries and caught 5 passes for 44 yards. USC, which dominated the stats, pulled off a key play early in the second quarter when defensive guard Dan Owens blocked a punt. Six plays later, quarterback Todd Marinovich, who was 22-of-31 passing for 178 yards, scored on a 1-yard run. Kickers J.D. Carlson of Michigan (19 yards) and USC's Quin Rodriguez (34 yards) then matched field goals prior to halftime. Michigan tied the score on a 2-yard run then matched field goals prior to halftime. Michigan tied the score on a 2-yard run by tailback Allen Jefferson in the third quarter and the game looked like it would end deadlocked. But, with less than 6 minutes to go, Michigan was called for holding on a successful Wolverine fake punt and USC took over at its 25-yard line. Troy then went 75 yards in 11 plays for the winning score. Michigan tailback Leroy Hoard became the first player to run for 100-plus yards against USC all season (he had 108 yards on 17 carries).

1990 John Hancock Bowl
Michigan State 17, USC 16

Playing in its eighth different bowl, USC lost to Michigan State, 17-16, in the John Hancock Bowl in El Paso, Tex., on New Year's Eve day. It was the 900th game in Trojan gridiron history. USC dominated the stats, getting more total yards (336-215), plays (76-52), first downs (21-12) and possession time (35:45-24:15). Troy limited the powerful Spartan rushing attack (which averaged 253.9 yards a game to rank 10th nationally) to an MSU season-low 84 yards. Big Ten rushing champ tailback Tico Duckett got just 18 yards. But Troy had 4 costly turnovers (including 2 in MSU's end zone) and converted only 5 of 14 first downs. USC scored first when quarterback Todd Marinovich hit flanker Gary Wellman with a 7-yard TD pass late in the opening quarter. Marinovich was 18-of-30 for 174 yards, but threw 3 interceptions (including 1 in the end zone) and also fumbled the ball on fourth-and-goal at the Spartan 1-yard line in the middle of the second quarter (which MSU recovered in the end zone). Michigan State marched 80 yards to a TD after that fumble recovery, with tailback Hyland Hickson scoring on an 18-yard run to tie the score at 7-7 at halftime. After placekicker Quin Rodriguez hit a 20-yard field goal on USC's opening possession of the second half (which ended on the MSU 3-yard line), the Spartans countered with a 21-yard TD pass from quarterback Dan Enos to flanker Courtney Hawkins (the first TD reception by a MSU wide receiver all year), who was the game's MVP with 6 catches for a season-high 106 yards, and a career-long 52-yard field goal by John Langeloh. Rodriguez capped USC's next series with a career-long 54-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter. Then, down 17-13, cornerback Stephon Pace intercepted an Enos pass to give USC the ball near midfield. But the Trojans could get no closer than the MSU 17 before backup quarterback Shane Foley's errant pitch stalled the drive and USC had to settle for another Rodriguez field goal, this one 43 yards with 5:54 to play. Troy, however, could never get the ball back. Tailback Mazio Royster had a game-high 125 yards on 32 carries, only the second player to break the century rushing mark against Michigan State in 1990. USC rushed for 156 yards versus an MSU defense which was ranked 17th nationally against the run (allowing just 113.2 yards a game). Trojan outside linebacker Craig Hartsuyker, who had 2 quarterback sacks and forced a fumble, was named the game's Most Valuable Lineman.

Fresno State 24, USC 7

USC, making its 35th bowl appearance, was stunned by unranked, 8-point underdog Fresno State, 24-7, in the ninth Freedom Bowl in Anaheim Stadium. It was the first meeting ever between the Trojans and Bulldogs. Fresno State dominated, particularly in the second half. FSU, with the nation's No. 1 scoring offense (40.5) and No. 2 total offense (482.9), held the ball 15-plus minutes more (37:32-22:28), had 322 more total yards (405-183), 10 more first downs (24-14) and 34 more plays (84-50). USC's 183 total yards were its fewest since getting 163 at Washington in 1990 and its 95 passing yards were its fewest since getting 74 at Oregon in 1991. The Trojans had 4 turnovers (FSU had none) and converted just 1-of-9 third downs. The first half, played in a steady rain, ended in a 7-7 tie. It was the fewest points FSU had scored in a half all season (and it was the first time the Bulldogs were shut out in the first quarter in 1992). USC tailback Deon Strother opened the scoring with a 1-yard plunge early in the second quarter, but FSU answered when fullback Lorenzo Neal ran for a 1-yard TD. While attempting to catch a pass on the last play of the half, USC flanker Curtis Conway sprained his right knee and missed the second half (it was the first time in 23 games that he didn't catch a pass). After a 43-yard field goal by placekicker Derek Mahoney in the third quarter, FSU scored twice late in the game on runs by tailbacks Anthony Daigle (2 yards) and Ron Rivers (5 yards). Rivers had a game-high 104 yards on 19 carries, while Freedom Bowl MVP Neal had 75 yards on 19 tries. Bulldog quarterback Trent Dilfer was 13-of-28 for 164 yards. Tailback Estrus Crayton, USC's game MVP, led Troy with 79 yards on 19 attempts. Defensively, safety Jason Sehorn had a game-high 10 tackles, while inside linebacker Brian Williams added 9 stops, cornerback Jerald Henry had 8, and cornerback Jason Oliver had 7 along with a blocked field goal.

1993 Freedom Bowl
USC 28, Utah 21

USC, exorcising the demons of Anaheim Stadium, scored 28 points in the first 17 minutes of the game and then held off a furious Utah second-half rally to win Freedom Bowl X, 28-21, before 43,150 fans and a national Raycom television audience. The Trojans, making their 36th bowl appearance, were playing in Anaheim Stadium for the third time in 14 games, but had yet to win there (losing in the 1992 Freedom Bowl to Fresno State and the 1993 season-opening Disneyland Pigskin Classic to North Carolina). It was the first USC-Utah meeting in 45 years. USC, a 17-point favorite, scored easily on its first 4 possessions. In the first quarter, quarterback Rob Johnson hit All-American wide receiver Johnnie Morton on TD throws of 31 and 9 yards, and tailback David Dotson dove over from 2 yards out. Then, Johnson connected with tight endJohnny McWilliams on a 5-yard scoring toss just 1:26 into the second quarter. But after that, USC's offense--hampered by an ineffective running game (the Trojans ran for just 91 yards)--stalled. Utah, playing in just its fourth bowl game, came alive after halftime, scoring on 3 of its first 5 possessions: a 59-yard TD pass from quarterback Mike McCoy to slotback Henry Lusk, a 34-yard run by fullback Jamal Anderson and a 1-yard run by tailback Keith Williams. But USC got the ball with 3:19 to play and held it until just 8 seconds remained, when McCoy's desperation pass was intercepted by cornerback John Herpin (Herpin's second pick of the game). Morton was named the game's MVP as he caught a Freedom Bowl-record 10 passes for 147 yards and the 2 scores (to tie a Freedom Bowl TD catch mark) despite playing weakened with the flu (7 of his catches for 121 yards and both TDs were in the first half). Johnson, who also had come down with a slight case of the flu, completed a Freedom Bowl-record 30 passes in 44 attempts for 345 yards and the 3 TD aerials (in the first half, he was 17-of-25 for 255 with the 3 TDs). Morton became the Pac-10's No. 2 career receiver with 201 grabs, while Johnson set USC's season pass completion percentage mark (68.6%). USC tailback Shawn Walters ran for a game-high 70 yards on 19 carries, while fullback Deon Strother added 50 rushing yards on 9 attempts and caught 6 passes for 63 yards. USC wide receiver Ken Grace, who had 4 catches for 48 yards, returned a punt 31 yards, a Freedom Bowl mark. USC generated 436 yards of total offense on 82 plays and held the ball 32:14. Utah threatened 3 times inside the USC 30-yard line in the opening half, but USC's defense held each time, including an impressive goal line stand and an interception in the end zone by cornerback Jason Sehorn. Utah came into the game averaging 484.6 total yards (fifth in the U.S.), 324.3 passing yards (seventh in the U.S.) and 30.8 points, but was limited to 350 total yards (286 through the air). McCoy, who was second nationally in total offense (330.8), was 23-of-40 for 286 yards, 1 TD and 3 interceptions (at the half, he was 10-of-20 for 81 yards with 2 picks). Lusk had 6 catches for 140 yards and the TD, while Anderson ran for 67 yards and the TD on 16 carries and caught 7 passes for 61 yards. Outside linebacker Brian Williams and safety Mike Salmon topped USC in tackles with 9 each (both had 2 for losses). USC coach John Robinson, who has led USC to at least 8 wins in each of his 8 seasons there, upped his bowl record to 5-1.

1995 Cotton Bowl
USC 55, Texas Tech 14

USC (ranked 20th by UPI, 21st by AP and 22nd by USA Today/CNN) made quite an impression in its first visit to the Mobil Cotton Bowl Classic, smashing Texas Tech, 55-14, in a record-filled performance before a sellout crowd of 70,218 and an NBC-TV national audience. It was USC's 24th bowl victory, its 37th bowl appearance (in 10 different bowls), its 17th win in the last 19 games against Southwest Conference opponents, its third win in 3 tries over Texas Tech, and coach John Robinson's sixth bowl win in 7 trips (giving Robinson at least 8 wins in each of his 9 seasons at Troy). After 59 years, it was also the last Cotton Bowl where an SWC team served as host. Texas Tech was making only its second visit to the Cotton Bowl (the first was in 1939). The game was over quickly, as it was 28-0 after the first quarter and 34-0 at halftime. USC led 48-0 before Texas Tech scored against the Trojan reserves late in the third quarter. USC set Cotton Bowl records for most points in a game, most points in a quarter (USC's most since also scoring 28 in the second quarter against California in 1978) and most touchdowns (7), while scoring its most points ever in a bowl and posting its biggest bowl victory margin (second in Cotton Bowl history). It was the most points scored against Texas Tech since Miami had 61 in 1986. Troy's first 3 scores came in a 1:16 span. After tailback Shawn Walters, 1 of 8 Texans on the Trojan roster, ran 11 yards for a TD, USC recovered a fumble on the ensuing kickoff and, on the next play, quarterback Rob Johnson hit fullback Terry Barnum for a 19-yard score. Three plays later, cornerback John Herpin, another Texas native, intercepted a Zebbie Lethridge pass and returned it 26 yards for a TD. Herpin, who intercepted another pass in the second quarter to set up a field goal, was named the game's Outstanding Defensive Player. USC's next 3 TDs came on aerials to wide receiver Keyshawn Johnson of 12, 22 and 86 yards (the 86-yarder was 1 yard shy of the longest pass in Cotton Bowl and USC history), the first 2 from Rob Johnson and the third from quarterback Brad Otton. Keyshawn Johnson, selected as the game's Outstanding Offensive Player, had 8 catches overall for a Cotton Bowl-record 222 yards (just 7 yards shy of the Trojan single game record). His 3 TD catches set a Cotton Bowl record and equalled a Trojan mark. Rob Johnson, who became USC's career passing yardage leader and the Pac-10 and USC recordholder for career completion percentage, was 16-of-21 for 289 yards (the second most yards in Cotton Bowl history). The other Trojan scores came on a late 2-yard Otton pass to tight end Jeff Diltz and second quarter field goals by placekicker Cole Ford of 39 and a career-best 42 yards. Ford's 7 PAT kicks was a Cotton Bowl record. Walters ran for a game-best 82 yards on 14 carries. Otton was 8-of-14 for 146 yards. USC thoroughly dominated the statistics, more than doubling Texas Tech in total yardage (578-260) and possession time (40:02-19:58) while also having more first downs (21-14) and plays (80-63). USC, which averaged 7.2 yards per play, set Cotton Bowl records for total yards, passing yards (a USC record 435) and completions (24). USC did this against a Texas Tech defense which entered the game third nationally in pass efficiency defense (88.6), 10th in scoring defense (17.4) and 22nd in total defense (311.0). The Red Raiders had held 5 foes to single digits in scoring and had given up just 47 points in their previous 5 games. Inside linebacker Jeff Kopp led USC in tackles with 7, while safety Sammy Knight added 6. Texas Tech, which punted 10 times, advanced into USC territory on just 4 of its 16 possessions.

USC 41, Northwestern 32

Behind the stellar play of wide receiver Keyshawn Johnson and quarterback Brad Otton, USC (ranked 15th by UPI and 17th by USA Today/CNN and AP) put an end to No. 3-ranked Northwestern's Cinderella season with an exciting 41-32 Rose Bowl win before a sellout crowd of 100,102 and a national ABC-TV audience. It was the 50th anniversary of the Pac-10/Big Ten agreement in the Rose Bowl. It was USC's 20th victory in its unprecedented 28th trip to Pasadena (but its first since the 1990 game) and Troy's first win over a Top 3 team since defeating Michigan in that 1990 Rose Bowl, while Northwestern--having its first winning season since 1971 (the Wildcats came in with a 10-1 record)--was playing in only its second-ever bowl (its first since winning the 1949 Rose Bowl). It also gave USC coach John Robinson a 4-0 Rose Bowl record (and 7-1 in all bowls). The Trojans jumped off to a quick start, driving 83 yards with the opening kickoff while using a no-huddle offense as running back LaVale Woods scored on a 1-yard plunge. But Northwestern answered on its first possession, as running back Darnell Autry ran 3 yards for a TD to cap a 68-yard drive. USC then scored 17 unanswered second quarter points: a scrambling 21-yard TD pass from Otton to running back Terry Barnum, a 30-yard field goal by placekicker Adam Abrams and, on Northwestern's next possession, cornerback Daylon McCutcheon's 53-yard fumble return after safety Sammy Knight knocked the ball loose from Wildcat wide receiver Brian Musso. Northwestern got a 29-yard field goal from placekicker Brian Gowins with 2 seconds to go in the half following a Trojan fumble, but Troy led 24-10 at intermission (it was USC's most first half points since scoring 34 against Texas Tech in the 1995 Cotton Bowl). The Wildcats then scored on their first 4 possessions of the second half: another Gowins field goal (this one from 28 yards), a 9-yard Autry run (after Northwestern recovered a surprise on-side kick), a 1-yard sneak by quarterback Steve Schnur (which followed a 56-yard Trojan scoring strike from Otton to Johnson), and a 2-yard Autry run early in the fourth quarter that gave Northwestern its first lead of the day, 32-31. But USC came right back, getting a 46-yard Abrams field goal (the longest by a Trojan since Quin Rodriguez hit a 54-yarder against Michigan State in the 1990 John Hancock Bowl). Safety Jesse Davis then sealed the victory for USC with an interception which led to a 5-yard TD by running back Delon Washington. Johnson, who served as a Trojan ballboy at the 1985 Rose Bowl, was named the Rose Bowl MVP, as he grabbed 12 passes (all for first downs) for a Rose Bowl record 216 yards (his 17th 100-yard outing in his career and the eighth of 1995). Otton played the entire game for the first time in the 1995 season, hitting 29-of-44 passes for 391 yards (all career highs) with 2 TDs and no interceptions; the yardage was 1 yard shy of Rob Johnson's USC record and was the third most in Rose Bowl history. Autry had his 13th consecutive 100-yard rushing game, getting 110 yards on 32 carries with the 3 TDs, while Schnur was 23-of-39 for a career-best 336 yards (including 7 completions for 145 yards to wide receiver D'Wayne Bates). Northwestern outgained USC in total yards, 475-520, and limited Troy to just 29 rushing yards (its fewest since getting 7 yards against UCLA in 1993), but the Wildcats' uncharacteristic 2 turnovers led to 14 Trojan points, proving costly to a team which was third nationally in turnover margin (1.82). The Wildcats also had a TD pass called back because of a penalty late in the game and missed 2 field goals, including a 49-yard attempt that hit the upright with 35 seconds to go. USC, on the other hand, had 11 penalties (including 9 in the second half). Trojan cornerback Brian Kelly had a game-high 11 tackles (along with 2 deflections), while Knight and linebacker Scott Fields added 7 stops each.

The Pacific-10 Rose Bowl representative shall be that member's team with the best record in the loss and tie columns (a tie being counted as one-half loss) in all Conference games. If, however, the lowest loss-tie totals of two or more members are identical, determination of the Rose Bowl representative shall be as follows:

a. Two-Team Tie. If the tied teams played one another, the winner of their game shall be the representative. If they tied or did not play one another, if either team is ranked first or second inthe nation in the Associated Press or the USA Today/ESPN American Football Coaches Association which immediately follow the final regular-season game played by the Conference's members, then it shall be the Rose Bowl representative. If they tied or did not play and are not so ranked, then the following formula shall be used:

(1) Count 4 points for a Conference win.

(2) Count 3 points for a non-Conference win against a Division I-A team.

(3) Count 2 points for a non-Conference win against a non-Division I-A team.

(4) Count 2 points for a Conference tie.

(5) Count 1 1/2 points for a non-Conference tie against a Division 1-A team.

(6) Count 1 point for a non-Conference tie against a non-Division 1-A team.

The team with the highest point total for all games shall be the Rose Bowl representative.

If a tie remains, the last team appearing in the Rose Bowl shall be eliminated.

b. Multiple Ties. When three or more teams are tied in the loss-tie column in Conference play, if one has defeated all others, that team shall be the Rose Bowl representative. If that is not the case, and one of the teams is ranked first or second in the nation in the Associated Press or the USA Today/ESPN American Football Coaches Association which immediately follow the final regular-season game played by the Conference's members, then it shall be the Rose Bowl representative. If that is not the case, a team defeated by all other tied teams shall be eliminated. If one team has not defeated the others, the point formula above shall be computed. Only the top two teams on the point system shall thereafter be considered. If a tie for the second position occurs upon application of the point formula, the second team shall be the winner of the game between the tied teams, or, if the teams did not play each other or played a tie game, the team which has not played in the Rose Bowl for the longest period of time shall be the second team. If the remaining two teams played one another, the winner shall be the representative. If they tied or did not play one another, the team with the highest point total for all games shall be the Rose Bowl representative as in paragraph "a" above. If a tie remains, the last team appearing in the Rose Bowl shall be eliminated.

NOTES: Teams ineligible to participate in the Rose Bowl shall not be included in the tie-breaking formula. Games in Alaska or Hawaii shall not be counted in the point system if they are "12th games" permitted under NCAA legislation. Participation in the NACDA Kickoff Classic or the Pigskin Classic shall not be counted in the point system.

Pac-10 Bowl Arrangements

College football enters a new era in 1998 as the Pac-10, Big Ten and Rose Bowl become associated with the Bowl Championship Series or BCS (formerly known as the Bowl Alliance).

For the 1998 season, the Pac-10 champion will take its accustomed place in the Rose Bowl, unless it is ranked as one of the top 2 teams in the nation at the conclusion of the regular season. In that case, the Pac-10 champ would play in the National Championship Game (this season at the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl). If so, the Rose Bowl will fill that berth with another team from the BCS pool. That could be a second Pac-10 team, but would not necessarily be so.

Regardless of the disposition of the Pac-10 champ, a second Pac-10 team may be selected for an at-large berth in the BCS in any given year. Pac-10 agreements with its other bowl partners provide for that occurence. Such an at-large selection of a second Pac-10 team would be dependent upon its attrativeness and the status of teams which have certain assurances of BCS participation, including Notre Dame and teams from non-BCS conferences.

Agreements are in place with the Southwestern Bell Cotton, Plymouth Holiday, Norwest Sun and Jeep Aloha bowls to place 3 other Pac-10 teams in bowls (besides the Pac-10 champ).

A second Pac-10 team (not necessarily the second-place team) will go to either the Cotton or Holiday Bowl. Four teams are involved in this 2-bowl parlay: Pac-10 #2, WAC #1, and Big 12 #2 and #3. Big 12 #2 will anchor the Cotton Bowl and Big 12 #3 will anchor the Holiday Bowl. The Cotton Bowl will have first choice between Pac-10 #2 and WAC #1. The remaining choice will participate in the Holiday Bowl. Should a team involved in this parlay be selected for teh BCS, another team from that conference would fill the empty berth.

The Sun Bowl receives the highest remaining team in the Pac-10 standings. If there is a tie for that position, the Sun Bowl has the right to select from the tied teams.

A fourth Pac-10 team (not necessarily the fourth-place team) will be selected by the Aloha Bowl.

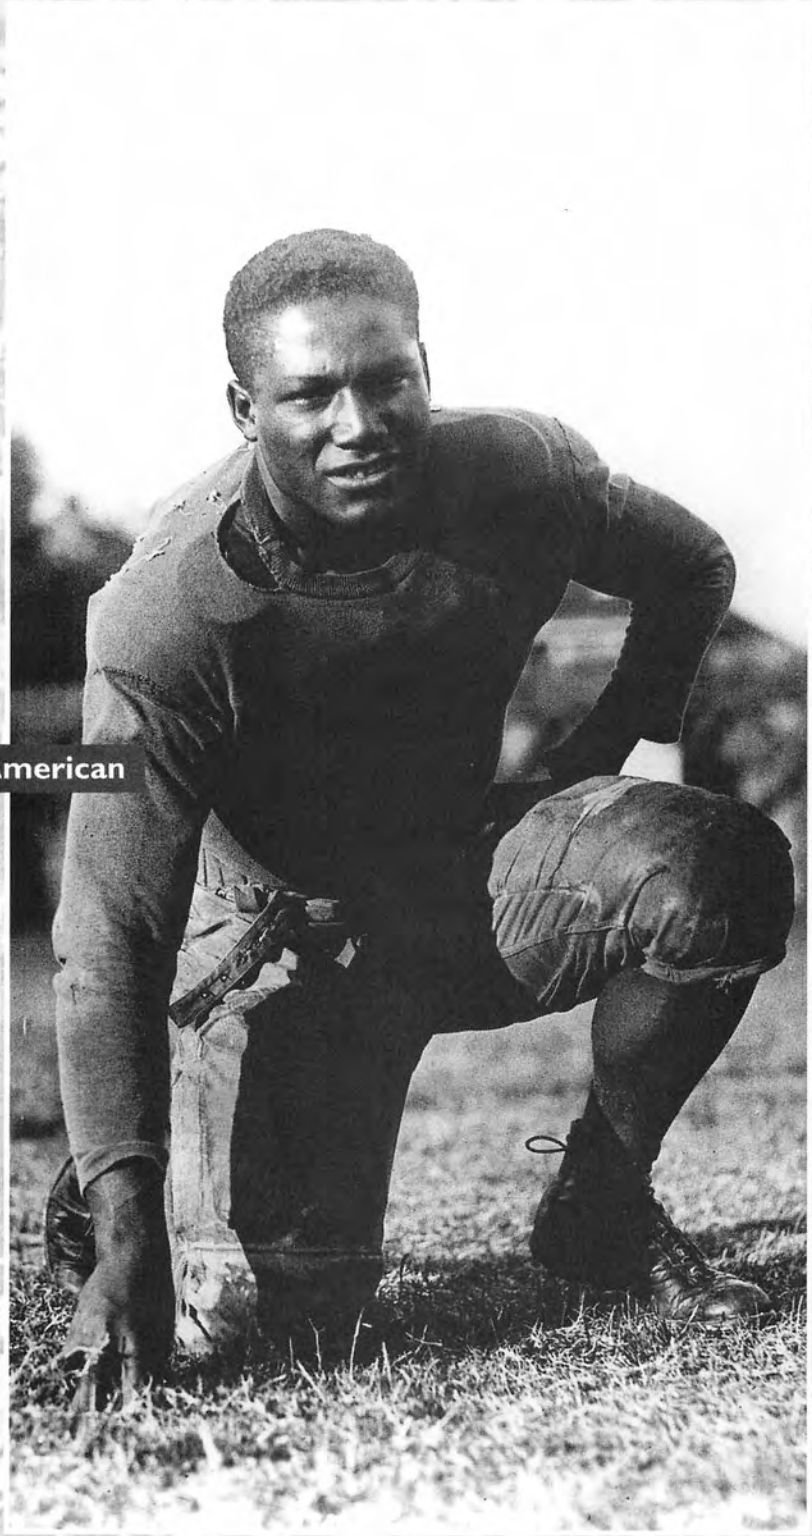
HONORS AND AWARD WINNERS



Brice Taylor – USC's First All-American

USC'S ALL-AMERICANS

The following is a complete listing of all USC football players who have ever received first team All-American honors. Although there are several teams selected throughout the country, the NCAA now recognizes only six in determining whether a player is a unanimous or consensus choice--AP, Football Coaches Association, Football Writers Association, the Walter Camp Foundation, The Sporting News and Football News.

From 1962 to 1990, USC had at least one first team All-American every year. From 1972 to 1987, there was at least one consensus All-American Trojan every year. Also, there have been an amazing 26 first team All-American Trojan offensive linemen since 1964.

1965

Two-time All-American Mike Garrett was the man who began the great legacy of USC's I-formation tailbacks.

He was the Trojans' first — and only the West Coast's second — Heisman winner when he whipped an outstanding field of candidates in 1965.

Mike set 14 NCAA, conference and USC records in his three-year career, including an NCAA career rushing record of 3,221 yards in the days when 1,000-yard-a-season rushers were almost non-existent. He later starred for the Kansas City Chiefs and San Diego Chargers.

O.J. SIMPSON

O.J. Simpson became USC's second Heisman Trophy winner in 1968 when he captured the award by the most one-sided margin in history.

During the regular 1968 season, O.J. established an NCAA record for yards rushing — 1,709 — in a single season (since bettered). A two-time unanimous All-American, he equaled or bettered 19 NCAA, conference and USC records.

Simpson also held the NFL single season rushing record of 2,003 yards set in 1973 and finished his 11-year pro career as the second leading NFL career rusher.

A two-year unanimous All-American, White set or equaled 22 NCAA, Pac-10, USC and Rose Bowl records. He gained over 100 yards 31 times in his career, including 10 times in 1979.

In that senior season, Charlie averaged 186.4 yards a game, 6.2 yards a carry, led the nation in rushing, and, for the second straight season, led it in all-purpose running.

Marcus Allen, USC's fourth Heisman Trophy winner, was college football's first 2,000-yard rusher.

When he captured the award in 1981, Marcus set 14 new NCAA records and tied two others, including most yards rushing in a single season (2,342), highest per-game average (212.9), most 200-yard games in a career (11), most 200-yard games in a season (8) and most 200-yard games in a row (5).

Playboy Pre-Season All-Americans

USC has landed more players on the prestigious Playboy Magazine pre-season college All-American football team than any other university. Since Playboy first picked a team in 1957, there have been 54 Trojan players selected, as well as 1 Coach of the Year and 1 Scholar-Athlete. Not including the 1998 picks, Notre Dame is next with 40 selections (plus 1 Coach of the Year), followed by Michigan with 38, Oklahoma with 31 (plus 2 Coaches of the Year) and Nebraska with 30 (plus 2 Coaches of the Year and 1 Scholar-Athlete). During a 16-year period (1972 through 1987), at least 1 Trojan player was selected annually to the Playboy squad. On 4 different occasions (1970-76-79-80), 3 USC players made that year's Playboy team. USC'sTony Boselli, who was selected in 1992-93-94, is the first 3-time Playboy selection from any school.

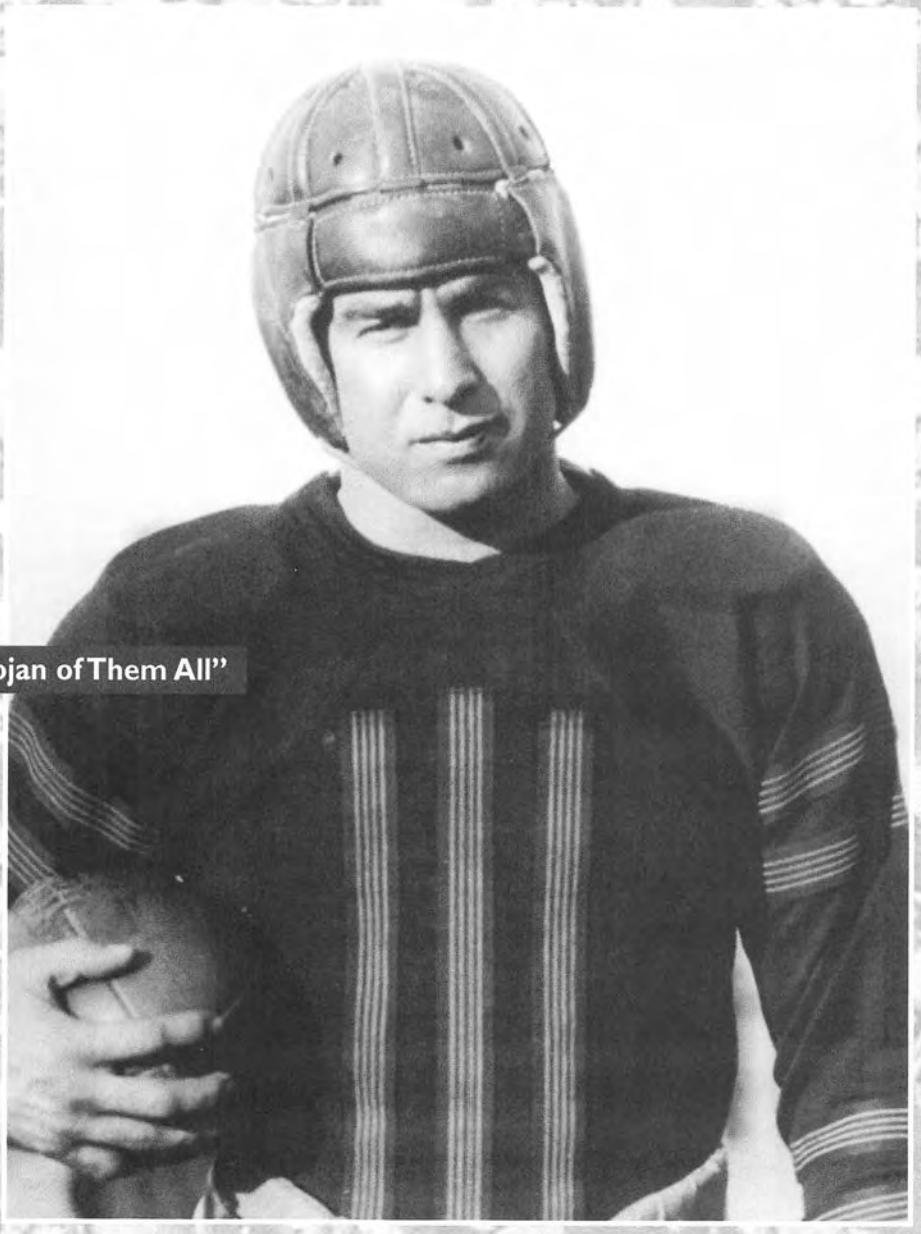
TROJAN FOOTBALL

USC LETTERMEN



Morley Drury – "The Noblest Trojan of Them All"

ALL-TIME LETTERWINNERS

Various standards have been used to determine USC letterwinners over the years, but since 1976, squad members who have played at least 30 minutes have been listed here as lettermen. There have been many exceptions to that rule, including kickers and others who contributed significantly to the team's success without playing 30 minutes.

In addition, senior squad members who have been on the team for several years have generally been awarded letters for their senior season, as long as they appeared in at least one game. This has been a long-standing policy.

The list is confined to lettermen who actually played on USC's varsity teams of American Rules Football, and does not include individuals who lettered only in rugby.

Positions, heights, and weights are generally those listed in USC publications and other sources in the player's final letterwinning year. Positions are primarily listed in the terminology of the era in which the letterwinner played. "Hometowns" by longstanding custom are usually the places from which players came to USC, and are located in California unless noted. Parenthetical notations contain a letterwinner's high school, and junior or senior college, attended before USC, where known, and are in the state of the letterman's hometown, unless noted. This list was expanded by Michael J. Glenn (with input from Gary Wright). USC appreciates their invaluable efforts.

A Note on USC's Records

The records material on these pages has been compiled from a number of sources. Although official national individual records commenced only in 1937 (nearly 50 years after USC's first team), USC's game-by-game records generally extend back to the mid-1920s. Newspaper accounts of individual games, including some extraordinary individual performances, date back to 1889. Unfortunately, for some games in USC's first 20 years, only the final result has survived to the present.

These records have been compiled by USC's Sports Information Office (previously known as the Athletic News Service), particularly the sports information directors listed elsewhere in this guide. Special mention should be made of the efforts of Tom Lawless, Dick Nash, Harley Tinkham, Chuck Weinstock, Al Wesson, Deke Houlgate, H.D. Thoreau and Mike Glenn.

*-This was the only field goal that Decius kicked for USC; yet his record stood for 64 years. Decius also held the record for most field goals in a single game against USC. Playing for Los Angeles High School, Decius, on Oct. 10, 1908, kicked three field goals (then worth four points each), two from the 35-yard line near the sidelines and one from the 27-yard line. That record, tied several times, stood for 65 years, until Nov. 10, 1973, when Rod Garcia kicked four field goals for Stanford against USC.

USC VS. HEISMAN WINNERS

John Lujack – 1947
Notre Dame 38, USC 7
Irish quarterback Lujack completed 5-of-7 passes for 59 yards and no TDs, but it was his interception and 37-yard return of a Trojan pass that led to a score. Eventual national champion Notre Dame knocked off No. 3-ranked USC, 38-7, at the Coliseum.

Leon Hart – 1949
Notre Dame 32, USC 0
Hart scored on a 36-yard pass for Notre Dame's first score as the top-ranked Irish rolled to a 32-0 win in South Bend over the No. 17 Trojans. It was USC's worst loss in the series at the time.

John Lattner – 1953
Notre Dame 48, USC 14
Lattner set then-series records by scoring 4 touchdowns and rushing for 157 yards in No. 2 Notre Dame's 48-14 victory over No. 20 USC in the Coliseum.

Paul Hornung – 1956
USC 28, Notre Dame 20
Hornung, who played quarterback during his Heisman Trophy season, switched to halfback against USC because of painful injuries to both thumbs. His 95-yard kickoff return and PAT in the third quarter drew the Irish to within a point, 21-20. Hornung accounted for 215 all-purpose yards in the Coliseum game.

John Huarte – 1964
USC 20, Notre Dame 17
Huarte completed 18-of-29 passes and threw a touchdown pass in leading top-ranked Notre Dame to a 17-0 lead. But unranked USC rallied to score 20 second-half points to upset the Irish, 20-17, in Los Angeles. It was Ara Parseghian's first loss as Irish coach.

Gary Beban – 1967
USC 21, UCLA 20
With the national championship and a trip to the Rose Bowl on the line, Beban threw for 301 yards and 2 touchdowns for the top-ranked Bruins. The effort wasn't enough as O.J. Simpson, USC's 1968 Heisman winner, scored on a 64-yard TD to give the No. 4-ranked Trojans a 21-20 win.

Jim Plunkett – 1970
Stanford 24, USC 14
Plunkett ended No. 4-ranked USC's hopes of a fifth straight Rose Bowl trip by completing 19-of-31 passes for 274 yards and a score in No. 12-ranked Stanford's 24-14 win at Palo Alto. The loss ended USC's 25-game unbeaten string in regular season play.

Archie Griffin – 1974
USC 18, Ohio State 17
In the 1975 Rose Bowl, Griffin fumbled twice and was held to 75 yards and no TDs, as USC rallied to take an 18-17 win. The victory over the No. 3-ranked Buckeyes gave USC its seventh national title.

George Rogers – 1980
USC 23, South Carolina 13
Rogers broke free for a 34-yard touchdown in the fourth quarter in Los Angeles as part of a 141-yard rushing game. But it was Marcus Allen, USC's 1981 Heisman Trophy winner, who rushed for 104 yards and 2 touchdowns to give USC a 23-13 win in its home opener.

Tim Brown – 1987
Notre Dame 26, USC 15
Brown was held to 4 catches for 46 yards, but it was his 5-yard run in the second quarter that put the Irish up 17-3 in South Bend. Notre Dame's seventh Heisman winner rushed 5 times for 41 yards in the Irish's 26-15 win.

USC ON TELEVISION

USC's football team — perhaps the true "America's Team" — has appeared on live national, regional or local telecasts 247 times over the years, including 159 times on commercial network television. USC's overall record while playing on live television is 155-83-9 (the mark is 92-63-6 for commercial network telecasts only). USC set a national record in 1987 by appearing on 6 live national regular-season network telecasts. USC had an amazing streak of 111 consecutive games on some form of live television (from the 1988 Oregon State game through the 1997 Stanford game).

Trojan games have always been among the top — if not the top — attractions among live televised college football games. In fact, over the 10-year period from 1972 to 1981, USC posted the highest average television rating of any school, according to figures released by the NCAA which were compiled by the A.C. Nielsen Co. rating service. During that span, USC averaged a 15.6 rating on its 24 live regular-season ABC national and regional telecasts. A rating indicates the percentage of all U.S. households that are tuned to a game. Currently, each rating point equals 1% of the nation's 97 million TV households. A 10.0 rating is considered above average.

In a December 1988 ranking by Sports Inc., the USC-Notre Dame game recorded 5 of the 12 all-time highest college football TV ratings. The 1968 USC-ND encounter was the highest rated college football telecast ever (22.9 rating). The other USC-ND clashes in the top 12 include 1970-74-72-64.

Of the 12 highest rated games ever, according to Sports Inc., USC was involved in more than any other school: 7 (besides those 5 Notre Dame games, the others were the UCLA encounters of 1973 and 1967). Incidentally, USC was 6-0-1 in those games.

As further proof of USC's television appeal, Sports Inc. listed Troy as the top drawing team from 1974 to 1983 (the 10 years prior to the U.S. Supreme Court ruling which deregulated the TV marketplace) with an average rating of 14.49 on 24 telecasts (more than a full rating point higher than No. 2 Notre Dame). After deregulation (from 1984 to 1989) and with the proliferation of telecasts, USC was still in the Top 10, ranking ninth with a 6.07 average rating on 25 appearances (less than 2 points behind the leader).

Below is a list of the USC football team's appearances on live television. Listed along with the year and the opponent are the score; the network, syndicator or station that televised the contest; whether the telecast was national, regional or local; and, if available, the Nielsen rating. An asterisk (*) indicates a home game. USC was not eligible to appear on live television in the 1983 and 1985 regular seasons because of an NCAA ban.

The largest single-game crowd in USC history was the estimated 120,000 at Soldier Field in Chicago for the 1927 USC-Notre Dame game. The largest USC home crowd was 104,953 for the 1947 USC-Notre Dame game in the Coliseum. The largest USC post-season bowl game crowd was 106,869 at the 1973 Rose Bowl in Pasadena (USC versus Ohio State), which is an NCAA bowl game record. In all, USC has played before at least 45,399,070 people since it first started playing football in 1888.

In 1988, USC not only set a school record for home attendance average per game (76,063, which ranked eighth best in the nation), but Troy also registered the greatest increase in average home attendance of any school in the nation that year (up 22,416 per game over 1987). That increase was 7,996 more than the next closest school.

*Coliseum record for a football game.

The Coliseum seating capacity was reduced to 92,516 in 1964 (although temporary seats were added for the 1965 UCLA and 1988 Notre Dame games, hence the larger crowds then). In 1993, stadium renovation increased the Coliseum capacity to 94,159, but that figure was reduced in 1995 to 92,000. The largest crowd for a non-UCLA/non-Notre Dame game since 1964 was 86,124 for Oklahoma in 1988.

TROJAN FOOTBALL

USC: PIPELINE TO THE PROS

With its outstanding football heritage, it's no surprise that USC usually has more players in the pros than any other university.

At the start of training camp this summer, there were 40 ex-Trojans on National Football League rosters, including 5 rookies. In fact, USC players were on the rosters of 21 of the NFL's 30 teams. Most of the Trojans were either offensive linemen (9) or defensive backs (7).

In 1997, there were 31 Trojans on opening day NFL rosters; only 8 universities had more players (since records are available, USC has been No. 1 in 17 of the last 22 years).

USC has had three of the most highly drafted classes in college football history. The 1953 class (following the 1952 season) had 15 players drafted while both the 1975 and 1977 classes had 14 players selected. USC has had more first round NFL draft picks (58) than any school (Notre Dame is next with 56). USC had the most picks of any school in the 1990 NFL draft, with 10. USC's 11 first round picks in the 1990s is tied for third most in the nation with Tennessee (behind Florida State's 13 and Ohio State's 12). In the decade of the 1980s, Troy had more first round picks than any school (16). USC's 5 first round picks in the 1968 draft is an NFL record. Only Notre Dame (with 5) has had more players selected as the top pick of the NFL draft than USC's 4 (Ron Yary in 1968, O.J. Simpson in 1969, Ricky Bell in 1977 and Keyshawn Johnson in 1996). USC is the only school to have the No. 1 pick for 2 consecutive years (Yary and Simpson).

In a 1985 Sports Illustrated poll of NFL player personnel directors, USC was ranked first overall among all schools in preparing college players for the pros. By position, USC received top marks for preparing running backs, offensive linemen and tight ends.

In a Dec. 1994 College Sports magazine ranking of the schools which have been the top sources over the years of football talent by position (on a combined college and NFL level), USC was listed first at running backs, offensive linemen and defensive backs, and third at linebackers.

TROJANS IN THE NFL DRAFT

Listing includes NFL drafts from 1936-1998 (which followed the 1935-1997 collegiate seasons). From 1960-1966, both the NFL and AFL had drafts and this listing includes both drafts because the AFL later merged with the NFL. (F) indicates "future selection," based on an old NFL rule prior to 1967 in which a player could be chosen if his class had graduated, even if he hadn't completed his eligibility (he could be drafted after his fourth year and his rights would remain with the team which selected him even if he didn't sign for a year). The AFL held a separate "redshirt" (or futures) draft in 1965-1966 and it is also included in this listing.

First round draft picks are listed in CAPITAL LETTERS. The "overall draft selection" figures were not available prior to 1967, however players are listed in correct order of selection in those years (except for the 1960 AFL draft, in which no round-by-round records were available). The positions listed are those projected by the pros at the time of selection.

List compiled with the assistance of Beau Riffenburgh, NFL Properties.

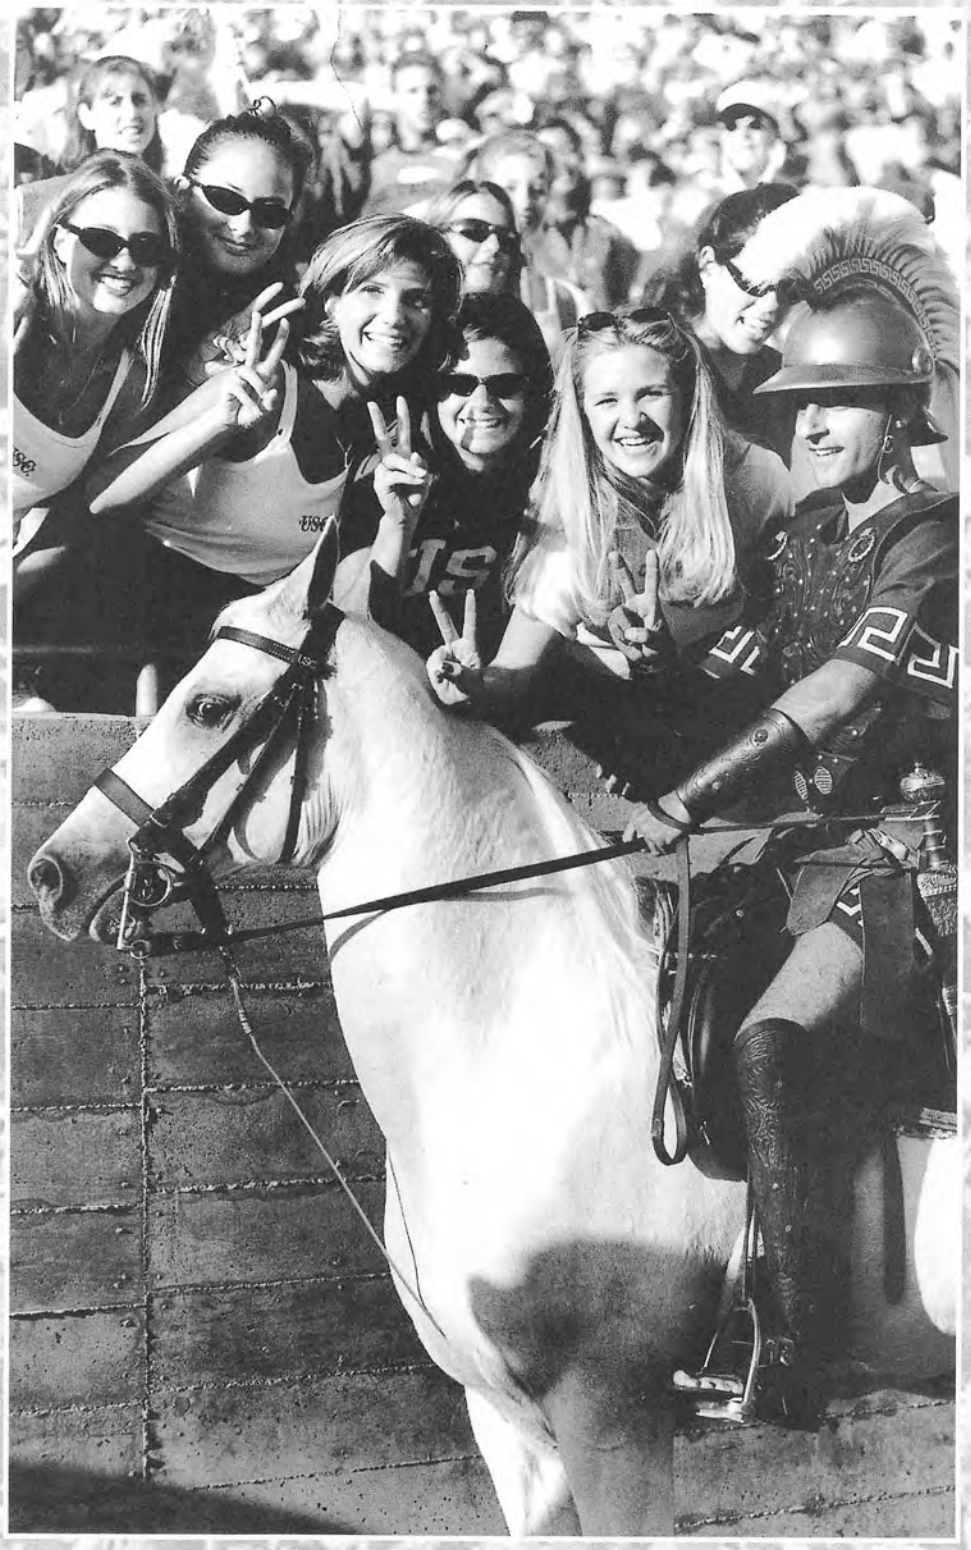
TROJAN TIDBITS



TROJAN TRIVIA

AFTER TIES — USC is 36-14-4 in games immediately following a tie. The Trojans have won the last 13 contests they have played after a tie, dating to 1968.

ARTIFICIAL TURF — USC is 10-2-1 in its last 13 games on artificial turf.

BIG TEN COMPETITION — USC has won 22 of its last 30 games (and 29 of its last 38) against Big Ten opponents. USC has twice played 3 consecutive games against Big Ten teams: Northwestern in the 1996 Rose Bowl, then Penn State and Illinois in 1996, and Indiana in the 1968 Rose Bowl, then Minnesota and Northwestern in 1968. There have been 5 times (1962-68-72-76-89) when USC has faced 3 Big Ten teams during a single season, although not consecutively.

BOUNCE BACK — USC has had back-to-back non-winning seasons just 11 times in its 105-year gridiron history, most recently in 1960 and 1961.

DIAMONDS — During 1992 and 1993, USC played 4 games in a stadium with a baseball field (Troy opened 1992 in Jack Murphy Stadium in San Diego, then played in Anaheim Stadium in the 1992 Freedom Bowl, 1993 Disneyland Pigskin Classic and 1993 Freedom Bowl). Before then, the last time USC played on a baseball field was in 1961, when the Coliseum was home to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

DOMES — USC is 3-0 inside domed stadiums, beating Washington State in Seattle's Kingdome in 1976, Texas A&M in the 1977 Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston's Astrodome, and Houston in the Astrodome in 1996.

EARLY BIRDS — USC's Aug. 25 opener in 1996 marked the earliest that Troy's season has opened in the modern era. (The earliest that USC's season has ended was Nov. 13, 1909.) USC's latest season opener was Dec. 7, 1901 and its latest home opener was Dec. 14, 1918 (USC didn't play any home games in 1900 or 1901).

GOLDEN GRIDDERS — Two football lettermen have won Olympic gold medals: Fred Kelly (1914,15,16) in the high hurdles in the 1912 Games (he is USC's first gold medalist) and Ken Carpenter (1934,37) in the discus in the 1936 Games. Although 2-time gold medalist Quincy Watts (400 meters and 1600 meter relay in the 1992 Olympics) never lettered in football, he was a receiver on the 1990 Trojans (he didn't get into a game).

GOOD BYES — USC is 72-39-4 in all regular season games it has played following byes. Since 1955, the Trojans are 33-10-1 following byes (5 of those losses and the tie were to UCLA). USC had 3 regular-season byes in 1996, the first time that had happened since 1935.

GRID/HOOPS — USC is 11-7-1 against schools that won the NCAA men's basketball title the previous year.

HOLLYWOOD TROJANS — Among the Trojan footballers who gained fame on the silver screen are: John Wayne (he played tackle in 1925-26 under his real name, Marion Morrison), Ward Bond (a 1928-30 letterman best known for his role in "Wagon Train"), Mike Henry (a tackle from 1956-58 who played Tarzan), Tim Rossovich (a 1967 All-American defensive end who has been a supporting actor in various movies), O.J. Simpson (the 1968 Heisman Trophy winner starred in many TV and motion picture films), Anthony Davis (the 1974 All-American tailback was in various movies), Patrick Muldoon (a walk-on tight end in the mid-1980s who stars in soaps, including "Melrose Place," and films), Brian Turk (a lineman in the late 1980s who has appeared in various TV sitcoms and commercials), Shane Foley (the quarterback who lettered in 1989-90 has been in various TV commericals) and Nick Pappas (the ex-USC player, assistant coach and assistant athletic director doubled for Pat O'Brien as Knute Rockne in the football scenes of "Knute Rockne — All-American"). Also, Irvine "Cotton" Warburton (an All-American back in 1933) won an Oscar for film editing on "Mary Poppins," while Aaron Rosenberg (a 2-time All-American guard in 1932-33) was a well-known TV and movie producer and Jess Hibbs (a 2-time All-American tackle in 1927-28) was a prominent film and TV director. Producers Hilton Green (a team manager) and Barney Rosenzweig (a Yell Leader) also were associated with the Trojan football program .

HOMECOMING — USC has a 48-22-4 record in its Homecoming games, dating back to the first such event in 1924.

IMPROVEMENT — USC's best one-season improvement of its record was +6, as the 1962 national champion Trojans went from 4-5-1 in 1961 to 11-0.

IN FLORIDA — USC has never won a football game in Florida, going 0-3 there.

IRISH REBOUNDS — USC is 6-10-1 versus Notre Dame when Troy was coming off a loss to UCLA. The wins were in 1950-55-70-80-82-96, the losses were in 1946-51-53-54-57-59-66-84-86-92, and the tie was in 1994.

ND COACHES — USC is 4-3 in games when a Notre Dame coach was coaching the final regular-season game in his Irish career, with the Trojan wins coming in the past 4 such occasions (1996 with Lou Holtz, 1980 with Dan Devine, 1974 with Ara Parseghian and 1962 with Joe Kuharich).

NOS. 35 AND 55 — In recent years, the No. 35 jersey has been handed down to a "stereotypical" inside linebacker. The chain of succession: Riki Gray (Ellison), Rex Moore, Scott Ross, Jeff Kopp and Taso Papadakis. The No. 55 has gone to the prototype outside or inside linebacker (Junior Seau, Willie McGinest, Israel Ifeanyi, Chris Claiborne).

O-LINE — There have been 26 first team All-American offensive linemen from USC since 1964 and 19 Trojan offensive linemen have been first round NFL draft picks since 1968.

USC's record for home openers is 78-18-7 (.791). In road openers,

USC is 68-25-8 (.713).

Incidentally, in games immediately following USC's 30 non-winning openers, Troy is 20-7-4, including wins 13 of the past 14 times (dating to 1960).

PRO BASEBALL/FOOTBALL — Two Trojans have played both major league baseball and professional football. Morris "Red" Badgro played baseball with the Browns (1929-30) and football with the New York Yankess (1927), New York Giants (1930-35) and Brooklyn (1936). Rex Johnston was with Pittsburgh's baseball Pirates (1964) and football Steelers (1960).

RAIN — USC has an 18-20-2 record in games in which it rained during a major portion of the contest. USC's last such rain game was at Notre Dame in 1995 (USC lost, 38-10).

RAIN OUT — The final 2:36 of USC's 1990 win (35-26) at Ohio State was suspended by game officials when a heavy rainstorm with thunder and lightning hit.

SAME STADIUM — USC's 1992 season finale and its 1993 opener, both in Anaheim Stadium, marked the first time that Troy played 2 straight games in the same stadium (besides the Coliseum) since 1935, when it played Kamehamaha High's Alumni and the University of Hawai'i in the same Honolulu location.

SEASON ENDERS — USC is 57-38-10 in all season finales.

SELLOUT — USC's last home sellout was the 1997 UCLA game.

SNOW — The last time USC played in snow was on Nov. 30, 1957 at Notre Dame (the Irish won, 40-12). The temperature was 20 degrees. The 1965 USC-Notre Dame game in South Bend was played in sleet and rain (the Irish won that one, too, 28-7).

STREAK BUSTERS — USC has twice "busted" an opponent's 20-plus game winning streak: beating Tennessee in the 1940 Rose Bowl to end the Volunteers' 23-game streak and tying Notre Dame in 1948 to end the Irish's 21-game streak. Conversely, USC's school-record 25-game winning streak was stopped by Oregon State in 1933.

3 FOR THE ROAD — 1992 was the first time that USC started a season with 3 road games in a row (in 1918 Troy began with 2 on the road and 1 at a neutral site, while in 1900 USC opened with 2 at a neutral site and 1 road game).

1,000-YARD RUNNERS — USC is second behind North Carolina for most 1,000-yard runners in a season, 25-20. Troy's last rusher to break the 1,000-yard barrier was running back Delon Washington in 1995, with 1,109 yards.

In order of appearance, USC has played in California, Washington, Utah, Arizona, Oregon, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Hawai'i, Ohio, Louisiana, Maryland, New York, Minnesota, Texas, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Colorado, Oklahoma, Florida, Nebraska, Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Tennessee, Missouri, South Carolina, Japan, Massachusetts, and New Jersey.

TRICK OR TREAT — USC's record is 5-5 in games played on Halloween.

TURNAROUNDS — In 105 seasons of USC football, the Trojans have lost 4 or more games 31 times. But following 8 of those 4-plus loss seasons, USC "turned it around" to win the Rose Bowl the next year (1938-43-62-67-72-76-78-84).

VERSUS NO. 1 — USC is 7-11 all-time versus teams ranked No. 1 in the AP poll.

LOS ANGELES MEMORIAL COLISEUM

The 1998 season marks the 75th anniversary of USC football in the Coliseum!

The Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum is one of the greatest — and largest — stadiums in America. It combines the traditional and the modern into a premier athletic environment.

USC has played football in the Coliseum ever since the grand stadium was built in 1923. In fact, the Trojans played in the first football game ever held there (beating Pomona College, 23-7, on Oct. 6, 1923).

Construction on the Coliseum took less than 2 years, with ground breaking ceremonies held on Dec. 21, 1921, and work completed on May 1, 1923. Initial construction costs were $800,000.

The Coliseum was the site of the 1932 Olympic Games and hosted the opening and closing ceremonies and track events of the 1984 Olympics. Over the years, the Coliseum has been home to many sports teams besides the Trojans, including UCLA football, Los Angeles Rams and Raiders football, and Los Angeles Dodgers baseball. The Coliseum has hosted various other events, from concerts and speeches to track meets and motorcycle races.

There have been only 7 seasons — 1923-24-25-95-96-97-98 — that USC was the stadium's sole football tenant.

Prior to the 1993 football season, the Coliseum underwent a $15 million renovation. The Coliseum's floor was lowered 11 feet and the running track was removed to create a more intimate stadium. Fourteen new rows of seats (approximately 8,000 seats) were added down low, bringing fans closer to the playing field (the first rows of seats between the goalposts are a maximum of 54 feet from the sideline, instead of the previous 120 feet). During this renovation, the lockerrooms and public restrooms were also upgraded.

Southern California's damaging January, 1994 earthquake hit the Coliseum hard, requiring some $93 million of repairs. And, in the summer of 1995, a new $6 million press box was constructed.

The Coliseum has a present full-capacity of 92,000 seats (almost all are chair-back seats). However, for most USC games, a retractable fabric covers many seats, bringing the Coliseum's capacity to about 68,000. There are approximately 25,000 seats from goal line to goal line, including both the north and south sides.

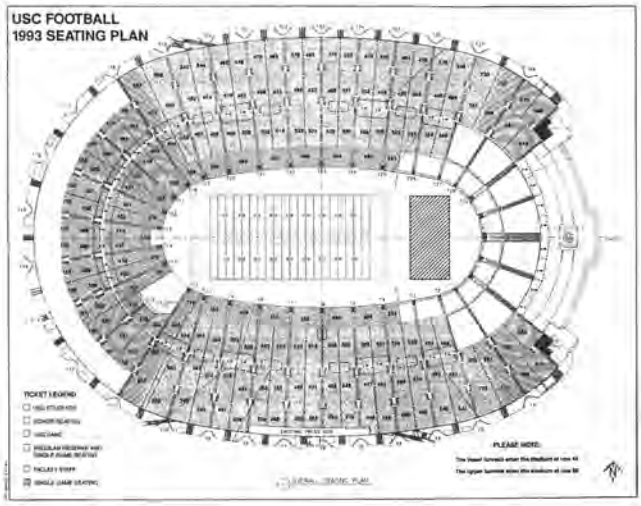
The Coliseum is located on 17 acres in Exposition Park, which also houses museums, gardens and the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

The Coliseum's general offices are located at the south side of the peristyle end and are open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on game day. The USC Game Management Office on game day only is at the north side of the peristyle end. The will call booth is located outside the fence at Gate 4. Identification is required to claim tickets left under a specific name. The booth opens three hours prior to kickoff and closes at the end of the first quarter.

The first aid station is located on the concourse opposite Stairway 6. A Goodhew ambulance is available at the Coliseum to transport cases requiring further treatment. Paramedics are stationed at Tunnels 6, 14, 29 and Stairway 23. Doctors expecting an emergency call must register their seat location at the Coliseum office. A messenger will be sent to notify doctors of emergency calls; doctors will not be paged over the public address system.

The police substation is located at Tunnel 14 and is manned by LAPD officers from the Southwest Division. There are also roaming officers and T-shirted security personnel working in and around the Coliseum.

Items that are found should be taken to the Administrative Office at the peristyle end or to the police substation at Tunnel 14. People who have lost something should check back at the Administrative Office a couple of days after the event to see if it has been found.



HERITAGE HALL

Heritage Hall, which sits in the middle of the University of Southern California campus, houses the University's athletic department and celebrates the glorious Trojan athletic heritage. USC has produced more Olympic athletes, is second in the country in national team championships, and developed the third most NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship recipients of any university.

Originally 48,000 square feet and built at a cost of $2.8 million, the 3-level brick and concrete colonnaded building opened in 1971. Heritage Hall was designed by Grillias, Savage and Alves of Santa Ana, Calif. Myers Brothers Construction Company, Inc., of Los Angeles was the general contractor. Initial construction began in Feb. 5, 1970. It has been expanded three times: in 1984 (a 6,000-square foot addition to the weight room), in 1992 (a 13,500-square foot expansion that houses the Academic Resource Center) and in 1998 (a 3,000-square foot addition to the newly-renamed Jess Hill Weight Room). Heritage Hall is located close to USC's various athletic practice and competition on-campus facilities.

Between the north and south wings on the building's ground level are some of USC's numerous athletic trophies, including various NCAA team championships, 4 Heisman Trophies and the jerseys of Troy's winners (Mike Garrett, O.J. Simpson, Charles White, Marcus Allen), swimmer John Naber's Sullivan Award, and displays honoring 1992 Olympic gold medalist 400-meter runner Quincy Watts and USC's 1998 College World Series champion baseball team. There are also busts of USC athletic directors Willis O. Hunter and Jess Hill, football coaches Howard Jones and John McKay, and track coach Dean Cromwell, as well as one of actor John Wayne (who played football at USC in the 1920s under his real name, Marion Morrison). A video display highlights USC's football history. Wall plaques acknowledge special financial contributors to the USC athletic program. The north wing houses a 200-seat auditorium and a formal lounge, while some coaches and administrators have offices in the south wing. A patio area extends outside to the west (placed in the patio floor are plaques commemorating the members of USC's Athletic Hall of Fame).

Heritage Hall's upper level is the home to many administrative and coaches' offices (located on the south "Jess Hill Wing" and north "John McKay Wing," respectively). The Honors Rail, which encircles the open-air foyer above the first floor lobby, has bronze medallions saluting every Trojan who won an Olympic gold medal, captured an NCAA individual championship, or was named a first team All-American in an NCAA sport in which there are no individual champions (i.e. football, basketball, baseball, volleyball, water polo). Also on the second floor are busts of USC football running backs Morley Drury ("The Noblest Trojan of Them All") and Ricky Bell. Like on the ground floor, tucked in alcoves on both ends of this floor are other athletic trophies and team displays.

HERITAGE HALL

The underground lower level of Heritage Hall houses various locker rooms, plus the equipment room, medical training room, weight room, and the Academic Resource Center (which features tutoring, counseling, study and computer rooms for USC's student-athletes).

Because of space limitations, USC's golf, swimming, water polo and women's soccer coaches are located in the nearby Kennedy Aquatics Building, while the baseball staff has offices at Dedeaux Field.

Outside the northwest corner of Heritage Hall, the new $3-million Galen Center— a dining and activity center — will open in the fall of 1998.

TRAVELER, USC'S MASCOT

Traveler, the noble white horse that appears at all USC home football games with a regal Trojan warrior astride, is one of the most famous college mascots.

Ardeshir Radpour — a 1993 USC graduate and former member of the USC polo team — is the current rider of Traveler, having taken over that job in 1996. He was chosen by Patricia Saukko, the owner of Traveler.

Traveler first made an appearance at USC football games in 1961 (in the home opener versus Georgia Tech). Bob Jani, then USC's director of special events, and Eddie Tannenbaum, then a junior at USC, had spotted Richard Saukko riding his white horse, Traveler I, in the 1961 Rose Parade. They persuaded Saukko to ride his white horse around the Coliseum during USC games, serving as a mascot. Ever since, whenever USC scores, the band plays "Conquest" and Traveler gallops around the Coliseum.

Because of poor health, Saukko stopped riding after the 1988 season. His successors have been alumni: Cass Dabbs, Rick Oas, Tom Nolan and, currently, Radpour. (Saukko passed away in March of 1992).

The current Trojan mascot is Traveler V, an 8-year-old Andalusian gelding who first appeared during the 1997 season. Even though the breed of horse may have changed over the years — Travelers I through IV ranged from an Arabian/Tennessee Walker to a pure-bred Tennessee Walker to a pure-bred Arabian — Traveler's color has always remained pure white.

Saukko first appeared on Traveler in the outfit that actor Charlton Heston wore in "Ben Hur." That proved to be too cumbersome, so Saukko crafted his own leather costume in 1962, modeled after the Tommy Trojan statue on the USC campus (that outfit is still being used). But he still sometimes wore Heston's helmet. Interestingly, Saukko was once employed by Jim Crowley, one of Notre Dame's "Four Horsemen."

Legend has it that Heisman Trophy tailback O.J. Simpson decided to come to USC after seeing Traveler on a televised football game. And Trojan faithful swear the horse has an effect on the outcome of games.

"(Former USC coach) John McKay didn't want to admit that the horse had anything to do with his success," said Saukko, "but he'd always give me a wink when he saw me waiting in the Coliseum tunnel."

Added former USC All-American defensive back and assistant coach Nate Shaw: "The horse is one of the greatest inspirational devices USC has. It definitely got the adrenaline going when I was playing and I think it still has an effect on the players. When I was coaching against USC (at Oregon State), we hated to see that horse come down the tunnel because it got USC a little more pumped up."

Traveler not only appears at Trojan home football games (and even at some away games, including the 1995 Cotton Bowl in Dallas, the farthest Traveler has traveled), but also at other Trojan events, as well as at grade and high schools, charity functions and parades (including the past 37 Rose Parades). Traveler has also appeared on screen (including "The Battle of the Gunfighter" and "Snowfire"), on stage (including in the Long Beach Ballet's "Nutcracker Ballet"), and in commercials.

TRAVELER & RIDER ARDESHIR RADPOUR

Incidentally, Traveler I was not the first equine mascot for Troy. The first appearance of a white horse at a Trojan football game occurred as early as 1927, when Louis Shields began a four-year stint aboard a horse owned by a local banker. In 1948, band director Tommy Walker once had USC colors carried by a Trojan on a palomino. Then, before kickoff of the 1954 USC-Pittsburgh game, Arthur J. Gontier III, then a member of the Trojan Knights spirit group (subbing for another rider who backed out at the last moment), shakily rode a rented gray/white horse while donning a costume once worn by actor Jeff Chandler. A more accomplished rider, USC alum Bob Caswell ,and his white horse, Rockazar, took over the following game and performed until retiring in 1959.

Besides these horses, USC once even had a canine mascot. A mutt named George Tirebiter I (famous for chasing cars through the USC campus) first appeared at football games in 1940. He survived a publicized dognapping by UCLA in 1947, but succumbed under the tires of an automobile in 1950. He was succeeded by George II for 3 years(1950-52), then George III for 1 year (1953) and finally George IV for 1 year (1957).

TROJAN TRADITIONS

Tommy Trojan

In the center of the USC campus stands one of the most famous collegiate landmarks in the country: Tommy Trojan. Since being unveiled in 1930 for USC's 50th jubilee, the statue of the bronzed Trojan warrior has served not only as a popular meeting place on campus, but as a symbol of the university's fighting spirit.

Sculpted by Roger Noble Burnham (the idea for the statue was conceived by Harry Lee Martin and Dr. James D. McCoy), Tommy Trojan cost $10,000 to build. A $1 surcharge then on season football tickets helped pay for it.

The statue is a composite of many USC football players from the late 20s, most notably 1930 Rose Bowl Player of the Game Russ Saunders and All-American Erny Pinckert.

"Burnham made more than 100 oil paintings of various football players from our squad," said Saunders, "and from them he selected the paintings of Pinckert and me. We put in a lot of hours posing, and the result you see is my head, chest and shoulders. The rest is all Erny."

Inscribed on the statue's base is "THE TROJAN" and the university's seal, with the Latin motto "Palmam qui meruit ferat (Let him who deserves it bear away the palm)." Below the seal are inscribed the qualities of the ideal Trojan: "Faithful, Scholarly, Skillful, Courageous and Ambitious."

The tradition of Tommy Trojan being painted blue and gold by UCLA pranksters was first recorded in October of 1941. Since then, Tommy has been "hit" often, but now USC maintenance crews cover him with plastic and canvas for protection during the week of the annual USC-UCLA football game.

And Tommy's sword has been stolen so often that now, instead of replacing it each time with an expensive brass one, he is given a wooden one.

By the way, where did he get the name Tommy? Of that, no one is sure!

TOMMY TROJAN

Origin of USC's Nickname – Trojans

USC's nickname, "Trojans," originated in 1912. Up to that time the University of Southern California teams were called the Methodists or Wesleyans, nicknames which were not looked upon with favor by university officials.

So, Warren Bovard, director of athletics and son of university president Dr. George Bovard, asked Los Angeles Times sports editor Owen Bird to select an appropriate nickname.

"At this time, the athletes and coaches of the university were under terrific handicaps," recalled Bird. "They were facing teams that were bigger and better-equipped, yet they had splendid fighting spirit. The name 'Trojans' fitted them.

"I came out with an article prior to a showdown between USC and Stanford in which I called attention to the fighting spirit of USC athletes and named them 'Trojans.' From then on, we used the term 'Trojan' all the time, and it stuck.

"The term 'Trojan' as applied to USC means to me that no matter what the situation, what the odds or what the conditions, the competition must be carried on to the end and those who strive must give all they have and never be weary in doing so."

Colors: Cardinal & Gold

Before 1895, the official color of USC was gold. The official color of the College of Liberal Arts was cardinal. The college had its own official color because it was the largest academic unit in the University. In 1895, both colors were adopted as USC's official colors.

Super Fan!

Giles Pellerin missed USC's 12-0 win over St. Mary's at the conclusion of the 1925 football season. That was the last Trojan game that he has missed.

There are devoted college sports fans and then there is Pellerin.

Known as USC's "Super Fan," the 91-year-old retired phone company executive from Pasadena, Calif., is not only the Trojans' most loyal football fan, but he might be the most rabid college football fan ever!

At the end of the 1997 season, Pellerin had viewed in person 786 consecutive USC football games, home and away. In all, he has traveled by plane, train and automobile more than 650,000 miles and spent upwards of $85,000 doing so.

"I never played the game, but I love it," he said. "There's just a certain spirit about college football. I've always said that going to USC games is the thing that has kept me alive, young and happy. It keeps me alive looking forward to the next season.

"I don't think I'm a nut. It's all been fun. I could've spent a lot more money on other hobbies. A guy can spend as much money playing golf or poker. Some people think I'm crazy for spending as much money as I have traveling to see these games. They don't understand that I do more than just watch a game when I visit these cities. I've met a lot of nice and interesting people on these trips."

His streak began at the start of the 1926 season, his sophomore year at USC. Coach Howard Jones' Trojans won that opener, 74-0 over Whittier, and since then, USC has compiled a 525-221-40 record. Pellerin has seen every USC-Notre Dame game (69 in all) and USC-UCLA game (all 67) ever played. He has watched Troy play in nearly 75 different stadiums and been to more than 50 cities (even Tokyo) doing so. He has viewed all eight of USC's national championship squads and all 120 of USC's first team All-Americans (including the four Heisman Trophy winners), plus he has seen 11 Trojan coaching regimes. His streak began before USC's famous white horse mascot, Traveler, first appeared at Trojan games (in 1927) and before the on-campus Tommy Trojan statue was built (in 1930).

"The players all greet me as the No. 1 Trojan," he said. "We (he and his late wife, Jessie) had no children of our own, so I think of all the USC players as our family."

Interestingly, the first USC football game Pellerin ever saw pre-dated the start of his streak. It was the 1923 Rose Bowl when, while he was a student at Huntington Park (Calif.) High, USC beat Penn State, 14-3. That means he also has seen all 28 Trojan Rose Bowls (and nine of Troy's 10 other bowl appearances, missing only the 1924 Christmas Festival).

So dedicated is Pellerin that he pushed back his honeymoon eight months so that he could celebrate it at a 1935 USC game in Hawaii. And his love for USC is so strong that he has donated $1.3 million to endow three football scholarships and a swimming scholarship.

"I've had so much pleasure following the Trojans all this time that that's the least I can do to help repay them," he said. "My whole life has been USC football and I've loved every minute of it."

Giles has come close to missing a game or two, including in 1993. But Trojan fate stepped in. Pellerin was about to leave his hotel the day after the 1993 Penn State road game when he suffered a ruptured aortic abdominal aneurysm. He was hospitalized in a Harrisburg (Pa.) hospital for 12 days, but fortunately USC had a bye that following week and, after signing a waiver absolving hospital officials from any liability, he was released in time for USC's next game, at home against Washington State. His streak was intact, with two days to spare!

"God must be a Trojan," Pellerin said. "I've been lucky."

Another near miss came in 1949 when he was hospitalized five days before a home contest for an emergency operation to remove his appendix. On game day, he told the nurses he was going out for a walk on the hospital grounds. Instead, he went to the Coliseum and returned to his bed several hours after USC dumped Oregon, 40-13. The nurses were none the wiser!

He also has survived a blown water pump outside Oklahoma City 36 hours before kickoff while driving to South Bend for a Notre Dame game and several instances of lost tickets. He also defied doctors orders to stay bedridden for six weeks following stomach tumor surgery a couple of weeks before USC's 1969 opener.

Football isn't Pellerin's only cardinal-and-gold passion. He attends many home games of USC's other 19 sports, including almost every home men's basketball game.

Pellerin's next goal is to hit 800 football games in a row, which should occur early in the 1999 season.

"Sure, I could sit in my rocking chair and grow old," he said. "But I don't intend to do that. You've got to have something to look forward to."

In 1996, he won the first annual Sears DieHard Fan Award as "America's NCAA Division I DieHard College Sports Fan." In 1994, Pellerin was inducted into the USC Athletic Hall of Fame. And in 1988, he was named a finalist in the Fisher Nut "America's Nuttiest Sports Nuts" Contest (he was flown to New York City for the festivities).

He is constantly interviewed by sportswriters (recent stories about his exploits have appeared in USA Today and Sports Illustrated) and featured on USC's nationally-televised game broadcasts. He speaks to various service groups, like Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, about his streak.

Giles isn't alone in his pursuit. Brother Oliver, 87, of Palm Springs, Calif., hasn't missed a USC game since 1945. That's 589 in a row. Another brother, Max, 85, also of Palm Springs, Calif., had a 300-plus string interrupted when he was sent overseas to work.

RIVALRY TROPHIES

VICTORY BELL

The winner of the annual USC-UCLA football game, perhaps America's greatest cross-town rivalry, is given year-long possession of the Victory Bell.

The 295-pound bell originally clanged from atop a Southern Pacific freight locomotive. It was given to UCLA in 1939 as a gift from the UCLA Alumni Association. For 2 seasons, cheerleaders rang the bell after each Bruin point.

At the opening game of UCLA's 1941 football season, 6 members of USC's Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity infiltrated the UCLA rooting section. After the game, they helped Bruin students load the bell onto a waiting truck bound for Westwood. But then, one Trojan quietly removed the key to the truck, and while the Bruins went to get a replacement, the Trojans drove off with the bell.

The bell remained hidden for more than a year, first in the fraternity's basement, then in the Hollywood Hills, Santa Ana and other locations. At one point, it was even concealed beneath a haystack. Bruin students tried to locate the bell, but to no avail.

The controversy died down for a while, until a picture of the bell was printed in "The Wampus," a USC magazine. This re-ignited the rivalry, as students from UCLA retaliated by painting the Tommy Trojan statue at USC and then Trojan students burned USC initials on UCLA lawns. Police had to be called several times. The conflict got so out of hand that Dr. Rufus B. von KleinSmid, then USC's president, threatened to cancel the USC-UCLA game if any further disorders occurred.

On Nov. 12, 1942, the bell was wheeled in front of Tommy Trojan and the student body presidents of both schools — USC's Bill McKay and UCLA's Bill Farrer — signed an agreement stating that thereafter the annual winner of the Trojan-Bruin gridiron clash would keep the bell for the following year. In the case of a tie, the bell would be retained by the school that won the previous year's game. The USC Alumni Association later repaid the UCLA Alumni Association for half the cost of the bell.

At the time, the arrangement might have seemed like a bad deal for the Bruins, since they had yet to defeat USC. But that first year, 1942, UCLA beat USC, 14-7.

Since the bell became a trophy, its carriage has been painted cardinal 29 times while in USC's possession and blue 26 times while in UCLA's hold (there have been 4 ties).

Although the Victory Bell is one of college football's most famous trophies, it is probably the least seen. For all but 2 days of the year, the bell sits in a warehouse or a vault. The universities only display the bell during the first 3 quarters of the USC-UCLA game and on the Monday following the game, when it is delivered to the winning school's campus. Then the Victory Bell, which gained its reputation from being hidden, goes back into hiding.

Shillelagh

SHILLELAGH I

SHILLELAGH II

A jeweled shillelagh is passed between the annual winner of the USC-Notre Dame game, perhaps the finest intersectional rivalry in college football.

A shillelagh (pronounced "shuh-LAY-lee") is a Gaelic war club made of oak or blackthorn saplings from Ireland. Those are the only woods used because, it is said, they are the only ones tougher than an Irish skull.

The foot-long shillelagh has ruby-adorned Trojan heads with the year and game score representing USC victories, while emerald-studded shamrocks stand for Notre Dame wins. For tie games, a combined Trojan head/shamrock medallion is used. On the end of the club is engraved, "From the Emerald Isle." The victor of the Trojan-Irish game gains year-long possession of the trophy.

Upon its initial presentation in 1952 by the Notre Dame Alumni Club of Los Angeles, it was said that "this shillelagh will serve to symbolize in part the high tradition, the keen rivalry and above all the sincere respect which these two great universities have for each other."

The original shillelagh was flown from Ireland by Howard Hughes' pilot, according to legend. It was devised by the Notre Dame Alumni Club of Los Angeles, based on a suggestion by Vern Rickard. John Groen designed it. Although the shillelagh was introduced in 1952, the medallions go back to the start of the series in 1926.

When the original shillelagh ran out of space for the Trojan heads and shamrocks after the 1989 game, it was retired and is permanently displayed at Notre Dame.

A new shillelagh — slightly longer than the original — was commissioned by Jim Gillis, a former baseball player at both USC and Notre Dame and a one-time president of the Notre Dame Club of Los Angeles, and handcrafted in 1997 in County Leitrum, Ireland. It contains medallions beginning with the 1990 game.

There are now 39 shamrocks, 25 Trojan heads and 5 combined medallions on the shillelaghs.

TROJAN MARCHING BAND

The Trojan Marching Band — known as "The Spirit of Troy" — is perhaps the most dynamic and innovative collegiate band in the nation. Named among the 8 best marching bands in the country by USA Today, the band is one of the most visible public relations tools of the University.

Established in 1880, the band has played for 10 Presidents (including Ronald Reagan, just prior to his 1984 inauguration), and has appeared in 5 movies (including "Hello Dolly"), plus numerous commercials and television shows (including the 1978 Academy Awards). The band even recorded the title track of the rock group Fleetwood Mac's popular 1979 album, "Tusk," and has produced several records of its own music (featuring the well-known "Conquest" and "Fight On").

Among the many famous musicians who have played in the band was Herb Alpert of the Tijuana Brass (he was in the cornet section). And among the various guest artists who have appeared with the band were Henry Mancini, Quincy Jones, Chuck Mangione, Leonard Bernstein, Diana Ross, Neil Diamond, John Wayne, and Bozo the Clown (Larry Harmon).

The band marches upwards of 80 miles a year while traveling across the land supporting almost every USC athletic team. A typical football halftime show by the band (with precision drills, special musical charts and dance routines) takes more than 4,000 work hours to prepare. The band also frequently appears at many professional sporting events throughout Southern California. Approximately 11 percent of its members are music majors, with almost every school and department represented among the balance.

Now 270-plus members strong, the Trojan Marching Band has tripled in size since Dr. Arthur C. Bartner became its director in 1969 (he is assisted by arranger Tony Fox). A graduate of Michigan, Bartner brought with him a creative approach and the unique, contemporary "drive-it" style of marching.

Nationally-renowned, Bartner directed the 800-member 1984 Olympic All-American College Marching Band (125 bandsmen were from USC) which played in the opening and closing ceremonies at the Games. Interestingly, it was the second time a Trojan musical group was involved with the Olympics, as the USC band formed the 10th Olympic Braid in the 1932 Los Angeles Games.

Bartner was also Director of Bands for the Japan Bowl in Tokyo and directs the All-American College Marching Band at Disneyland. In the summer of 1986, he and 40 band members were part of the ceremonies of Liberty Weekend at the refurbished Statue of Liberty. In the spring of 1988, he brought the band to Australia to perform at festivities for that country's bicentennial and at World Expo 88.

The Trojan Marching Band is complemented by the USC Silks (tall flags), plus the famous USC Song Leaders — who were ranked No. 1 in the nation by Sports Illustrated — and Yell Leaders.

Tommy Walker

The trumpet "Charge," heard often at athletic contests, was composed by a post-World War II USC student named Tommy Walker. As a member of the Trojan Marching Band, he was known as "Tommy Trojan," and as a USC football player, he would shed his band uniform, come down from the stands, and kick extra points (he lettered in 1947). Upon graduation in 1948, he was hired as the band's director. He later was the first entertainment director at Disneyland and then went into business as one of the world's leading creators of show business spectacles (including Super Bowl halftimes and Olympic opening and closing ceremonies). He died in 1986.

School Songs

"FIGHT ON"

Fight On for ol' SC
Our men Fight On to victory.
Our Alma Mater dear, looks up to you
Fight On and win
For ol' SC
Fight On to victory
Fight On!

The music for USC's fight song, "Fight On," was composed in 1922 by USC dental student Milo Sweet (with lyrics by Sweet and Glen Grant) as an entry in a Trojan spirit contest. In addition to inspiring generations of Trojan fans and players, the song has been used in numerous recordings and movies. Legend has it that during World War II in the Pacific, an American task force attacked an island held by the Japanese. As the Americans stormed the beach, "Fight On" blared from the deck of one of the transports. The U.S. men let out a tremendous roar and eventually won the island.

"ALL HAIL"

All hail to Alma Mater,
To thy glory we sing;
All hail to Southern California,
Loud let thy praises ring;
Where Western sky meets Western sea
Our college stands in majesty.
Sing our love to Alma Mater,
Hail, all hail to thee.

The words and music to USC's alma mater, "All Hail," were composed in the early 1920s by Al Wesson, Troy's longtime sports information director (1928-1942). He wrote the song as a student member of the Trojan Marching Band for the finale of a 1923 campus show.

"CONQUEST"

USC's other famous song is the regal processional march, "Conquest," by Alfred Newman.

USC'S ATHLETIC HERITAGE

USC has a proud athletic heritage — and with good reason. Consider:

• Trojan teams have won more national championships, 77 men's (including a national-best 69 NCAA titles) and 14 women's, than any other university but UCLA;

• The Trojans won at least 1 national team title in 26 consecutive years (1959-60 to 1984-85);

• USC has won the National College All-Sports Championship — an annual ranking by USA Today (previously the Knoxville Journal) of the country's top men's athletic programs — 6 times since its inception in 1971;

• Trojan men athletes have won more individual NCAA titles (276) than those from any other school in the nation (the Women of Troy have brought home another 23 individual NCAA crowns);

• Troy has also established a stellar reputation and a long tradition of nurturing Olympic athletes. Since 1904, 302 Trojan athletes (more than any other university) have competed in the Games, taking home 95 gold medals (with at least 1 gold in every summer Olympics since 1912), 56 silver and 48 bronze.

• Three Trojans have won the prestigious Sullivan Award as the top amateur athlete in America: diver Sammy Lee (1953), shot putter Parry O'Brien (1959) and swimmer John Naber (1977).

Along with the great accomplishments on the playing fields, USC student-athletes have received 47 NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships, third among all schools. In addition, USC has had 26 first team Academic All-Americans and 3 athletes who were Rhodes Scholars.

Here's a closer look at the history of each of the 19 sports which USC offers on the intercollegiate level:

FOOTBALL — Since starting football in 1888, USC has amassed an impressive all-time won-loss record of 659-270-54 (a .698 winning percentage).

USC's record against Pac-10 opponents is a stellar 338-134-29 (.704). Since 1959, the Trojans have won the conference championship 14 times and tied for the title on 5 other occasions.

USC has the nation's third best bowl winning percentage among the 52 schools which have made at least 10 bowl appearances (.658) and its 28 Rose Bowl appearances is an all-time best. Troy's overall bowl mark is 25-13, including 20-8 in the Pasadena New Year's Day Classic. The Trojans were a bowl participant every year they were eligible from 1972 to 1990.

Think about college football and USC's tailback in the I-formation, one of the most glamorous positions in the sport, immediately comes to mind. Four Trojan tailbacks have won the coveted Heisman Trophy as college football's outstanding player: Mike Garrett in 1965, O.J. Simpson in 1968, Charles White in 1979 and Marcus Allen in 1981. Other standout tailbacks have included Clarence Davis, Anthony Davis and Ricky Bell.

The Trojans have had other prominent award winners. Offensive tackle Ron Yary won the Outland Trophy in 1967, offensive guard Brad Budde won the Lombardi Award in 1979, and safety Mark Carrier won the Thorpe Award in 1989. USC players have been named first team All-American 120 times, with 39 of those consensus selections and 21 unanimous choices.

Many of those players have led USC to 8 national championships in football. Legendary coach Howard Jones (1925-40) guided Troy to 3 of those titles (1928-31-32). John McKay (1960-75) was responsible for 4 national championship teams (1962-67-72-74). John Robinson (1976-82), who captured 1 title (1978) in his first tenure, returned to Troy in 1993 and led USC to 3 bowl wins. One-time USC assistant Paul Hackett was named head coach for the 1998 season.

Scores of Trojans have gone on to successful NFL careers (there have been 60 first round picks, with 4 No. 1 selections), including such greats as Frank Gifford, Willie Wood, Pete Beathard, Rod Sherman, Lynn Swann, Anthony Munoz, Ronnie Lott and Junior Seau.

BASEBALL — No school in the country can match the long tradition USC has in baseball. With 12 national championships in the sport, Troy is far and away the leader in that category (no other school has more than 5).

Since starting baseball in 1924, the Trojans have compiled a record of 2,007-944-15 (.679) against college opponents, and have captured outright or tied for 36 conference championships.

The incomparable Rod Dedeaux coached USC from 1942-86, leading the school to each of its NCAA crowns, including 5 straight from 1970-74 (no other school has strung together more than two in a row).

Trojans have been named first team All-American 38 times, with Jay Roundy, Pat Harrison and Bill Bordley being 2-time selections.

ROD DEDEAUX WITH RANDY JOHNSON AND MARK McGWIRE

USC boasts many successful past and present major leaguers such as Ron Fairly, Don Buford, Tom Seaver, Dave Kingman, Fred Lynn, Roy Smalley, Steve Kemp, Mark McGwire, Randy Johnson and Bret Boone. In all, 75 Trojans have gone on to play in the major leagues and scores more in the minors.

Dedeaux compiled a 45-year record of 1,332-571-11 (.699) versus college foes, making him the then-winningest coach in collegiate baseball history. He resigned after the 1986 season to become USC's director of baseball and was replaced by Mike Gillespie, whose 1998 squad won the College World Series after finishing as the CWS runnerup in 1995 (his 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1993, 1994, 1996 and 1997 teams were NCAA regional participants).

MEN'S BASKETBALL — Only about 4 dozen schools have more than 1,000 victories in college basketball, and USC is one of those schools. Since starting basketball in 1907, the Trojans have compiled a record of 1,254-905 (.581), winning 14 conference championships along the way.

PAUL WESTPHAL

Bill Sharman, John Rudometkin, John Block, Paul Westphal, Gus Williams and Harold Miner are a few of USC's All-American selections. Overall, Trojans have earned All-American honors 21 times. Four Trojan men, Sharman, Jack Gardner, Alex Hannum and coach Sam Barry, are in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

Barry (1930-41, 1945-50) has the winningest record among USC basketball coaches, 260-138 (.653). Following him are Forrest Twogood (1951-66) at 255-180 (.586) and Bob Boyd (1967-79) at 216-131 (.622). George Raveling, an assistant coach for the 1984 and 1988 U.S. Olympic teams, took over the coaching helm in 1986-87 and led Troy into the post-season playoffs 4 times. Henry Bibby was named head coach midway through the 1996 season and led the Trojans into the NCAA tourney in 1997.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL — After improving steadily, USC first reached the pinnacle of success in women's basketball in 1983 and the Trojans have been at or near the top almost ever since, winning 2 national championships and playing in 4 Final Fours.

USC's team became established when Linda Sharp took over as coach in 1977. By 1981, Troy had reached the Final Four. In 1983, Cheryl

USC'S 1994 NCAA CHAMPION WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM AT THE WHITE HOUSE WITH PRESIDENT RONALD REAGAN.

Miller joined Pam and Paula McGee to give the Trojans a formidable front line that led the squad to its first national championship. The next year, the team won the national title again. USC advanced to the NCAA title game in 1986.

Miller finished her career in 1986 as the Trojans' all-time leading scorer and rebounder. She also won her third straight Naismith Award as the outstanding player in college basketball. She returned as coach of her alma mater in 1994 and led USC to a Pac-10 title and 2 NCAA playoff appearances. She was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1995. Chris Gobrecht, a former USC player and a 2-time Pac-10 Coach of the Year while at Washington, took over as coach prior to the 1998 season.

The Women of Troy made the NCAA tourney 6 of the past 8 years, including advancing to the regionals 3 of the last 7 seasons. Lisa Leslie, who became an Olympic and pro star, won the Naismith Award in 1994. Tina Thompson was the No. 1 pick in the 1997 WNBA draft.

MEN'S GOLF — USC has one of the most successful golf programs in the nation, having produced 3 NCAA individual champions (Scott Simpson in 1976 and 1977, and Ron Commans in 1981), 19 Pac-10 individual champs, 20 All-American first teamers and numerous players who have gone on to successful professional careers, including $1 million winners like Al "Mr. 59" Geiberger, Dave Stockton, Craig Stadler and Scott Simpson. Troy has also been dominant in the Pac-10, winning 15 of the 38 conference championships to date.

Legendary coach Stan Wood (1955-79) compiled a career record of 462-37 (.926) and won 14 conference championships. He also guided the Trojans to an NCAA record 51 consecutive dual match wins from 1956-59. His teams finished third in the NCAA tourney 6 times.

Under coach Randy Lein (1984-92), USC continued its success, winning the conference championship in 1986. The 1991 Trojans finished seventh at the NCAAs. U.S. Amateur champion Sam Randolph, who finished as low amateur at the prestigious Masters golf tournament in 1985 and 1986, was a first team All-American for the third straight year in 1986 and was named college golf's Player of the Year.

Former team captain Jim Empey took over the coaching duties in 1993. Kurt Schuette became head coach in 1995 and guided the Trojans to an impressive fifth place finish at the NCAA tourney that season, Troy's best placing in 18 years, and then ninth in 1996 and 14th in 1997.

WOMEN'S GOLF — The USC women's golf team is one of college's finest, as witnessed by their second, third, fourth, fifth, seventh and ninth place finishes at the NCAA Championships in the past 13 years. The Women of Troy won the Pac-10 tourney in 1989. Cathy Bright led USC to 5 Top 10 NCAA finishes in her 12 years as head coach (1982-93). Former Trojan player Renee (Mack) Baumgartner returned as head coach in 1994 and led USC to second place at the NCAAs in her first year. Andrea Gaston took over for 1997 (with men's coach Kurt Schuette serving as Director of Golf).

Jennifer Rosales won the 1998 NCAA individual title as a freshman. Other top individuals have included current professionals Marta Figueras-Dotti, Denise Strebig, Kim Saiki, Tracy Nakamura, Jill McGill (the 1993 U.S. Amateur champion), Heidi Voorhees (the 1993 U.S. Amateur medalist) and Jennifer Biehn (the 1994 Pac-10 champ).

WOMEN'S ROWING — The women's crew team, under head coach George Jenkins, has varsity and novice eight teams that train all year long for regattas such as San Pedro's Head of the Harbor race and the Pacific Coast Rowing Championships.

At the 1998 NCAA meet, the Women of Troy rowers captured their first-ever national championship race (the varsity fours).

WOMEN'S SOCCER — The women's soccer team began competing in 1993. Karen Stanley coached the team for the first 3 seasons. Jim Millinder took over in 1996 and guided the squad to 15-5 and then 16-3-1 marks.

MEN'S SWIMMING & DIVING — The type of dominance USC has had in this sport was best exemplified by Troy's performance in the 1976 Olympic Games, when Trojan swimmers won more golds and more total medals than any country except the United States.

JOHN NABER

Over the years, USC swimmers have made Olympic teams 100 times, winning 33 gold, 19 silver and 15 bronze medals. Gold medal winners have included John Naber, Bruce Furniss and Murray Rose.

Since beginning swimming in 1929, the Trojans have captured 9 NCAA championships, all under coach Peter Daland, who retired in 1992 after 35 years at Troy. USC swimmers and divers have won 99 NCAA meet individual and relay titles and have earned All-American honors an amazing 503 times. Under Daland, USC won 17 Pac-10 championships and amassed an impressive dual meet record of 318-31-1 (.917). Three of his last 6 squads had runner-up finishes at the NCAA meet.

Four-time U.S. Olympic coach Mark Schubert, winner of 2 NCAA titles with the Texas women, succeeded Daland. He also serves as the head coach of the Women of Troy. His men's teams have placed fifth, sixth (twice), seventh and 10th at the NCAAs.

WOMEN'S SWIMMING & DIVING — USC has likewise built a successful swimming program on the women's side. In fact, the Women of Troy have finished in the top 10 nationally 17 of the last 22 years — including winning the NCAA title in 1997 — and have produced 178 All-Americans in that span. They have won conference championships in 1979, 1980, 1982 and 1985.

KRISTINE QUANCE

Among USC's more famous women's swimmers are Michelle Ford, Sue Habernigg, Cynthia Woodhead, Sue Hinderaker, Debbie Rudd, Kristine Quance (she won 3 events at the 1994 NCAA meet as the Women of Troy placed sixth, 3 more to be the high point scorer at the 1996 meet as USC finished fifth and 2 at the 1997 meet), and current star Lindsay Benko (who won 2 events in 1996 and 2 more in 1997).

MEN'S TENNIS — USC's men's tennis legacy has produced numerous national titlists, including 15 team champions (tied for second most in the country), 13 singles champions (second most in the country), and 20 doubles champs (more than any other school). Cecil Mamiit won the 1996 NCAA singles crown as a freshman.

George Toley (1954-80) guided the Trojan netters for 26 years before resigning during the 1980 season. His career record was 430-92-4 (.821) with 10 NCAA titles. Dick Leach succeeded Toley and has posted a 485-103 (.825) mark in 19 years. His 1991, 1993 and 1994 teams won the NCAA tourney and 8 of his other teams have finished fourth or better.

Overall, USC players have been named to All-American teams 125 times, with a number of those players also enjoying successful pro careers, including Stan Smith, Bob Lutz, Raul Ramirez and Dennis Ralston.

WOMEN'S TENNIS — The most successful women's program at USC, in terms of national titles, is the tennis team. The Women of Troy have won 7 national championships.

Those national crowns all came under Dave Borelli, who coached USC from 1974 to 1988. In duals, Borelli's record was phenomenal: his teams went 300-43 (.875).

Five times Trojans have won national singles titles, along with 1 doubles champ and 60 All-Americans. Prominent USC stars have included Barbara Hallquist, Leslie Allen, Sheila McInerney, Stacy Margolin, Trey Lewis, the Fernandez sisters, Kelly Henry, Beth Herr, Caroline Kuhlman and Trisha Laux.

Cheryl Woods, a former Trojan player, took over for Borelli in 1989. Richard Gallien, a successful player and coach at Pepperdine, became head coach in 1996.

MEN'S TRACK & FIELD — The Trojans have won an unprecedented 26 NCAA titles (including 9 straight, 1935-43) in the 77-year history of NCAA outdoor track, plus 2 indoor NCAA titles and 31 Pacific Coast or Pac-10 crowns, including a string of 15 straight (1936-55). They have had 38 unbeaten and untied seasons, including a string of 16 in a row (1946-61). Since starting track and field in 1900, USC has compiled a dual-meet record of 394-107-4 (.784).

BOB SEAGREN

Outstanding coaches include Dean Cromwell (1909-48), who won a record 12 NCAA titles and had a dual meet mark of 109-48-1; Jess Mortensen, who never lost a dual meet (64-0) in 11 years and won 7 NCAA titles; and Vern Wolfe, who retired after the 1984 season with 7 national titles and a dual meet record of 106-17-1 (.859). Jim Bush, who won 5 NCAA titles while at crosstown rival UCLA, became USC's head coach in 1991. His 1992 Trojans finished third at the NCAAs with only a 6-man team. Ron Allice, who won 11 state titles at Long Beach City College, took over the combined men's and women's programs in 1995 (the men were fourth at the 1995 NCAA meet, 10th in 1996, third in 1997 while winning the Pac-10 title and seventh in 1998).

Fifty-nine USC tracksters have won 85 places on U.S. Olympic teams over the years. Trojans have won 25 individual Olympic titles and shared in 8 relay wins. Gold medal winners include long jumper Randy Williams, pole vaulter Bob Seagren, sprinter Charles Paddock and quartermiler Quincy Watts.

Since 1912, 61 USC trackmen have equalled or bettered world records, and there have been 105 NCAA individual or relay winners from Troy (including 1998 NCAA 400-meter champ Jerome Davis).

The Trojans also have had a long history of successful distance running, including 9 Olympians and NCAA champions Julio Marin and Ole Oleson.

WOMEN'S TRACK & FIELD, CROSS COUNTRY — The women's track program at USC has developed into one of the nation's finest. The Trojans have placed in the Top 10 of the NCAA Championships 6 times, including third in 1987 and fifth in 1998. The 1996 squad won the Pac-10 title and placed seventh at the NCAAs.

The women's track and field heritage begins with Sherry Calvert, the former head coach. Calvert, a 4-time All-American javelin thrower at USC who participated in the 1972 and 1976 Olympics, started the program as an undergraduate and coached through 1983. Fred LaPlante succeeded her from 1984 through 1988. Barbara Edmondson was coach in 1992 through 1994. In 1995, Ron Allice took over as the combined men's and women's coach.

Troy has had many other successful track and field athletes. Patty Van Wolvelaere won a pair of national titles in the 100-meter hurdles. Kerry Bell was an All-American heptathlete for 3 years. 1988 NCAA heptathlon champion Wendy Brown and Yvette Bates set world bests in the triple jump during their USC careers. Ashley Selman won the 1990 NCAA javelin title.

The Women of Troy also compete in cross country in the fall under coach Tom Walsh.

MEN'S VOLLEYBALL — Final Four appearances have become commonplace for the USC men's volleyball team, which has made 11 trips there since scholarships were first awarded by Troy in the sport in 1977. The Trojans have won 4 NCAA titles (1977, 1980, 1988 and 1990) and have finished second on 6 other occasions (1979-81-85-86-87-91).

Ernie Hix, who retired as head coach after the 1981 season, turned USC into one of the top volleyball powers in the nation. Hix's 8-year record was an impressive 146-47 (.756) with 2 national crowns.

Twenty Trojans have played on the U.S. National team and 25 times USC volleyballers have been named first team All-Americans. In the 1984 Olympics, Steve Timmons, Dusty Dvorak and Pat Powers all helped lead the United States to its first gold medal ever in the sport, while Timmons repeated with the 1988 U.S. squad. Timmons, Bryan Ivie, Nick Becker and Dan Greenbaum won bronze medals with the U.S. in 1992. Tim Hovland, Celso Kalache, Adam Johnson and former coach Bob Yoder (a 3-time All-American who led Troy to an NCAA title in 1988) also are key figures in USC's volleyball heritage. Jim McLaughlin took over for Yoder in 1990 and led Troy to an NCAA title in his initial year. Powers became head coach for 1997.

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL — USC has won 4 national crowns in women's volleyball, all under coach Chuck Erbe. Erbe, who dominated the sport during his 12-year USC coaching tenure which began in 1976, posted a career record of 310-121-3 (.718). He coached the 1976, 1977 and 1980 AIAW champions and the 1981 NCAA titlists. His 1976 team registered the first perfect season (38-0) in women's volleyball history.

Lisa Love, who coached at Texas-Arlington for 7 years, took over for Erbe in 1989 and has guided USC into the NCAAs in 8 of her 9 seasons.

In 1978, Debbie Green won the prestigious Broderick Award in volleyball. Some 31 Trojans have been named All-American and 11 have been members of the U.S. National team (including Green, Sue Woodstra, Paula Weishoff, Carolyn Becker, Kim Ruddins and Megan McCallister).

MEN'S WATER POLO — Since starting water polo in 1922, the Trojans have compiled a 809-455-7 (.639) record, winning 12 conference championships along the way.

Current coach John Williams has led the Trojans to national prominence since taking over the program in 1973. Eighteen of his last 21 teams have finished the season in the top 7 nationally, including the 1987, 1993, 1994, 1996 and 1997 squads which placed second in the NCAA tourney.

Sixteen Trojan poloists have participated in the Olympics and 101 have made various All-American teams. Some of the more prominent names in USC water polo history are Ron Severa, Wally Wolf, Greg Fults, Zach Stimson, Craig Furniss, Charles Harris, Robert Lynn, Drew Netherton, Hrvoje Cizmic, Marko Zagar and Simun Cimerman.

WOMEN'S WATER POLO — USC's newest sport, the women's water polo team began play in 1995 under head coach Jovan Vavic. The Women of Troy were third in the 1995 Division II tourney, then seventh in the 1997 national championship and fifth in 1998.

USC NATIONAL TITLES

USC has long dominated the world of intercollegiate athletics. Trojan men's teams are tops in the nation in NCAA championships with 69 — more than any other university. And the football team has been voted national champions 8 times.

USC has won the National Collegiate All-Sports Championship--an annual ranking by USA Today (previously The Knoxville Journal) of the country's top men's athletic programs — 6 times (1971-72-74-75-77-80) since its inception in 1971.

USC's women are also a force, with 14 national team titles, all since 1976.

From 1959-60 to 1984-85, USC put together an amazing streak. In each of those 26 years, at least one Trojan team won a national championship (including five crowns in both 1962-63 and 1976-77).

Here's a list with the coaches of the winning teams.

TROJANS STAR IN CLASSROOM

USC is as proud of its student-athletes' achievements in the classroom as on the playing field.

After all, the Trojans not only are second in the nation in the number of national team championships (77 by the men and 14 by the women), but rank third (behind Air Force and Nebraska) in the number of NCAA post-graduate scholarship recipients (47, including 20 football players).

Also, USC athletics has had 3 Rhodes Scholars (quarterback Pat Haden, swimmer Desmond Koh and trackster James O'Toole), 26 first team Academic All-Americans (including 22 footballers, tops among Pac-10 schools and tied for fifth best in the nation), 8 winners of the prestigious NCAA Today's Top Six scholar award, 11 National Football Foundation Scholar-Athletes, 4 recipients of the NCAA Silver Anniversary Award, a Luce Scholar (swimmer Dennis Scannell), a NCAA Women's Enhancement Program Post-Graduate Scholar (soccer player Laura Servis), a NCAA Ethnic-Minority Enhancement Program Post-Graduate Scholar (footballer Dong Koo) and a USC co-valedictorian (water poloist Craig Furniss). In 1987, Haden was inducted into the charter 6-member class of the GTE Academic All-American Hall of Fame and baseball star Don Buford Jr. won the first-ever Woody Hayes Academic All-American Award presented by the Columbus Touchdown Club to the top NCAA Division I male student-athlete (footballer John Jackson won the award in 1990 and volleyballer Katie Haller won the women's award in 1994). Jackson was also named a winner of the first-ever NACDA/Disney Scholar-Athlete Award in 1990, and Jeremy Hogue and Matt Keneley were 1996 and 1997 NACDA Preseason Games Scholar-Athletes, respectively (Keneley also received a NACDA Foundation Post-Graduate Scholarship in 1997). In 1997, Keith Van Horne was named to the GTE Academic All-American All-Time Football Team.

The Nov. 1994 issue of The Sporting News examined the relative academic strength of the nation's top 25 football teams and found USC's players ranked second in high school GPA, sixth in SAT scores and third in ACT scores.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR MIKE GARRETT

Michael L. Garrett, so much a part of USC's unparalleled athletic tradition, was named the school's sixth-ever athletic director in January of 1993.

Garrett, Troy's 1965 Heisman Trophy-winning tailback who has a background in business, law, government, athletic administration, and community affairs, oversees the 19 men's and women's teams and the accompanying $27 million budget that make up the nation's most successful athletic program.

During his tenure:

• USC has won 4 NCAA titles (in men's tennis in 1993 and 1994, women's swimming in 1997, and baseball in 1998) and annually has finished in the Top 10 (among the 306 Division I universities) in the Sears Directors' Cup all-sports standings.

• Fundraising (reaching a record $11-plus million in 1997-98) and corporate sponsorships, merchandising and licensing (to $2.1 million in 1996-97) have skyrocketed.

• He has undertaken the biggest building program in the history of USC athletics, including a $3 million dining/activity center, a 3,000-square-foot addition to the weight room, a 3,000-seat track and field stadium, expansion of the tennis stadium and football practice field, and a new women's soccer practice field.

• He has added 2 women's teams (soccer and water polo) and by the fall of 1999 will have awarded 42 more women's scholarships (at an annual cost of $1.3 million).

• Official NCAA graduation rates for USC student-athletes reached an all-time high in 1996 (71%) and have averaged 61% over the past 3 years (versus the national average of 58%).

Garrett, 54, succeeded Mike McGee, who became the athletic director at South Carolina after 9 years at USC.

Garrett became the seventh African-American athletic director at a major Division I-A institution.

Garrett had served as USC's associate athletic director since December of 1990. In that role, he was responsible for the athletic department's budget, personnel, contract compliance and corporate sponsorships. He also handled day-to-day supervision of 5 men's sports — volleyball, golf, tennis, swimming and water polo.

Prior to joining the USC staff, he was director of business development for the Great Western Forum (1988-90), including its highly-successful boxing program.

Earlier in his career, he worked for the San Diego district attorney's office and as a youth counselor, held management positions in the retail, construction and real estate industries, did color commentary on USC football telecasts, and ran for Congress (1982) and San Diego City Council (1983).

Garrett has been involved in community affairs since his days at USC. While in college, he helped found the Cool-Head Program, an organization that met with youth groups to try to offset racial tensions in Los Angeles, and volunteered at the MacLaren Children's Center, a home for abused children. Later, he founded San Diego's Harambee House, a community-based institution for juvenile delinquents.

He helped establish the East Los Angeles Youth Activities Foundation in 1989, a community-based group that ran boxing/educational clubs as a gang-intervention program.

In 1996, he received the Boys and Girls Clubs of Pasadena's "Youth Partnership Award."

Born April 12, 1944 in East Los Angeles, Garrett was a prep All-American at that neighborhood's Roosevelt High.

As a student at USC, Garrett set the standard for the modern-era "I" formation Trojan tailbacks. He was a 2-time All-American (1964-65) who set 14 NCAA, conference and USC records in his 3-year career, including a then-NCAA career rushing mark of 3,221 yards and a then-USC season mark of 1,440 yards in 1965. He was the first Trojan since 1927 to run for 1,000 yards in a season.

A versatile athlete, he also started at cornerback for the Trojans and was an All-League outfielder for USC's baseball team (he hit .309 in 1965 and was drafted by the Pittsburgh Pirates and Los Angeles Dodgers).

Garrett played 8 seasons (1966-73) in the NFL with the Kansas City Chiefs and San Diego Chargers, becoming the first player to rush for 1,000 yards for 2 teams. An All-Pro, he played in Super Bowls I and IV.

Garrett was inducted into the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame in 1985 and won the NCAA's prestigious Silver Anniversary Award in 1990. He was a charter member of USC's Athletic Hall of Fame, which he founded in 1994.

Garrett graduated from USC in 1967 with a bachelor's degree in sociology and earned a law degree from Western State University College of Law in Fullerton, Calif., in 1986.

Laura Moore serves as Garrett's executive assistant.

Jess Hill	1957-72
John McKay	1972-75
Richard Perry	1975-84

Note: Records are unclear prior to Hunter's tenure. One reference source listed William Clay as "athletic manager" in 1909 and cited him as USC's first A.D. Another source listed Elmer Henderson as football coach and athletic director from 1919 to 1924. Still another source said "graduate managers" were akin to athletic directors and listed Warren Bovard, Henry Bruce, Gwynn Wilson (1921-30) and Arnold Eddy (1930 and on) in that role (that source also claimed Eddy was athletic director in 1941-44).

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Steven B. Sample

Steven B. Sample became the 10th president of the University of Southern California in March 1991. He is the university's first holder of the Robert C. Packard President's Chair.

Sample is an electrical engineer, a musician, an outdoorsman, and an inventor. In February 1998, he was elected to the prestigious National Academy of Engineering for "contributions to consumer electronics and leadership in interdisciplinary research and education." He remains an active member of the university's faculty, co-teaching with management expert Warren Bennis a popular spring-semester course for upperclassmen entitled "The Art and Adventure of Leadership." He also teaches undergraduate electrical engineering courses and a literature course for freshmen.

Under Sample leadership, USC has emerged as a world leader in the fields of communication and multimedia technologies, received national acclaim for its innovative community partnerships, and solidified its status as one of the nation's leading teaching and research universities. USC milestones in the past seven years include receipt of a world-record $120 million cash gift from the Hon. Walter H. Annenberg in 1993 and a $100 million gift from biomedical industry entrepreneur Alfred Mann in 1998 (establishing USC as the first university in history to receive two nine-figure gifts within the same fundraising campaign); the awarding of the Nobel Prize in chemistry to USC faculty member George Olah in 1994; and the recruitment of the most academically-talented freshman classes in USC history.

Sample is the author of numerous journal articles and published papers, both in science and engineering and in higher education. His patents in the field of digital appliance controls have been licensed to practically every major manufacturer of appliance controls and microwave ovens in the world. Nearly 200 million home appliances have been built using his inventions.

Sample has chaired a number of statewide and national groups examining the state of elementary, secondary and higher education. In 1994, he convened a group of Los Angeles leaders who were awarded an historic $53 million challenge grant from the Annenberg Foundation to accelerate reforms in local public schools. Sample is currently chairman and co-founder of the Association of Pacific Rim Universities (APRU), a consortium of 30 premier Pacific Rim research universities, and chairman-elect of the Association of American Universities, a consortium of the 62 leading North American research universities. He also chaired a special AAU committee on postdoctoral education.

In 1992, he served as a member of the Van de Kamp Commission, which explored ways to improve the Los Angeles Unified School District. He is a trustee of the Los Angeles Educational Alliance for Restructuring Now (LEARN) and a member of the board of the Los Angeles Annenberg Metropolitan Project.

Sample came to USC from the State University of New York at Buffalo, where he had served as president since 1982. During his tenure there, SUNY-Buffalo was the first public university in New York or New England to be elected to membership in the AAU. Sample's energetic leadership was instrumental in Buffalo's emergence as the flagship of the SUNY system.

After earning his Ph.D. in 1965, Sample worked for a year as a senior scientist at Melpar Inc., a research and development firm. He then taught as an assistant professor of electrical engineering at Purdue University, where he was promoted to associate professor and granted tenure in 1970. He served as deputy director for academic affairs at the Illinois Board of Higher Education from 1971 to 1974 and as executive vice president for academic affairs and dean of the Graduate College at the University of Nebraska from 1974 to 1982.

Sample earned B.S.E.E., M.S. and Ph. D. degrees in electrical engineering at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign in 1962 , 1963 and 1965, respectively. He has received honorary degrees from the University of Nebraska (1995), Purdue University (1994), Hebrew Union College (1994) the University of Sheffield, England (1991) and Canisius College, Buffalo (1989). In 1994, Sample received the University of Illinois' Alumni Achievement Award, and in 1998 he received the USC Alumni Association's Honorary Alumni Award.

Sample is a trustee of the Los Angeles World Affairs Council and the Regenstrief Medical Foundation. He is a founding member of the California Business-Higher Education Form and is currently a member of Project California, the Coalition of 100 and the Los Angeles Business Advisors. He currently serves on the boards of the William Wrigley Jr. Company, Santa Catalina Island Company, Presley Companies Inc., UNOVA, and other organizations.

In 1994, Sample received the Humanitarian Award from the National Conference of Christians and Jews and the Hollzer Memorial Award from the Jewish Federation Council of Greater Los Angeles.

Sample is married to the former Kathryn Brunkow of Park Ridge, Ill. The Samples, who reside in San Marino, Calif., have two daughters, Michelle Sample Smith and Elizabeth Ann Sample.

USC NORRIS COMPREHENSIVE CANCER CENTER ON THE HEALTH SCIENCES CAMPUS

PACIFIC-10 CONFERENCE

With a national-best 11 NCAA team championships in 1997-98, plus 45 NCAA individual titles, the Pacific-10 Conference — which combines 10 of the finest academic institutions in the nation--once again demonstrated it is the "Conference of Champions," thus continuing to live up to its billing as having the strongest overall intercollegiate athletic league in the country.

Pac-10 members have now won 232 NCAA men's team championships, far and away more than any other conference (the Big Ten is next with 151), and 61 women's crowns, also more than any league (the Southeastern Conference is next with 41).

Pac-10 men's teams have won at least 4 NCAA team titles 23 of the last 28 years, a feat unprecedented in intercollegiate athletics. The NCAA men's team championships have come at a phenomenal rate--15 basketball titles, more than any other conference; 17 of the last 32 baseball titles; 18 of the last 38, and an incredible 44 titles overall, in track and field; 19 of the last 34 in swimming and diving; 35 of the last 38 in tennis; 24 of the last 39 in water polo; and 22 of the last 29 in volleyball. Pac-10 men have also claimed an incredible 991 NCAA individual crowns.

On the women's side, the story is the same. Since the NCAA began conducting women's championships 17 years ago, Pac-10 members have claimed 4 titles in a single season on 11 occasions. Included in this are 11 of 17 tennis crowns, 12 of 17softball championships, 6 of the last 8 volleyball titles, and 8 of the last 10 trophies in both golf and swimming and diving. Plus, the 298 NCAA individual titles lead all leagues.

The roots of the Pacific-10 Conference go back 80 years. On Dec. 2, 1915, the Pacific Coast Conference was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland, Oregon. Original membership consisted of 4 schools — University of California, University of Washington, University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All are still charter members of the Conference.

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916. One year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University) was accepted into the PCC, and Stanford University joined in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to 8 teams with the admission of the University of Southern California and the University of Idaho. Montana joined the conference in 1924 and in 1928 the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-team league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-1945 when World War II somewhat curtailed intercollegiate competition. In 1950, Montana resigned from the conference to join the Mountain States Conference. The PCC continued as a 9-team conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and a new conference was formed called the Athletic Association of Western Universities. Original AAWU membership consisted of California, Stanford, USC, UCLA, and Washington. Washington State became a member in 1962, with Oregon and Oregon State joining in 1964. In 1968, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted.

Ten years later, on July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the Pacific-10 Conference took on a new look, expanding to included 10 women's teams.

Currently, the Pac-10 sponsors 10 men's and 11 women's sports, while Conference members are part of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) in 5 additional men's sports and 2 other women's sports.

Edwin N. Atherton was named the Conference's first Commissioner in 1940. He was succeeded by Victor O. Schmidt (1944), Thomas J. Hamilton (1959), Wiles Hallock (1971) and current Commissioner Thomas C. Hansen in 1983.

The Pac-10 offices are located 25 miles east of San Francisco in Walnut Creek, Calif.

USC's Radio Broadcast Team on XTRA-AM Sports 690

In 1998, all USC football games can be heard live on XTRA-AM Sports 690, Southern California's sports leader. It's the start of a 3-year contract between the Trojans and XTRA, a Southern California-based station whose 77,000-watt signal reaches from Baja California to the south, Santa Barbara to the north and Palm Springs to the east.

Lee Hamilton, who hosts a popular talk show on XTRA, will handle the play-by-play duties. He was the radio voice of the San Diego Chargers for 11 years and before that did play-by-play for Arizona State football, Phoenix Giants baseball, hockey in Cleveland and minor league baseball and hockey in upstate New York.

Paul McDonald, who will be the analyst, was a 1979 All-American quarterback at USC and led the Trojans to the 1978 national championship (new USC head coach Paul Hackett was an assistant on those teams). He then spent 8 seasons in the NFL (1980-87) with the Cleveland Browns and Dallas Cowboys. McDonald also has hosted a weekly Pac-10 football television show.

Former Trojan record-setting wide receiver John Jackson, who has done game analysis for Fox Sports West, will be the sideline reporter. He was a 2-sport standout for the Trojans, starring at wide receiver (1986-89) and as an outfielder (1988-90). Among the gridiron records he set at USC were 163 career catches and 14 receptions in a single game (both marks have since been broken). He played in the NFL with the Arizona Cardinals and Chicago Bears.

Tim Ryan and John Fricke will handle the pre- and post-game shows.

Ryan was a 2-time All-American defensive tackle at Troy (1988-89) and was a finalist for the 1989 Lombardi Award. He spent 4 years (1990-93) with the Chicago Bears. He has hosted a national radio talk show on the Sports Fan Radio Network out of Las Vegas.

Fricke, also an XTRA talk show host, was a sports anchor for 10 years with CNN. He is a sports anchor for San Diego's KGTV. He has done play-by-play for Wake Forest and Tennessee-Chattanooga.

MEDIA INFORMATION

USC SPORTS INFORMATION OFFICE —The Sports Information Office (director Tim Tessalone and assistants John Tamanaha, Paul Goldberg and Roger Horne) is located in the southeast corner of the first floor of Heritage Hall. It houses files containing USC athletic history, player and coach biographies, statistics and photographs. The office phone number is (213) 740-8480. The fax number is (213) 740-7584. Nearby on-campus parking is available by calling the office in advance.

PLAYER/COACH INTERVIEWS — Please arrange all player and coach interviews through the Sports Information Office, at least a day in advance.

TROJAN HOTLINE — Dial (213) 743-2989 for a 90-second taped interview with USC coach Paul Hackett. The tape changes each Sunday afternoon during the football season.

PAUL HACKETT MEDIA LUNCH — Coach Hackett hosts a weekly media-only lunch in the lounge of Heritage Hall at 11:30 a.m. each Tuesday during the season. Transcribed notes from each session are available from the Sports Information Office.

USC PRACTICES — SomeTrojan practices on Howard Jones Field are open to the media. Please call in advance to confirm the schedule.

GAME CREDENTIALS — Because of space limitations, only members of the media who cover USC on a regular basis (plus media accompanying the visiting team) can be credentialled to Trojan home games. Freelancers cannot be accommodated. Credentials and parking passes are issued on a game-by-game basis. Requests for game credentials should be sent on company letterhead as early as possible to: Tim Tessalone, USC Sports Information Office, HER 103, Los Angeles, Calif. 90089-0601. Credentials can be mailed up to 7 days before the game; after that time, credentials can either be picked up during the week of the game at the Sports Information Office or beginning 2 hours before kickoff on game day at press will call outside Tunnel 4 on the south side of the Coliseum. Three types of credentials are issued: working press (press box seat during game, field access during last 5 minutes of game), TV and photo (field and press box roof access, limited press box access with no seat). All credentials provide postgame locker room access. Television cameramen and still photographers are not allowed on the sidelines between the 25-yard lines in the area of the team benches.

PRESS BOX — Located on the south (Martin Luther King Blvd.) side of the Coliseum, the press box is for the use of the working media and guests of USC's athletic department only. Access is via the elevator near Tunnel 6. The upper level has seats for the written press, while the lower level houses radio and television broadcasting booths. The roof is available for cameramen and photographers. Members of USC's Sports Information Office are located in the lower level (seats 219-225) during games. To get from the press box to the field at the end of the game (and to enable continued viewing of the game action), most media exit through either side door on the lower level and walk through the stands.

PRESS BOX SERVICES — A complimentary meal is served in the press box (a meal ticket is required). Game programs, speed cards and game notes are distributed before kickoff (these are also available on the field to photographers). Quarterly play-by-plays, plus halftime and final statistics, are distributed, as are transcribed post-game locker room quotes from Coach Hackett and the visiting coach. Game action is shown on indoor TV monitors posted throughout the press box and a detailed play-by-play and Coach Hackett's post-game press conference are announced over the press box public address system. Several charge-a-call phones are located in the visiting press section on the lower level and available on a first-come basis. To order a telephone, contact Nick Geas at UT&T at (714) 840-1478. Tell UT&T that the phone installer can obtain your seat location from Tim Tessalone. To call the press box on game day for score updates, dial either (213) 741-1341 or (213) 747-7111 (ask for the press box extension). USC provides complimentary fax service in the press box. Fax and computer terminal service for a fee also is available by contacting either Bassler Communications (Dick Bassler), 6706 Noble Ave., Van Nuys, CA 91405, (310) 451-5805, or Amfax (Rick Laubert), 1445 Park Ave., Long Beach, Calif. 90804, (310) 494-8757.

POST-GAME INTERVIEWS — The USC and visiting team locker rooms are located inside the tunnel at the west end of the Coliseum. After a 10-minute "cooling off" period, the USC locker room will open to the media. Coach Hackett will conduct a post-game press session and afterwards several key Trojan players will be brought to the session.

VIDEO SERVICES — The USC Sports Information Office makes video highlights of key Trojans available to the media. The Pac-10 Office has a weekly video satellite feed featuring highlights and interviews from all league schools (call 510-932-4411 for information). To contract specific video services, contact Rich Zielinski of Zielinski Productions at (714) 842-5050, Dennis Kirkpatrick of Bayview Productions at (310) 543-1835, or Fox Sports West at (310) 286-3800.

INFO CONNECTION — Dial (800) 300-2050, passcode 72210, for the Pac-10 Info Connection, a fax-on-demand system that provides access to press releases from the Pac-10 Office and all Pac-10 schools on a 24-hour-a-day basis. Media callers must have a PIN number (which can be obtained by calling Pivotal Communications at 770-399-0096).

USC ATHLETICS ON THE WEB — The USC athletic department has an official "home page" on the World Wide Web, featuring current and historical information about Trojan sports. For access, type http://www.usctrojans.com. (The Pac-10's home page is at www.pac-10.org and the NCAA's home page is at www.ncaa.org.)

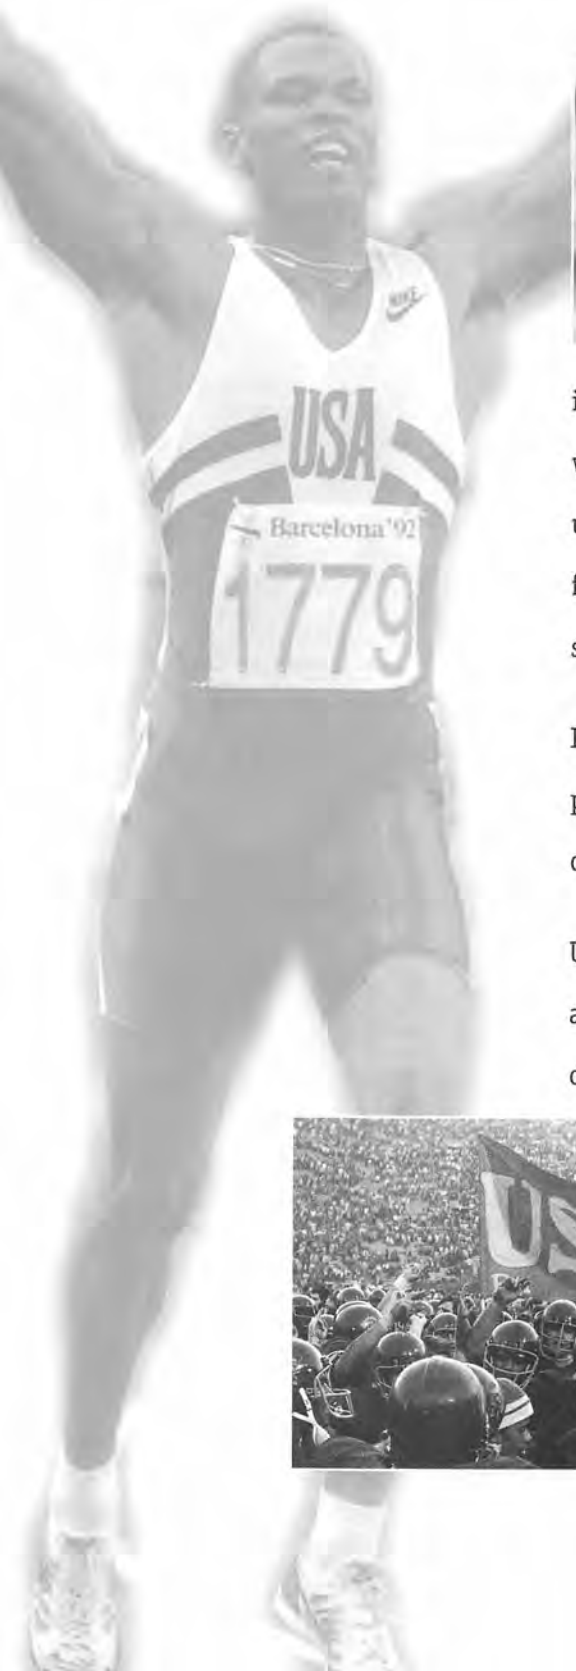
Athletic Excellence



Since 1926, when the track and field team won USC's first national championship, USC has dominated the world of intercollegiate athletics.

Trojan men's teams are No. 1 in the nation in NCAA championships with 69 – far more than any other university. USC's women are also a force with 14 national team titles, all since 1976.

In fact, from 1959-60 to 1984-85, USC put together an amazing streak: in each of those 26 years, at least one Trojan team won a national championship!

USC has won the National Collegiate All-Sports Championship – an annual ranking by USA Today (formerly conducted by the Knoxville Journal) of the nation's top men's athletic programs – six times (1971, 1972, 1974, 1975, 1977 and 1980) since its inception in 1971.

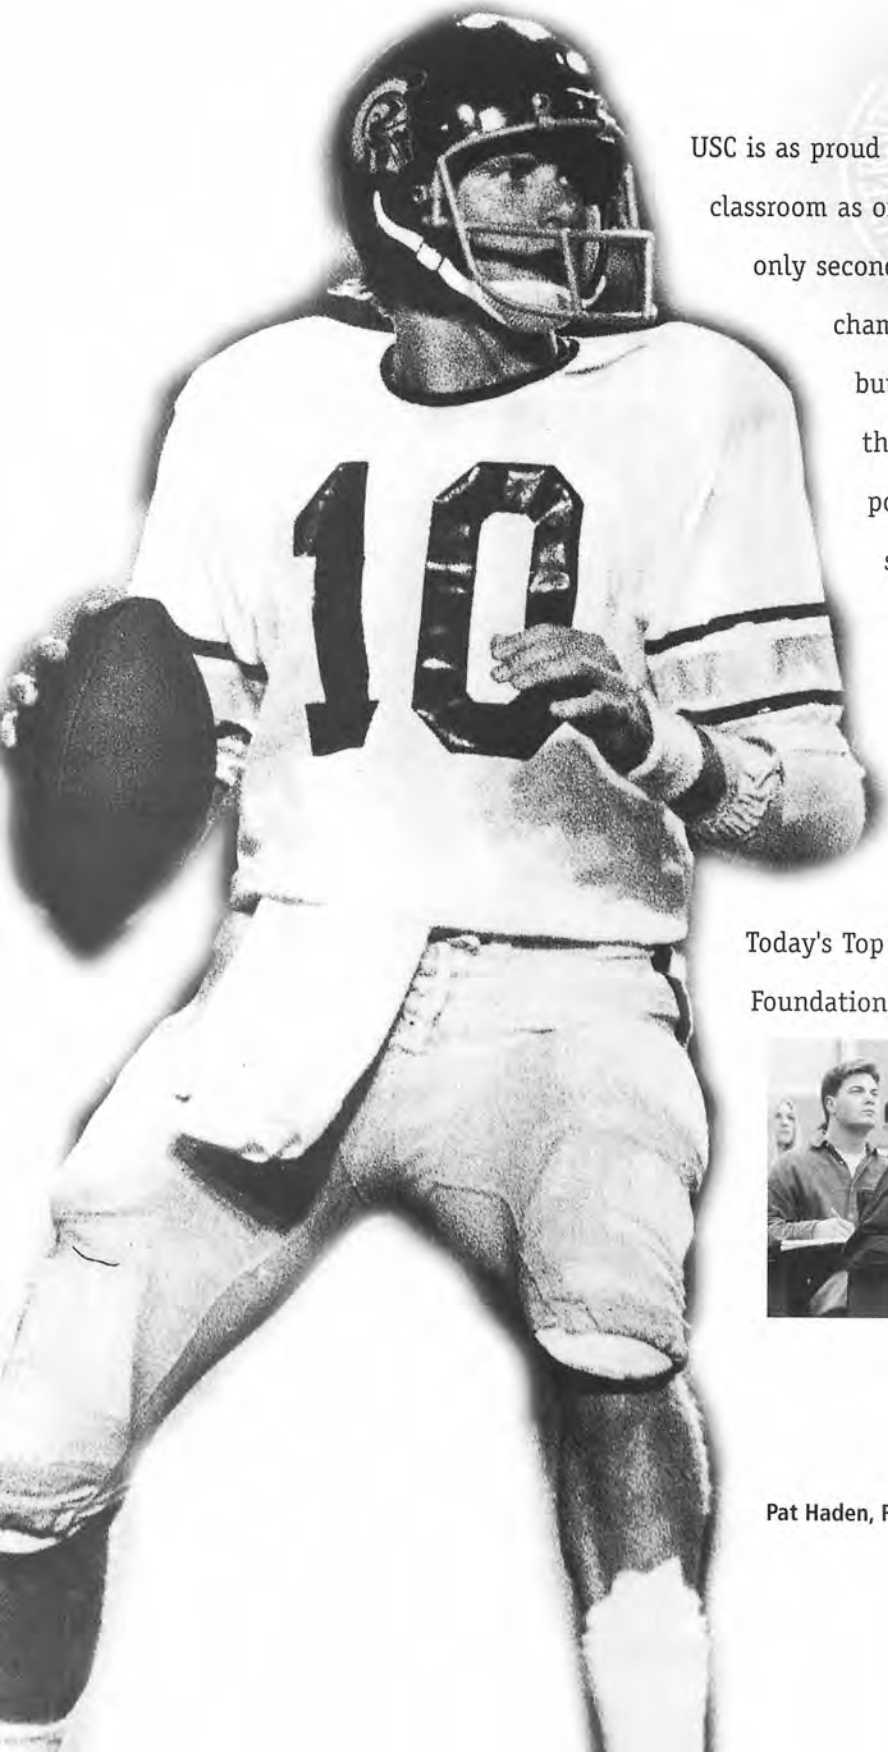
Academic Excellence



USC is as proud of its student-athletes' accomplishments in the classroom as on the playing field. After all, the Trojans are not only second in the nation in the number of national team championships (77 by the men and 14 by the women), but rank third (behind Air Force and Nebraska) in the number of NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipients (47). Also, USC has had 26 first-team Academic All-Americans.

Other phenomenal Trojan student-athletes include 8 winners of the prestigious NCAA Today's Top Six scholar award, 11 National Football Foundation Scholar-Athletes, 4 recipients of the NCAA Silver Anniversary Award, 3 Rhodes Scholars, a Luce Scholar and a USC co-valedictorian.

Trojans in The NFL

PLAYERS

In 17 of the last 22 seasons, USC has had more players on National Football League rosters than any other college in the country. This year alone, 40 Trojans grace the rosters of 21 of the NFL's 30 teams.

DRAFT

Nearly 400 Trojans have been drafted into the NFL, with many more making rosters as free agents. Since the first USC player was drafted in 1940, 60 Trojans have been first round selections – most recently Keyshawn Johnson, the No. 1 pick in the 1996 draft, and Darrell Russell, the No. 2 selection in 1997.

PRO BOWL

Trojan alums are among the brightest stars in the NFL. The annual showcase of the league's top talent, the NFC-AFC Pro Bowl, has had 176 Trojan participants.

SUPER BOWL

Seventy-nine Trojans have played in the Super Bowl. USC has been represented by a player in all but one of the 32 games. In Super Bowl XI alone, nine Trojans played in the game. Two Trojans, Lynn Swann in Super Bowl X and Marcus Allen in Super Bowl XVIII, were named the game's MVP.

COACHES

USC provides the NFL with some of its best coaches. Among the former Trojans coaching in the NFL are Green Bay's Mike Holmgren, Chicago's Dave Wannstedt, Tennessee's Jeff Fisher, Washington's Norv Turner, San Francisco's Steve Mariucci and the New York Giants' Jim Fassel. About two dozen Trojans were on NFL coaching staffs last year.

HALL OF FAME
